Treasurer, Charitable Endowments, Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 822S.R.—The 2nd April 1917.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 5 of the Opium Act, 1878 (I of 1878), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that the following amendments shall be made in the rules published under Notification No. 1225S.R., dated the 21st February 1898, as subsequently amended, namely :—

I.—After rule 2(8) insert the following :—

"(8)(a). "Excise Opium" means opium issued from a Government treasury or depôt."

II.—For rules 16 to 20 inclusive substitute the following :—

16. Unless the Local Government otherwise specially direct, licenses for the sale of excise opium shall be granted for one year, from the 1st April to the 31st March, subject to the following provisions :—

(a) If any license be granted during the course of the financial year it shall be granted only up to the 31st March next following.

(b) Temporary licenses may be granted to provide for the supply of excise opium on temporary and special occasions, e.g., fairs, and shall be limited to the period during which such temporary or special occasions last.

17. Such number of shops for the sale of excise opium as the Commissioner may from time to time determine shall be allowed in each district, and the exclusive right of selling excise opium at one or more of such shops as the Commissioner may direct shall be sold by public auction or settled in such other mode as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe, by or under the orders of the Collector before the commencement of each official year. Such sale or settlement shall not however be deemed to be complete until it has been confirmed by the Commissioner :

Provided that the Local Government may prescribe measures for ascertaining local public opinion as to the number and location of shops in any local area.

18. The fees for licenses mentioned in rule 16 shall be paid as follows :—

(a) Two months' fee in advance and one month's fee on the day on which the currency of the license begins, and one month's fee on the first of every succeeding month until the total fee due for the license has been realized.

(b) The fee for temporary licenses for the sale of excise opium at fairs shall be fixed by auction and shall be paid in advance.

19. All payments of license fees shall be paid by the licensees into the local treasuries either by direct payment or by postal money-order without the intervention of excise officers.

20. No transfer or sub-lease (whether entire or partial) of a license shall be made, except with the previous permission of the Collector and the approval of the Commissioner. The Collector shall not allow such transfer or sub-lease, unless good and sufficient reason be shown to his satisfaction, and unless the transferee or sub-lessee is, in his opinion, fit and qualified to hold such license.

20A. On the death of a licensee the Collector may renew the license on the same terms in favour of a representative of the deceased, if he be satisfied that such representative is fit to hold it, and on the condition that any arrears due from the deceased licensee are recovered before the license is so renewed. In such case no fresh deposit in addition to the deposit required by rule 18 need be called for.

20B. (1) The Collector may cancel or suspend any license for the sale of excise opium—

(a) if it is transferred or sub-let by the holder thereof without the permission of the Collector and the approval of the Commissioner ; or

(b) if any duty or fee payable by the holder thereof be not duly paid ; or

(c) in the event of any breach by the holder thereof, or by any of his servants, or by any one acting on his behalf with his express or implied permission, of any of the terms or conditions thereof; or

(d) if the holder thereof is convicted of ony offence punishable under the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, or the Opium Act, 1878, or any other law for the time being in force relating to revenue, or of any cognizable and non-bailable offence, or of any offence punishable under the Merchandise Marks Act, 1889, or under any section which has been introduced by section 3 of that Act into the Indian Penal Code; or

(e) if the holder thereof is punished for any offence referred to in clause 8 of section 167 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878; or

(f) if there be reason to believe that the license is used as a cloak for illicit sales, including sales to opium smugglers.

(2) When a license is cancelled under sub-rule (1), the Collector may cancel any other license, permit or pass granted to such person under the Opium Act, 1878.

(3) The holder of a license shall not be entitled to any compensation for its cancellation or suspension under this rule, or to the refund of any fee paid or deposit made in respect thereof.

20C. (1) The Collector may accept from any person whose license is liable to be cancelled under clause (a), clause (b) or clause (c) of rule 20 B(1) payment of a sum of money not exceeding Rs. 200 in lieu of such cancellation.

(2) When the payment referred to in sub-rule (1) has been duly made, no further proceedings shall be taken against such person in respect of the acts or omissions on account of which the license is then liable to cancellation.

20D. Whenever the Collector considers that any such license should be withdrawn for any cause other than those specified in rule 20B, he shall remit a sum equal to the amount of the fees payable in respect thereof for 15 days, and may withdraw the license either—

(a) on the expiration of 15 days' notice in writing of his intention to do so, or (b) forthwith without notice.

I.—After rule 2(7) insert the following :—

"(7) (a). "Excise Opium" means opium issued from a Government treasury or depôt."

II.—For rules 11 to 15 inclusive substitute the following :—

11. Unless the Local Government otherwise specially direct, licenses for the sale of excise opium shall be granted for one year, from the 1st April to the 31st March, subject to the following provisions :—

(a) If any license be granted during the course of the financial year, it shall be granted only up to the 31st March next following.

(b) Temporary licenses may be granted to provide for the supply of excise opium on temporary and special occasions, e.g., fairs, and shall be limited to the period during which such temporary or special occasions last.

12. Such number or shops for the sale of excise opium as the Commissioner may from time to time determine shall be allowed in each district, and the exclusive right of selling excise opium at one or more of such shops as the Commissioner may direct shall be sold by public auction or settled in such other mode as the Commissioner may from time to time prescribe by or under the orders of the Collector before the commencement of each official year. Such sale or settlement shall not however be deemed to be complete until it has been confirmed by the Commissioner :

Provided that the Local Government may prescribe measures for ascertaining local public opinion as to the number and location of shops in any local area.

(3) The Collector may accept from any person whose license or permit is liable to be cancelled under this rule payment of a sum of money not exceeding Rs. 200 in lieu of such cancellation.

(4) When the payment referred to in sub-rule (3) has been duly made, no further proceedings shall be taken against such person in respect of the acts or omissions on account of which the license is then liable to cancellation.

15J. Whenever the Collector considers that a license or permit should be withdrawn, he shall remit a sum equal to the fee for such part of the period for which the license has been issued as is unexpired on the date of his order, and may withdraw the license either—

Second Supplement dated the 17th January 1917 to the "London Gazette" of the 16th January 1917, pages 687 to 702.

War Office,
17th January, 1917.

The following Despatch has been received by the Secretary of State for War from Lieutenant-General the Hon. J. C. Smuts, K.C., Commander-in-Chief, East African Force :—

General Headquarters.
East Africa.
27th October, 1916.

Sir,

In my last despatch I described the brief but important operations which ended on 21st March in the occupation of the Kilimanjaro-Aruscha area.

The strategy involved in those operations was determined for me by the military situation I found existing on my arrival in British East Africa in February. The opposing armies had massed on the Tavata and Longido fronts; the rainy season was expected in a few weeks, and there was no time or necessity for radical alteration in the plans on which my predecessor had been working. When the operations came to an end it was necessary without delay to dispose my forces most advantageously with a view to their health and comfort during the approaching rainy season, and it became necessary to study the important question of the strategy to be followed in the future operations.

Reorganization of forces.

(2) Preliminary to both matters, however, was the question reorganization of the East African forces, which I deemed necessary not only for the vigorous prosecution of the coming campaign, but also to secure the smooth and harmonius working of a most heterogeneous army, drawn from almost all continents, and speaking a babel of languages. I decided to abolish the two divisions formed by my predecessor and to organise my forces into three divisions, two of which were to consist of the contingents from the Union of South Africa, and the third was to include the Indian and other British forces. The Union Divisions were again so organised that each should eventually contain a mounted and an infantry brigade, so as to secure the necessary mobility to enable us to cope more expeditiously with the enemy askari army of fleet-footed Africans. In these alterations, as well as in all other important matters which I have had from time to time to submit for the sanction of the War Office, I have found the uniform and prompt support of the latter, for which I cannot be sufficiently grateful, and to which the success achieved in this campaign was in no small measure due. At the end of March, then, the East African Force—apart from lines of communication troops, under Brigadier-General W. F. S. Edwards, D.S.O., as I. G. C.—was organised as follows:—

The First Division, under Major-General A. R Hoskins, C.M.G., D.S.O., comprised the First East African Brigade, under Brigadier-General S. H. Sheppard, D.S.O., and the Second East African Brigade, under Brigadier-General J. A. Hannyngton, C.M.G., D.S.O

The Second Division, under Major-General J. L. van Deventer, comprised the First South African Mounted Brigade, under Brigadier-General Manie Botha, and the Third South African Infantry Brigade, under Brigadier-General C. A. L. Berrange, C.M.G.

The Third Division, under Major-General Coen Brits, comprised the Second South African Mounted Brigade, under Brigadier-General B. Enslin, and the Second South African Infantry Brigade, under Brigadier-General P. S. Beves.

The Second South African Mounted Brigade arrived in May and was ready to take the field in the latter half of June.

Having completed the above reorganisation I disposed the infantry units as far as possible at suitable points on high and dry ground at Moschi, Himo and Mbuyuni, with only advance guards along the deadly malarial line of the Ruwu, facing the enemy forces in the Pare Mountains.

The First Mounted-Brigade was pushed on to the Aruscha area, which was reported to be most suitable for horses, and at the end of March the whole brigade had arrived there.

General plan of invasion.

(3) The most important problem for consideration was the strategy to be followed in the coming campaign As a result of the preceding operations we had just barely entered the enemy territory, which stretched out before us in enormous extent, with no known vital point anywhere containing no important cities or centres, with practically no roads, the only dominant economical features of the whole being the two railway systems. Faulty strategy at the beginning, a wrong line of invasion once entered upon, might lead to months of futile marching and wasted effort. All our information credited the enemy with the two-fold intention of conducting an obstinate and prolonged campaign in the Pare and Usambara Mountains, and thereafter retiring to fight out the last phases of the campaign in the Tabora area, from which much of his supplies and most of his recruits were drawn. Careful consideration was given to the various alternative lines of invasion that presented themselves.

(4) There was, in the first place, the possibility of advancing inland from the coast along the existing railway lines, which had been adopted with such signal success in the German South-West Africa campaign. An advance from Tanga was, however, ruled out because I considered the place of no importance after the Tanga railway had been reached further north.

Much, on the other hand, was to be said for an advance inland from Dar-es-Salaam, the capture of which would have great political and military importance, and would much facilitate the transport and supply arrangements for the campaign into the interior. It was, however, also ruled out, partly because the prevalence of the S. E. monsoon at that period makes a landing of a large force on that coast an operation of great difficulty and even danger, partly because a prolonged campaign on the coast immediately after the rainy season would mean the disappearance of a very large percentage of my army from malaria and other tropical ailments.

(5) In the second place consideration was given to the question of an advance on Tabora by Victoria Nyanza, which we controlled, and Muanza, which would have to be wrested from the enemy. This plan had the advantage of presenting a comparatively short line of advance, and of promising to strike at the main recruiting ground of the enemy forces, as the German askaris would be loath to remain in the field after their homes and families had fallen into our hands. Its adoption, however, would involve the transfer to a distant theatre of a large part of our forces while the enemy army would remain concentrated and ready to strike at our railway communications with the coast. But my main objection to adopting it was the consideration that to occupy so huge a territory as German East Africa within reasonable time a simultaneous advance from different points along different routes was essential Now in the Eastern Lake and Uganda area we already had a force of about 2,000 rifles; in addition the Belgians had a very large force in the west in the neighbourhood of Lake Kivu with which they were prepared to invade the Ruanda and Urundi districts if we could assist them with the necessary transport and supply arrangements vid Victoria Nyanza. For the occupation of the western parts of German East Africa it was therefore only necessary to make these arrangements, and thereby to set the Belgian and British forces simultaneously in sympathetic motion in the Ruanda and Bukoba districts respectively. This was done, and with the best results, as will be described later.

(6) There remained, then, the third and last alternative of either striking at the main enemy forces in the Pare and Usambara mountains along the Tanga railway line, or of launching an attack against the interior and the Central Railway from Aruscha. A movement against the enemy concentration along the Tanga railway had, however, several grave disadvantages. It was the step desired and expected by the enemy, as the massing of almost his entire fighting force in that area showed. It would involve a prolonged and costly campaign over terrain which nature and art had prepared admirably for defensive purposes. And at the end of such a campaign the entire enemy territory would still remain unoccupied, as the operations would have been conducted lengthwise all along the border. On the other hand an advance from Aruscha into the interior, if it was not to be a mere temporary raid but a secure and permanent occupation of the country, had to be in such force that it could meet any counter-attack by the enemy, who would in such counter-attack have the advantage of his two railway systems and so be practically moving on interior lines. Such an advance in force, therefore, ran the risk of weakening our forces in front of the enemy in the Pare and Usambara mountains and of giving him an opening to attack our vulnerable communications both with the interior and the coast.

(7) In spite of these difficulties powerful arguments weighed with me in finally deciding in favour of an advance into the interior. I was informed that the violence of the coming rainy reason would be mostly confined to the Kilimanjaro-Aruscha area; that further west and south the rainy season was milder and would not markedly interfere with military operations; and therefore an advance into the interior would prevent our operations being brought to a complete standstill during the rainy months of April and May. In addition to this the enemy had made the mistake of retiring south along the Tanga railway with practically his entire fighting force, and the door to the interior stood wide open and unguarded. Even the six companies which had operated between Kilimanjaro and Meru mountains against General Stewart's advance from Longido, and were expected by me to fall back on Aruscha and obstruct our advance in that direction, joined the enemy's main force at Kahe. A small detachment at Aruscha fell back before the advance of our mounted scouts and when the mounted brigade arrived at Aruscha at the end of March there was for the moment nothing to prevent an immediate movement into the heart of the enemy country. I decided to push the whole of the 2nd Division into the interior under van Deventer, and for the present to keep the other two divisions with me in rain quarters facing the enemy concentration south of the Ruwu. In this way it would be possible to occupy a valuable portion of the enemy country within the next two months; and if, as I expected, this move would and must have the effect of compelling the enemy to withdraw large forces from the Pares and Usambaras to stem the tide of invasion into the interior I could, if necessary, strengthen van Deventer still further and yet have sufficient troops left to make a comparatively easy conquest of these mountains against the enemy's weakened defence. These anticipations were fully realised, as will be seen from the sequel.

Van Deventer's march to Kondoa Irangi.

(8) By April 1st the head-quarters of the 2nd division, together with the 1st South African Mounted Brigade and two batteries of artillery, had reached Aruscha, while two battalions of the 3rd South African Infantry Brigade were on the way.

On the same day General van Deventer reported that his scouts had engaged the enemy six miles north of Lolkissale, an isolated rocky hill in the Masai Steppe some 35 miles south-west of Aruscha. Further reports showed that this force consisted of a detachment of the enemy which had taken up a position covering the water springs on the hill, and that no other water was to be found in the vicinity. I therefore issued instructions that the movement southward should be initiated by the occupation of Lolkissale.

This operation was carried out with great skill by the 1st Mounted Brigade. On the morning of the 3rd April three regiments of South African Horse moved out from Arusch, and during the night of 3rd-4th April surrounded Lolkissale. The enemy held the mountains with considerable determination, and fighting continued all day on the 4th and 5th, but at daybreak on the 6th the whole force, consisting of the 28th Field Company and Kaempfe's Detachment numbering 17 whites and 404 askaris with porters and two machine guns, surrendered. Our horses had been without water since noon of the 3rd. A large quantity of stores, ammunition, pack animals, etc., fell into our hands, while from information obtained from prisoners and captured documents it was ascertained that the enemy contemplated reinforcing Ufiome and Kondoa Irangi, and that the garrisons at these places had received instructions to hold out as long as possible. As it was evident that the bulk of these reinforcements must be sent from the troops on the Usambara Railway, and that several weeks must elapse before they could arrive, I decided to press forward the movement southwards of the 2nd Division as rapidly as possible, and ordered General van Deventer to send his mounted troops to occupy Ufiome, Umbulu and Kondoa Irangi before the enemy could reinforce them. The remainder of the 2nd Division to follow in support of the mounted troops.

(9) The 1st Mounted Brigade continued its advance to Ufiome on the 7th, encountering the enemy's patrols at various points of the route and dispersing them with loss in killed and prisoners. On the 10th the enemy were located holding a kopje in the vicinity of Ufiome, and on the 11th the Brigade advanced from the Trangire River. This movement resulted in the occupation of Ufiome on the 13th, the garrison of about 20 whites and 200 askaris retiring into the mountains leaving 30 prisoners, some wounded, and a large quantity of supplies in our hand. The enemy was pursued for 20 miles south to Kisesse and Ssalango, retiring in disorder.

(10) As the horses of the 1st Mounted Brigade were greatly exhausted by the continuous marching and fighting a halt was made at Ssalanga until the 17th. The 4th South African Horse had in the meantime been sent by me to join the 2nd Division, and on its arrival was directed on Umbugwe with instructions to clear Umbulu of the enemy.

The 10th South African Infantry and 28th Mountain Battery were also detailed by General van Deventer to follow in support of the 4th South African Horse. Umbulu was finally occupied on 11th May, about one company of the enemy being driven out with loss.

The advance southward continued on the 17th, and contact was made with the enemy four miles north of Kondoa Irangi on the same day. Fighting continued till noon of the 19th, when our troops occupied Kondoa Irangi with no casualties, having inflicted a loss on the enemy of 20 killed, and 4 whites and 30 askaris captured. The enemy succeeded in destroying the wireless station and a portion of his supplies but left behind about 80 rifles with much ammunition, and 800 head of cattle.

(11) General van Deventer reported after this action that his horses were so exhausted that he would not be able to move until remounts arrived. He had lost hundreds of animals from horse sickness during his advance of some 200 miles from Moschi in the last four weeks and his troops were worn out with ceaseless marching and fighting. I therefore decided that the 2nd Division should concentrate at Kondoa Irangi with detachments at Ufiome and Umbulu, and send patrols towards the Central Railway, Ssingida, Mkalama and Handeni. During the remainder of the month and the first few days of May this concentration was gradually effected. The expedition, conducted by van Deventer with his usual dash and resourcefulnesss, had secured important results at a trifling cost. Within a month of the battle of Kahe we had taken possession of the high, healthy and fertile plateau which connects Aruscha with the Central Railway, and had occupied the dominant strategic points for any further advance whether that was to be in the direction of the Central Railway, or westward to Tabora, or even eastward towards Handeni and the Eastern Usambara.

(12) Meanwhile, by the middle of April, the rainy season had set in with the greatest violence in the whole area from Taveta to Kondoa Irangi. The numerous rivers came down in flood and swept away almost all our laboriously built bridges, the roads became impassable mud tracks, and all transport became a physical impossibility. The rains fell steadily day after day, sometimes as much as four inches in one day, and the low-lying parts of the country assumed the appearance of lakes. Fortunately, the railway had by this time reached Taveta, where sufficient supplies could be dumped for our resting troops. The extension of the line was energetically continued to join the Kabe-Moschi railway, although for long distances the track was practically under water and the attention of thousands of labourers was constantly required to prevent its disappearance in the mud. Van Deventer's Division in the interior was cut off, and managed to live for weeks on such supplies as could be collected locally, or could be carried by porters from Lolkissale for a distance of 120 miles. The strain and privation were, however, bound to be reflected in the general state of health of the troops.

(13) Meanwhile, also, the enemy had realised the tremendous threat which this expedition constituted against his whole scheme of defence, and, thanks to the onset of the rainy season bringing General van Deventer's movement to a standstill, he was able to take measures to avert the danger to his rear by hurriedly transferring a great part of his force from the Usambara to the Central Railway, moving by rail to Mombo, thence by road to Morogoro or Kilossa, and again by rail to Dodoma. This movement placed him in a position to concentrate some 4,000 men against the 2nd Division, which was at the time so weakened by sickness and unavoidable detachments that it could barely dispose of 3,000 rifles in its isolated position at Kondoa Irangi. The enemy, perceiving this, felt encouraged to assume the offensive, and advanced from the Central Railway in the early days of May, arriving on the 7th within six miles of Kondoa Irangi.

General van Deventer gradually withdrew his advanced posts in face of this movement, keeping touch with the enemy, and finally disposed his force in defensive positions on a perimeter of about five miles frontage round Kondoa.

(14) On the 9th the enemy drove in our outlying picquets south-east of the village, and at 7-30 P.M., began an attack which lasted for nearly eight hours. This attack was pressed with determination, the enemy making four separate onslaughts, the brunt of which fell on the 11th South African Infantry, supported by the 12th South African Infantry. In some places the enemy repeatedly charged right up to our positions. Firing finally ceased at 3-15 A.M. on the 10th, when the enemy withdrew, leaving three whites and fifty-eight askaris dead on the ground, and five wounded as prisoners. There were numerous signs on the ground of further casualties. Our own losses were two officers and four other ranks killed. One officer and seven other ranks wounded. From information obtained as a result of the fighting it was found that the enemy had about twenty-five companies engaged under the personal command of Colonel von Lettow, the German Commander-in-Chief His force was organised as three battalions and one smaller detachment. One battalion commander, Von Kornatzky, was killed, and another, Von Bock, wounded.

(15) With this defeat, the enemy's last hope of successful resistance to any large portion of our forces was extinguished. He continued in position round Kondoa during the remainder of May and the greater part of June, keeping for the most part to the thick bush, and engaging in desultory fighting and occasional long range bombardment. General van Deventer was unable to assume the offensive on any large scale on account of his weakness in horseflesh, the heavy sick rate amongst his men, and the great difficulties of supply over a line of communication of two hundred miles of quagmire ; and had therefore to content himself with minor operations and enterprise while reorganising his forces and calling in his detachments from elsewhere. The 10th South African Infantry Regiment and 28th Mountain Battery arrived from Umbulu on 22nd May. I had already decided to strengthen the 2nd Division with two more battalions, the 7th and 8th South African Infantry Regiments, and additional artillery and machine guns, all from the 3rd Division, and these reinforcements eventually reached the Division on 23rd May and following days.

Occupation of the Pare, Usambara and Handeni Areas.

(16) Such was the position when, towards the end of the second week in May, the rains abated, the ground once more began to harden, and it became evident that a general movement would soon again be possible. The direction of that movement was settled for me by the necessity of clearing the enemy from the Pare and Usambara mountains before the further invasion of German East Africa could safely proceed. The general conception was to move eastward along these mountains and at a point opposite Handeni to swing south and march towards the Central Railway in a movement parallel to that of van Deventer. The concentration of the enemy forces in front of Kondoa now made the occupation of the Pares and Usambaras comparatively easy, but the advance had to be rapidly executed to forestall any return movement of the enemy from Kondoa to the Handeni or Usambara area. Moving through the Masai Steppe along the old caravan route from Kondoa to Handeni, the enemy could reach the latter place in twelve days, and in two or three days more could be on the Tanga Railway at Korogwe. It was therefore advisable for my advance to reach the Western Usambara in a fortnight; further, if it could reach Handeni before the arrival of strong enemy reinforcements I would have a second force almost the same distance from the Central Railway as that at Kondoa, and it would be impossible for the enemy to make effective resistance to the simultaneous advance of both columns situated 170 miles apart. The nature of the country was, however, such as almost to preclude all rapidity of movement The Pares and Usambaras are huge blocks of mountains with fertile valleys ; the southern slopes are precipitous, and immediately below runs the Tanga railway, while further south dense bush extends for 15 to 20 miles to the Pangani, an impassable river flowing almost parallel to the railway and the mountains. The enemy held the mountains and the railway and had outposts along the Pangani river. Our advance was expected to follow the railway, which had been fortified at all convenient points for a hundred miles ; and the enemy had therefore every reason to expect that the force opposing us, consisting of from 1,200 to 2,000 troops with field and naval guns, would render our progress sufficiently slow to enable him to send any necessary reinforcements. I therefore decided on the following dispositions for my advance. The main column with most of the artillery and transport was to proceed down the inner or left bank of the Pangani, somewhat in advance of another smaller column following the railway line, while a third small column was to start from Mbuyuni and enter the North Pares from the north side through the Ngulu Gap, joining the centre column at Same Pass between the Middle and South Pares. In this way, with my flanks well forward in the mountains and along the Pangani, any real resistance of the enemy in his well prepared positions in the centre along the railway would become hopeless. The advance commenced on 18th May by the movement of Lieut.-Colonel T. O. Fitzgerald's battalion of the 3rd King's African Rifles from Mbuyuni to the Ngulu Gap, and on the 22nd May Brig.-General Hannyngton's brigade moved from Ruwu along the railway, while Generals Sheppard's and Beves' brigades moved down the Pangani river accompanied by Major-General Hoskins and myself.

(17) The enemy's first position was reported to be at Lembeni, at which place the railway takes a sharp bend in towards the mountains and the ground is most suitable for defensive action.

I trusted, however, to turn this position either directly by Fitzgerald's column forcing its way through the Ngulu Gap, or indirectly by the continued advance of the Pangani column past the enemy's position.

The turning movements proved successful, and the enemy evacuated the Lembeni position on 24th May ; on the following day Hannyngton occupied Same station without opposition, and on the 26th May Fitzgerald's column joined Hannyngton's and thereafter formed part of it. Hannyngton was ordered to proceed on the 28th over Same Pass along the road which passes through the South Pare mountain, and thence through the Gonja Gap between this mountain and the Usambara on to Mkomazi river. This move would prevent the enemy from making a stand on the railway along the South Pare mountain, and would at the same time clear the enemy out of the Gonja Gap. It was completely successful ; on the 29th Hannyngton reached Gonja and two days after the Mkomazi road bridge.

(18) Meanwhile the advance of the main column continued steadily along the Pangani, the advanced guards and mounted troops continuing to keep touch with the enemy's rear-guards, and I soon discovered that it was his intention to make his next stand near Mikotscheni, at which place the Pangani river rejoins the railway close to the mountains.

On the 29th May the advanced troops came up against this position and drew fire from a naval 4·1 inch gun and two field guns. On the 30th May the 2nd Rhodesian Regiment attacked the position in front while the rest of General Sheppard's brigade made an arduous but successful turning movement by our left. The enemy retired in the night along the railway, leaving part of a new bridge in process of construction behind him. Buiko station was occupied by us the following day.

(19) Leaving a rear guard of two companies in front of Hannyngton at Mkomazi, the enemy's main body retired along the railway to Mombo station, whence a trolly line proceeds to Handeni. They then followed this trolley line and entrenched themselves at Mkalamo where this line crosses the Pangani river. This retirement made it clear that the enemy was not going to make a stand in the Usambara, but intended to retire to Handeni and on to the Central Railway. I decided, therefore, to cross to the right bank of the Pangani with the main column and to leave the further clearing of the Usambara district to Hannyngton. The rapidity of our advance had exceeded my best expectations. We had reached the Usambara in ten days, covering a distance of about 130 miles over trackless country along the Pangani river and through the mountains.

(20) As at this point a short pause in the operations was necessary to enable the German bridge over the Pangani to be completed, and to give the railway time to catch up with the advance, I proceeded on June 2nd via Moschi to Kondoa Irangi to visit the 2nd Division and to arrange personally the plans for future co-operation between my two widely separated forces.

On my return on June 7th I found that the German bridge over the Pangani had been completed and another smaller one made close to Buiko railway station, roads had been cut through the bush, and another 30 miles south had been covered by the main column along the right bank of the Pangani.

(21) I had instructed General Hannyngton with his brigade to proceed down the railway line with Mombo as his objective He advanced to Mazinde station on 8th June and occupied Mombo on 9th June, meeting with only slight opposition and capturing a machine-gun from the enemy. The enemy retired south along the railway. On the same date the main force of the enemy was encountered by our main column entrenched at Mkalamo, and the 1st East African Brigade had a sharp action, lasting till nightfall. The enemy retired in the night, leaving numerous dead on the ground.

At Mkalamo the trolley line from Mombo to Handeni was reached on the 10th, and thereafter the advance to Handeni continued for a considerable distance along its route. The trolley line leaves the Pangani at Luchomo, and from that point proceeds in a southerly direction to Nderema, 2 miles west of Handeni. Between Luchomo and Nderema is a dry belt of 32 miles, the only water being found by digging in a dry river bed at Mbagui, 22 miles south of Luchomo. To cross this distance General Sheppard was sent forward with two battalions to press the enemy back until Mbagui was reached on the 13th. From there he worked forward to within five miles of Handeni, where the enemy was, on 15th June found to hold a strongly entrenched position. It was therefore decided to send Beves' brigade from Mbagui by a more westerly route through Gitu to Ssangeni on the Mssangassi river, 10 miles west of Handeni, where good water was found on the 17th June, and on the following day the brigade was launched against the enemy's southward line of retreat from Handeni at Pongwe and another point 4 miles north of Pongwe. At both places the enemy's retreating forces were beaten with heavy loss and driven into the bush, a pom-pom gun being subsequently found abandoned in the bush by the enemy. On the following day Handeni and Nderema were occupied by Sheppard. On the same day Colonel J. J. Byron's battalion (5th South African Infantry) was sent in pursuit of the enemy to occupy Kangata, 8 miles south of Pongwe. They found the enemy in a concealed entrenched position in dense bush, and in the fight which ensued lost heavily, but held on staunchly until night, when the enemy retreated. At Kangata the main column for the first time since leaving Kahe came into a made road (the main road between Handeni and Morogoro) having marched for about 200 miles along routes prepared by themselves, mostly by cutting through the bush.

(22) During these operations General Hannyngton had occupied Wilhelmstal unopposed on the 12th June, and advanced along the Tanga railway as far as Korogwe on the 15th, where the wagon bridge had fortunately been saved by his special exertions.

From this point he was instructed to move along the Korogwe-Handeni road and to rejoin with all speed the 1st Division, which was now nearing Handeni. He reached Handeni on June 20th, the day after its occupation by Sheppard.

(23) The advance of the main column in pursuit of the enemy continued, and he was next reported as holding a strong position on the Lukigura river. I therefore divided my force in the hope of getting round his position with a flying column and compelling him to stand to fight.

General Hoskins with two South African Infantry battalions, a composite battalion of Kashmir Imperial Service Infantry, 25th Royal Fusiliers, and a small body of mounted scouts marched on the night of 23rd June to a point on the Lukigura river, north of the bridge held by the enemy. This force crossed the river the next morning, and then got astride the road behind the enemy's position. The remainder of the 1st Division under command of General Sheppard advanced direct on the enemy's position.

At mid-day on 24th June both columns engaged the enemy on three sides, and after some resistance defeated him, with a loss of 7 whites killed and wounded, 14 white prisoners, 30 askaris killed and many wounded and captured, together with the capture of two machine guns and parts of a third, one pom-pom and much ammunition. The Fusiliers and Kashmiris specially distinguished themselves in this action, in which only the dense bush enabled the enemy force to escape from complete capture.

(24) We had now reached the eastern slopes of the Nguru block of mountains, and immediately in our front was the high Kanga mountain. There was every indication that the enemy was massing in great force in both mountains in front of us, as well as on our right flank, and that any further movement would have to slow down. Our transport had reached the utmost radius of its capacity, and the troops had been on half rations for some time. They also required rest and reorganisation. Several units were reduced to 30 per cent. of their original effectives, owing to the ravages of malaria, and the difficulties of evacuating the sick were as great as those of forwarding supplies and reinforcements.

Since 22nd May the troops had marched considerably over 200 miles in difficult country, often having to cut their way through almost impenetrable bush, and constantly engaging the enemy in his prepared rearguard positions. The march was rendered more arduous by most serious transport and supply difficulties, and, for the last 80 miles since leaving the Pangani, frequent shortage of water for both men and animals. Besides, I deemed it necessary, in view of the ever-growing supply difficulties, to repair and restore the Membo-Nderema trolley line before moving further.

Further, it was necessary for the execution of my plans that the 2nd Division should be more advanced before the combined movement against the enemy's main forces on the Central Railway should begin.

I therefore formed a large standing camp on the Msiha river, some 8 miles beyond the Lukigura, in which to rest and refit the troops prior to the next phase of operations.

Occupation of coastal area to Bagamoyo.

(25) The pause on the Msiha river enabled me also to deal with another matter which was rapidly becoming urgent. I had deliberately left the east Usambara area alone while pushing the enemy forces in front of me back as fast and as far as possible. The situation on my left flank towards the sea would either clear itself up by the retirement of the small enemy forces in that area, or, if necessary, they could be dealt with at a more convenient time. The railway line beyond Korogwe and the lower reaches of the Pangani river were, therefore, for the present left unoccupied. Steps were, however, taken to seize Tanga. On 16th June the 5th Indian Infantry, moving south towards the border, occupied Mwakijembe, which the enemy had held strongly for a long time as a base from which to raid and bomb the Mombasa railway. The enemy force of about one company retreated towards the coast north of Tanga. Arrangements were then made by the Inspector-General of Communications for the landing of a force under Colonel C. U. Price, C.M.G., at Kwale Bay, 8 miles north of Tanga, and a simultaneous attack on that part by land and sea. This force, after slight opposition, arrived before Tanga on the 7th July simultaneously with the Navy, and occupied it practically without opposition. The enemy, consisting of two companies, was expected to retire towards Pangani, but did not do so, and continued to hang about in the vicinity, and on several occasions even indulged in some sniping into the town. At the same time, the small force of about two companies which had retired before Hannyngton from Korogwe along the Pangani, returned and showed signs of aggressiveness. Small raiding parties kept interfering with our telegraph line, and convoys between Korogwe and Handeni, and finally, early on the morning of the 13th July, a determined attack was made on the road bridge at Korogwe, which was, however, successfully beaten back.

(26) The time had come to secure my rear and left from this guerilla warfare. Accordingly I ordered the Inspector-General of Communications, General Edwards, to make the following dispositions:—To send part of the 5th Indian Infantry from Tanga, along the railway to Muhesa; to send the 57th Rifles from Korogwe along the railway also to Muhesa, with a small detachment on their left in the direction of Amani; from Muhesa the 57th Rifles to proceed to the coast at Pangani, which was to be seized in co-operation with the Navy. In the meantime another detachment under Lieutenant-Colonel C. W. Wilkinson, consisting of Railway Sappers and Miners, Jhind Imperial Service Infantry, and other details, was to proceed from Korogwe down the Pangani river to deal with the enemy force which had attacked the bridge, and which was reported to be at Segera Hill some distance down the right bank of the Pangani. All these movements were duly and successfully executed. At Amani about 25 enemy whites surrendered without opposition. Colonel Wilkinson surprised and defeated the enemy at Segera Hill at dawn on the 15th July, and captured from them a Hotchkiss gun in good order, with ammunition, and thereafter pursued the enemy south towards Hale and Kwa Mugwe (Hoffman's plantation). The 57th, after reaching the Muhesa, proceeded to Pangani, which had been previously occupied by the Navy on the 23rd July. In the meantime, as I thought an effort should be made to capture these enemy parties, I had directed General Hannyngton's brigade to return from Lukigura to Handeni, and from there to march along the old caravan route towards Pangani, so as to intercept the retreating enemy and to clear the country of all raiding parties. He reached Ngambo about midway between Handeni and Pangani on the 21st July, but found the enemy had already slipped through, part proceeding to the coast at Mkwadja, and the greater part retiring south along a track which proceeds by Rugusi and Manga (about 40 miles south-east of Handeni), in a southerly direction towards Mandera, on the Wami river. Accordingly I ordered General Hannyngton to send Lieutenant-Colonel W. J. Mitchell, with a detachment of the 40th Pathans, after the enemy on this route, and to return with the rest of his brigade, as well as the 57th Rifles, to Lukigura, which was reached in time for them to take part in the operations through the Nguru Mountains. Colonel Mitchell, in the meantime, had overtaken the enemy at Manga, at the same time as a co-operating detachment of the Cape Corps, sent from Kangata; the enemy was beaten and driven south to Mandera. Sadani Bay was occupied by the Navy on the 1st August, and a detachment of the West India Regiment was landed and moved south and then westward towards Mandera to co-operate with Mitchell in clearing the enemy from the lower Wami river. This was successfully carried out, and thereafter the combined force marched south-east to Bagamoyo, which had been brilliantly occupied by the Navy on the 15th August, with the capture of a 4·1-inch naval gun in good order with ammunition. From Bagamoyo this force was to form part of a larger movement for the investment and capture of Dar-es-Salaam. The military operations on the coast and parallel to it were, subject to the I. G. C.'s orders, under the command of Col. C. U. Price, C.M.G., and were ably carried out.

Operations in western Lake area.

(27) To gain a complete picture of the state of the compaign in the northern parts of German East Africa at the end of June it is desirable at this point to consider the operations which were in progress in the west, in the neighbourhood of the Great Lakes

During the months in which my main columns were operating in the Kilimanjaro, Kondoa and Usambara areas and pressing their advance to the Central Railway, the "Lake Detachment," consisting of the 98th Infantry, 4th Bn., King's African Rifles, Baganda Rifles, Nandi Scouts, and other small irregular units, had not remained inactive.

Previous to the inception of active operations in East Africa the task originally assigned to the detachment had been the defence of the Uganda and British East Africa frontiers on both sides of Lake Victoria, and this task had been faithfully carried out for many long months. Although no engagement of importance took place, there was constant activity, and minor affairs of posts and patrols on the 300 miles of front were of almost daily occurrence. This necessarily entailed a continued state of vigilance and strain and demanded a high state of efficiency on the part of all ranks. That this was maintained is amply shown by the success achieved whenever opportunity offered. An instance of this had occurred just before my arrival, when the small post of one officer and 35 men at Machumbe had utterly defeated a raid of the enemy, causing him a loss of 3 whites and 22 blacks killed and 1 white and 31 blacks captured.

Apart from the minor operations of the Lake Detachment, my principal concern in the west was to make the necessary arrangements to facilitate the advance of Major-General Tombeur's Belgian forces. As an advance from his headquarters at Kibati, north of Lake Kivu, over the barren region of active volcanoes and in face of strong German opposition was impracticable, an arrangement had been concluded whereby part of General Tombeur's force was to move north-east to Lutobo, in order to advance from there in a southerly direction against Kigali, the capital of the rich German province of Ruanda. To enable him to do so it was also agreed that the base for this force should shift to Bukakata, on Lake Victoria, 150 miles further east and that we should be responsible for the transport and supply arrangements from this base. Owing to a variety of causes, the organisation and execution of these transport and supply arrangements proved a matter of considerable difficulty; and in consequence I sent Brigadier-General the Hon. Sir Charles Crewe, K. C. M. G., C. B., of my staff, to the Lake area to keep in touch with General Tombeur, to advise me in regard to all necessary requirements, and to push the arrangements on as fast as possible. All difficulties were eventually overcome by General Tombeur and my representatives, and towards the end of April the advanced Belgian column under Colonel Molitor arrived at Kamwezi, 10 miles south-east of Lutoba. Thereafter rapid progress was made, and Kigali was occupied on the 6th May. The occupation of Kigali made the position of the German forces further west on the Belgian border untenable, and enabled General Tombeur to push forward columns both from the north and the south of Lake Kivu. It also became possible for Colonel Molitor's column to resume the advance to the southern end of Lake Victoria, and on the 24th June the Kagera river was reached.

(28) As the Belgian advance towards Lake Victoria progressed during April, May and June, our troops further north on the Kagera line increased their activity against the enemy opposed to them, and began gradually to drive him from his advanced posts. This withdrawal enabled our forces to become more concentrated, and finally it was found possible to release sufficient troops for an operation against Ukerewe Island. This island, the largest in Lake Victoria, lies immediately to the north of the German port of Mwanza, and produces much of the rice which forms the staple diet of a large part of the enemy's native troops. The island is within a few hours of Mwanza, and forms a favourable base for an operation against that town.

The operation for its capture was skilfully carried out on 9th June by Lt. Col. D. R. Adye, commanding the Lake Detachment, in conjunction with the Naval Flotilla on the lake under Commander Thornley, R.N. The enemy was completely surprised, eight German whites, about 60 blacks, and two small field guns being captured

(29) As the withdrawal of the enemy from the northern Kagera river and Karagwe district became accelerated, it also became possible to concentrate our scattered posts in that area into a mobile fighting force which could act more effectively against the retreating enemy. For this purpose, Brigadier-General Sir Charles Crewe was appointed to the Lake command in the middle of June. With his mobile column he first occupied Bukoba and Karagwe districts, and then proceeded south to arrange a combined forward movement with the Belgian forces. The advanced parties of the Belgian column had in the meantime reached Namirembe, at the south-west corner of Lake Victoria, at the end of June, the main body further west being hotly engaged with the German forces retreating from the north. Sir Charles Crewe came to the sound conclusion that the course which promised the best results was a movement of his force against the important fortified town of Mwanza, the occupation of which would give us an excellent base at the south of the Lake for the forward movement of the combined British and Belgian forces to Tabora. Accordingly, on the 9th, 10th, and 11th July, he embarked his force, consisting of about 1,800 rifles, at Namirembe and Ukerewe Island, and on the night of the 11th landed a column under Lieutenant-Colonel C. R. Burgess at Kongoro Point, east of Mwanza, and the following day another column, under Lieutenant-Colonel H. B. Towse, further north at Senga Point. By the skilful disposition and movement of both columns—the one from the east, the other from the north-east—on Mwanza, he made it impossible for the enemy to withstand his advance; and the threat to the enemy's retreat from Burgess' column made the enemy evacuate the town on the 14th July. Most of the whites escaped down the gulf in the s.s. Mwanza and Heinrich Otto and the steam pinnace Schwaben, with some lighters and boats, while about 400 to 500 askaris escaped down the main Tabora road. The enemy destroyed the powerful wireless station, but left a 4·1-inch naval gun in our hands. The pursuit was continued next day, both by a force moving down the Tabora road and by another embarked on the s.s. Winifred, which was disembarked some 22 miles south of Mwanza. Some distance south 5 German whites were captured, and the enemy steamers and lighters were found abandoned; much baggage and stores and ammunition, a Colt gun, and even much specie were found abandoned by the enemy in his head-long flight The pursuit was continued as far south as Misungi, opposite the southern end of Stuhlmann's Sound. The s.s. Mwanza and the lighters have since been salved, and are now in active use. Our total losses in this operation were quite insignificant, while the enemy had been skilfully ousted from one of his most important strongholds The rapidity with which the enemy abandoned his valuable Lake Provinces and Mwanza was a clear indication that the eventual retreat would not be towards Tabora, but further east towards Dar-es-Salaam, or south towards Mahenge.

Van Deventer's advance to Central Railway.

(30) I now turn back to review the main operations further east, and shall begin with van Deventer's advance to the Central Railway. On the 24th June the 1st and 3rd Divisions came to a halt at the foot of the Nguru mountains. On the same day van Deventer, with the 2nd Division, attacked the enemy positions all along the line round Kondoa Irangi and succeeded in occupying them with comparatively small loss. For some time information had been received to the effect that a considerable transference of enemy forces from Kondoa to the Nguru front was in progress, and the enemy at Kondoa had been displaying a certain nervous activity and aggressiveness which are often the prelude of preparations for a retirement. After the action of the 24th June van Deventer proceeded to collect sufficient transport and supplies for the forward movement to the Central Railway. My orders to him were to clear his right flank towards Ssingida, to move a small column along the Saranda road towards Kilimatinde, and to move his main force towards Dodoma and further east on the road to Mpapua. My object was not only the occupation of the Central Railway, but more especially the movement of van Deventer's force to the east so as to get into closer co-operation with the force at the Nguru mountains in dealing with the main enemy forces as they fell back to the Central Railway. Lieutenant-Colonel A. J. Taylor was on 26th July sent with one infantry battalion, one mounted squadron and an artillery section to Ssingida, which, after some skirmishing on the way, was occupied on the 2nd August. A post was left there, and the balance of the column marched south to Kilimatinde. A similar sized column, under Lieutenant-Colonel H. J. Kirkpatrick, was on 14th July sent direct towards Saranda. Little opposition was encountered until they reached Mpondi, about twenty-four miles north-east of Saranda station. Here, in a country covered with very dense bush where scouting was well-nigh impossible, they suddenly found themselves under heavy machine gun fire from a well-prepared enemy position. There was no alternative but to go straight for the enemy in a frontal attack. The attack was successful, Mpondi was occupied the same afternoon, our losses being eight killed and 9 wounded. The advance was continued next day, and on 31st July the Central Railway at Saranda was occupied, as well as Kilimantide, seven miles further south.

(31) Van Deventer's main column, moving south along the Dodoma road, occupied Chamballa (Jambalo) unopposed on the 18th July and Aneti on the 19th July. The country further south was reported to be waterless and the enemy to be entrenched at the water-holes at Tissa Kwa Meda and Tschenene. Van Deventer therefore divided this force into two columns, and ordered General Manie Botha to move the Mounted Brigade by Tissa Kwa Meda and Njangalo towards Kikombo station on the Central Railway, while General Berrangé, with two infantry battalions, a motor cycle corps and mounted scouts, was ordered to move by Tschenene and Meia Meia towards Dodoma. On the 25th July Tschenene was occupied with small loss, notwithstanding the strong enemy entrenchments, the success being largely due to the excellent work of the Armoured Motor Battery, which engaged the enemy at close range. On the 27th July Meia Meia was occupied, and part of an enemy mounted detachment was captured without any loss to us. On the 29th July Berrangé occupied the Central Railway at Dodoma.

In the meantime the First Mounted Brigade had occupied Tissa Kwa Meda after a sharp engagement on the 22nd July. From here Brigadier-General Manie Botha, who had rendered great service at the head of this brigade, returned to the Union of South Africa on private business, and his place was taken by Brigadier-General A. H. M. Nussey, D.S.O., who had been van Deventer's Chief Staff Officer. After occupying Naju and Membe the mounted brigade on the 28th July reached Njangalo, where the enemy was driven from a strong position with the loss of a machine gun and 1,500 head of cattle. Kikombo station was reached on 30th July.

(32) By the end of July a hundred miles of the Central Railway was thus in our possession. Practically every bridge or culvert was found blown up, but our advance had been so rapid that the enemy had had no time for further destruction of the track. General van Deventer spent the following week in concentrating his forces, now scattered along the railway from Saranda to Kikombo, at Njangalo, which is on the main road to Mpapua.

In the meantime serious attention was given to the transport and supply situation which—already grave enough at Kondoa with a transport distance of 200 miles from the Moschi railhead—had now become still graver by the addition of more than a hundred miles, and for the immediate future presented the baffling problem of having to provide for another 120 miles in the advance to Kilossa. How this problem was solved, and van Deventer's force could be supplied for the advance to Kilossa, and even beyond to the great Ruaha river, will be explained later.

The concentration of his division at Njangalo was completed on the 9th August, and the advance was resumed on that date. But the sequence of events requires me now to turn to the operations through the Nguru mountains.

Advance through Nguru mountains.

(33) The general situation in German East Africa in the first week of August may be summarised as follows:—

Van Deventer had occupied the Central Railway from Kilimatinde to Dodoma; in the lake area the British and Belgian forces were well south of Lake Victoria and preparing for a combined move towards Tabora. Further west a Belgian force had crossed Lake Tanganyika and occupied Ujili and Kigoma, the terminus of the Central Railway. In the south-west General Northey's force had occupied Malangali after a brilliant little action, and was prepared to move towards Iringa, seventy miles further north-east. All coast towns as far south as Sadani had been occupied, and a small column was working its way southward to the Wami river and clearing the country between the Nguru mountains and the coast. The time had, therefore, come for the 1st and 3rd Divisions to resume the advance to the Central Railway. Hannyngton's Brigade had rejoined the 1st and Enslin's Mounted Brigade had joined the 3rd Division at Lukigura.

(34) For a distance of about forty-five miles the main road to the Central Railway passes close under the Nguru and Kanga mountains. The enemy had skilfully disposed about twenty companies or 3,000 rifles, with much heavy and light artillery, in the mountains and athwart the main road, which had been entrenched along the numerous foothills which the road crosses. If we forced our way down the road against these formidable obstacles or moved by our left flank through the bush and tall elephant grass, part of the enemy force in the mountains on our right would get behind us and endanger our communications. It was therefore essential to advance by way of the mountains themselves and to clear them as the advance proceeded southward. This could best be done by wide turning movements through the mountains, which would have the effect of threatening or cutting off the enemy's retreat if he delayed his retirement unduly.

The main block of the Nguru mountains on the west is divided from the Kanga mountain and foothills of Nguru on the east by rough valley of the Mdjonga river, which flows from Mahassi at the northern entrance to the mountains due south towards Turiani, where the main road round Kanga crosses it. Into this river two streams run from the north-west through gaps in the Nguru mountains, the one entering the valley near Matamondo, the other by Mhonda Mission Station, near Turiani. Along both these streams rough mountain foot-paths pass to the track which follows the course of the Mdjonga river. The enemy held the Mdjonga valley strongly from Mahassi to Turiani, and a turning movement would have to be further west so as to close in either at Matamondo or Mhonda Mission. My information was that both the Mdjonga track and the Mhonda footpaths were capable of carrying wheeled traffic. I therefore decided on the following dispositions for the advance. While General Sheppard's brigade was to make a feint from Msiha camp directly against the enemy's position at Ruhungu, on the main road, he was to move the bulk of his brigade by his left flank so as to arrive at Russongo river, six miles behind the Ruhungu entrenchments General Hannyngton's brigade was previously to have moved to Mahassi, and from there, accompanied by General Hoskins, was to advance along and clear the Mdjonga valley. Brits' division was at the same time to make a detour to the north by the Lukigura valley, and then, turning west through Kimbe, to enter the mountains further west of Mahassi and emerge from the mountains through the Mhonga gap behind the enemy's forces disposed along Kanga and the Mdjonga valley.

(35) On the 5th August General Enslin moved with the 2nd Mounted Brigade from Lukigura viâ Kimbe, and the following day entered the Nguru mountains some eight miles west of Mahassi. On the 6th Beves' Brigade followed the same route, while General Hannyngton marched along mountain footpaths straight from Lukigura to Mahassi. On the 7th General Sheppard moved out from Msiha camp. General Hannyngton worked his way down the Mdjonga valley and found no strong opposition until he reached Matamondo on the 9th. In the meantime Enslin had been moving rapidly through the mountains, and had arrived in the Mhonda gap and proceeded to occupy Mhonda on the 8th. . He sent back word that the route through the mountains was entirely impracticable for wheeled traffic of any description. In consequence all our transport was sent back to Lukigura to follow Sheppard along the main road. Hoskins had also returned to rejoin Sheppard, and in view of the strong opposition Hannyngton was meeting at Matamondo and the impracticability of the mountains, I directed General Brits to take Beves' brigade down the footpath to Matamondo to reinforce Hannyngton. One of Enslin's mounted regiments had lost its way in the mountains, and had also finally emerged at Matamondo. With the balance of his brigade, Enslin passed through the Mhonda gap and seized a series of positions across the road by which the enemy had to retire. These, however, he found it impossible to hold in view of the smallness of his force and threatened enemy attacks on his flanks. He, however, maintained his position at Mhonda Mission, and thereby forced the enemy everywhere to abandon his defence in the mountains and retire as fast as he could. If the terrain had permitted of the original scheme being carried out, and the whole 3rd Division had proceeded to Mhonda, the retreat of the enemy from these mountains would probably have been impossible.

(36) After stubborn fighting at Matamondo on the 10th and 11th the enemy was driven south with great loss, and a machine gun was captured from him. Our loss amounted to about sixty killed and wounded. On the 11th General Sheppard had worked his way through the dense bush round the enemy positions on the slopes of Kanga and had arrived at the Russongo river only to find the enemy gone. On the 12th I directed him to proceed due south by Mafleta to the Wami river at Kipera so as to be well on the left flank of the retiring enemy; he reached Mafleta on the same day, and on the following day occupied Kipera, where a small enemy patrol was driven off and a light bridge over the Wami was saved. On the 12th and 13th the other brigades had reached Turiani, the enemy having fallen back some miles further south. It was becoming clear that we were now dealing with only part of his force, and that the balance had retired further south towards the Central Railway, either in the direction of Morogoro or Kilossa. Our progress was, however, very much hampered by the numerous rivers flowing from the Kanga and Nguru mountains, over all of which the bridges had been destroyed and had to be rebuilt by us, including some of very considerable dimensions. In spite of this and other difficulties I decided to give the enemy no time, and ordered Enslin's Mounted Brigade to proceed the same day (13th August) round the left flank along the Liwale river to Ngulu on the Mkindu river, where he was to be joined by the 130 Baluchis from Kipera, and thence to make for Kwedihombo and Mwomero, where the roads for Morogoro and Kilossa respectively leave the Nguru mountains. At the same time Hannyngton's brigade was to work its way south along the main road. On the 15th both these places were occupied by Enslin and Hannyngton after only slight opposition.

(37) The bulk of the enemy force retired along the Morogoro road towards Dakawa on the Wami river, while a few companies went off along the Kilossa road. General Hannyngton was ordered to Mwomero to follow the latter to the Mkundi river, while the rest of the force was ordered to follow the enemy to Dakawa. General Shephard had been ordered to cross the Wami at Kipera and to move his brigade along the right or southern bank of the Wami to Dakawa crossing. Shephard and Enslin arrived on opposite banks at the enemy position on the 16th August, but the enemy was strong enough to hold Shephard at bay some two miles north and at the same time to prevent Enslin from attempting to cross the river, which is both wide and deep. The mounted men got across the river higher up the following day, and the enemy retired precipitately as soon as he discovered the threat to his line of retreat. The crossing was occupied by us the following morning (18th August). Our losses in this action amounted to about one hundred and twenty, while the enemy had been very severely handled. A halt ensued here, as the bridging of the river was estimated to take four days. During this time Hannyngton was ordered to move his brigade to Dakawa, and the Cape Corps to take its place in following the retreating enemy party towards Kilossa. This pause provides a suitable opportunity to review van Deventer's operations along the Central Railway.

Van Deventer's advance to Kilossa and great Ruaha river.

(38) On August 9th, van Deventer's Division had been concentrated at Njangalo, while the enemy was reported holding Tschunjo Pass with his left on Gulwe and his right on Kongoa. The advance was commenced on that day, and contact was established with the enemy at Tschunjo on the afternoon of the 11th.

The troops had to march from Njangalo to Tschunjo over a waterless area, and went into action without any rest. Fighting continued nearly all night, and next morning the enemy was found to have retired, and was immediately pursued towards Mpapua, where he was again engaged and defeated before nightfall on the same day (August 12th). Fighting and marching had been continuous for forty-two miles. The enemy force from Tschunjo to Mpapua consisted of twelve companies supported by artillery. Owing to the difficulties of the country the flanking movements were delayed and the advance had to depend for progress mainly on frontal attacks.

On the 15th August the enemy was again engaged at Kidete station holding a strong position. He was supported by machine, field and heavy guns. On the 16th August the engagement at Kidete was continued until late in the day. The enemy was driven out by a flanking movement by the mounted troops who attacked in rear. Our casualties were six killed and thirty-nine wounded.

From 15th August to 22nd August our troops were in daily contact with enemy driving him gradually from Kidete along the railway line to Kilossa and Kimamba, which were both entered on the 22nd August, the day before our advance was resumed on the Wami river.

(39) In reporting these arduous operations General van Deventer says :—

"The railway from Kidete to Kilossa for a distance of twenty-five miles follows a narrow defile cut through the Usugara mountains by the Mkondoka river; every yard of advance was stubbornly resisted by the enemy. Of the more important engagements those on the 19th at Msagara and on the 21st before Kilossa should be mentioned. In all the actions on this advance the fighting consisted of the enemy receiving our advance guard with one or several ambushes, then falling back on a well-prepared position, and retiring from that on to further well-selected ambush places and positions. All the time our less advanced troops were subjected to vigorous shelling by means of long range naval guns.

"Since leaving Kondoa Irangi the troops who have reached Kilossa by the shortest route have done at least 220 miles. Those troops who have gone via Kilimatinde and other places have done many more miles. Owing to bad roads, shortage of transport and the rapidity of advance, the adequate rationing of the troops was not possible. The underfeeding and overworking are sadly reflected in their state of health. Regarding the animals of my division, the advance from Mpapua to Kilossa was through one continual fly belt, where practically all the animals were infected.

"After the occupation of Kilossa it was ascertained that the enemy held Uleia, twenty miles south, in force, and was being reinforced by troops from the Southern Command, who had opposed General Northey's advance. As my division was now weakened by the absence of the First Mounted Brigade (less one regiment), which had gone to Mlali on 25th August to co-operate with the Second Mounted Brigade, and as my infantry was in an exhausted condition, the Commander-in-Chief's wires of 26th August, asking for an advance on Kidodi and Kidatu, imposed a task which I had not intended to ask from my troops before they had had some rest. The advance was, however, ordered in accordance with the request of the Commander-in-Chief, the enemy being driven out of Uleia on 26th August and out of Kidodi on September 10th.

"From Uleia to Kidodi the country consists of high mountain ridges running across the road for several miles. These had all been entrenched by the enemy some time ago, so that in the various actions his troops could fall back from one entrenched position to the next, a mile or so in rear. The operations thus called for an extraordinary amount of mountain climbing and constant fighting.

"The slight casualties sustained in the various engagements over an enormous track of country, bristling with dongas and difficulties at every point, were mainly due to the advance being carried out by avoiding as far as possible frontal attacks. Dispositions were made with a view to carry out flanking movements while holding the enemy to the position occupied by him, but this the enemy carefully avoided, and under cover of darkness the engagement was usually broken off and a retreat effected.

"The success with which the whole movement from Kondoa Irangi to the Central Railway, thence to Kilossa, and on to the Ruaha river, was carried out is due to the loyal co-operation and splendid spirit displayed by all units under my command.

"It is difficult to express my high appreciation of the conduct and spirit of the troops, who all worked with determination and zeal; their endurance and hardships during long marches through dry and waterless stretches on scanty rations form an achievement worthy of South African troops."

Occupation of Morogoro and of Uluguru Mountains.

(40) When the advance through the Nguru mountains began I entertained some hope that, even if we failed in cornering the enemy in those mountains, he might still be brought to bay at Kilossa, on the Central Railway. Our information tended strongly to show that if the enemy retired from the railway, Mahenge would be his next objective; and as the most convenient point of departure for Mahenge appeared to be Kilossa, there was some justification for the hope that our rapid advance from the north and west might cut the enemy off in the direction of Kilossa. It may, however, have been the rapid progress of van Deventer towards Kilossa that caused the enemy to retire with his main force towards Morogoro. Whatever the cause, our information did not leave us in any doubt as to the fact that the bulk of the enemy forces had retired to Morogoro. The next move now was to try and bring the enemy to bay at Morogoro, if possible. To this end Enslin, whose brigade had been ordered to the Central Railway on the 21st August and had occupied Mkata station on the 23rd August, was ordered to proceed immediately to Mlali, about fifteen miles south-west of Morogoro, on the road to Kissaka, round the west of the Uluguru mountains. Mlali was successfully occupied by him on the 24th August. General van Deventer was asked to send the First Mounted Brigade, under General Nussey, to reinforce Enslin so that it would be impossible for the enemy to force his way south by that route. The next point was so to arrange the advance of our other forces from Dakawa as to block also the road leading from Morogoro by Kiroka, round the eastern slopes of the Uluguru mountains, and thus to bottle the enemy up in Morogoro. I was not then aware that a track went due south from Morogoro through the mountains to Kissaki, and that the capture of the flanks of the mountains would not achieve the end in view. On the morning of the 23rd August our forces crossed the Wami by the now completed bridge, but instead of moving forward to Morogoro we moved backward down the right bank of the Wami for about nine miles, and from there struck due east so as to cross the waterless belt of about twenty-five miles to the Mgerengere river, north-east of Morogoro. Owing to the nature of the country and the bush, the heat, and the absence of water, the march for that and the following day proved one of the most trying of the whole campaign; but on the night of the 24th August we were encamped on the Ngerengere river, in the neighbourhood of Msungulu, some eighteen miles north-east of Morogoro. A mounted detachment under Colonel A. Brink, General Brits' Chief Staff Officer, had preceded us and had that morning seized Mkogwa Hill, some three miles farther south-east on the other side of the river. The move must have been a surprise to the enemy, who, evidently misled by Enslin's march into the belief that the whole force would move to Morogoro by the west, had massed his forces on the road between Dakawa and Morogoro and farther west along the railway. Owing to the exhaustion of man and beast, the next day was spent in reconnoitring the country, and on the 26th August the advance was resumed, General Hannyngton being directed to Mikesse station twenty miles east of Morogoro, and the brigades of Sheppard and Beves moving up the Ngerengere towards Morogoro. Both places were occupied on the 26th August, only, however, to find that the enemy had gone, the Commander-in-Chief Von Lettow and Governor Schnee with a force on the track due south of Morogoro through the mountains, and another force by the eastern or Kiroka route, while Enslin was engaged with a third force at Mlali. At Morogoro I found many proofs of the precipitate flight and demoralised condition of the enemy forces, and I decided to continue the pursuit in spite of the fact that my forces and animals were worn out with the exertions of the last three weeks and that my transport had reached its extreme radius of action. General Sheppard occupied Kiroka on the 26th, and General Hannyngton was ordered to continue the advance south after the retreating enemy. By the 30th August the First Division had pressed the enemy over the Ruwu, having been continually engaged with him since the 27th.

(41) It is unnecessary to describe in detail the events of our advance along the eastern slopes of the Uluguru mountains. The enemy fought rearguard actions every day, and held up our advance at every convenient place. Unfortunately the country is very well suited to his tactics. The road passes through very difficult broken foothills, covered either with bush or grass growing from six to twelve feet high, through which any progress was slow, painful and dangerous. The bridging of the Ruwu took several days, and for some distance beyond the road passes along the face of precipitous rocks, round which the enemy had constructed a gallery on piles to afford a tract for his transport. As the gallery would not carry our mechanical transport, it took us some days to blast away the mountain side and construct a proper road. The gallery would not carry the 4-1 inch naval gun of the enemy, which was found destroyed near the Ruwu. South of the Ruwu, towards the Mwuha river, our advance proceeded not only along the main road to Tulo, but also on a track to the west of it to Kassanga, and to the east of it by the Tununguo Mission Station. The nature of the country and the continual fighting made our daily progress slow, while road making and bridging behind engaged the attention not only of the pioneers but of a large portion of the troops as well. Between the Ruwu and Mwuha rivers the road passes first through swampy country and then over one of the spurs of the Uluguru mountains, which ends with a precipitous face, to the south. Through this spur and down this face a mountain pass was cut in the rock, which took the technical corps, as well as most of General Sheppard's brigade, several weeks, and will remain a notable and enduring engineering feat. Almost every day prisoners were taken, and in one of these daily actions a machine gun was captured. On the 10th September Tulo was occupied, and Hannyngton's brigade, which was leading the advance, moved on towards Dutumi, where the enemy made a resolute stand for several days, being only finally driven south to the Mgeta river on the 13th September.

(42) I now turn back to review the operations inside and along the western slopes of the Uluguru mountains. As already stated General Enslin's Mounted Brigade reached Mlali on the 24th August from Mkata station. Early on the morning of that day the advance scouts of the brigade rushed Kisagale Hill, a small isolated hill athwart the road to the south, and captured an ammunition depot of the enemy, in which about one thousand shells for the naval and other guns of the enemy were found. At the same time one of the regiments galloped up the valley to the north of this hill, just as an enemy force was coming down the Morogoro road, and took up positions in the foothills in the immediate neighbourhood. In the afternoon this regiment, after severe fighting, found their positions in the valley untenable, as the enemy was gradually working round them in the hills and bringing converging fire to bear on them. They retired a short distance to the south, but remained in possession of the road. Fighting continued during the following day, and as the enemy found it impossible to dislodge our men from the road, they destroyed two naval guns, one 3-4 inch and the other 4-1 inch, and retired into the mountains towards Mgeta Mission station which is situated about ten miles farther into the mountains. Leaving their horses behind, the men worked their way after the enemy into the mountains, and on the 27th General Nussey, whose brigade had in the meantime joined that of Enslin, occupied Mgeta Mission, while Enslin's men who were moving into the mountains in a more southerly direction with the intention of cutting off the retreat of the enemy, had driven them off Hombossa mountain south-west of Mgeta. At this stage I arrived with General Brits at Mlali and ordered Nussey to follow the enemy through the mountains along the course of the Mgeta river, while Enslin was ordered back to the track which proceeds round the west of the mountains by Mssongossi river and Mahalaka to Kissaki at the southern extremity of the mountains. In this march Enslin's brigade was joined by Beve's two infantry regiments and was accompanied by General Brits.

(43) It was clear to me from the vast quantities of heavy gun ammunition captured at this and various other points in the Uluguru that the enemy had intended a long and elaborate defence of these mountains, and that it was the unexpected arrival of General Enslin at Mlali and the audacious and successful pursuit into the mountains, combined with the operations of General Hoskins' division on the other side of the mountains, that had forced the enemy to abandon his plans and retreat towards Kissaki. Nussey, followed only by porter transport, slowly worked his way southward through the mountains, finding much ammunition abandoned everywhere. General Brits, on arriving at Mssongossi river, found that it was impossible to take his guns or wagons any further and from there they had to return to Morogoro and rejoin him later at Kissaki by the eastern route. From Mahalaka to Kissaki he followed the elephant track which had been the route of Burton and Speke's journey into the interior in 1857. On the 5th September the neighbourhood of Kissaki was reached without any serious opposition. Nussey had not yet arrived and, owing to the roughness of the mountains and some damage to his wireless, no communication could be established with him. In spite of this, however, General Brits decided to attack Kissaki on the 7th September. Beves was ordered to follow the footpath southward along the Mgeta into Kissaki, while Enslin, with the mounted men, marched round by the right, so as to attack from the west and south-west. Kissaki was found to be strongly held, the bulk of the enemy being on the right bank of the Mgeta in front of Enslin, while dense bush prevented Beves on the other side of the river from offering any effective assistance to the former. The enemy's superior force therefore found it possible first to threaten Enslin's left flank by moving between him and Beves, and when Enslin weakened his right flank to reinforce his left, the pressure of the enemy again became too strong on his right. He therefore decided to retire at night, having lost nine men killed, twelve wounded and seven captured. Beves was also ordered to withdraw, and the whole force entrenched below Little Whigu hill, six miles north of Kissaki, and awaited the arival of Nussey. Nussey, who was in ignorance of these events or the position of General Brits, arrived before Kissaki on the morning of the following day, and an action developed, in which he gallantly held his ground against much superior forces till the evening, when General Brits' messengers reached him with an order to withdraw to Little Whigu. His loss had been twenty-three killed and about the same number wounded. Although this action could be heard from Brits' camp it was found impossible, owing to the ruggedness of the terrain and the thickness of the bush, to go to his assistance. If communication between Brits and Nussey could have been maintained there is no doubt a joint attack would have led to the capture of Kissaki, whereas the two isolated efforts led to a double retirement and a regrettable recovery of enemy morale. It was only on the 15th September, when General Hannyngton had already captured Dutumi, eighteen miles further east, that General Enslin, by a flank movement round the north-east of Kissaki to Dakawa and the threat to cut off the enemy's retreat to the Rufiji, compelled him to evacuate Kissaki. The enemy had left behind his hospital full of sick and about seventy-two white Germans, but all supplies had been removed or destroyed. The enemy had now been driven everywhere from the Uluguru mountains, and taken up a defensive line along the Mgete river south of Dutumi, and further to the west astride the road from Kissaki to the Rufiji. The attack against him along this line was not pressed, as our men were exhausted and worn out with ceaseless fighting and marching for several weeks through most difficult country on half rations or less, and a thorough rest was imperatively necessary, not only on military but also on medical grounds.

Occupation of Dar-es-Salaam and of south coast.

(44) Turning now to the coastal operations, which were conducted simultaneously with these movements in the interior, I have already stated that the navy occupied Bagamoyo on 15th August. At this point General Edwards assembled a force of about 1,800 rifles under Colonel Price for the operations against Dar-es-Salaam. This force was divided into two columns, the smaller one marching south to the Central Railway at the Ruwu bridge with the object, if possible, of seizing that bridge before its destruction by the enemy, and thereafter swinging round towards Dar-es-Salaam; the other and larger column moving down along the coast towards that port. Neither column met any serious opposition on the march, as the enemy, aware of the overwhelming force moving against Dar-es-Salaam, and determined to avoid capture and also anxious to avoid siege operations against a town containing a large German non-combatant population, had decided not to defend the place, and was everywhere falling back before our advance. Ruwu railway bridge was found completely destroyed. South-west of Ruwu a small German force was found, which was driven south with considerable loss, and the column then marched east towards Dar-es-Salaam. In the meantime the coastal column, after occupying Kondutschi and Mssassani bay, had flung its right wing forward and occupied the Mssimbusi river, which flows round Dar-es-Salaam, on the west and north. The navy at the same time appeared before Dar-es-Salaam, and on 3rd September the place surrendered, and was occupied by our forces on 4th September. The enemy forces had left a few days before. One 6-inch gun had been blown up, while the rest of their artillery was taken south. The railway station and harbour works had been effectively destroyed; the s.s. Tabora, Konig, and Mowe were found sunk in the harbour beyond any hope of being salved; but the Feldmarschall has since been recovered, and at comparatively small expense would again be seaworthy. The floating dock is also being salved.

(45) I considered that the time had now come to occupy effectively the whole of the coast, and accordingly made arrangements with the Admiral for convoying forces south and co-operating in the seizure of all important points on the coast south of Dar-es-Salaam. In this way Mikindani (13th September), Ssudi Bay (15th September), Lindi (16th September), Kilwa Kissiwani (7th September), Kilwa Kivinge (commonly called Kilwa, 7th September), and Kiswere were all occupied before the end of September. At Kilwa a strong column was landed for operations, which I proposed to conduct against the enemy from that quarter. This occupation of the southern coast not only helped to pen the enemy up in the interior, but was intended to prevent any assistance from reaching the enemy from oversea.

Restoration of Central Railway.

(46) The restoration of Dar-es-Salaam harbour and the preparation of Kilva as bases for our operations in the interior are both matters of some difficulty, and requiring some time to complete. Both are being pushed forward with the utmost energy.

This is also the place to refer to the restoration of the Central Railway for our supply purposes. While the railway track was largely left undamaged by the enemy, the bridges had been carefully demolished. Between Kilossa and Dar-es-Salaam alone about sixty bridges, some of very considerable dimensions, had been wrecked. To restore these so as to carry heavy locomotives would take many months, during which period all further operations would have to remain at a standstill and an unbearable strain would be put on our enormously stretched out transport lines from Moschi railhead and Korogwe on the Tanga railway. The difficulty had been solved for General van Deventer by a simple but ingenious device of the South African Pioneers under him. This was to restore the bridges with local material so as to carry a weight of about 6 tons, and to narrow the gauge of our heavy motor lorries so that they could run on railway trolly wheels over the line thus restored. A motor tractor with trailer carries 10 to 15 tons of supplies. In this way General van Deventer had supplied his division over the railway track for the 120 miles advance from Dodoma to Kilossa, and but for this solution of his transport trouble his advance to the great Ruaha river at this stage would have been a physical impossibility. As soon as Morogoro was occupied, the same treatment was applied to that section of the line, with the result that since the 6th October the railway track has been open for motor traffic from Dar-es-Salaam to Dodoma, a distance of almost 300 miles, and our forces have been supplied from Dar-es-Salaam as sea base. By the end of October the railway will thus be open to motor traffic to Tabora, and the restoration and strengthening of the line for heavy locomotive traffic, for which heavy material has to come up from the coast, can proceed as circumstances permit.

Northey's advance.

(47) A word more about the western operations will complete the picture of the military situation in German East Africa by the middle of October. Brigadier-General E. Northey, A.D.C., whose operations have been conducted with remarkable ability and vigour, occupied Lupembe on 19th August and Iringa on 29th August; the latter place would have been occupied much earlier but for my advice to him to slow down while the line of retreat of the enemy's forces from the Central Railway was still uncertain. His Lupembe column is now on the Rohudje river south-west of Mahenga, while his Iringa column is near the Ulanga river north-west of Mahenge. Ssongea in the south has also been occupied. The importance of his role is becoming more accentuated as the campaign progresses and the enemy forces may intend to retire south.

Advance to Tabora.

In the North-west, as already stated, Sir Charles Crewe s advanced troops were at Misungi, south of Mwanza, on 16th July, while one Belgian column was further west near Biaramulo and Namirembe, and a second Belgian column was at Ujiji on Lake Tanganyika on 5th August. It was arranged between General Tombeur and General Crewe that their columns from Lake Victoria should advance simultaneously to St. Michael and Iwingo respectively on the western and eastern roads southward to Tabora. Difficulties of transport supplies and organisation delayed their advance so that General Crew only reached Iwingo on 7th August and Colonel Molitor's Belgian column could not be concentrated at St. Michael before the 22nd August. The British column reached Schinjanga on the 30th August. In the meantime the Belgian Ujiji column under Colonel Olsen had steadily moved forward towards Tabora and on 1st and 2nd September fought actions with enemy to the west and south-west of Tabora. General Tombeur, therefore, decided to push Colonel Molitor's column southward with all possible speed so as to be able to co-operate with Colonel Olsen. Their combined operations caused the enemy to retreat, and the Belgian forces occupied Tabora on the 19th September, while a week later General Crewe's advanced troops occupied the railway at Igalulu, east of Tabora. The enemy retired in two columns—one under General Wahle eastward along the railway and then southward to the Itumba Mountains; the other under Wintgens southward via Sikonge. At the time of writing this report both columns are approching the great Ruaha river north and west respectively of Iringa, and Northey's and van Deventer's patrols are in touch with them. Their object is evidently to form a junction with the main enemy forces further east.

Portuguese advance.

In the extreme south General Gil with a Portuguese force has crossed the Rovuma river and occupied certain strategic points to the north of it.

The net result of all these operations at the moment of writing is that the Germans have been driven south over the Central Railway and are now disposed as follows:—In the north-east, on the Rufiji river and about 30 miles to the north of it; in the west, along or south and east of the great Ruaha river and Ulanga rivers With the exception of the Mahenge plateau, they have lost every healthy or valuable part of their colony. In the east they are cut off from the coast and in the south the Portuguese army has appeared north of the Rovuma river.

Behaviour of troops.

(48) It would seem fit and proper to add a few words in recognition of the work done by the officers and men whom I have the honour to command. But in view of the foregoing statement of the main facts eulogy seems unnecessary and misplaced. The plain tale of their achievements bears the most convincing testimony to the spirit, determination, and prodigious efforts of all ranks. Their work has been done under tropical conditions which not only produce bodily weariness and unfitness, but which create mental languor and depression and finally appal the stoutest hearts. To march day by day, and week by week, through the African jungle or high grass, in which vision is limited to a few yards, in which danger always lurks near but seldom becomes visible, even when experienced, supplies a test to human nature often in the long run beyond the limits of human endurance.

And what is true of the fighting troops applies in one degree or another to all the subsidiary and administrative services. The efforts of all have been beyond praise, the strain on all has been overwhelming. May the end soon crown their labours.

Special services.

(49) I am particularly indebted to the following for their services during the operations :—

Major-General A. R. Hoskins, C.M.G., D.S.O., who has commanded the 1st Division and has rendered me the greatest services by the ability and loyal manner in which he has carried out my orders.

Major-General J. L. van Deventer, at the head of the 2nd Division, was throughout these operations in command of a widely detached movement, which he conducted in a manner worthy of the highest praise.

Major-General C. J. Brits, in command of the 3rd Division, has invariably co-operated loyally and ably in carrying out my wishes as intended.

Brigadier-General S. H. Sheppard, D.S.O., has in addition to his services at the head of his brigade, used his great engineering capabilities to the best advantage on many occasions, thereby enabling our advance to proceed unchecked.

Brigadier-General J. A. Hannyngton has proved his worth as a commander in the field, having been very largely employed in carrying out independent operations.

Brigadier-General P. S. Beves has sustained his high soldierly record, and the 2nd South African Infantry Brigade under him has borne more than its due share of the labours and hardship of the campaign.

Brigadier-General C. A. L. Berrangé, C.M.G., at the head of the 3rd South African Infantry Brigade, has rendered excellent service with the 2nd Division and taken a leading share in all the hard work performed by that division.

Brigadier-General B. G. L. Enslin, by carrying out two arduous turning movements with his mounted brigade, largely contributed to the rapid clearings of the Nguru and the Uluguru mountains.

Brigadier-General A. H. M. Nussey, D.S.O., has rendered distinguished service, first as General van Deventer's Chief Staff Officer, and subsequently in command of the 1st Mounted Brigade, in succession to Brigadier-General Manie Botha.

Brigadier-General the Honourable Sir C. P. Crewe, C.B., K.C.M.G., rendered very useful service, first in organising the transport and supply arrangements for General Tombeur's force from Lake Victoria, and subsequently in commanding our advance to Mwanza and Tabora.

My heartiest thanks are due to Rear-Admiral E. F. B. Charlton, C.B., and all ranks of the Royal Navy for the very able and thorough manner in which they have furthered my plans, not only by occupying points on the coast, sometimes even without military assistance, but by enabling a change of base to be carried out first to Tanga and then to Dar-es-Salaam.

The work of the Air Services has been most creditable. In addition to their reconnaissance work, there is evidence to the effect that both material and moral damage has been done to the enemy by their constant bombing raids.

I have already alluded to the amount of engineering work that has had to be carried out. Both in bridge building and road making the engineers and pioneers with the force have worked very hard, and rendered very valuable service.

The Royal Artillery has invariably made the most of any opportunities that have offered for assisting the advance of the infantry.

The Supply and Transport services have spared no effort to cope with the enormous distances and the difficulties entailed in campaigning in such a vast and undeveloped country,

The manner and rapidity with which the repairs to the Tanga and Central Railways have been effected reflect great credit on all ranks of the Railway Services, and in this connection I should like especially to bring to notice the service rendered by Lt.-Col. C. W. Wilkinson, of the Railway Sappers and Miners, and Major J. H. Dobson, of the South African Pioneers, in carrying out the temporary repairs to the Central Railway which have enabled the troops in the interior to be supplied from Dar-es-Salaam practically within a month of its occupation.

The work of the Medical Units has been very heavy, and all ranks have done their utmost in their care of sick and wounded and in arranging for their speedy evacuation.

The Ordnance Service is to be congratulated on having so successfully met the very varied calls made on it, which success bears testimony to the excellent organisation of that service.

Great credit is due to the Signal Service for the really excellent way in which communication has been maintained. The operations have been carried on by three widely separated forces, which have each been again subdivided into two or more columns, and this has strained the resources of the service to its furthest limits. It has only been by unremitting efforts that success has been achieved.

My thanks are due to the various Political Officers who have accompanied the columns, and by their work materially assisted the operations by helping to gain the confidence of the natives, which is so important a feature in a campaign of this nature.

The officers of my staff have given me every assistance. I would again especially mention the very great debt which I owe to Brigadier-General J. J. Collyer, C.M.G., my Chief of the General Staff, and to Brigadier General R. H. Ewart, C.B., C.I.E., D.S.O., A.-D.-C., Administrative Staff, for the tireless energy and unfailing tact with which they have carried out their respective duties, thereby relieving me of all detail work and leaving me free to devote myself solely to the prosecution of the campaign.

Brigadier General W. F. S. Edwards, D.S.O., has continued to render valuable services as Inspector-General of Communications, and has from time to time had control of minor operations on lines of communication, which he has always handled to my entire satisfaction.

(50) A despatch giving the names of the officers and men whose services I also desire to bring to your notice is in course of preparation, and will follow at a later date.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. C. SMUTS

STARRED QUESTIONS.

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Housing of colliery labourers.

* 1. (a) Are the Government aware that the Bengal Mining Settlements Act of 1912 does not provide any remedy for the defects of the present system regarding the housing of casual labourers in the coal-fields of Bengal?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of appointing a committee to inquire into the question of the housing of casual labourers in the coal-fields of Bengal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) Government are aware that the Bengal Mining Settlements Act of 1912 does not confer powers to deal with the housing of labourers who come from homes at a distance to work for short periods at the mines. The Act gives power only to provide for the housing of residents within a mining settlement.

(b) Government do not consider it necessary to appoint a committee. But the matter will be brought to the notice of the Managers of mines with a view to improving the arrangements for the housing of casual labourers wherever improvement appears to be necessary."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Cattle-poisc in Bengal.

* 2. (a) Is it a fact that there are a large number of cases of cattle-poisoning actually occurring in Bengal which are not reported to the police?

(b) Is it a fact that many cases of cattle-poisoning have been proved to be due to the administration of arsenic?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the advisability of taking action to urge upon the owners of cattle the desirability of informing the police whenever a case of cattle-poisoning occurs?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) It is probable that a considerable number of cases are not reported to the police, but it is impossible to say whether the number is large or not.

(b) Yes.

(c) No such proposal is under the consideration of Government."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

Expenditu on popula education.

* 3. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a detailed statement showing the amount actually spent up to December, 1916, for improving popular education in Bengal, out of the lump sum of Rs. 9,25,000 provided for this purpose in the Budget Estimates for 1916-17?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. HORNELL :—

" The Government of Bengal regret that they are unable to supply the information asked for, as no separate account is kept of the expenditure in question. The lump sum referred to consists of two Imperial grants of Rs. 9,00,000 and Rs. 25,000 which have been allotted for expenditure under various heads; and the expenditure is in some cases included in expenditure on similar objects met from allotments from other grants."

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the amount of the balance still available for female education for the year ending 31st March, 1917?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. HORNELL :—

"A statement is laid on the table showing the actual expenditure from Provincial revenues up to December, 1916, so far as figures are available.

For the reasons stated in the reply to Question No. 3, no statement can be given of the expenditure from the Imperial grants.

(b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer to Question No. 3, from which it will be apparent that Government are not in a position to state the amount of the balance available from the provision for female education in the Budget for the year 1916-17.

(c) How are these amounts utilized?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

Deposit of rents by tenants under the Bengal Tenancy Act.

* 3. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement for the last ten years showing, district by district,—

(i) the total amount of rents deposited by tenants under clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d), respectively, of section 61 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885;

(ii) how much of the amounts deposited under these respective clauses was actually received by the persons entitled to such rents; and how much was repaid to the depositors under section 64 (3) of the said Act; and

(iii) what balance, if any, was left in the hands of Government, which was claimed neither by the landlord nor by the depositor; and the manner in which such balance was utilised?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The figures asked for are not shown in any prescribed return and the labour of compiling them would, in the opinion of Government, be out of proportion to their value. Unclaimed items not exceeding one rupee are credited to Government after a year, and unclaimed items exceeding one rupee are credited to Government after three years. The sums so credited to Government are disbursed to the persons entitled to receive them if claimed after being so credited."

Proposed amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

* 4. Are the Government in a position to announce whether an amendment of the Tenancy Act is in contemplation, and, if so, on what probable date and on what lines will such amendment be undertaken?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"Government have for some time had under consideration the amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act in respect of three subjects, viz.—

(1) the transfer of occupancy holdings generally,

(2) restriction on the transfer of holdings of aboriginals,

(3) the recovery by landlords from tenants of cess in excess of the rate provided in the Cess Act.

Public opinion has been invited and obtained on these proposals. Government cannot yet make a statement as to the probable date on which any of the three Bills will be introduced, or as to the lines on which the Bills will be framed. The attention of the Hon'ble Member is, however, invited to the statement made by His Excellency the Governor regarding the second of these proposals at the meeting of this Council on 13th December, 1916."

Waterways in Bengal.

* 8. Will the Government be pleased to make a statement about the condition of waterways in Bengal with special reference to rivers in Eastern Bengal?

Questions and Answers

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" It is impossible for Government in the limits of an answer to a question in this Council to make a statement dealing with the waterways of Bengal in general or of Eastern Bengal in particular. The waterways in question number many hundreds, each with a history of its own."

By the Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI :—

Waterways in Eastern Bengal.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" In 1909 Mr. C. A. White, Superintending Engineer, was placed on special duty to inquire into the most important waterways of Eastern Bengal and Assam. He submitted a preliminary report, which has been printed but not hitherto published. A copy is being placed on the Library table."

" (a) Mr. Lionel Curtis spent some days during November last in Calcutta. He was the guest of His Excellency Lord Carmichael during part of his visit.

(b) Mr. Curtis discussed many matters of public interest with some of the principal European and Indian residents.

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

* 12. (a) Is it a fact that the river Bhairab has for some time been making inroads on certain places in the district of Khulna and that the town of Khulna is seriously threatened by erosion? Inroads of the Bhairab on Khulna

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to make a statement with regard to this matter, setting forth the extent of the area so threatened, the damage already done, measures that may have been adopted or decided upon by Government for checking the ravages of the said river, and any expert assistance or advice that may have been obtained in this behalf?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) It is a fact that the river Bhairab has for some time been making inroads on certain places in the district of Khulna. It does not appear to be correct to say that the town of Khulna is seriously threatened by erosion.

(b) The river Bhairab is active over a short length only from its junction with the Majurkhali khal above Khulna down to Alaipur below Khulna, i.e., over the length of the river flowing past Khulna. Between the Majurkhali khal and Khulna the erosion is nominal. Between Khulna and Alaipur the course of the river has considerably changed during the past 20 years, but the length of the river where erosion has been considerable during the past two or three years is limited to the bank in the immediate neighbourhood of the Khulna railway station and the foreshore between the railway station and the Public Works office. The foreshore in the neighbourhood of the railway station is the property of the Eastern Bengal Railway, who are taking such steps as they think necessary for the protection of their property. From the railway station to the Public Works office the foreshore is private property, where the owners are apparently taking such steps as they see fit for the protection of their property. As regards the policy of Government in the matter of the alluvial and diluvial action of rivers in respect to private lands, the Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja of Burdwan in this Council on the 23rd January, 1917."

By the Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY :—

* 13. (a) Will the Government be pleased to make a statement regarding the condition of the Alaipur khal and Santola khal in the district of Khulna? Condition of two khals in Khulna.

(b) What efforts have so far been made by Government and the District Board for improving the condition of these khals, and with what result?

(c) How have internal communication, and drainage, and the sanitary condition of the neighbouring areas been affected by the drying up of these two khals?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) The waterway now known as the Alaipur khal was formerly the lower portion of the Bhairab river. It forms a portion of what is known as the Eastern Canal route to Eastern Bengal. The Alaipur khal has been steadily silting up, owing to the fact that the waters of the Bhairab and the Atarabanka have joined and now flow into the Rupsa. It is not now navigable even by boats of small draught. There are five main khals connecting the Alaipur khal with the bhils lying to the north-east. These khals are named —Narkali khal, Mowbhoj khal, Kaliganga khal, Sonarkali khal and Koramora khal. These five khals are also deteriorating owing to reclamation of land in the bhil area.

(b) Previous to 1898, the Alaipur khal was periodically cleared of silt by hand labour. In 1897, the District Board of Bakarganj proposed to contribute Rs. 5,000 a year if Government would canalise the khal, so that regular steamer service could be maintained between Khulna and Barisal. The canalisation scheme was not approved by Government. In 1898, Sir John Woodburn, the then Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, ordered an inquiry into the silted condition of this khal. Inquiries were made, which resulted in a proposal to cut a channel parallel to the existing one, so that each channel could be cleared of silt in turn. The cost was estimated at Rs. 65,000, with an annual expenditure for maintenance of Rs. 6,000. Eventually the project was abandoned, because the steamer companies had opened up a fast steamer service between Khulna, Barisal and Narayanganj by an alternative route. In 1904, an estimate was sanctioned for Rs. 91,463 for resectioning the Alaipur khal. This estimate was subsequently revised in 1905 for Rs. 1,18,104 and sanctioned. In April 1908, an estimate was prepared, amounting to Rs. 43,091, for removing silt from the Alaipur khal. It was not then sanctioned, but an experiment in dredging was approved at a cost of Rs. 11,000. This experiment merely proved that the khal silted up to its former state within a fortnight of being dredged.

(c) The drainage and sanitary condition of the neighbouring areas do not appear to have been affected by the silting up of this khal, probably owing to the improvements in the Chitra Nadi."

Newspapers under Government patronage.

* 14. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether there are any newspapers or periodicals in Bengal which enjoy any subvention in any shape from Government funds or are purchased in a large number?

(b) If so, what are they, and what amount is annually credited to each of them?

(c) Are residents of Government college hostels, and college unions, free to subscribe to any paper, or are they required to confine their choice to any list of approved journals furnished by Government?

(d) If the answer to the latter part of clause (c) be in the affirmative, will the Government be pleased to lay such list on the table?

(e) Are there any papers to which the students are prohibited from subscribing? If so, which are they?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. HORNELL :—

"(a) & (b) Yes. The Director of Public Instruction subscribes for 125 copies of the Dacca Review and 241 copies of the Siksha Samachar at a cost of Rs. 671-14 and Rs. 602-8, respectively.

(c) (d) & (e) It is left to the discretion of Principals to select newspapers and periodicals for the use of students in Government colleges and hostels."

Two railway incidents in Eastern Bengal.

* 16. (a) Is it a fact that a Railway Guard, in 8-Down train, running from Bahadurabad to Narayanganj, on or about the 22nd January last, entered a female compartment at Narundi station and behaved improperly with two female passengers?

(b) Is it also a fact that a Railway Guard of the Up train, No. 273, running from Singjani to Sarisabari, on or about the 23rd January last, entered a 1st class compartment with a public woman and travelled with her up to Sarisabari, where the said Guard molested some passengers who protested against the conduct of the Guard?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of asking the Railway Company to take such steps, as it thinks proper, with a view to prevent the recurrence of such incidents in future?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"(a) &(c) A complaint was made to the Railway officials that the Guard of 8-Down Dacca section train of the 22nd January last jumped on to the footboard of the train as it was leaving Narundi Station and entered a compartment reserved for females An inquiry into the case was at once instituted, and as the evidence obtained confirmed the statement made by the complainant, the services of the Guard were dispensed with.

(b) It is a fact that on arrival of No 273 Up train of 23rd January last at Sarisabari, a passenger complained to the Assistant Station Master that the Guard of the train had brought a public woman, who travelled in a first class compartment. The woman was removed by the Assistant Station Master, who realised the necessary excess fare. The Guard denied the charges brought against him. The matter was inquired into, but no evidence was obtained implicating the Guard."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 3.

THE REVISED FINANCIAL STATEMENT.*

The Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell presented the Revised Financial Statement for Bengal for 1917-18.

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON BELL said :—

"My Lord, I present to the House the Revised Financial Statement for Bengal for 1917-18. We have placed in the hands of members another Memorandum, explaining the few changes which have been made since the Financial Statement was last before the House. The House will observe an important change in connection with our income from Excise. In the coming year, owing to the continued prevalence of temperance among the people of Bengal, we have thought it wise to reduce our income by 2 lakhs. As a result, we have now to draw upon our balances to a larger extent than we had hitherto contemplated. In this connection, I think it only fair that I should explain to the House what I omitted to explain on a previous occasion that the Government of India have allowed us to dip into our balances on the express understanding that we shall make a beginning in reducing the size of some of the more unwieldy districts and in taking up some of the more urgent matters in connection with police reforms. I make these few remarks as in many of the Resolutions which are to be moved in the course of to-day's debate, it has been assumed that we have a free hand and have been allowed to overdraw 9 or 11 lakhs of rupees for any object which may strike our fancy. It must be clearly understood that this is not the real position. With these few words, I lay before the House the Revised Financial Statement for the coming year."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 1.

The Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the scheme for the partition of Mymensingh and Midnapore be postponed for the present and that the sum of Rs. 4,36,000 for that purpose be allotted to increase the grant for Sanitation.

He said :—

"My Lord, the Hon'ble the Finance Member in presenting the draft Financial Statement has told us that it does not bear any trace of the influence of the war. Indeed it does not; for although we meet here under the shadows of a terrible calamity affecting the whole world the Budget presented to us differs very little from that which one would have expected in a normal year. More than that the provisions made in certain directions notably in the case of the Police, and the general administration, are more liberal, if not actually lavish, than ever since the outbreak of the war, although in certain other directions it is extremely ungenerous, if not actually close-fisted. With the Police I shall deal later on. My present motion is with regard to the position of two of the biggest districts of Mymensingh and Midnapore for which a provision of Rs. 4,36,000 has been made in the Statement. My Lord, I do not propose to revive thorny questions of the propriety or otherwise of the scheme of splitting up the larger districts into smaller ones. Assuming for the present that for administrative convenience they ought to be divided, the issue which I would raise for the decision of the Council is,—Is it the time and is the matter of such immediate urgency that nearly 4½ lakhs of rupees should be diverted for the purpose, while the grant of sanitation has been cut down from 7½ lakhs to 2½ lakhs only? Cannot the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh wait for better times and more favourable circumstances? The end of the war is not yet in sight and I, for one, hesitate to accept either the wisdom or the propriety of incurring permanent additional burdens to an already costly administration. With the war loans on the one hand and our growing demands for sanitation and education on the other we do not yet know where we shall stand after the war. The Dacca University has practically been shelved for the present and yet we are going to spend 4½ lakhs of rupees for mere administrative convenience. Government are credited with the utmost anxiety for the improvement of the growing insanitary condition of the country, and yet there has been a reduction of 5 lakhs under this head, while an almost equal amount has been provided for the non-recurring charges of the partition of two districts. My Lord, by doing so Government are laying themselves open to grave misunderstanding, and I would earnestly request the Government to drop the partition for the present and to allot the amount released thereby for sanitary improvements."

The Hon'ble MR. K. B. DUTT said :—

"Your Excellency, in supporting this Resolution which stands in the name of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, I associate myself with every word which has fallen from him. I do not think that I shall be in order in questioning the propriety of the policy of Government to 'divide and rule.' But, with Your Excellency's permission, I would point out this: Is this the time, is this the season, for spending Rs. 4,36,000 for partitioning the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh? The question, of course, has been settled that these two districts and possibly some other districts in course of time will be partitioned. This is a policy with which we are not concerned, but Your Excellency's Government ought to remember that in these very districts there are wants which have not yet been fulfilled. As far as the district of Midnapore is concerned, I know very well that for years together attempts have been made to have water-works in that district, but we could not get it, why, because no money could be had. If for that important improvement, for which the people have been crying for years together, money could not be found, is it desirable, is it statesmanlike to spend a large amount of money for the purpose of partitioning the district? The first duty of the Government, as I understand it, is to see that the people do not die for causes which can be prevented. First do that, and then give us the best rule you can. Secondly, with regard to the partition of Mymensingh, whatever the opinion may be, people who are in a position to judge, say that it is not of such imperative necessity that effect must be given to it at once. The Hon'ble Financial Member, whom I congratulate for what I might call a prosperity Budget which he has introduced, as far as administration is concerned, himself says that the 'criterion of imperative and immediate necessity' has been rigorously applied to all new schemes of expenditure. Now, has that principle been followed for setting apart this amount of money for partitioning the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh?

In conclusion, constituted as this Council is, I must observe that we Indian members have indeed very little chance of carrying any Resolution unless we get the support of European members. On a previous occasion I begged and besought them to give their votes on the merits of the question, and again on this occasion, I shall beg of them to support us. This is not an opportune time for spending Rs. 4,36,000 for partitioning the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh."

The Hon'ble MR. A. RASUL said :—

"My Lord, there is another Resolution (No. XVI) which stands in the name of my Hon'ble friend Mr. M. Ashraf Ali Khan Chaudhuri. That is also with regard to the same matter with the exception of the last two lines—'Rs. 2,36,000 be allotted to establish a Muhammadan College in Calcutta.'

The Hon'ble MR. A. RASUL—concld.

As I shall have to say something on that Resolution later on, I simply want to say a few words with regard to this Resolution. Members of the Government are aware that there is a large consensus of opinion in this House, at any rate among the Indian non-official members, that there ought not to be any partitioning of Mymensingh and Midnapore. But we are not going into the history of it now as the Government have decided to partition these districts. but the Resolution says that this is not the time for partitioning these districts, and spending so much money on them and the Hon'ble Mover simply says that this scheme should be postponed for the present, and he has my hearty support, as far as that part of the Resolution is concerned. I would also support him with regard to the last portion of his Resolution that this sum, if this scheme is postponed, ought to be spent on the improvement of sanitation, but if this is not accepted by the Government, and if the first part of the Resolution is accepted, then the question will arise as to what is to be done with the money. We will have to discuss that later on, but I have great pleasure in supporting the Resolution as it stands."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I do not wish to say much on this Resolution. I entirely agree with the previous speakers that this is not the time for taking up the partition of these two districts. It is not only for this sum, but in the near future we shall have to spend more money for creating new towns. In whatever way the sum may be utilised, I would like to say this much, that whether for sanitation or for education, whatever may be done, I fully support the view that the partition of these two districts should be postponed for the present, and the sum should be utilised for some other purpose. With these few words, I support the Resolution."

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLA AL-MAMUN SUHRAWARDY said :—

"My Lord, when I signified my intention of speaking on this Resolution, I did so because the subject of sanitation strongly appealed to me. But going through the list of business to-day, I find there are no less than seven Resolutions which deal with the grant made in connection with the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh. This grant like that for the reorganisation and improvement of the Police Department, comes in for a good deal of notice, and a suspicion arose in my mind as to whether the real object of the Resolution was to advance the cause of sanitation in Bengal, or whether it was an advance-guard of an agitation against the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh ; and I am afraid my suspicion was confirmed after listening to the speeches of the Hon'ble Mover and the gentlemen who have supported the Resolution. Therefore, before I make up my mind (I was fully prepared to support the Resolution in connection with sanitation) to vote for or against the Resolution, I would ask the Hon'ble Mover to tell me frankly whether this Resolution is really a Resolution in support of the sanitation proposal, or whether it is an anti-partition Resolution in disguise. There is another consideration which embarrasses my decision. It is this : If we succeed in knocking this partition scheme on the head and setting free this four lakhs odd, will that put an end to this matter? Eventually the question will be. how to divide this 4 lakhs and odd amongst the seven claimants. Because going through the list of business I find that there are no less than 7 Resolutions in which reference is made to this sum. Leaving the last Resolution for the moment, because that Resolution merely mentions that this item be omitted, there are six Resolutions in which various demands are made upon this sum. I find that there are three Moslem Movers and three non-Moslem Movers. So we are equally divided. In the Resolution which is before the House, the Hon'ble Mover demands that the entire sum of Rs. 4,36,000 be spent on sanitation. I find also that Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazal Haq also demands the same sum. The Hon'ble Mr. M. Ashraff Ali Khan Chaudhuri asks for Rs. 2,36,000 for a Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta. Then the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem asks for 2 lakhs for Junior Madrassas, and the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur demands a sum larger than 2 lakhs for medical students (?) Of all these claimants, I would naturally support the claims of the three Muhammadan gentlemen, and I would also naturally prefer the Resolution of the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazal Haq to the others, not only because he has been the loudest in his demand, but also because his demand absorbs the entire sum and leaves nothing for the Hon'ble Mover. For these reasons, I am afraid I am not prepared to support the Hon'ble Mover, although I came with the idea of supporting him. I may say for the benefit of this Council that I take considerable interest in the district of Midnapore, and it is not that I overlook the claims of that district when I say that I do not support this Resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"My Lord, I have great pleasure in supporting the Resolution of my Hon'ble friend Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar. I do not mean to make a speech on this motion, but I want simply to say that this is not the proper time for embarking on such an expenditure."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, I shall be very brief and I shall only say that I have always been a very great believer in partitions. I believed in that larger partition, I mean the partition of Bengal, and I also believe that these partitions, if effectively carried out, conduce very much to administrative efficiency. When questioned by the District Administration Committee on this point, I unhesitatingly gave my vote in favour of the partition of these two districts, but at the same time, My Lord, I think that the present moment is hardly the time for carrying out any expensive schemes such as the partitioning of the two districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh. I find from the list of Resolutions that although I have suggested that the projects be abandoned and the money utilised for other purposes, several Hon'ble Members have also laid claim to that money. We are all agreed that the project be abandoned. The difficulty is, if we are victorious, how are we all going to divide the spoils? My object in saying a few words at the present moment is to appeal to non-official members and to find out if there could be unanimity so far as the main proposal recommending the postponement of the projects could be accepted. If it is accepted, perhaps at some future date, we may go up to Government with a specific recommendation as to how the money should be utilised. If, for instance, the Resolution of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar fails now, we may take it that the main projects will also be carried through. and that all other Resolutions bearing on this allotment will have to be abandoned. I, therefore, appeal to Hon'ble Members to consider this particular point and to vote keeping in view the fact that the main question is whether the partition of the two districts is to be taken up or not. If we are agreed on that, it will be time enough for us to consider how we should proceed with the other Resolutions. With these few words, I would support the Resolution of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL HUDA said :—

"My Lord, the Resolution raises two distinct questions. The first question is whether more money is required for sanitation, the second question is whether it is desirable to postpone the partition of the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh. As regards the necessity for more money for sanitation, I should say that I would certainly have been glad if we had more money to spend on sanitation; but at the same time, we have to recognise other claims and all these have been fully considered by Government and by the Financial Committee and the Budget represents the compromise of the various conflicting claims. I have said that we can spend more money on sanitation and would have been glad to do so, but at the same time there are difficulties which we have experienced in the past, difficulties which have become much greater under present conditions. Before the war broke out, we had an almost unlimited sum at our disposal for the improvement of sanitation in Bengal. The difficulty which we experienced was this. We expect local bodies to bring their own contributions. Some times we expect them to find two-thirds and lately we have been more liberal and have been asking them to contribute at least half the cost of a scheme. Even before the war, when Government were prepared to give loans, we found that we could not spend money because Municipalities could not raise their share of the money and the result was that when the war broke out we had a saving of about 45 lakhs which we had to surrender. These difficulties have become greater now that the Municipalities cannot get loans as they used to do before. I do not say that they are absolutely precluded from getting loans, but they do not get loans to the same extent as they used to get before, and I am not quite sure that if we had more money whether the Municipalities would be in a position to contribute their share. We have instance of money which we contributed some time ago to the Narainganj Municipality. They got the money, but they found that they could not carry out the scheme as they had not all the funds that were necessary, and so they asked Government to be allowed to invest this money and to get the interest for themselves. We declined to permit this and the money had to be brought back to us. Apart from these considerations, we have to consider the orders of the Secretary of State that we are not to spend money unless it was going to be immediately remunerative or was of imperative urgency. It is difficult to say that all the schemes that are ready are immediately urgent. We have provided for a number of these schemes within the 2½ lakhs for sanitation. We have provided for the following schemes :—

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul-Huda.

		Rs.
Calcutta—
1.	Drainage of fringe area, Calcutta	50,000
2.	Experiment on sewerage of Calcutta	5,000
3.	Stegomyia Investigation	2,000
Malarial Works—
4.	Anti-malarial operations in the districts	12,500
	Distribution of quinine to school children and Missions	5,000
6.	Quinine grants to Municipalities	5,000
7.	Zangipur Scheme	20,000
8.	Burdwan Flooding Scheme	50,000
Municipal Grants—
9.	Natore Water Works	30,000
10.	Satkhira Water Works	8,300
11.	Dacca Conservancy	7,500
12.	Grants towards pay of Sanitary Inspectors	10,000
District Board Grants (c. p. 3)—
13.	Bakarganj Free Vaccination	3,500

It is possible that there are other claims for which funds are ready, but having considered the relative urgency of the various claims, we have thought it desirable to give preference to those we have provided for and even if the partition of Mymensingh were postponed the question would still arise whether other projects which do not come within the ruling of the Secretary of State can be financed at the present moment. These are the difficulties, and therefore I am not in a position to accept my Hon'ble friend's Resolution. The question whether the partition of Mymensingh and Midnapore is urgent or not whether these should be carried out at once or postponed, are matters as to which my Hon'ble colleague, Mr. Lyon, will speak with much greater authority, and I therefore need not enter into these questions. All I need say is that, for the present I am not certain if we can spend more money on sanitation, and if we can spend more money, it is by any means clear that these cannot be postponed, or that they can be said to be of immediate urgency."

The Hon'ble MR. LYON said :—

"My Lord, I wish to rise to deal with that branch of this matter which has assumed large proportions in this debate, the question whether the allotment made for the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh should be excluded in favour of an extra allotment for sanitation. This Resolution suggests a balancing between two methods of spending money with which it is difficult to deal. I have the greatest possible sympathy with the Hon'ble Member in his desire to increase the allotment for sanitation. Sanitation is an object on which we should certainly spend all the money we can get, and I should be very glad now if we could get more money for the purpose of sanitation in this Budget : but, in the present case, we are not in a position to leave out this particular allotment, nor are we in a position to say that if this allotment was taken away, we should be able to secure this money for sanitation, because, as my Hon'ble colleague Mr. Beatson Bell has mentioned, the Government of India have permitted us to dip into our balances, to go beyond our annual income, with the express proviso that we should make a beginning with the great schemes of partitioning these two districts. We are faced with yet another difficulty. There seems to be an idea abroad in the Council that this is a fine sum of money, this Rs. 4,36,000, and there is something in the nature of a general scramble as to who shall obtain it and for what purpose. We have had that suggested by two Muhammadan speakers. The Hon'ble Dr. Suhrawardy has particularly put forward the point that there are no less than seven claimants for this sum of money. Most of the schemes which these claimants urge are desirable, the very objects for which I personally should wish to spend the money, if I had it. My difficulty is that even if this money could be set free, none of these seven claimants is at all likely to get it.

This scheme for the partition of Mymensingh and Midnapore was placed before the Finance Committee and was accepted by them unanimously, and I think we have some claim on the members of the Finance Committee to support us in protesting against its removal from our Budget. And there is another point which I should like to mention before going into the question of the partition itself, and that is, that it is by the improvement of district administration that we definitely hope to be able to carry out to the best advantage all schemes for village sanitation. The reduction in the size of these large districts is an indispensable preliminary to the introduction of a properly regulated system of local self-Government. That is recognised in our schemes, and it is recognised that we cannot introduce our local units, which form the units for our present schemes of village sanitation, until we have the proper district machinery which will be able to give them the support and strength which they require.

The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq has introduced into this debate a word for which I thank him in support of the general principle of reducing the size of large districts. I welcome his support, and I go even a little further than he does. The Hon'ble Member who makes this proposal has suggested that this division of districts is a mere matter of administrative convenience. I confess that I do not understand the suggestion conveyed in the words "administrative convenience." It appears to me that the efficiency of the machinery of a district is so essential to the proper administration of the affairs of Government, that none of these improvements in district administration for which the Hon'ble Member himself rightly clamours, such as the improvement of the efficiency of the Police, greater sympathy with the wants of the people, better supervision and support for schemes of sanitation, the spread of primary education and the like, can be carried out, if the whole machinery of the district is out-of-joint, inadequate and inefficient. It is essential that we should encourage efficiency in district administration. I know that this word "efficiency" has got into bad odour, and nobody understands better than I do myself, how efficiency without sympathy in administration is ridiculous. But that does not mean that we are to elevate inefficiency into a sort of fetish. When we have a district administration we have to make it as good as it possibly can be. When we set up officers who are paid out of the public funds, they should be able to give us their best work in return, and this division of large districts is to help us to get this machinery into the best order, to allow our officers to do their best work. If we have that, we shall be able to help in suppressing crime and criminals in these districts, to prevent extortion by underlings who are so frequently left without inspection and control in unwieldy districts. The essence of all improvements in such administration is that we should have manageable districts. Now these benefits for the poor are not obtainable at the present moment, for reasons beyond our control, in the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh. We have had this scheme for the partition of these districts constantly under preparation for the last 10 or 15 years. The scheme has been delayed by the partition and re-partition of the province, by the want of funds, by the very care and consideration we have given to local opinion in both districts, and now at last we have obtained the sanction of the Government of India to dip into our balances on this occasion to make a small beginning. I emphasize the words 'a small beginning' because the whole cost must naturally be great. But we want to begin with the acquisition of land and collection of materials in Mymensingh, and to build the quarters and so on necessary for the introduction of our schemes.

The District Administration Committee went all over the province of Bengal, taking evidence wherever it went, and examined with the greatest possible care all matters connected with district administration; they looked into this question and considered how administration could be improved in these two districts. They considered the various means of improving it, whether by adding to the staff of District Magistrates or by devolution of work to Sub-Divisional Magistrates. They found that the enormous increase in the population, the want of communications, the large proportion of educated inhabitants and the general prosperity of Eastern Bengal, especially in parts of Mymensingh, all added to the work of the District Officer. They spoke of the work of the District Officer as being conducted 'under well nigh impossible conditions,' they pointed out that an increase in the number of officers meant a permanent necessary increase in the work of inspection and control, and they came to the final conclusion that it was impossible to introduce the necessary reforms without the division of these districts. They took up especially the case of Mymensingh. They gave us very instructive figures to which I venture to call the attention of the Council. They pointed out that the division of the district of Mymensingh had been proposed first in the year 1873; and they made a comparison between the state of affairs then, when this question was first mooted, and the last figures they had, those of 1913. They found that, whereas the population of the district of Mymensingh was 2,350,000 in 1873, it had since increased to 4,500,000 and that the number of criminal cases in the district had gone up from 4,500 to 11,500. The number of witnesses examined in Court had risen from 17,000 to 36,000 and the number of pupils in primary schools from 48,000 to 77,500. This means that the work is more elaborate everywhere and cases more fully contested.

Mr. Lyon; Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar.

The Hon'ble MR. LYON—concld.

The general figures now involved in the division of these districts may be roughly summarised as follows. Mymensingh has an area of no less than 6,249 square miles with a population of 4,500,000. and it is to be divided into three districts. The figures show that these three districts are of very considerable importance. One is to cover 1,630 square miles. another 2,009 square miles and the third 2,610, with a population of 1,360,000, 1,740,000 and 1,420,000, respectively, not too small or unreasonable districts, I think. In the case of Midnapore, with an area of 5,145 square miles and with a population of 2,820,000, there are to be two districts—one covering 2,688 square miles and the other 2,457 square miles, with a population of 1,090,000 and 1,730,000, respectively. I may point out that the district of Midnapore has very special difficulties of its own. In fact, a considerable portion of its area is inhabited by aboriginal tribes differing entirely from the population of the other parts of the district. It has also very large Government estates and canal irrigation areas and other special difficulties.

Our efforts to meet objections locally have not been without success. I think the general impression in these districts is that some improvement and change in the administration of the district is essential. Moreover, we have carefully arranged in Mymensingh that our new arrangement should follow the development of the district railways, so that our new districts will each in themselves have a unit of a railway to deal with. I may add that, in the course of the correspondence with reference to Midnapore, a careful comparison was made between the statistics of work in that district and the statistics of the work of two other districts—neither of them light districts—Murshidabad and Chittagong, and it was found that the total work of these two districts was practically less than the work done in the district of Midnapore alone. I venture to add that I have personal knowledge of the work which has been done in these two districts, and the extraordinary difficulties under which the Collector has always laboured to look into details and to carry out the real work of the administration in a way that would enable him to help and assist his officers and so to secure efficiency for their work. This administrative reform has been examined. worked out and polished. It has been brought into accord, so far as possible, with the wishes of the people themselves. It is not to be pursued with any very great expenditure until our finances improve. The Government cannot consent to draw back. So long as these districts remain undivided, we can expect but little improvement in sanitation, because the whole unit is too big, whether it be the Collectorate or the District Board; and apart from the technical objections which I have pointed out as to the opinion of the Government of India in this matter, I would earnestly press upon this Council that the grave reasons which have induced the Government of India, the Government of this Province and the Finance Committee to place this item upon the Budget are so serious that this Council should not hesitate to confirm their action."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

"My Lord, in rising to reply to this Resolution, I beg to point out that some of my colleagues have been labouring under a misapprehension. I have raised only two issues, one of which has been missed by some non-official members and the other has been missed by the official members of this Council who have spoken. First of all, my point is this, that you are here going to partition two districts and for non-recurring charges you allot Rs. 4.36,000. Of course. it follows that with this partition we shall have a large recurring expenditure on account of the maintenance of officers in these two districts. I have intentionally avoided raising controversial questions on the subject which, however, the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon has introduced into the discussion. Whether partition of the bigger districts is necessary or not I do not want the Council to consider at this stage. Taking it for granted that it is necessary to partition these two districts, or any other districts, which

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR—contd.

Government may choose hereafter, my point is this: Is it the time or is the partition of Mymensingh and Midnapore of such immediate urgency that we should entail such an expenditure both immediate and prospective, while there are so many urgent matters demanding our attention? Notably I pointed out the question of sanitation, regarding which every member who has already spoken is in the fullest sympathy. Of course, it might be like the sympathy of James in the Bible, who sympathised with everybody but had nothing to give to anyone.

I have been surprised by the speech made by the Hon'ble Dr. Suhrawardy, who assured me that he came to the Council full of sympathy for my Resolution, but as soon as he heard me and my friends who did me the honour of supporting it. he abruptly changed his mind. What my offence was, I cannot say. I have distinctly said that I want this money for the improvement of sanitation. Everyone of my friends agree that this partition business should be closed for the present, but some thought that the money might be made over for the improvement of education and some for the improvement of sanitation. How that changed his mind and alienated his love for my Resolution, I for one cannot understand. He might equally have said that I came to vote for the Resolution. but as soon as he heard that Baghdad had fallen, he changed his mind, and so he voted against it. Now, my Lord, I will deal with certain observations made by my Hon'ble friend Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul-Huda. He says, if we could spend money, we should certainly spend it for sanitation. That is a position which I cannot understand, and my learned friend points out that the Government have made it a rule that the local bodies interested in the matter, namely, the Municipalities and District Boards, ought to come forward with one-third contribution. but they are not able to do so, so we could not give money to them. On this point before we proceed further, I would refer to one observation made by my friend the Hon'ble Mr. K. B. Dutt. He is a resident of Midnapore and his view ought to be considered as of very great weight, as far as the partition of Midnapore is concerned. He has told us that many projects of public utility there are hanging fire. I want to know if that is so. There are other places I know, my Lord. I need not mention them, which want to establish water-supply and drainage, but as my friend says, they are in difficulty for raising the one-third contribution. Is it not better instead of spending money for the partitition of districts for the convenience of administration, to give these places the entire money that they need without insisting on the usual one-third contribution and taking away the money because they cannot contribute. My friend recognises that situation. Is this any reason for deferring sanitary improvements? You can give this sum gratuitiously and it will not be misspent. The Hon'ble Member has said that the Secretary of State has said that we cannot spend money except on remunerative works. I have seen that Despatch of the Secretary of State myself, but unfortunately I do not read it in that light. If that is the case, then we can only grant money for railways and irrigation, but nothing else.

The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon has dwelt at length upon the necessity of partitioning these districts. He has brought out facts and figures to show that they have a very large population and that the work is very heavy, and that there is a large number of schools and they cannot be managed by one Magistrate, and it is absolutely necessary that they should be divided into two in order that efficient administration may be maintained. I have yet to learn that division and partition. however small, will make administration efficient. If that were the case, divide Mymensingh and Midnapore into two or three or four districts. Each portion will be much larger than Bogra. Bankura and Pabna. Will the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon tell me what efficiency has been so far effected, and what improvement has been shown in the administration of these small districts? It is an ideal argument to say that if we divide

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar.

these districts further and further until we bring each to the size of a sub-division, there would be a fine administration under a personal government; but my Lord, there is another side of the shield, of which the Hon'ble Member has lost sight. If you divide these districts into very small areas, you also take away from the power, prestige and efficiency of the District Magistrate. However, it is no business of mine to patronize the efficiency of the Magistrates. They will take care of themselves, with the Government behind them. I have heard that Government are not willing to force Municipalities upon an unwilling people. I want to know if Mymensingh and Midnapore are going to be partitioned with the free will and consent of the people concerned. The thing is that I did not raise this question at all. I say only, postpone. Let us not give a handle to misunderstanding The people will think that Government want more officers to maintain in the two districts at the sacrifice of the health and comforts of the people. In the face of a great calamity, a small contribution for sanitation has been cut down by 5 lakhs, and doing that, we are going to spend Rs. 4,36,000 for the purpose of dividing two districts. I only ask you to wait for better times. Upon this partition does not depend the decisive battle on the western front of the European war and I submit that this partition may very well wait for better times. Let us put up at all events a graceful face. When better times return you can go on with any number of divisions and sub-divisions. My Lord, the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon has, of course, said that it is very difficult to manage big districts like Mymensingh and Midnapore. My Lord, up to this time, although I am a close student of administration reports, I have never seen in any report any criticism upon the Collectors of Mymensingh and Midnapore that they have failed to administer their district. That is to say, they have managed their districts as efficiently as the Collectors of Bankura, Pabna and Bogra have done, and even if the two districts are divided, the Collectors of these four districts will not show any better results than has already been achieved.

In conclusion I say, here it is a contest between a fad and necessity. I am crying for sanitation and there is the fad of efficient administration, and under the name of that fad you want to partition two districts. I hope and trust that there is enough statesmanship even in our Council just to weigh the importance of these two measures and deal with them as their urgency and importance demand.

A division was then taken with the following result :—

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 2.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 3,00,000 be set apart for expenditure in 1917-18 on those schemes of sanitation which have been approved by the Government but for which no provision has been made in the Budget for want of funds ;

(b) the said sum be taken out of the grant of Rs. 3,00,000 for the quarters for servants of the Medical College Hospital ; or from the grant of Rs. 12,00,000 for new Police buildings.

He said :—

" My Lord, sanitation does not require any advocacy. But there are many schemes of sanitary improvements which are being put off, not because they are not immediately urgent, but because we have not got the necessary money. I propose, therefore, to examine our financial position from this stand-point.

My Lord, the whole question lies in a nut-shell. Are the Government in a position at this certainly critical moment to undertake any new schemes of reform in any department ? If our Budget is to be a War Budget in the true sense of the expression, if the financial stringency is such as to preclude the possibility of introducing any reforms and improvements in any direction whatsoever, then I should be the last man to propose what this Resolution seeks to recommend. If that is our position, then we must accept it with philosophical resignation and must wait till a better time comes. If, however, we have got money enough and to spare for new reforms, if as a matter of fact we do decide to spend money on new schemes, then the further question arises :—What is the total amount we can so spend ? How to spend it to the greatest advantage of the country and its people ? What are the improvements which are most urgent ? How to distribute the amount over the different departments ? What is the rateable and equitable proportion in which the amount at our disposal should be divided amongst the different departments ? These are considerations which should engage our closest attention.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

Now, my Lord, it will be no exaggeration to say that it is now an article of faith both with the Government and the people that education and sanitation are the two most momentous problems which we have got to tackle. The Government also insist that there are some reforms in the Police department which call for our immediate attention; and for my present purpose I shall concede for argument's sake that they are really urgent. The position then is this: Education, Sanitation and Police have the strongest claims on the public revenue and whatever amount of money we have at our disposal for new works should be fairly distributed over these three departments. But I regret to find that the most remarkable and regretable feature of the Budget before us is that the Police have monopolised the attention and financial resources of the Government, whereas education and sanitation are nowhere. This is an arrangement which does not and cannot commend itself to us as fair. We find that the total amount budgetted for Police improvement under different heads is about twenty lakhs. whereas we have got for sanitation not more than 2½ lakhs. You may rob Sanitation to pay Police, but the Police will hardly have any occupation if village after village are decimated by malaria. If sanitary schemes are brushed aside indefinitely, then the time will soon come when in some parts of the country the Police will have the melancholy pleasure of lording it over deserted villages. The Police will soon enjoy sinecure posts if the insanitary conditions of our villages and towns undermine the health of our people and crush all life and vitality out of them. The burden of the song is war and the consequent dearth of money. We are reminded in season and out of season that the Budget is a War Budget. But a glance at the Budget shows that schemes of various descriptions—schemes both large and small—have, as a matter of fact, been provided for in our so-called War Budget. Read the interminably and terribly long list of new schemes for the improvement and expansion of the Police and say if you can honestly call the Budget a War Budget. The Government have declared that rigid economy is the underlying principle of the Budget before us. Does the lavish provision made for the numerous new Police schemes show that that principle has been loyally and consistently followed? Let any unbiased critic turn his eyes over pages 6—9, 21, 22 and 29 of the Amended Draft Financial Statement and then give his verdict if he finds the least trace of a War Budget in it. The Budget, however, becomes rigidly and severely a War Budget as soon as we come to sanitation and other important matters affecting the well-being of the people. My Lord, it is a misnomer to call it a War Budget: it is a prosperity Budget so far as Police are concerned. It is pre-eminently and essentially a Police Budget. It may also be very fittingly called a 'building Budget' or 'steam launch Budget.' We have got all manner of buildings provided for—buildings for the Police, buildings on land and steam-launches on water, buildings for the servants of the Medical College Hospital and buildings for the servants of the Bethune College, buildings in connection with the partition of the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh, buildings for Jail and Registration, and what not. The Police looms out very largely in the Budget. The sanitary improvements are also very conspicuous in the Budget, but they are conspicuous only by absence. My Lord, I invite a dispassionate judgment of the Hon'ble Members on both sides of the House if all the schemes for which so much partiality has been so unreservedly and openly shown are more urgent than sanitary improvements. I maintain, My Lord, that I cannot be gracefully put out of court on the plea of want of money. This is a case of Police versus Sanitation. The former claims exclusive monopoly of the Provincial revenues whereas the latter puts in only the modest claim of an equitable partition. But the Police in these days have a charm all their own and are not to be troubled with any misgiving or doubt that the verdict will be in their favour. But none the less the advocate of sanitation has also a duty to his client and this Resolution is only a humble, but honest attempt to do that duty. Does, the advocate of the Police taunt me and think I am crying in the wilderness? Well, he may."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, if I might coin an expression of my own —though I am 'motionless' to-day I am not altogether 'speechless.' I have listened to the speeches of my friends who have preceded me, and although I sympathise with the present Resolution that more money should be allowed for sanitation, I do not quite agree with him that the 3 lakhs of rupees which has been budgetted for the improvement of quarters for Medical College servants, should be taken away. This is a crying necessity, so far as we know. There have been extensive additions and alterations in the Medical College, and the Medical College to a large extent meets the wants of the Indian section of the community, to which I have the honour to belong. Therefore, I am not prepared to support my Hon'ble friend's Resolution as it now stands that the provision of 3 lakhs should be omitted and appropriated under the general head of sanitation. Of course, there are other items which might be discussed and upon which the House might, after full consideration, come to a decision whether we cannot appropriate a certain sum of money from other heads. I, being a resident of Calcutta, cannot vote for this motion as it aims at depriving the Medical College Hospital of a grant which they greatly need."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"My Lord, I have very little to add to what I have already said in connection with the first Resolution. All the considerations that I put before the House in connection with that Resolution apply to this Resolution also. There are only one or two small matters to which I should like to draw the attention of the House. My Hon'ble friend, Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, did not quote me quite correctly when he said that the Secretary of State has ordered that we may only spend money on remunerative work. I did not say that. What I said was this : That it has been laid down by the Secretary of State that that the work must be immediately remunerative or imperatively urgent. I only want to correct a misapprehension that may have been caused by my friend's reference to what I have said, and the question has to be discussed with reference to the relative urgency and importance of the claims of sanitation and the claims of the Police and of the Medical College Hospital. My Hon'ble friend, the mover of this Resolution, has drawn a very pathetic picture of village after village being depopulated by malaria. I may tell him that that if more money had been budgetted for sanitation, very little of it would have gone towards the improvement of village sanitation, for we think that, with the addition of 29 lakhs to the income of the District Boards by the assignment of the Public Works Cess, the Boards ought to be able to take care of village sanitation themselves. If the object is to improve rural sanitation, even if his Resolution were carried, it would not be of much good. As regards the comparative urgency of additional expenditure on Police and building quarters for the servants of the Medical College Hospital, my colleagues the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon and other official members will speak."

The Hon'ble SURGEON-GENERAL EDWARDS said :—

sanitation. I understand that the Hon'ble Mover was a member of the Finance Committee who approved the suggestion of building these quarters, and I do not understand why he has changed his mind. I maintain that the housing of the servants of the Medical College Hospital is a sanitary question of grave importance. At the last meeting of the Council, when I said that by providing quarters we would be removing a grave scandal, I think I spoke truly. The difficulty of managing a private house without any servants living on the premises can easily be understood, and if you fill this house with sick and then multiply it a hundredfold you can easily understand that the difficulty will be enormously increased. The Medical College Hospital has lately been doubled in size and naturally the number of servants has greatly increased. At the same time, thanks to the operations of the Improvement Trust, the busties near the Medical College Hospital have been removed, and therefore servants are having the greatest difficulty in securing accommodation. Some of the servants are living in the utmost misery and crawl in under the basement of the Hospital like dogs. Lady Chelmsford on her recent visit was deeply distressed at the sight, and was amazed at the Premier Hospital of Bengal having no accommodation for its servants. I think the best thing I can do now is to read a note from the Superintendent of the Medical College Hospital regarding this question.

He says :—

"Fully aware as I am that the present moment is a most inopportune time to press for improvements demanding considerable fresh expenditure, I have the honour to state that recent changes and future projects leave me no option but again to bring to your notice the imperative demand for housing accommodation for the numerous servants employed at the Medical College Hospitals, the lack of which must shortly prove a public scandal. The recent changes are in connection with the scheme for providing Hostels for students belonging to the various Colleges (affiliated to the University) which has caused and is causing a rapid removal of the neighbouring busties, while the present and proposed schemes of the Calcutta Improvement Trust will shortly lead to a complete disappearance of all busties from the neighbourhood of the Medical College. The effect of these changes is that more and more of the menials employed, sleep in the compound, beneath the Hospitals, on the roofs, stairs, etc., and they are now occupying the covered passages. For want of cook-rooms the mehters, in spite of all warning, cook their food in the cholera incinerator and dhobi shed, with the result that not long ago two of them were attacked with cholera. Even this lesson has not proved a deterrent. A large number of them are forming undesirable relationships in the neighbourhood, and hence we have had unseemly rows and disputes in the compound at night, disturbing the patients, and this again would appear to have led to the acquisition of debts since the Kabuli money lender now haunts the hospital precincts in increasing numbers. The menials are poorly paid, few receiving a living wage, hence they cannot be suitably fined, and when punished, simply disappear. This causes the greatest inconvenience since work never stops day or night throughout the year. These menials must live near the Hospital. They work in shifts, they have no money to spend in tram fair and so the only way to get them in hand and under control is to provide them with quarters in the immediate neighbourhood. The housing of the poor in Calcutta is going to be in the immediate future a most difficult and pressing problem. It is essential that we should settle our part of it at once, since every day now will increase the difficulty and enormously raise the cost. If these menials get a roof over their heads we get them under control. They will throw up their present employment at a moment's notice and forfeit their wages. But it will require a very strong inducement indeed to make them quit their room and cook-shed. Fresh employment is easily gained but a new house never. With the provision of a home, their wives and families will return and we shall have a more contented menial staff and a freedom from the present extraordinary state of affairs now prevailing in the largest Hospital in the East."

The Hon'ble MR. LYON said :—

"My Lord, In the forefront of the reasons which I desired to put forward as to why money should not be extracted from the sum of 12 lakhs provided for Police buildings was because this had been definitely and deliberately approved by the Finance Committee. But I feel some difficulty in pressing this point upon the Council, as I find that the Hon'ble Member was himself a member of the Committee who signed that report. I am afraid that the attraction of this large sum of 12 lakhs has been too much for a good many of the Hon'ble Members who have their own projects to put forward, because I find that there are no fewer than eight claimants for some portion of this large sum. I would desire to point out, however, that although 12 lakhs appears to be a large sum, it is really $\frac{1}{12}$th of the sum that we require and urgently require for the improvement of these buildings. The Hon'ble Member in the course of his speech, when he had to deal with the question of Police, may perhaps have remembered his position in the Finance Committee and have been reduced for that reason to calling the Budget names. He called it a 'prosperity and police Budget', 'a building and steam launch Budget' and so forth. This introduced a touch of humour into our debate but I do not think that it was a very serious contribution to the discussion as to how we are going to spend the small sum at our disposal. Now, I must again reiterate the fact that it was recognised in the report of the Finance Committee that the Government of India had sanctioned our dipping into our balances on this occasion in spite of war conditions, for the definite purpose of starting the scheme for which I have the honour to speak just now, that is, of improving Police conditions and starting our Police building projects. Everybody, I think, in this Council, will agree that the question of the reform of the Police is one of the greatest importance. The Hon'ble Member proposing this motion has himself recorded the fact. Now it is very difficult indeed to decide on what lines we can best reform the Police, but I venture to suggest to this Council that the improvement of the buildings in which the Police live in the mufassal is one of the most important items in our scheme of reform. Looking back upon the papers in the case, I find that the Police Commission of 1902-03, who spoke with unquestionable authority and upon whose recommendations, which were expressed in the most frank and sympathetic manner, many reforms have been based, definitely reflected, upon the state of the Police buildings in Bengal. They spoke of the inadequacy of these buildings generally, which was 'particularly noticeable in Bengal,' and it is unfortunate that the magnitude of the programme involved in tackling this question, the inadequacy of the resources of the Government and the disturbances which were inevitably caused by the partition and repartition of provinces, have forced us to delay this reform so long. When the District Administration Committee went round, they also had the same reason to complain of Police buildings. They condemned many of the thanas as miserable structures. The Government of Bengal in referring the matter to the Government of India last September, described a large number of them as erections of mud and bamboo and thatch originally put up by chaukidars and villagers, with living quarters frequently unfit for human habitation which had now been 'reduced to a disgracefully unhealthy and insanitary state, with disastrous effects upon the self-respect, health and discipline of the Police and consequently upon recruiting. It is essential for us, if we are going to preserve the self-respect of the Police, to reform the conditions and surroundings in which they live, and I believe this Council will realise that nothing will improve the efficiency and morale of the Force so rapidly as the provision of decent quarters, including married quarters where the men can live with their families. It will improve their health and their self-respect, it will make the position of the Police officer in the mufassal a valuable one, and not one to be lightly given up, and it will therefore introduce a certain amount of self-control. A comprehensive survey of the whole position, prepared by the Inspector-General of Police and based partly on investigations made in Eastern Bengal before the partition, disclosed the need for an expenditure of nearly 1½ crores of rupees for the accomplishment of a complete programme. The Police Commission laid down that all Sub-Inspectors and Head-constables should be provided with quarters, and in order to do this in Bengal, we shall have to spend no less than 36 lakhs of rupees. This sum of 12 lakhs is merely a small beginning to enable us to tackle a part of this programme of 1½ crores. It is in reality a modest proposal. We propose to spend 5 lakhs on the rebuilding of old quarters and on building new quarters, and 7 lakhs on the acquisition of land that is necessary and for the collection of materials. I would deprecate very strongly any interference with the allotment of 12 lakhs for this purpose, and I trust that the Council will realise the extreme importance of reforming the Police through this valuable item in our programme and will not ask us to alter this allotment."

"My Lord, I am sorry my Hon'ble friend Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur has opposed this resolution simply on the ground that in his opinion nothing should be taken out of the grant of 3 lakhs for building quarters for Medical College Hospital servants. My Hon'ble friend has lost sight of the alternative suggestion that was contained in this Resolution that the sum may be taken either from this or from the grant of 12 lakhs allotted for new Police buildings, and therefore I take it his opposition is not really opposition. It has been said that the task of sanitation is so stupendous that if a grant is made for a further sum say for 3 lakhs, even with that we cannot make any appreciable advance in the matter, and that even then it is quite possible that rural sanitation will not be in any way improved. Of course I do not mean to suggest that as soon as this amount of 3 lakhs will be set apart for expenditure on sanitation in this year, 1917-18, the millenium will come at once and that there will be no further complaint about sanitation. Precisely because the task is stupendous, that is an additional reason why we should advance step by step however slight it may be. Then it has been said that as I happened to be a member of the Finance Committee, therefore I agreed to the grant for the servants' quarters. In this connection it is only fair to myself to say that I along with one or two other friends did object to this, but it was accepted by the majority, and when the report was sent to me for signature, I was thinking whether I should make any mention of that, and whether that would serve any useful purpose, and then without making any special mention of this, I signed the report. If that makes it unanimous, of course it is unanimous. But that is what as a matter of fact happened in the Finance Committee. So also about the other item of 12 lakhs for buildings for the Police. There was protest on my part, and I signed the report under protest.

It has been said that the provision of quarters for servants in the Medical College Hospital is an absolute necessity. I do not for one moment dispute that they are necessary, but I am not prepared to admit that it is an absolute necessity. There is nothing in the budget about which one can say that it is absolutely necessary. The essence of the matter is the relative importance of the different schemes. The question is whether this is the time for spending 3 lakhs of rupees for these quarters; if they are an absolute necessity, how is it that they have been put off all this time? Was it put off till the return of better times? and is it taken up now because that better time has come? So that is a ground which does not affect the resolution.

Then, my Lord, it has been said by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon that police buildings are absolutely necessary for the police in the mufassal. This is also a proposal which I need not dispute. I have got some relations in the police, I shall perhaps enjoy some day the fruits of this grant, when I visit those relations. But the same question arises again. Is this the time for building police buildings at a cost of 12 lakhs. You have waited all this time. Could you not wait a little longer. The question of the reform of the police is an old question; it has been hanging fire for a long time. Cannot we wait for some time more? Besides, all the Government officials have to find their own accommodation. Police officers may do the same thing until at all events better times return when the Government may be in a position to grant lakhs and lakhs without prejudice to any other schemes."

The motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :

"My Lord, may I rise to a point of order? Could not Resolutions Nos. III, IV, V and VI be taken together, as they refer to the same subject?"

The PRESIDENT said :

"Resolutions Nos. III to VI may be taken together. I mean that the mover of Resolution No. III will move that Resolution first and if the other speakers wish to speak in connection with the points raised in the other three Resolutions, I will not rule them out of order, but each Resolution will be put to the vote separately. I shall, therefore, now call upon the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem to move Resolution No. III."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. III.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that out of the lump provision of rupees nine lakhs for improving the training and pay of teachers, the sum of rupees two lakhs be earmarked for improving the pay of teachers in primary schools.

He said :

"I do not think that this resolution requires many words from me to commend itself to Your Excellency's Council. The demands of primary education have been pressed before the Government by all sections of the community, and I want only to say that the teachers of primary schools deserve some special consideration. So far as my experience goes I find that these teachers of primary schools receive a very small pay, sometimes even much smaller than the menial servants of gentlemen in Calcutta and the mufassal. It is quite reasonable, now that the Government of India have granted us an additional sum of 9 lakhs specially for the improvement of the pay of teachers, to expect that 2 lakhs at least will be earmarked for the improvement of teachers in primary schools."

The Hon'ble MR. M. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said .

"My Lord, in rising to support this resolution I might just as well say that to try to emphasize the importance of primary education would be as if I were trying to paint the lily. It requires no argument, my Lord, and it would be simply waste of time and therefore it follows how important it is to increase the pay of the teachers of primary education. They would teach the boys who in future would be good citizens and would shine forth in this world. Therefore everything depends upon these teachers, and the authorities know it very well, and I hope that the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell will also admit that these teachers get a very small pay."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :

"My Lord, on the question of the claims of primary school teachers, I propose to say very little, because there is a resolution (No. VII) which deals with the progress of primary education, and the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Education Department is going to deal with it. I should, therefore, only waste time if I went into any great detail on this point. Besides, it seems to me to be unnecessary. All that I need say is this. Personally, I shall be exceedingly disappointed if two lakhs of rupees at least are not devoted to improving the pay of teachers in primary schools. I say this not merely because the miserable pittance which the majority of primary school teachers now receive is a disgrace; but wholly because the present educational system rests upon a basis so narrow that it is not, in my opinion, contributing, as it should contribute, to the development and progress of this Presidency. As I have said over and over again in this Council, until we can somehow or other secure funds to enable us to pay a living wage to a primary school teacher, it is misleading to talk of a primary school system at all. More money for primary school teachers is an essential condition even for securing for our present arrangements some small degree of stability. That Government are not in a position to earmark definitely at this moment any particular amount for any particular kind of training is mainly, I think, due to the position in which we find ourselves with reference to this assignment. This assignment has come suddenly and rather as a surprise. We have received no orders from the Government of India about this grant. We have been merely told that we shall get nine lakhs for improving the pay and training of teachers. The exact purport of these words is not altogether clear. It appears that the grant is intended to cover (a) the improvement of the pay of teachers, and (b) the improvement of the existing training facilities for teachers. In that case, new schemes for the training of teachers are, it seems, excluded. With this, I shall have to deal later. It might be argued, on the other hand, that a new scheme for the training of teachers, e.g., such a scheme as would be involved in the adoption of some new machinery for training Moslem teachers of classical languages, might legitimately be regarded as within the scope of the grant. There is a certain amount of doubt as to the scope of this grant, and I hope that this doubt will be quickly cleared up. I want, therefore, to assure the Hon'ble Member who has moved this resolution and also the Hon'ble Members who have moved the next three resolutions that we do not desire in the least to meet their suggestions with the usual official attitude of non possumus. We undertake that their suggestions shall have every consideration, when the distribution of the grant is being worked out."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEMS Nos. V and VI.

The following resolution stood in the name of the Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq :—

> This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that out of the lump provision of nine lakhs of rupees for improving the pay and training of teachers, a sum of Rs. 50,000 be set apart for the improvement in the teaching of Arabic, Persian and Urdu in secondary schools.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :

"I do not know after all that has been said by the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction, that I ought to press resolution No. V. I have every hope and confidence that the Director of Public Instruction will see that at an early date a sufficient sum of money is set apart for the improvement in the teaching of Arabic, Persian and Urdu in secondary schools. I may also remind him that at the Conference which we held as members appointed for considering schemes of Muhammadan education, this was one of the specific resolutions that we recorded, and I have no doubt that the Director of Public Instruction will take all possible care to do what is necessary for the improvement of the teaching of these languages in Secondary Schools."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ also withdrew the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that out of the lump provision of nine lakhs of rupees for improving the pay and training of teachers, a sum of Rs. 50,000 be set apart for the training of Muallims.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. VII.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the provisions made under the head Police be considerably reduced and that at least a sum of rupees 5 lakhs be provided for the expansion and development of Primary Education in addition to any grant that may be received from the Imperial Revenues, the heads and allotments proposed for reduction being the following :—

(a) Re-organization of the Police Department in connection with the re-organization of the Eastern Bengal Police, Rs. 3,00,000.

(b) Police buildings, Rs. 12,00,000.

(c) Construction of steam-launches for the River Patrols of the Presidency Police, Rs. 2,10,000.

He said :

"My Lord, over and above the ordinary expenditure on Police, various sums aggregating to Rs. 18,10,000 have been provided in the Draft Statement for the accommodation and re-organization of the Police under the following heads—

		Rs.
1.	Re-organization of Police service in Eastern Bengal ...	3,00,000
2.	New Police buildings	12,00,000
3.	Construction of steam-launches for the River Police, Presidency Police	2,10,000
4.	Works in progress in connection with the re-organization in Eastern Bengal	1,00,000
	Total ...	18,10,000

Out of this, the sum of Rs. 1 lakh allotted for the completion of buildings already under construction cannot but be allowed to stand; but I object to the remaining 17 lakhs which are intended altogether for new works and measures. We are not very proud of our Police and I do not realize the justification of such lavish expenditure on their account unless some definite scheme is arrived at to make them more efficient and useful to the public. At all events, my Lord, I think that brick and mortar will not make the Police very efficient, already the Police expenditure is very heavy and no more large sums should be spent on the Police such as it is at present until the pressing demands on other departments are fairly satisfied. My Lord, primary education is one of those important matters which have long waited for a satisfactory solution and ought not to wait longer. The grant for this branch of education under the proposed budget is in all probability to be the same as it stood last year. There are 40,000 primary schools in Bengal with a population of 13 lakhs of pupils. We may be proud of this progress in comparison with the other provinces; but it ought to be remembered that compared to the vast population of Bengal, this progress is extremely inadequate. Calculating children of school-going age at 15 per cent., their number is no less than 12,000,000, and if, out of this large number of boys, only 13 lakhs are at school, we can at once see what a large proportion of our boys are left to grow up in darkness and ignorance. It may be a very remote date when every village in Bengal will be provided with a primary school or a pathshala; but there is no reason why we should not strive to give some education to more than 6 or 7 per cent. of the poor village boys by yearly increasing the primary schools and pathshalas and by giving a little more than a miserable pittance of 3 or 4 rupees to a teacher who necessarily gives the best sort of his time in his village shop or in the field to eke out his existence and then gives only 3 or 4 rupees worth of training to his boys collected during a spare hour of the day.

Mr. Lyon.

My Lord, I do not plead for substantial buildings or for benches and chairs for these schools. I only wish that this vast number of boys who are growing up in ignorance might be taught to read and write regularly even though sitting under the shade of a village tree or in a cowshed. I submit that in the face of the very growing demands of the people this extravagant provision for Police buildings and re-organization and so forth ought not to be allowed to stand! The point has been very largely elucidated by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon as to how our Police Officers require quarters. I admit that they do and, for the matter of that, who do not require good quarters. I believe all other officers of Government have to provide themselves with accommodation and the Police Officers may do the same. I therefore earnestly request the Government to reduce the Police expenditure under the heads noted above and to allot at least 5 lakhs of rupees from these savings for the further expansion of primary education. We are not very sure that the Government of India can be very liberal in its grant for education this year, and this 5 lakhs should be in addition to whatever grant we may receive from the Imperial Revenues for the purpose."

The Hon'ble MR. LYON said :

"My Lord, I feel that, so far as this question of Primary Education is concerned, the Director of Public Instruction might have been able to explain the matter more adequately to the Council. On the other hand, as the funds attacked by the Hon'ble Member in his desire to help primary education are all included under the head of Police, which is also in my charge, I have thought it best that I should deal with the whole of the resolution.

The Hon'ble Member has suggested that this Government has not done all that it could in securing adequate progress in primary education. I do not think that the figures which I have to put before this Council will entirely support that view, and at the beginning I would say that we have, as a Government, the greatest possible sympathy with the Hon'ble Member's motion and his desire to spread and develop primary education as far as it can possibly be developed and spread in Bengal. And we have shown that sympathy in the most practical possible way. I would also invite his attention to the fact that we have now a recurring sum of 9 lakhs to distribute for the training and improvement in the pay of teachers. As the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell has intimated, it is certain that we shall devote at least some part of this grant to improving the pay and position of primary teachers.

There is one technical objection to the Hon'ble Member's proposal which I wish to mention, but I do not wish to lay absolute stress on it in this Council, because I would rather meet the Hon'ble Member on the merits of the case. The technical objection is that the Hon'ble Member asks us to spend 5 lakhs on the expansion and development of primary education, which obviously will be a recurring charge, from three heads all of which are non-recurring, so that the financial effect of the proposal would be that we should provide for the expenditure in the current year only, leaving the future to take care of itself, which is hardly a sound financial proposition.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Mr. Lyon.

The Hon'ble MR. LYON—continued.

As to the question of primary education, I wish to give some figures with reference to the actual progress that has been made during the last few years, especially from April 1st, 1911, to March 1916. Out of these five years, four have been under Your Lordship's rule as Governor of Bengal. I hope that the House will bear with me if I give them somewhat elaborate statistics. The figures have been compared from 1901-12, practically to the present day.

	Schools.	Pupils.	Expenditure. Rs.
1901-02 ...	24,844	646,306	14,10,457
1906-07 ...	24,062 + 218	715,103 + 68,797	16,06,174 + 1,95,717
1910-11 ...	23,887 - 175	806,192 + 91,089	18,83,928 + 2,77,745
1915-16 ...	31,612 + 7,725	1,124,109 + 317,917	37,17,242 + 18,33,314

I think this enormous increase, especially that in the last five years, will satisfy the Hon'ble Members of Council that we have not neglected primary education.

I have also accumulated a large mass of figures on the subject of the distribution of funds in hand, to show how we have spent them and on what items. And I will add some further figures to show that our sympathy with primary education has actually and quite reasonably been extremely practical. Up to last year we made various tentative distributions of funds, and we gave District Boards temporarily certain funds which were in our possession; but during the last two years we have made definite and final permanent distributions of funds to District Boards and Municipalities for the improvement of primary education. We have, for instance, given from the year 1916-17 a sum of Rs. 98,276 for the maintenance of primary schools formerly transferred to them and also a sum of Rs. 95,276 for the maintenance of new schools built in and after 1913-14. We have also provided Rs. 65,200 as the annual cost of Government schools, Rs. 39,532 as annual grants-in-aid to maktabs and Koran schools, and Rs. 1,16,268 as Government contribution for the maintenance of Board primary schools established before 1913-14. From next year, 1917-18, we propose to make the following further permanent distribution, of Rs. 5,01,724, for the enhancement of the pay of teachers in Board and aided primary schools and maktabs, and Rs. 67,248 for increase in the pay of trained teachers in primary schools and maktabs by Re. 1 a month. There is yet a great deal left to be done, but we are going ahead and the Education Department is paying the closest attention to this important subject. And we have now also a new grant of 9 lakhs of rupees, which has been placed at our disposal for all teachers and their training.

As to the funds from which it is proposed to draw this money, I must emphasize the fact that these are non-recurring sums, and if we did finance this sum of 5 lakhs out of it, we should be left still to make provision for recurring expenditure next year. The proposal of the Hon'ble Members, therefore, is not feasible.

Now, as to the various heads from which the Hon'ble Member proposes to take this sum. I have already dealt with one of them at some length, and I do not wish to trouble the Council again with any further remarks on that subject. The Hon'ble Member has taken up a position which, I think, he will find it rather difficult to defend. He wants a definite scheme for the improvement of police, and yet he says that this improvement should not be taken up until other departments have been served. He depreciates the police and the work they do, while at the same time refusing to help in rendering them more efficient. He speaks of the housing of these poor men, often called upon to do extremely difficult and harassing work in water-logged and malarious tracts, as a luxury. He has the Police Commission against him in these matters, and I do not think the Hon'ble Members of this Council are likely to support him.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Mr. Lyon.

The Hon'ble MR. LYON—concluded.

I take now the definite sum of 3 lakhs for new buildings for the Police, which is apart from the 12 lakhs to which I have already referred. This non-recurring Imperial grant was made for the improvement of the Police in Eastern Bengal, and sanction was specially accorded to this grant for this purpose, and it remains under this head in our building project. We cannot very well touch it. It is part of the Eastern Bengal scheme for the improvement of the efficiency of the Police by subdividing police jurisdictions and rendering the Police of Eastern Bengal more adequate. The large increase of population in the last 10 or 15 years is partly the reason for this change. It has also been found that temporary buildings have proved wasteful and disastrous to the health of the force, and consequently it was necessary for us, when establishing these new thanas, to give them proper buildings. Every detail of this re-organization was considered with great care some years ago and we have been gradually carrying it out, with some delay owing to the outbreak of the war. I would call attention again to the fact that this sum is apart from the 12 lakhs grant which is set apart for the improvement of the existing thanas.

There is another item, the Calcutta river patrols. This again is a non-recurring head which can hardly be applied to recurring expenditure. I should like to explain the necessity for this item. A special enquiry was made a year ago to enquire how far the port of Calcutta was protected against the illicit importation of arms and ammunition as well as such articles as opium and cocaine. I need not enlarge upon the necessity that has arisen for taking precautions against the illicit importation of arms and ammunition into India. Undoubtedly, the Hon'ble Members of this Council and the outside public will realise the grave danger there is of allowing those who are plotting against the safety of the Crown with those who are our enemies in this war to help and assist revolutionary work in India by the importation of arms and ammunition, and I claim that this allotment is made as a part of a scheme for placing us in a better position to deal with such nefarious practices. Various schemes were proposed to give us greater strength against such efforts and attempts, such as the fencing of the foreshore the enclosing of the docks, and so on, but the final decision arrived at by the experts was that the best remedy lay in improving the river patrols to enable our police to deal with the trouble at its source. It was found on enquiry that the river police was very inadequately equipped for this purpose. It was inadequate in strength and had only two obsolete launches. We have accordingly found it necessary to provide them with an Inspection launch, able to go far down the river, and five other launches for subordinate police officers and the force. It is proposed to begin with the five launches at present. We can do nothing really to secure ourselves against the illicit importation of arms until we have these launches, and the danger that exists is obviously a danger which must be met quickly. I venture, therefore, to assure the Council that while we are doing all we can to help primary education and are about to spend larger sums of money upon it, we should not reappropriate for recurring expenditure sums provided once and only once in the budget for the next year, and we should not attempt to obtain funds from items in the budget which should be immune from attack, owing to their extreme urgency."

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Ambika Charan Majumdar; Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

The Hon'ble Babu AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :

"In reply I have only to make a few observations. The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon has shown that we have made some progress in primary education. No one disputed it, and I do not dispute it but because we have made some progress in education, it does not follow that we should incur very large expenditure for police accommodation. I do not think there is much connection between the police and primary education, except that both begin with a P. Of course I have said enough regarding this extravagant provision, and I do not think, at all events, my Lord, I am not convinced, that a case has been made out by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon that there should be this large grant for the police and that no further grant can be made for primary education.

As regards the technical objection that police buildings, etc., are non-recurring charges, but the grant for primary education would be recurring, I do not think that this is a very insuperable difficulty. If the police allotment can stand over, I think we can see our way to make a recurring grant though not to the same extent, but to a smaller extent for the purpose of increasing primary education. But as I have said enough on the point it seems to me to be unnecessary to dilate on the matter. My last word is that primary education ought to have precedence to police accommodation."

The motion was then put and lost.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—Item No. VIII.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 3,00,000 be allotted for starting free primary schools in some selected areas in Bengal; and (b) the said sum be taken out of the grant of Rs. 12,00,000 for new Police buildings or from the amount of Rs. 4,36,000 budgetted for land acquisition and buildings in connection with the partition of the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh.

He said :

"My Lord, the doctrine of free and compulsory primary education has been accepted by the Governments of all civilised countries. It has long passed from the domain of abstract theory to that of practical politics. In fact it now forms the very foundation of the educational system which is now actually in operation in all civilised countries.

My Lord, the people of this country like the people of all other countries feel, and feel very strongly, that it is their primary right to receive free primary education no less than it is their primary right that their person and property should be made secure. It is no less a sacred and imperative duty of the Government to provide free elementary education than it is for an individual member of the society to send his own children to school. An educated and responsible father cannot shirk the duty of educating his children any more than he can neglect the duty of protecting them from hunger and cold. The one duty is as obligatory as the other. So also with all civilised Governments. Peace and order must be maintained. The wolf of hunger must be shut out. But the duty of turning out the demon of ignorance is no less obligatory on the Government. I need scarcely remind the Council of the well-known dictum of Adam Smith that whatever may be the duty of the State with respect to the education of the rich, education of the poor up to a certain standard is a matter which deeply concerns the commonwealth.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

The children of the soil have been insistently demanding free primary education. But it is most disappointing that the Government have not yet made any whole-hearted and enthusiastic response. The little child imploring the educated father to send him to school and the latter turning a deaf ear to the former's importunities and setting his back upon the child is a spectacle which is anything but edifying. Nor is it complimentary to the father when pressed again and again by the child to say 'Wait, my good little child, a few years more till I win the litigation which is now a severe strain upon my resources.' We have had no doubt in this country some very excellent resolutions of the Government—resolutions both ancient and modern—some of them as old as 1854 and others quite recent—solemnly acknowledging and accepting the duty of the State in the matter of elementary education and containing a solemn promise that primary education shall be free. We have had resolutions issued by the Supreme Government practically recommending free primary education to the Local Governments; but, like all pious wishes, they did not and could not bring us salvation. The most pertinent question is: What is our actual position to-day in Bengal with respect to primary education, these resolutions notwithstanding? It appears from statistics given by my friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell, that the upper primary boys' schools have steadily declined in number during the last five years. Similarly the number of pupils attending the upper primary boys' schools has steadily fallen off year after year during the same period. As regards the lower primary schools, we have been told that the number both of schools and pupils steadily declined during the three years from 1911-12 to 1913-14. The increase in the two following years in the number of lower primary schools is more or less misleading inasmuch as part of the increase is due to the fact that secularised maktabs in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, which were formerly shown as special schools, had now been returned as primary schools. Are these statistics over which we can congratulate the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell, who, a little sparrow whispers into our ears, was brought down from England as a sponsor of primary education in Bengal? Is it not true that we have not yet got anything like a system of primary education? Can there be a more severe indictment against a civilised Government than the absence of a complete system of elementary education? Is it a matter for complacence or congratulation that we have not yet got so much as a scheme for primary education, not to speak of a loyal and enthusiastic effort to give effect to it? In his last Budget speech the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell said: 'There is something in those Provinces (United Provinces) which may be called a primary school system; here there is nothing which can reasonably be described by such a term except in so far as the system of establishing District Board Lower Primary Schools has been realised.' This I maintain is culpable indifference on the part of the authorities in a matter of the gravest national importance. Is there any wonder that in these circumstances, some censorious critics will charge the Government with disloyalty, not only to the best interests of the people committed to their charge, but also to the gracious wish of our King-Emperor who was pleased to say, 'And it is my wish too that the homes of my Indian subjects may be brightened and their labour sweetened by the spread of knowledge with what follows in its train, a higher level of thought, of comfort, and of health.'

A hope has been held out for some time past in Bengal that some attention would be paid to this matter and that a scheme of primary education would be evolved to replace the chaos and confusion which now prevail. But that is a hope which has been kept only to the ear and deferred hope has been worse than sickening. It is now more than two years that two of the best officers of the Education Department had been deputed to study and solve

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Akhil Chandra Datta.

the problem of primary education in Bengal. They submitted their report which was placed before a representative conference of the Inspecting officers of the Presidency. 'The next step', said the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell in his last Budget speech, 'will be the working of a complete scheme.' Has that scheme been worked out? Has that promise been redeemed? In answer to my question he said in September last that the report of the two officers and the proceedings of the conference were under the consideration of the Director of Public Instruction, and have not yet been submitted to Government. This typically illustrates the truth of the observation recently made by the Hon'ble Mr. Sharp that the recent activity of the Department of Education seemed to be to make plans and shelve them. All this only reminds us of the couplet—

'Promise, pause, prepare, postpone,

And end by letting things alone.'

The resolution which I have now the honour of moving asks for the starting of free primary schools in some selected area. I should say at the very outset that although I am a staunch advocate not only of free but compulsory primary education, my present resolution has nothing to do with compulsion. Nor does it ask for making primary education free all over the Presidency all at once. All that this resolution insists is that it is high time that there should be a beginning made in the direction of free primary education. The beginning may be on a very very small and humble scale, but still let there be a beginning. Let us begin with the area in which co-operative societies have sprung into existence. Free primary education is in itself an inestimable boon; it will be a double blessing in a co-operative area inasmuch as it will open up immense possibilities for that most beneficial movement—a movement for which we are most grateful to the Government; or the beginning may be made in such other area as may be selected, e.g., any district or subdivision or portion thereof. The area selected may be small—very small—but still let us make a beginning. I ask Your Excellency to make a start just to give an earnest of the intention of the Government to take up the matter more extensively and exhaustively when normal conditions are restored. Let the people feel that the Government are not indifferent and lukewarm about this all-important matter.

Fatten the Police by all means, but pray do not starve education; have new police buildings by all means, but let there be side by side some poor cottages where the children of the poorest classes may learn the three R's; multiply police out-posts and thanas by all means, but have also pathsalas side by side; raise new battalions of police officers by all means, but have a band of gurus and pundits also.

It is an elementary principle of sociology that ignorance is the root cause of crimes. Break down the wall of illiteracy and the field of police activities will be considerably curtailed. With about 94 per cent. of our people unable to read and write, is it any wonder that we should require a proportionately larger police force than in other countries? In 1868 Lord Lawrence observed: 'Among all the sources of difficulty in our administration and the possible danger to the stability of our Government, there are few so serious as the ignorance of the people.' This was quoted with approval by Lord Curzon in his resolution on education in 1904. Victor Hugo said a great truth when he observed, 'He who opens a school shuts up a prison.'

By this resolution I recommend the transfer of 3 lakhs for free primary education out of 12 lakhs budgetted for new police buildings.

alternative suggestion is that the proposed 3 lakhs may be taken fro the grant of Rs. 4,36,000 budgetted for the partition of the districts o Midnapore and Mymensingh. My Lord, we all know that the Government are very keen about the partition of these districts. We must bow down to this decision. But all the same it is very difficult to appreciate the position taken up by the Government, viz., that the partition is so immediately urgent that they should feel justified on encroaching upon what was characterised last year as the battle fund of the empire. Are these territorial distributions and administrative adjustments so very urgent that we cannot wait till the termination of the war?

My Lord, to-day is the 13th of March and within a week from to-day Your Excellency will lay down your reins. I ask Your Excellency with all the earnestness I can command to make a beginning in the matter of free primary education. The people of Bengal will gratefully remember your beneficent act and your name will go down to posterity for inaugurating a policy of great wisdom and statesmanship. With these observations, my Lord, I commend this resolution for acceptance by Your Excellency's Government and by the Hon'ble Members of the Council."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My Lord, I beg to support the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta, but I need not add much to what has fallen from him. I associate myself with all that he has said."

The Hon'ble MR. LYON said :—

"My Lord, in the face of the appeal that has been made by the Hon'ble Member at the end of his speech, I confess that the balancing and deciding upon what matters money should be spent would be more difficult than ever, if that balancing had to be carried out. Fortunately, I am protected in this particular case by the fact that the Hon'ble Member has again proposed to provide for recurring expenditure by depleting non-recurring grants ; and in spite of what was said in the course of the discussion on the last resolution, I think this Council will understand that it is not sound finance to start on a large recurring scheme and to attempt to finance it out of funds provided for a single year only. With reference to this particular item, I do not wish to trouble the Council again with my reasons for asking them not to touch any money included in these two particular allotments.

At the same time, I would like to say a few words on the merits of the question. I fully recognised from the first from the terms of the Hon'ble Member's motion, that he asks for free primary education. I had the great advantage of listening to the admirable speech by the late Mr. Gokhale on this subject in the Imperial Council on the 18th March 1910. He spoke with great force and with that extraordinary power of marshalling his facts and that clearness of aim which characterised all his speeches in Council, and he made a considerable impression on the Council, so that it was not for want of sympathy that he was unable to press his motion to a division. The original proposal for the abolition of fees was made in 1908, when the possibility of abolishing fees in primary schools was mooted. Then came Mr. Gokhale's proposal to make a beginning with compulsory as well as free education, and the question of compulsion has occupied the stage somewhat to the exclusion of merely free education ever since.

The Hon'ble Member has spoken of making a humble beginning, but I think it is perfectly obvious that if we initiate this scheme it is bound to prove a success. It is a desirable idea in itself, it is wanted very much and it is obvious that we should, if possible, make our primary education free; so that there is no question of experimenting with small beginnings. The initiation of this scheme would mean an obligation to go on with it and to give other parts of the country the advantage which we should be confining to a few selected areas. This would involve an enormous expenditure which, in the present state of our finances, would make the expansion of primary education, the establishment of new schools, the improvement of old schools and improvement in the pay of teachers absolutely impossible for many years to come. It has been our object for some time to improve our primary schools as well as to spread primary education, and to make these schools permanent and not peripatetic, the guru wandering about from village to village in search of encouragement. But if we have all these things we cannot also make education free, much as we would like to do so. We are doing what we can with freeships and scholarships and so on, but we cannot undertake to make primary education free In the year 1907, the Government of Bengal, as it then was, estimated that it was quite impracticable to take up this question of the abolition of fees except in combination with new taxation on a scale that would arouse most serious resentment. The extra expenditure was estimated at 64 lakhs, recurring, in the sixth year after the abolition of fees, and it was stated that it would rapidly increase after that. The Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam at the same time estimated that the increased cost would be over 80 lakhs for carrying out this scheme for the abolition of fees. The enormous figures of population give rise to these large estimates, but they must be faced, and if we lightly begin we must go on. But, as I have suggested already, this will inevitably mean the starving of other educational endeavours for a long time to come. I have already shown, I hope to the satisfaction of Hon'ble Members, that we are going ahead with primary education and that we have secured at considerable expense an enormous increase in the number of schools and of pupils in the past five years. We cannot do more in the direction of spreading primary education and we must be content for the present.

I have already mentioned that the items from which the Hon'ble Member proposes to finance this scheme are not recurring ones. I fear we cannot spare money from these items, nor can we spare it from any other parts of the budget to meet such enormous expenditure. And we must resist the temptation to venture along pleasant and attractive paths in a country which, in the present state of our finances, must remain for some time a forbidden land."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"My Lord, I should like to make one or two observations in reply. The question of free primary education is of course a large order and there is no doubt about that. At the same time my resolution is simply this. Let there be a beginning made in however humble a way it may be. I said it might be introduced in a certain district ; if that is thought very large then it might be tried in a subdivision. If that is also large, it might be in a portion of the subdivision, say, in a particular thana, in a very, very limited area, just for the recognition of the principle of free primary education, and as funds permit year after year, the field of primary education may be extended. The question of money is raised, and because raised at this particular time, there is of course no answer, but at the same time I quite believe that so far as the Government are concerned, where there is a will there is a way. There is so much money that can be found for so many other matters, and I for one find it difficult to believe that if the Government really desire to set apart 3 lakhs for free primary education, they are unable to do it."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. IX.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that out of the lump provision for Secondary Education, a sum of at least Rs. 30,000 be earmarked for the construction of the school building of the Faridpur Ishan Institution so as to enable the School Committee to complete the ground floor of the said school building.

He said :—

"Sir, the fate of the previous resolutions shows that it has practically been a massacre of the innocents. May I express the hope that this resolution will escape the general doom. In this resolution I beg to bring to the notice of the Council the hard case of a very useful and flourishing old institution which is threatened with a collapse for want of a suitable school building. The Ishan Institution at Faridpur was founded in 1887 by Rai Saheb Ishan Chandra Das, a public spirited talukdar of the district. In 1896 he transferred the management of the school to a committee with the Magistrate of the district as its President. I believe my esteemed friend the Hon'ble Mr. Donald was its first President. The school, which now counts on its roll about 350 boys, is located in an uncomfortable tin shed and a number of thatched houses. In 1909 when Mr. Woodhead, as the President of the committee, conceived the idea of raising a pucca building to meet the growing demands of the institution, a plan and an estimate for about Rs. 50,000 was framed which received the sanction of the Superintending Engineer in the Public Works Department. A public subscription was started and Rs. 15,000 were collected, in the hope of obtaining a two-third grant from Government. A suitable plot of land was acquired on payment of a compensation of Rs. 3,000, and over Rs. 7,000 have been spent in manufacturing about ten lakhs of bricks. But here the work has stopped as no grant has been available from Government since the outbreak of the war. The Hon'ble Mr. Hornell, who has personally visited the school, has repeatedly remarked that the school house is in a wretched condition and that the school committee should approach the Government for a suitable grant to undertake the construction of the proposed building at an early date. There were other inspecting officers also who endorsed the views expressed by the Hon'ble Director of Public Instruction. I quote these opinions in support of my proposition. My Lord, there is only one other high school in the town of Faridpur, which is the Government Zilla School, and the urgent necessity of a high school like the Ishan Institution has been admitted from time to time by the inspecting officers of the Education Department. Although the school is fully equipped a large number of boys are every year refused admission for want of accommodation. The present school houses are in a very deplorable condition, and I am afraid, that, if the construction of the building cannot be undertaken under the budget under discussion, the school may collapse altogether, and I therefore earnestly request the Government as well as the Director of Public Instruction to set apart at least Rs. 30,000 to complete the ground floor of the proposed building and thereby save a very useful public institution from wreck and ruin. With these observations, I beg to leave this resolution to the consideration of the Government and of the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, I desire to state that the provision of a suitable building for the Faridpur Ishan Institution is a project which has my complete sympathy, and is also one which is certainly of great urgency. I visited the school in July 1913 and encouraged the committee to press on with the scheme for providing the school with a new building. I visited the institution again last year and I was struck by the miserable conditions under which the school is now housed. I think that the Hon'ble Mover has not exaggerated the position when he says that unless something is done to provide the school with proper quarters, its collapse is only a matter of time. The quarters are not only bad; they are impossible. A site has been obtained as the Hon'ble Member has explained. It appears that the new building required is estimated to cost about Rs. 48,000 and so far as I can gather the local contribution towards the scheme will eventually work out to about Rs. 16,000. The Government grant required will therefore be about Rs. 32,000. When the Hon'ble Member suggests that the lump provision for secondary education should be reduced, he is presumably suggesting the reduction of the lump provision out of the recurring Imperial assignment of Rs. 8,24,000, which appears on page 5 of the budget estimates. This provision includes some Imperial recurring assignments for secondary education, amounting to Rs. 2,26,000. It is not possible to reduce these assignments because they have been all assigned and are all being utilised; we cannot therefore take Rs. 30,000 without stopping something which is now being done. Nor do I think there is any necessity to make this reduction, because, if the Hon'ble Member will turn to page 72 of the budget estimate, he will see that Government have provided Rs. 1,75,000 under grants-in-aid for educational buildings for Indian boys and girls. It is not possible for Government to commit themselves at this moment to make a grant of Rs. 32,000 or any other amount towards the project with which the resolution deals. The grant will require the sanction of the Local Government and the project has not yet been submitted to them. Indeed the present position is that the revised plans and estimates are with the Inspector of Schools who has been asked by me to obtain the approval of the Superintending Engineer and the Sanitary Commissioner, the approval of both these officers being required under the grant-in-aid rules. But this is certainly one of the schemes which I hope to send up before long to Government. The Hon'ble Member will remember that under the orders of the Secretary of State all new expenditure has to be scrutinised by Government with a view to deciding whether it passes the test of immediate necessity. I shall be prepared to state that this project is one which should not be delayed and I do not gather that there will be, from what I understand, any difficulty in obtaining the grant from Government."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

"I am quite thankful to the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction. I am not particular as to the source from which this money is obtained, but as he has really pointed out that there is a provision for building grants of Rs. 1,75,000, and as Mr. Hornell has said that he would recommend this project, I am quite satisfied, and I thank him most heartily for the opinion which he has expressed with regard to this school. After the assurance given by the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell I do not consider it necessary to press my motion to a division."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. X.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the non-recurring expenditure of Rs. 4,36,000 in connection with the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh be suspended and that out of the said grant the sum of rupees two lakhs be allotted for building grants to junior Madrassas.

He said :—

"After the decision of this Council in connection with a similar resolution which deals with the Rs. 4,36,000 reserved for the partition of two districts, I feel somewhat diffident in pressing this resolution before the House, and, if I do so, it is simply because I want to bring to the notice of Government and the educational authorities the urgent necessity of making some grants for junior Madrassas. For some time past anxiety was felt by Muhammadan leaders and the Muhammadan community as to what sort of education they ought to give to their boys and some concern was felt by the Government as well. A system of junior Madrassas was introduced for the purpose of giving Muhammadan young men education suited to their circumstances and to their national sentiments, and the Committee of which Sir Archdale Earle, then Director of Public Instruction, was President was convened, and framed some rules for the working of these Madrassas, and although the curriculum of these institutions has undergone some changes gained by the experience of the working of these Madrassas, they are working on the same lines, and so far as we have been able to ascertain, these institutions have been doing very useful work in spreading education among Muhammadans in giving them secular education combined with religious instruction. These institutions got some recurring grants from the Government for their maintenance and some additional provision has been made for increasing the recurring grant as many of these institutions have adopted the reform scheme, but we have felt it in some parts of the Province at least that the Madrassa committees find some difficulty in providing for the necessary money for building their institutions and the departmental officers are becoming anxious for the success of these institutions. It is for this reason that I wish to press before the House and the Director of Public Instruction the necessity for giving these institutions certain building grants for their institutions."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, Government, as the Council know, are not prepared to reduce the provision made in connection with the partition of the Midnapore and Mymensingh districts. Therefore the resolution of the Hon'ble Member cannot be accepted. It only remains for me to say that if any application for a building grant for a junior Madrassa is submitted to me, it will be considered along with other applications for building grants, with a view to deciding whether the grant asked for can be sanctioned from the budget provision for building grants. I regret that I cannot say more except that I paid attention to what the Hon'ble Member said with regard to the necessity for encouraging junior Madrassas and that these considerations will weigh with me in considering any application for a building grant for such an institution which may reach me."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur; Mr. P. C. Mitter.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XI.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 20,000 be set apart as a contribution towards the Building Fund of the Mahakali Patsala, Calcutta ; and

(b) the said sum be taken out of the grant of Rs. 18,49,000 set apart as "Grants-in-aid" under "22—Education."

"Sir, the resolution I beg to move has a special interest for us Hindus of the Province. The Mahakali Pathsala is the only institution of the kind. Its utility cannot be gainsaid and has been admitted by those who have taken care to study the system followed in it.

Sir, in the resolution on the Report on Public Instructions in Bengal for 1915-16 the Government said—'It is an encouraging feature of female education in Bengal that the bhadralog or middle classes are recognizing that the education of their girls up to a certain standard is a practical necessity.' But they want a special system of education for their girls. The late Sir Monier Williams has said that 'the root dogma of true Hinduism is purely spiritualistic.' It is this speciality of the faith that has shaped the social system of the Hindus—a system in which women play an important part. And if that social fabric has withstood the corrosive wear and tear of time it is because the education of our women has fitted them to the work to which they are called in the family and in society. At a meeting in London, Sir Theodore Morrison said : 'If the education of the women of India followed the same purely European lines as that of their husbands and brothers, the Indian social type which had survived for so many centuries would be in danger of annihilation. Education of the women was inevitable as well as desirable, but the question was—How can they be given an acquaintance with English books and English ideas and yet be preserved from the proselyting action of European thought?' That question has been answered by the Mahakali Pathsala which is the outcome of the exertion of the late Mataji to raise the dignity of womanhood in modern India. In India numerous institutions have been established for the education of women where the European system is followed. I do not want to minimise their utility or belittle their endeavours to spread education. But I do say that an education suited for a wholly different civilisation—in which an ever increasing number of women are thrown on their own exertions for a livelihood, and, competing with men in professions and trades, require an education like that of their male competitors—is entirely unsuited for girls whose destiny is the home and not the market-place. So we must have a system of education suited to our own requirements in Bengal. And a scheme for such a system was adumbrated, advanced and accomplished in the Mahakali Pathsala by the late Mataji. The institution in Calcutta is a monument of her selfless love for Indian women. This institution was visited by Their Excellencies Lady Chelmsford and Lady Carmichael. Her Excellency Lady Carmichael was pleased to express her satisfaction at what she saw. Sir Valentine Chirol also visited the institution and on his return to England sent it a cheque and, what is more, also his good wishes for the Pathsala. That institution is now in want. And I propose that a modest sum of Rs. 20,000 be granted to it for its building fund.

The Hon'ble MR. P. C. MITTER said:—

"Sir, the resolution as moved by the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra provides for a certain sum of money for the Mahakali Patsala. It is important in this respect that the Mahakali Patsala undoubtedly fills the necessity for a certain section of the Hindu community who would not send their girls to other institutions. That institution is, I understand, in very grave danger at the present moment. I understand that a decree has been obtained by the creditor for Rs. 36,000 and there is a danger of the house being sold up. The value of the house is considerably more than that sum. It is, I understand, worth more than Rs. 50,000. These being the circumstances I trust it would be possible for my Hon'ble friend Mr. Hornell to find this sum of Rs. 20,000 from the fund indicated by the Hon'ble Mover or from any other fund. I think it would be desirable to provide it, but whether it is possible or not, I must leave that to my Hon'ble friend to decide."

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Mr. Hornell.

The Hon'ble MR. P. C. MITTER—concluded.

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said:—

"The object of this resolution is to get Government to commit themselves to earmarking a certain amount out of the sum which it is proposed to make available during the coming financial year for grants-in-aid to buildings as a contribution towards a building project in favour of a certain institution. The Hon'ble Secretary of the Institution approached me in June last asking for a substantial grant, the object of which was apparently to assist the authorities to liquidate certain liabilities in which the institution was involved. After considering the matter carefully I was constrained to reply that I did not see my way to recommending to Government to make any capital grant. I have since been approached unofficially by the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraj of Burdwan with a view to a recurring maintenance grant being sanctioned for the institution. On the 3rd of this month I wrote to the Hon'ble the Maharaja and forwarded a copy of my letter to the Honorary Secretary. It will thus appear that while there is not at present before me any application for a capital grant, the question of a recurring grant is still a matter of correspondence between the Maharaja and myself. I do not consider that the present is the proper occasion for discussing the reasons for and against making a grant to this particular institution. Personally I am quite ready to recognise the desirability of such institutions as this and to believe that if they are efficiently conducted they may contribute a valuable part of the machinery of the education of Hindu girls. Whether in view of the great need which there is for girls' schools and the very limited amount of money now available for this purpose, it is desirable or not to make grants from public funds to these institutions, is a point in which I have not altogether made up my mind. This is not because I am not convinced of their utility, but because I feel that they have rather a special claim on the generosity of wealthy members of the Hindu community. Be that as it may, I hope that I have said enough to convince the Council that the question of making a grant for the Mahakali Patshala has not yet attained the stage of development at which Government could possibly commit themselves towards making a grant. All that the Hon'ble Member has said in favour of this institution will be recorded in my file and will be carefully considered before the general question of aiding this institution is finally disposed of. In other words, I am perfectly open to consider any special appeal that may be made, but as Government have not yet been approached and as there is no definite proposal before me, I feel compelled to oppose this resolution. It must be clear that the Government are not in a position to say that they will make any grant towards this institution, but I am perfectly willing to consider any representation with reference to the present needs of the institution from those who are in charge of it."

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur ; Dr. Nilratan Sarkar.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"I thank the Hon'ble Member for the observations which he has just made, but the necessity of the institution being very great, in order to save the institution from annihilation, I felt compelled to bring the matter to the notice of the Council, but as the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell has assured us that he will further inquire into the subject, I have no other alternative than to withdraw the resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XII.

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs 1,00,000 be provided for the purpose of giving small capital grants for building purposes to schools under private management ; and

(b) this expenditure be met out of the provision of Rs. 12,00,000 for Police Buildings under head Civil Works in charge of Public Works Department.

"Sir, the defects and difficulties in connection with the housing of our schools both in the mufassal and Calcutta are well known. The number of students is increasing every year. Teachers are available and Government have now made a provision for the improvement of their prospects by the grant of 9 lakhs of rupees. But the problem of housing our schools remains where it is. In the present circumstances, capital is not likely to flow in this direction spontaneously, and charity cannot possibly cope with the task of providing houses for 551 schools. Here is an humble proposal for meeting this difficulty which I believe to be perfectly sound, and which if adopted will remove this difficulty gradually. There are three parties concerned in this matter, viz., the governing body of the schools, the guardians of the pupils and the Government. I believe that each of these parties should contribute towards the building expenses. The site and plan of the school should be settled by the governing body in consultation with the University and the Government ; and when for a particular school, the site and plan have been approved, the governing body should come forward with a contribution of, say, Rs. 4,000 or Rs. 5,000 which with a contribution of say Rs. 12,000 or Rs. 15,000 from the budgetted grant should form a margin for securing on mortgage the requisite sum for the building and the purchase of the land. The average cost according to the estimates made by a competent engineer would be about Rs. 80,000 for a three-storied house covering an area of 5,000 square feet, built upon a plot of land one bigha in area. For the purpose of repayment, the governing body should contribute annually 10 per cent. of the capital outlay. Out of this 2 per cent. should meet the rates and taxes and the annual repairs expenses ; and the remaining 8 per cent. should be devoted to paying the interest and also contributing a small sum annually to a sinking fund. If this plan be adopted the property will be cleared free of all incumbrances in about 25 years. So long as there is this debt, the first charge should be with the mortgagee and the second charge with the Government. When the debt is cleared off, the only charge should be with the Government. Of course Government will have to make some modification in its grant-in-aid rules. This experiment may be tried in half a dozen schools for the present, including one or two mufassal schools. In the case of mufassal schools, I believe the cost will be much smaller than that indicated in my proposal, and I hope that the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell with his usual sympathy for our secondary schools will accept my humble proposal."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :

"Sir, I beg to support the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar. Under the present University rules, the number of students in each class is limited, and we find great difficulty in getting boys admitted into the public schools. Much of this difficulty will be removed if we can get suitable buildings according to a departmental plan and we will be able to accommodate in them the whole of the allotted number of each class and thereby extend the sphere of secondary education in this province. As the proposal of the Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar is a very modest one, I think Government should come forward with some sort of help to these institutions so that the sphere of education may be further enlarged."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :

"Sir, when we were adjourning after discussing some of the resolutions an hour ago, my friend opposite, the Hon'ble Nawab Sir Syed Shamsul Huda, asked me as to why in Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur's elegant parlance I was both motionless and speechless ; it occurred to me that I should explain the situation. I take advantage of this motion to do so. Hon'ble Members, in going through the list of resolutions to-day and of those who have spoken to them, will have noticed that it is exactly those who have not been lamed and maimed in the race for the last few years that have chosen to embark on a series of motions the fate of which must be foreknown. My Hon'ble friend. Dr. Nilratan Sarkar, who is not altogether new to the fray but who combines in himself modesty and courage, was bold enough to send in notice of a few motions, with which irrespective of their likely fate, I am bound to be associated. The first of these we are now dealing with. The motion is one in which I am very naturally interested, and if conditions were more favourable than they appear to my friend, I myself should have taken charge of such a motion. Along with many Hon'ble friends interested in the progress of secondary education I discussed this question with the Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar, after foreshadowing my views at the last Convocation speech and the teaching world must be thankful that he has taken it up. When I found that His Excellency the Chancellor took a very keen interest in the condition of our schools and the pay and position of our teachers, I had the honour of laying a scheme like this before His Excellency and since then I have discussed it with many officials and non-officials. It seemed to me then and it seems to me now that if we are to house our schools well an experiment like the one suggested must be undertaken. How few of the hundreds of schools under the University are well housed is known to all Directors of Public Instruction and all generally interested in education. We needed no Commission, we needed no inquiry to tell us that some of the schools, I should say most of them, including Government schools are housed as badly as can be imagined. We have two essentials necessary for satisfactory secondary education, viz., the number of those ready and willing to join the schools, and the number of ready, though not for the moment, ideally capable, and well constituted body of teachers. With regard to the second class of difficulties, we expect that with the fairly large sum which His Excellency the Chancellor remotely indicated at the last Convocation and which has since been placed at the disposal of this Government, it will be possible to make some little improvement. Nine lakhs of rupees is a large sum in a lump, but it is not very large when you come to consider the requisitions likely to be made on it. We have indications in to-day's resolution of some of the pressing items that have struck Members, as having the first right of participation. I hope that when the question is taken up, the different interests will be carefully considered and a careful allotment will be made in the interests of primary and secondary education, benefiting both Hindus and Muhammadans. We have it that there is no lack of students, we have it that so far as it is numerically concerned, there is no lack of teachers,—men who are being trained as teachers as well as ordinary graduates are available on reasonable terms. The third essential is a good house. I quite agree with the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar and those who think with him, that brick and mortar need not play a large part in the education polity of community like ours. That had been so in ancient India, that has been so in recent times. But since the ethics of brick and mortar have come prominently into our counsels, steps must be taken such as are open to us to provide good houses for schools. It is clear that Indian schools that are under private management, cannot within a reasonable time furnish themselves with good houses. It is also clear that neither the Government nor the municipalities or other public bodies concerned, will ever be able to furnish all the funds necessary. The only thing that remains therefore is a scheme like that which has been suggested in the course of my friend's speech. But I do not think that this is a complete scheme, and I do not think it is absolutely sound. It will have to be examined and the difficulties and weaknesses will have to be discovered and put right; the time has come when we must make up our minds to have an experiment like this. The essential idea of the scheme is that the three parties interested in providing good houses should all contribute. The governing body is to be made responsible for the school. The next is the Government which is trying to assist secondary as well as other education and along with the Government will come the municipalities which are interested in primary education which is represented in some of the lower classes. Then come those who are directly interested in these schools, that is the guardians of the pupils. If the country were rich enough it could have looked for some endowments immediately. I do not think that so far as the school education is concerned, such can be looked forward to for a number of years. Those inclined to give naturally and rightly think that when the gifts are limited their best use would be in the upbringing of those who can take their place in the requisite army of teachers. The next step therefore is to spread over the cost or the balance of as far as possible over a number of years, and that has been proposed in the scheme, namely, 10 per cent. on the outlay, i.e., the balance, after giving credit for what the governing body, or the Government may contribute. The only way to pay off the balance on easy terms and to secure the ultimate rights for the school to spread that burden over a series of years, 20 or 25, as may be, after careful calculation be found necessary. A little more may be done if a district at a time is taken up. But it will not be possible long to put off the experiment without serious detriment to the districts concerned. These are the outlines of possible improvement and if something like this is undertaken, we shall be able to improve our schools, as we have succeeded in improving our colleges. The Council will remember the grant for our private colleges which was given without any terms and conditions and that course is now urged with regard to selected schools. The grant has been made to the colleges for the last few years and has been the making of some of the colleges, and those which would have disappeared by now but for the timely help have been able to satisfy the requirements of the University regulations and have been showing fairly good results. A lakh or two a year has been able to help our colleges. A lakh or two every year may for similar purposes be given to a school Boards of Trustees who will make themselves responsible for proper management, and who will at the same time give an undertaking that the Government will have the first lien on the property after the building debt is discharged with the help of the proposed sinking fund. That ought to be deserving of careful consideration at the hands of the Government. I do not know whether the balancing suggested between education and the police can be effected or not. Of course the scheme is incomplete. When any member brings forward any schemes like this before this Council, he does not do so in the hope that it will be accepted then and there. That, I think, is really the ethics of resolutions in Council; it is a notice of a demand that is discussed in Council and if it be not provided for this year or the next year, the official authorities will look kindly at these proposals whenever there is opportunity, if they are in the main sound. That has been the fate of some resolutions which at one time appeared to be comparatively hopeless, they have made themselves favourably known to the authorities and some good results have followed. In this hope, I think the Hon'ble Member has brought forward this resolution, and in that hope I should like to give it all the support I can. If the Government, the University and the municipalities come together, it ought to be possible to evolve some scheme which in the case of the approved schools in approved districts may be given a start. So far as the question of rules of grant are concerned, I understand that they are already under revision and if principles like this commend themselves to the authorities. they may be taken due note of and such provision as is possible may be made. Of course schools like the Mahakali Pathsalas obviously could not well come under this category. But so far as this particular class of schools which the Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar has put before us is concerned, I think we ought to face the situation and try to help the schools in any way as we can. If we cannot help them in some way, in spite of resolutions in Councils, or condemnation by the Education Department or the University, no real good can be achieved."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"Sir, I have listened to the speeches of the Hon'ble Mover and the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor. I do not quite understand the resolution as it stands. I would like to support it, but I do not know what is its real object. Is it merely to earmark a certain sum solely for the purpose of providing housing accommodation to secondary schools? The resolution, as it is worded, seems to cover not only the secondary but also the primary schools. Although I am an advocate of secondary education, my sympathies are—as things stand at present—principally directed towards primary education. In this connection I think that although a lakh of rupees for the whole Province of Bengal is quite inadequate or it may be quite as a drop in the ocean, a start may be made by earmarking this sum for providing the housing accommodation of all schools. I hope the sympathies of the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction will be directed more to primary schools.

Sir, last year I brought to the notice of this Council the miserable condition of houses where these primary schools are located. I may quote from the report of Mr. J. N. Roy, who was specially deputed to inspect the primary schools in Calcutta. which will at once show in what miserable condition these children are housed :—

'An ill-lighted and ill-ventilated room in a private pucca house, or an equally objectionable hut with a tiled roof; a number of boys huddled together, sitting, in some cases, on benches and, in some, on the floor, but all alike shouting at the top of their voices; a guru, uneducated and untrained, but determined to eke out a living for himself, dozing at the desk—that is the picture of an ordinary primary school.'

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR—concluded.

It will be seen that the majority of the little children are brought up in the primary schools of Calcutta under such miserable conditions. I am sure that the Government sympathise with the object with which we press our resolutions almost every year that something should be done to put an end to this deplorable state of affairs. I do not find—I am afraid the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell will again pull me up—that there is anything provided in the budget for the housing accommodation of primary schools. I think, Sir, that, although it is necessary from various points of view to provide sums for the housing accommodation for the Police force, it is equally important, if not more important, that a certain sum of money should be provided every year for the provision of housing accommodation for these poor little boys who are grovelling in wretched, insanitary and unhealthy houses and huts. I do not wish to take up further the time of the Council by quoting from the report as these facts are well known to the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell. I hope that this resolution will receive sympathetic consideration from the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell, and I hope also that the Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar does not confine his resolution only to secondary schools and colleges.

The Hon'ble MR. P. C. MITTER said :

Sir, the scheme which has been presented to the Council by the Hon'ble Mover seems to me primâ facie to be very commendable. If good housing of our schools is insisted on, it is not for me to enquire if it should be insisted on, but if in fact it is insisted on, necessary funds must be provided for the purpose. It is also well known that we cannot depend on private charity or on school fees for providing good houses. The most important feature of the scheme which seems to me to be most commendable is that by spreading the expenditure to be incurred over a number of years, the difficulties of the situation are met to a great extent. At the same time, it is provided that all parties interested in housing the school properly should to some extent pay for it. I do not want to take up the time of the Council by any comparison about the necessity of providing for more funds for the Police or more funds for Education. It may perhaps be that both are very necessary ; but as regards the question of providing more funds for Education, I leave it to the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell to find out the source from which the necessary funds may be provided. With these words, I beg to support the resolution.

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"Sir, I feel a little bewildered. I happen to know, for I discussed the matter with the Vice-Chancellor, what is at the back as it were of this resolution, and I do not think I am anticipating the Hon'ble Mover when I say that it bears no relation whatever to the problem of primary schools in Calcutta. We have a proposal that a lakh of rupees should be made available in order that a certain type of school may, by means of a certain process which the Hon'ble Mover has outlined, obtain new buildings. The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur hopes that primary schools will not be excluded. He says that he has not found any provision for primary schools in the budget, although he has hunted for it. Well there is no provision in the budget for the building of new primary schools in Calcutta, but I hasten to tell him, although I do not know that this matter is relevant to the motion, that we are doing something towards the housing of primary schools in Calcutta. The Corporation of Calcutta, the doings of which are well known to the Rai Bahadur, made a suggestion once that they might some day be able to raise money by loan for the construction of primary schools, if we could by means of a contribution defray the interest on that loan. I am having a survey carried out of all the primary schools, and when that survey is complete, I shall approach the Corporation.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Mr. Hornell.

Turning to the resolution, the object of which is to provide funds for aiding a special class of secondary schools, I feel constrained at the outset to point out that seeing that Government have already stated that they are not prepared to reduce the charge of 12 lakhs for police buildings, (a motion based on this proposal has already been rejected) the matter is scarcely one of immediate importance. If the money is to be found, it will have to be found within the four corners of the Education Department budget. So far as the budget estimates now before us are concerned, it would be perfectly impossible to make such a provision. The Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor says that these resolutions are put forward that they may be sympathetically considered by Government. I gather that the Mover will be satisfied if we agree that the demand is a real one, and if we say that we are perfectly prepared to try and see whether something cannot be done.

As to the urgency of the demand there can be no possible doubt. The housing of secondary schools is bad and many of the school buildings are disgraceful. These schools have grown up with very little behind them and they undoubtedly fill a need, but it is impossible to expect them to carry out any big improvement. I do not wish for a moment to deny the urgency of the demand, but apart from the question of finding money there is another point, which I think bears upon the question whether Government can accept this resolution as it stands.

These institutions are referred to as private schools. There are a certain number of private schools and a certain number of Government schools, but Government gives grants-in-aid to private schools under conditions which are prescribed in certain rules and there is no question of not giving a grant to a school, because it is a private institution. Government attach certain conditions to grants and I gather that these institutions, which the Hon'ble Mover has in view, are institutions which are not likely to be willing to accept these conditions in their entirety. It is true that the grant-in-aid rules are under revision, but I do not think, from what I have seen of the case, that any relaxation of the general conditions of control is likely to result from this revision; therefore it comes to this, that before Government can undertake to give money to a scheme like this, they must see whether these schools cannot come under the ordinary rules, and if there is good reason why they cannot come in, then possibly some other conditions may be made. I am not going to discuss the rights and wrongs of the question now, or the text of the scheme which the Hon'ble Member has outlined. The difference between such a proposal as he now puts forward and the ordinary grant-in-aid scheme is this, that where Government give a capital grant, they require a contribution at least equivalent and if possible two-thirds and that contribution has to take the form of a sum of money down. What the Hon'ble Mover suggests is that the contribution from sources other than Government should take the form of a loan. That introduces considerations which will require very careful consideration. Therefore I hope that the Hon'ble Mover of the resolution will see that there is really no question of the Council being in a position to accept the suggestion that a grant should be earmarked, because that pre-supposes all sorts of considerations and discussions which neither I, nor Government, nor any member of the House could possibly anticipate."

Dr. Nilratan Sarkar ; Mr. A. Rasul.

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"The object in bringing forward this resolution was to raise a discussion on this very important matter. I never believed that a sum of one lakh of rupees would be taken away from the police grant and made over to the Director of Public Instruction to be spent in this way. But the matter is very important and at the same time I believe that a scheme like the one that I have just placed before the Council is feasible, and if adopted, it will at least go some way towards solving the great and difficult housing problem in connection with these schools. I can easily see the difficulty of accepting the proposal in its present stage, but as regards these schools I do not understand why they should not come under the grant-in-aid rules. So far as I can see the management of the schools would be quite prepared to take advantage of this opportunity, for otherwise, I believe, they cannot exist. In the case of many of these schools the University could come down upon them on grounds of sanitation and I believe that for many of them it will be a life and death struggle, and if there be any prudence among any of them, they would surely accept these conditions. But at the same time I would request Government to relax the grant-in-aid rules to this extent, that inasmuch as it is impossible for most of these institutions to contribute a sum equivalent to the Government grant for building purposes, they should be allowed to raise a loan. It is not quite disadvantageous to Government as they are not going to make a very large grant to each of these schools. It would be necessary to have a margin for raising a loan which will be paid off in the course of 20 or 25 years if we could provide for a sinking fund. However, under the circumstances as the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell has given us an assurance that he will kindly look into the matter, I beg leave to withdraw my resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XIII.

The Hon'ble MR A. RASUL moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that out of the grant of Rs. 3,39,000 for Calcutta Hostels, the sum of one lakh of rupees be reserved for the accommodation of Muhammadan College students.

He said :—

"At the very outset I would say that the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell has been very sympathetic with regard to this resolution. In the course of a conversation he informed me that over and above this sum of Rs. 3,39,000 allotted for Calcutta hostels, a sum of Rs. 10 lakhs have been allotted for Calcutta hostels, and out of that, 2 lakhs of rupees have been allotted for the construction of a hostel for Muhammadan students in Boitakhana Road. I must admit that it is very difficult for me, being a new member of Council, to understand these figures. I was under the impression that this sum of Rs. 3,39,000 for Calcutta hostels was for the future, but now I am informed that it is not so, but out of this sum some portion has already been spent. I was asked to send in a speech which I did in a great hurry, and I do not know whether that has been printed. In that speech I went into the backwardness of the Muhammadans in Bengal. I need not remind Hon'ble Members of this Council that the Muhammadans of Bengal are indeed very backward in the matter of education. In fact in the report of the Administration of Bengal recently published we find that there are only 1,135 educated Muhammadans although they out-number their Hindu fellow countrymen by ten-fold. Although Muhammadan education is advancing and progressing so rapidly at the same time, my Hindu friends must admit also this backwardness of the Muhammadan students. Then I said in that speech that it was due partly to poverty and partly to want of hostel accommodation for hostel students. The controversy has been raging for some time as to whether the Government have done their best for the accommodation of Muhammadan college students, and I also referred in my speech to a certain letter written by Mr. O'Malley on the 25th October 1916 in reply to a resolution which was sent by the Hon'ble Secretary of the Bengal Muhammadan Association over the annual meeting of which the Hon'ble the Vice-President presided, and in reply to that resolution Mr. O'Malley pointed out that the Government had done all that could be done. I do not want to challenge the figures, but I am in a position to do so. It is admitted that accommodation for Muhammadan students is not sufficient. The figures that Mr. O'Malley quoted were of 1913. In a little book that was submitted to him by the Bengal Muhammadan Students' Association there are some statistics given, and we find that in 1914-15 and 1916, the Muhammadans of Bengal have done much better than before. In 1913 only 589 Muhammadan students passed the Matriculation examination, but in 1916 we find 1,026. This shows that a very large number of Muhammadan students must come to Calcutta for collegiate education, but they cannot find hostel accommodation here. I am not going to quarrel with Mr. O'Malley over the figures, but I remember that at the Dacca sitting of the Council, I submitted before that the hostel accommodation for Muhammadan students in Calcutta was not sufficient. Now this Baitakhana hostel, according to Mr. O'Malley's letter, will accommodate about 200 students. In that letter we also find that two wings will be built to the Baker hostel, one of which will accommodate 28 students and the other 14 more. Even then, the accommodation will not be sufficient. I therefore appeal to my friend the Hon'ble Director of Public Instruction and also the Vice-Chancellor who is present here, because I may be met by the argument that this Rs. 3,39,000 is meant for the Calcutta University, to give us more accommodation. That is all we want ; of course in my resolution I said that out of Rs. 3,39,000 one lakh might be reserved for Muhammadan students, but I do not insist upon that. Properly speaking when there are Rs. 13,39,000 available, I submit that two lakhs is too small a sum. I beg of you, and I request you to see that the Muhammadan students be properly accommodated. It does not matter from where the funds may come. With these few words I beg to commend my resolution to the Council."

The Hon'ble the VICE-PRESIDENT said :—

"I am not sure whether the Hon'ble Member wishes to move his resolution as now worded."

The Hon'ble MR. RASUL said :—

"Sir, I must admit that I do not understand the intricacies of these figures ; so if the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell will make a statement in regard to what he can do for the Muhammadan students, I may see my way to withdraw this resolution later on. In any case for the present I move my resolution as it stands."

The Hon'ble MR. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, I have great pleasure in supporting this resolution. but I am sorry to say that I have got nothing to say ; everything has already been said by my hon'ble friend Mr. Basul ; only the crust has been left for me. Sir, we have been crying for this hostel accommodation and we have been crying ourselves hoarse, but we are not ungrateful to say that we have not been given some accommodation, but the question is whether that is enough. We are all of one opinion, and I echo the voice of my community when I say that it is not enough and that there are many students who want still more hostel accommodation. Sir, we are very grateful for what has already been done. I find that about 155 students were turned away from hostels in Calcutta in one year. Every year the students are passing more and more. In 1913 a large number of students passed, and in 1916 it has nearly doubled ; so I think we have made out a very good case that we want hostel accommodation very badly. We shall be grateful to the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell for a statement regarding this matter."

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"Sir, I do not think that I can offer a mere silent vote on this resolution which brings up for discussion a subject which has been next to my heart ever since I have had the privilege of securing a seat in this Council. I have often pressed, and sometimes pressed rather strongly, the claims of the Muhammadan community for a more extended system of hostel accommodation, and it was at the last session of this Council held at Dacca that I brought forward a specific resolution recommending a system of extended hostel accommodation for Muhammadan students. That resolution was not accepted, but in the course of my speech in support of that resolution I made certain statements which were challenged by Government, and I found out that when, later on, a representation was made on this subject by the Committee of the Muhammadan College Students' Association, a letter was written to the Association in reply, in which the position taken up by Government at Dacca was sought to be maintained. What I said at Dacca was this, that when in reply to a question of mine in this Council, Government stated that there were only 745 Muhammadan college students living in Calcutta, and were all provided for either with accommodation with approved guardians or in hostels or messes, I said that the figures somehow or other were not correct, and instead of the total number of 745, it was something over 1,100 My authority was that little pamphlet which had been compiled by the Muhammadan students themselves and which shows that the number was 1,127. If this had been my sole authority I might have thought that the boys had made some mistake in arriving at the figures, but for the information of this Council, I will read from the report of the Committee appointed by Government to consider the question of Muhammadan education of which the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell happened to be the President and Mr. Taylor the Secretary. This is what the report says in page 32, paragraph 114 :—

'We notice with regret that, out of 14,746 students studying in Arts Colleges in Calcutta, only 1,154 are Moslems, and we appeal to Government to take such action as will enable Moslems to have a greater share in the facilities which are offered for College education. We consider the poverty of the community, its inadequate representation on the Senate, Syndicate and Boards of Studies of the University, as also on the governing bodies of Colleges, the non-affiliation of Colleges in Arabic and Persian and the lack of hostel accommodation for Moslem College students are the chief reasons why Moslems do not ake greater advantage of the Collegiate system.'

There are two things we have noticed in this statement. In the first place, the figures supplied to us, viz., 745, does not tally with the figures set forth in this statement. Whether 1,145 represents the true figure or 745, is only a mere question of arithmetic, and I think whatever may be the real figure, 745 is certainly not correct. Therefore I think I was quite right when I said that although according to the computation shown by Government, the boys apparently were provided for with approved guardians or in hostels or messes, there was certainly a residuum who did not find accommodation in approved hostels or messes. The statement made in this report shows whether I was right or wrong and the figure 745 was not certainly correct.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ—concluded.

As regards the observation that has been made by the Hon'ble Mr. Rasul, all I would say is this that this is a matter which, more than anybody else, the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor, who is present here, will have to consider, and I would only recall what he said in the course of the budget discussion in 1915, which will be found reported in the proceedings of the 6th of April last year. I quote his exact words—

'I admit that nearly enough has not been done in the matter of the expenditure on Muhammadan education, especially on claims for the establishment of a Muhammadan hostel.'

And in referring to that speech, it was you, Sir, who observed as follows :—

'As regards the Muhammadan hostel, we hope to erect one in the neighbourhood of College Square. In common with the Muhammadan Members of this Council, I listened with the greatest appreciation and interest to the endorsement of their claims and I feel quite confident their claim will now be translated into action when the Hon'ble Member as Vice-Chancellor comes to deal with the 10 lakhs of rupees recently made over to the University for hostels.'

I feel sure that when he comes to manipulate the figures in the course of the management of the affairs of the University he will earmark a sufficient sum for Muhammadan hostels in Calcutta."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

"Sir, I was one of those who at the Dacca session was not convinced by the figures placed before the Council by the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq. From the inquiry which I have since made and particularly from the pamphlet which he has brought forward, I am now satisfied that there is a strong case for additional accommodation for the Muhammadan students, and my Hon'ble friend Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq has met Government on their own ground. The Hon'ble Mr. Hornell has admitted that there are at least 1,100 Muhammadan students in the colleges in Calcutta, so that the plea raised at the time that 754 were provided with hostel accommodation still leaves a very large margin of about 400 students unprovided for. I do not know whether there are more than that number. I heartily support this resolution."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Sir, some of the facts being within my knowledge, the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell suggested that I should place them before the Council before he speaks. For many years I have been very closely identified with Muhammadan educational interests in this Council and these interests have never been absent from my mind. That Muhammadan education is on a better footing than it was many years ago was due to the exertions of the department and of those who have been doing all they could to advance the cause of Muhammadan education without being Muhammadans by persuasion. But I must freely admit to-day that nearly all that ought to be done and can be done in the interests of Muhammadan education has not been done. I have never hesitated to say that it will be necessary to give that community special convenience and special concessions within limits of reason. No community can have more valuable asset than education, and it is only lately that our Muhammadan friends have begun to be alive to the value of this asset. I trust that with so many Muhammadan friends to assist us now on this Council the cause of Muhammadan education will grow more and more important every year. The Government is willing, the educational authorities in general are willing and the community itself is anxious. Therefore all the makings of progress are there. They are having somewhat better treatment than the general body of students will appear when you come to investigate the figures. Taking the number of Calcutta students to be roughly at 10,000 we have not been able to provide in these hostels for more than 1,000, that is 10 per cent. of the total. Of course there are licensed messes—and unlicensed messes that I should prefer not to describe—and such of our 9,000 students who do not live with their people will still have to reside in these messes. Taking the general percentage to be now provided in the new hostels at 10 per cent. what we propose to do is to give the Muhammadans 20 per cent., i.e., 200 out of 1,100 Muhammadan students will be accommodated as against 1,000 out of 10,000 Hindu and Muhammadans. I do not claim any special merit in having been able to do that; that was more or less automatic. The original idea was in fact that in every hostel attached to a college 20 per cent. of the seats should be reserved for Muhammadans. That was the demand put forward and when we met at Conference in Darjeeling I pointed out that it would be a mistake to have 20 per cent. of Muhammadan students in mixed hostels attached to every college, because there were difficulties that could be foreseen, and the best thing would be to bring all the Muhammadan students together in a non-collegiate hostel on the basis that at least 20 per cent. of the total number of our hostel seats should be reserved for Muhammadans, though that was by no means the proportion of Muhammadan students; and out of 1,000, 20 per cent. would give about 200. That is the objective that we placed before ourselves in preparing the scheme which included hostels for the City College, the Ripon College, the Metropolitan Institution, the Bangabasi College and the St. Xavier's College besides the Infirmary for all colleges in Calcutta. A plot of land was acquired for the Muhammadan Hostel project and I believe that the finest hostel in Calcutta will be the Muhammadan hostel when completed. It will be named after His Excellency the Governor the Carmichael hostel as announced at a previous meeting of the Council. I have been in communication with His Excellency and His Excellency has been pleased to allow his name to be associated with this hostel. We could also provide accommodation for 50 or 60 more students, possibly law and medical students, if we could put up another block. The hostel will have a prayer hall and a finer playground than many hostels in Calcutta. As a matter of fact more than one lakh out of Rs. 3,39,000 goes to Muhammadan hostel and the resolution is by no means well advised. Only Rs. 50,000 was available out of the 10 lakhs for the general scheme and the Government of Bengal were good enough to add more than Rs. 1,50,000. The whole Rs. 3,39,000 is practically earmarked, therefore an additional lakh is out of the question. I have indicated two or three schemes which may have been taken in hand when there is a saving."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"Sir, I have been asked to make a statement. The only statement I can make is this. We had two grants from the Government of India for hostels. We were considering what we should do with these two grants. While things were in this condition the Government of India gave to the

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL—concluded.

University of Calcutta, not to the Government of Bengal, a grant of 10 lakhs of rupees. The Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor has referred to a certain Conference that was held in Darjeeling. What happened at this Conference was that he came forward with a programme, and said that the University would undertake to build certain hostels, but that the bill came to more than 10 lakhs of rupees. We therefore agreed to supplement the amount which had been placed at the disposal of the University for the construction of hostels, by a contribution to the extent of something like 3½ lakhs of rupees, which were to be taken from these two Imperial Capital grants, which had been previously assigned to us. The Vice-Chancellor has explained that the whole of this provision which we are now discussing, viz., the provision of Rs. 3,39,000, has been made in the budget estimates for the coming year in order that we may pay to the University what we have undertaken to pay, and he has also explained that the University programme includes a hostel for Muhammadan students to accommodate about 200 students. Well, that is the only statement I can make.

Of course with reference to the general question, I am at one with the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor and the Muhammadan members that certainly what has been done does not meet the problem of accommodating Muhammadan students in Calcutta. That problem has been prominent during the last few years before the University and the Government, though I do not know that Muhammadan students are any worse off in this respect than the students of any other community. We have done something for Muhammadan students. We have enlarged the Baker hostel; we have rented a house in Wellington Street, and a hostel is being constructed which will be for Muhammadan students I am not going to discuss the question how far this provision is adequate. I welcome the attitude taken up by the Hon'ble Members with reference to the students of their community, because it amounts to this, that they will not tolerate the conditions which have been tolerated so long in Calcutta and elsewhere. It is an open secret that this guardian business is all nonsense. Of course, all students are reported to be living under approved conditions, because if the University did not admit that they were living under approved conditions, the University would have to send them away from Calcutta. It is exceedingly desirable that present state of affairs both as regards Muhammadans and Hindus should be ended as soon as possible. It will not certainly be ended in Calcutta without a good deal of expenditure, and my Muhammadan friends are perfectly justified in stirring this matter up until the present difficulties are removed. I am afraid I cannot suggest that there is any hope that there will be an extra lakh of rupees available, although I can undertake that the money the University require for the Muhammadan hostel now under construction will be paid to them."

The Hon'ble MR. A. RASUL said :—

"Sir, I do not think I can add to what I have already said, but I have just now been informed that some of the authorised messes have been done away with. The Vice-Chancellor and the other Hon'ble Members who have spoken on this resolution, including the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell have all shown great sympathy, and we the members of the Muhammadan community present in this Council are certainly indebted to them. They have also explained that as far as this year is concerned nothing more can be done, but they will always try to do all they can for the accommodation of Muhammadan students. Some money has been spent out of this Rs. 3,39,000 in building a new hostel in Boithakhana which will be called the Carmichael hostel. I do not think I can press this resolution, I beg to withdraw it."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XIV.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 50,000 be set apart for hostel accommodation on a moderate scale for about 300 students of the poorer classes, both Hindus and Muhammadans, in the Rajshahi College, suited to their means and position in life ; and (b) the said sum be taken out of the lump provision of Rs. 9,25,000 for improving popular education under head 22—Education.

"Sir, I am a claimant in this resolution for Rs. 50,000 for hostel accommodation for about 300 students of the poorer class, both Hindus and Muhammadans, in the Rajshahi College, suited to their means and position in life. The idea is not a new one. Mr. Hornell some time ago saw the condition of the Rajshahi College and thought that hostel accommodation for nearly 300 students was absolutely necessary, and also some buildings are necessary for class accommodation and he prepared a scheme, and I believe a lakh or a little over a lakh for hostel accommodation and about a lakh for buildings were needed under his estimates. Lately in Rajshahi, the Rajshahi Association has undertaken to provide a large sum, about a lakh, for buildings and thereby the class accommodation question will be practically solved. Now hostel accommodation is urgently necessary. Though the Government estimate is for a lakh—I have suggested that accommodation on a moderate scale should be made for 300 students, both Hindus and Musalmans. There is a Muhammadan hostel for accommodating about 100 or so, but it is occupied not only by the college students but also by the school students. Within the college compound there is accommodation for about 200, or so, Hindu boys and nearly 300 Hindu students live in different parts of the town in rented houses. In Rajshahi, it is well known that 80 per cent. of the population are Muhammadans, and they generally belong to the poorer class, the cultivating class. I advocate hostel accommodation for poorer classes, not for cheapening education, but my idea is that we should encourage boys to live in a style which is suited to their means and position in life. It is no good to bring up together a boy of the cultivating class to live with one of the landed aristocracy, and to allow him to acquire habits which will be unsuited to his home life. They will acquire habits which they will not be in a position to maintain when they leave college. A B. A. in the Education Department earns about Rs. 50 or so a month, and it is absolutely necessary that we should not make the same arrangements for boys of all classes. In the Rajshahi College there are nearly 800 students, out of which a little over 165 are Muhammadans. As I have already said, the population in the district is over 80 per cent., for the Muhammadans. That is not only the case in Rajshahi district but also in the Rajshahi Division. I have listened with great pleasure to the account given in moving the previous resolution by the Hon'ble Mover and other Hon'ble Members of the progress made for accommodating both Hindu and Muhammadan students in Calcutta. In this I advocate the cause of both the Hindus and Muhammadans in north Bengal, where the Muhammadan population is greater than that of the Hindus. As I have said, a moderate arrangement is necessary simply because the boys come from classes who are not very wealthy and cannot afford to spend much for their accommodation. A demoralising effect is being produced upon the guardians, and amongst the Hindus, I may say, also in the marriage market. The fathers of brides are practically being taxed to the utmost for meeting the growing expenses of the student community. The guardians are also doing their best to extort as much as possible to meet the students' demands. So my idea is that the spirit of self-help and self-respect ought to be encouraged and we should provide such accommodation where they will learn how to live and how to manage. It is specially in this view that I have suggested one kind of arrangements to meet the demands of the poorer classes and another for the well-to-do classes, so that both communities may be benefited. As this is a very moderate demand, I hope it will be accepted."

The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekareswar Ray said :—

"Sir, I come from Rajshahi and so I naturally feel interested in the resolution now before the Council. It asks for a very modest sum for a cause which should engage the careful attention of the Government as well as of the charitably disposed public even in war time. There are about 775 scholars in the Rajshahi College which ranks third amongst the Government colleges in Bengal so far as the number of students is concerned, but the accommodation provided for them in the hostels at Rajshahi is extremely inadequate. Compared with the hostel accommodation provided for in other Government colleges the state of affairs here demands for an immediate redress. The Director of Public Instruction in his report for the year 1914 has also taken notice of this inadequacy of hostel accommodation in Rajshahi ; the case of the Muhammadan students was particularly noted, but three years have passed and nothing appears to have been done to remove this grievance. The Government are spending lakhs for providing hostel accommodation in Calcutta and Dacca, but I do not remember to have heard that any decent amount has been spent for a similar purpose in Rajshahi for a long time. Even good rented houses are not available here where the students can make their own arrangements. It is a pitiable sight to see the students going a-cringing from door to door in quest of a little accommodation —what a stunning blow it deals to their self-respect can be better imagined than described. Every educationist believes in the powerful influences of the surroundings in the formation of a student's character, but judging from the conditions prevailing in Rajshahi it appears that due attention is not being paid to this fact here.

"Sir, in all matters of progress and advancement our division, particularly our district has suffered most. The partition and the re-partition of the provinces have made our lot worse. Dacca and its neighbouring districts got the lion's share in the new province of Eastern Bengal and Assam, and even after the re-partition their disappointment now has got to be allayed by generous grants from the Government, but the people of our part of the country have been neglected all along. The Government spend from provincial revenues amounts ranging from Rs. 237 to Rs. 134 for the education of each of the students in the other five Government Colleges in the province, but the expenses of the Government for educating a student in the Rajshahi College is only Rs. 52 ! Sir, I do not desire to dwell at length on the manner in which the Rajshahi people are being treated, but I appeal to the Government to take into consideration the claims of a much-neglected district and grant the prayer contained in the resolution moved by my Hon'ble friend."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Sir, I have absolutely no desire to say anything against the request for providing Rs. 50,000 for hostel accommodation, but I feel it my duty to protest as strongly as it is possible for me to do, against the some of the terms in which the Hon'ble Mover's proposal has been put forward here to-day. The last speaker spoke of a stunning blow to the self-respect of these students, but I cannot imagine a more stunning blow than has been administered here to-day by the Hon'ble Mover in his resolution. I cannot recognise such an invidious distinction between one class of students and another between the richer and the pooper classes. Wherever a proposition like that has been put forward it has been covered with ridicule and rejected as it ought to be. I hope Government will not lend themselves to such a proposal."

The Hon'ble MR. M. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, I must first of all say that what I understood by the resolution was that the hostel accommodation for poorer classes should be provided. By that I understood that cheaper accommodation should be provided."

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY interrupting said :—

"I beg to explain that I am not in favour of different kinds of hostels for different kinds of students."

The Hon'ble MR. M. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, if hostel accommodation is wanted anywhere it is Rajshahi that needs it most. specially for Muhammadans. The resolution recommends hostel accommodation for poorer classes of Muhammadan and Hindu students. As I am the Muhammadan Member from Rajshahi and a great majority of the people whom I represent are only tenants, I feel it my duty to see that this resolution is fully supported and passed. Rajshahi felt the need of hostel accommodation very long ago and so far back as 15 years ago the Muhammadan Association built two rooms with difficulty from subscriptions and they accommodated as many students as they possibly could. This state of affairs went on till the time when Sir Bampfylde Fuller paid a visit to Rajshahi the Muhammadans approached him for a hostel, and we were lucky then to get a hostel. But even then we were unlucky. The ground floor of the hostel was allowed to remain unfinished as if in harmony with the unfinished administration of Sir Bampfylde Fuller. Why there is no more hostel accommodation for Muhammadan college students, I cannot say. The Rajshahi College was extended by the indefatigable energy of the Principal, but whether the Principal's energy failed when the question of the Muhammadan hostel accommodation came in, the Principal of the Rajshahi College can say or the Member in charge can say. It is not that there are not many Muhammadan college students. I am glad to say that out of 775 college students there are as many as 165 Muhammadan. The Director of Public Instruction in 1914 noted in his report that the hostel accommodation for Muhammadan students is very inadequate. The Muhammadans being poor they are very reluctant to come to Calcutta, an expensive place, if they can find education nearer home and live cheaply. We are 75 per cent. in the Rajshahi Division and if we get hostel accommodation we shall really be benefited. I know from personal knowledge that Muhammadan boys are accommodated in private houses by private people, but as the price of living has increased, Sir, private people are not so very willing to nor can they afford to keep the students as they used to do. My learned friend the Mover has the reputation of giving board and lodging to Hindu students, and if there was another man, a Musalman, so philanthropic and charitable to Muhammadans, then our boys would not have suffered so much. With these words, I support this resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"Sir, the assignment from which the Hon'ble Member proposes to meet this expenditure is what is known as the 'Durbar grant'. I do not know whether the Hon'ble Member realises that the grant which he proposes to rob for purposes which he is advocating, is a recurring assignment. These recurring assingments were given by the Government of India under certain specific heads. The Hon'ble Member would have been justly indignant if we had been so reluctant to spend our recurring assignments, that we still have Rs. 50,000 from one of these assignments unallotted. But I do not understand how he proposes that we should divert Rs. 50,000 from an assignment which is recurring and which is being utilised; nor do I understand how he is going to divert an assignment which was given solely for improving primary and elementary education to something quite different. As a matter of fact, this particular assignment includes an annual grant of Rs. 1,32,000 for hostels, but that amount or the greater part of it, is assigned and it would be quite impossible to take Rs. 50,000 from that grant and to spend it on any capital project, however desirable. So, financially, the resolution is impossible.

"The Hon'ble Mover must be perfectly well aware that the question of hostel accommodation for the Rajshahi College has been occupying the close attention of the Education Department and the Government for the last three or four years. Three years ago I visited Rajshahi, and I have visited it several times since. We have worked out a programme and the sole reason why the new schemes have not been taken in hand was that all expenditure was held up owing to the war. What appears to be behind several of the proposals which the Hon'ble Mover has put forward lately is that he wants us to do something modest and in accordance with the real needs of the students. I fancy what the Hon'ble Member is really driving at is that hostels are unnecessarily extravagant. Well, so far as the building is concerned, we have considered that question very carefully and after consultation with the Public Works officers who are responsible to Government for questions in connection with buildings, we came to the conclusion that it was impossible to build a hostel for 250 students for anything less than Rs. 1,90,000. Various kutcha buildings have been advocated from time to time. Although I do not profess to have any very great expert knowledge in these matters, the Public Works officers who have examined them, have come to the conclusion that kutcha buildings are really uneconomical, their repairs are very expensive and they are liable to be destroyed by flood or storm. As regards the hostel buildings which we propose to construct as soon as funds are available, I may say that they will not be kutcha but that no more money will be spent on them than necessary. As regards the expenses of the living arrangements of the students, the best way is to leave them to the students themselves. I can assure the Vice-Chancellor that we have no intention of having one type of hostel for the richer students, and one type for the poorer. I can only say in conclusion that I hope that the hostel accommodation which we shall hope to provide as soon as possible will not have the demoralising effect upon the marriage market which the Hon'ble Member fears."

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri ; Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

" Sir, I fail to understand why the Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor was very angry with me when I proposed that two types of hostel accommodation might be made, one for the poor and another for the richer students. However, if the Government policy be that only one class of accommodation must be made I am not very particular about it. If the students are left to themselves to make their own arrangements some of them might like to make cheaper arrangements, and if that is allowed, I am fully satisfied. I was suggesting that large expenditure might not be incurred. Whatever accommodation might be provided it should be with reference to the position of the student, that is, his position at home. Hostels are really substitutes of home, and what is done at home might also be tried to be done at hostels.

As regards the question whether the sum is available or not, of course it is difficult for me to ascertain. I found that out of a grant of Rs. 9,25,000 for this year in the budget in the revised estimates there is a provision of Rs. 75,000 only. In the next year's budget a sum of Rs. 9,25,000 is provided. I could not think that nothing out of it was available for hostel accommodation and therefore suggested that it might be taken out of that sum. If it is conceded that hostel accommodation is necessary, whether out of this sum or any other it might be provided. I am not very particular about the source from which the money should come. As I am a new Member, I could not ascertain that the sum was not available. Of course, I am glad to hear from the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell that Government is prepared to do it, as soon as money is available. But I think that if the whole sum cannot be provided for at once, something might gradually be done and some portion of it might be given at once. I believe that accommodation for 100 Muhammadans might be provided now. If it is not possible to provide any thing just now, it may be provided in the next year's budget, and so gradually the whole sum may be found.

The resolution was then, by leave of the resident, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XV.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 2,00,000, or such sum as may be deemed necessary this year, be set apart to meet the cost of acquiring lands in connection with Hostels for the Medical College, Calcutta ; and

(b) the said sum be taken out of the grant of—

(i) Rs. 3,39,000 for Calcutta Hostels, or

(ii) in case a larger sum be required, the requisite sum be taken out of the non-recurring grants of Rs. 16,36,000 for original Civil Works for Land Acquisition and Buildings in connection with the partition of the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh and also for Police buildings.

He said :—

" Sir, in moving this resolution I beg to draw the attention of the Council to a question I asked on the 4th September 1916. In reply to that question I was told that the question of providing a hostel for the students of the Calcutta Medical College was under the consideration of the Government and financial considerations precluded further progress with the rough scheme that had been prepared. And I had expected provision made for the purpose in the Budget before us. Unfortunately I have been sadly disappointed in the matter.

"My Lord, I remember how Lord Lansdowne in one of his speeches as Chancellor of the Calcutta University referred to the temptations to which students are exposed in this wilderness of a city. The situation has since grown worse. I do not know if the future is flashed with the radiance of beautiful dawn beckoning us into greater and brighter light,—but I cannot gainsay that the present is dark with the gloom of anarchial outrages which have sullied the fair fame of my province. At Dacca His Excellency Lord Carmichael said :—'I know that persons who, on their own showing, have sympathised with, or have committed these crimes have boasted that it is their practice to seek among the students for young men whom they may gradually persuade to join them' and 'Government officers have found young men who are, or recently were, students who admit that they have allowed themselves to be so persuaded.' And Bengal was glad to know that His Excellency wants to guard our students from the risks they run of being misled by high-sounding words. That risk becomes enhanced if students are allowed to live in messes where no proper supervision can be exercised over them. That the Government have been trying to remedy this state of affairs will be apparent from the substantial grants to private colleges—grants which have provided these institutions with palatial buildings for the accommodation of students. In these hostels the boarders are kept under the supervision of trained superintendents who are responsible for their conduct. It is certainly strange that though the Government is providing private colleges with these hostels and spending lots of money on an institution of doubtful utility like the Calcutta University Institute the claims of the Calcutta Medical College which is the only institution of its kind in Bengal, Bihar and Orissa and the premier Medical College in India—have so long and so persistently been overlooked. But, I beg to submit, that the claims of the students of this institution should be given priority over the claims of the students of other institutions as they have no fixed hours of attendance throughout the year and have, at times, to work in the morning during the day and again at night. The inconvenience, therefore, they feel when they have to live at a distance from the college or even near it in ordinary messes, cries aloud for redress and it should be the endeavour of the Government to remedy it. It is moreover an anomaly that while a handful of 'military students' of the college have been provided with a hostel—the general students are left to shift for themselves and are often obliged to live in undesirable surroundings —exposed to temptations from which it is the desire of the Government and the people to guard them.

"Financial considerations can hardly be urged against the proposal. The Government propose to provide Rs. 40,000 for the construction of servants' quarters, stables, etc., for the Bethune College, and no less a sum than Rs. 3,00,000 for quarters for servants in the Medical College Hospital, and surely it will not be impossible to make a suitable grant with which to begin the work of providing the Medical College with a hostel. If no portion of the grant of Rs. 3,39,000 provided for Calcutta Hostels can be available for this purpose, cannot a sum of, say, Rs. 2,00,000 be taken from the grant of Rs. 16,36,000 for work in connection with the partition of the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh and Police buildings? My Lord, I will not waste the time of the Council by reviving the controversy about the necessity of partitioning the two districts—for the fiat has gone forth and nothing can now save the two districts from dismemberment and the people of Bengal from a permanent accession of administration cost. But I hope to be pardoned if I say that now when the Empire is engaged in a life and death struggle and when Imperial and the Provincial Governments ought to strain every nerve to make India's financial contribution worthy of her—it is hardly proper to give effect to expensive schemes which can well wait till better days bring with them better prospects and better opportunities for the Government to present prosperity budget. And if the Government are bent on accomplishing these expensive—I will not say extravagant—schemes, will it be presumptuous on our part to ask them to give us a portion of the allotment this year to remove a crying want? And after all it is but a modest demand that we make.

"My Lord, the educational policy of the Government is one in which the superiority of the present Government over its predecessors in India stands revealed; it is a policy which has trained the mind of young India to 'follow knowledge like a sinking star, beyond the utmost bounds of human thought'; it is a policy which has taught young India to consecrate science to the service of man and alleviate human misery. The proposal which I make will further the object of this policy. It will not only remove the inconveniences from which the students of the Calcutta Medical College at present sufier but also surround the future students with all those elevating memorials and sanctifying associations that march in glorious procession through time and make similar institutions in England and Scotland a dream of music for the inward ear and of delight for the contemplative eye".

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON BELL said:—

"Mr. Vice-President, I shall not follow my Hon'ble friend into his poetic flights. I shall not argue whether Bengali students as a whole do, or do not, "follow knowledge like a sinking star." I shall not even spoil his picture by alluding to indecent scrambles for purloined examination papers. In fact, I shall look at the resolution from a purely practical standpoint.

"The Hon'ble Member has suggested that we should find the money for the Medical College Hostel either from the grant of Rs. 3,39,000 provided for Calcutta hostels or from our allotment for the partition of the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh and for police buildings. I have nothing to add to what you have already said, Sir, that there is no possibility of Government consenting to reconsider the question of partitioning Midnapore and Mymensingh or the question of police buildings. It is equally impossible for us to dip into the grant of Rs. 3,39,000. The whole of that grant has already been earmarked for useful objects, connected mainly with private colleges. Therefore, we can see no way of accepting the Hon'ble Member's suggestions as to where the money should come from. At the same time, I can say at once that Government are quite alive to the necessity of improving hostel accommodation at the Medical College at Calcutta. As the Hon'ble Member is aware we have prepared a scheme which would involve an initial expenditure of something between 4 and 5 lakhs of rupees; but the money is still locked up in our earmarked balances. When we prepared the Budget this year we carefully weighed the respective claims of the Hostel and the Servants' Quarters at the Medical College. After much consideration we decided in favour of the servants' quarters, which are necessary to remove a crying scandal. Although we have unfortunately been unable to provide funds for building a hostel for the Medical College, Mr. Donald, Surgeon-General Edwards and myself are laying our heads together and are seeing what is the best temporary arrangement for carrying on the work. It may be that we shall resolve to hire a building for the accommodation of the students, or it may be that we shall make some other temporary arrangement, but I can assure my friend that the matter is at present receiving our anxious consideration. I need hardly say that there is one aspect of the question which should not be overlooked, namely, that the University Commission is soon coming to Calcutta and one of the main questions which they will consider is whether the Presidency College and the other Arts Colleges should remain in the heart of the city or should be removed to some place in the country. It is not for us to anticipate the decisions of the University Commission, but it is quite certain whatever they may decide about the Arts Colleges the Medical College must remain in the vicinity of the hospitals. Therefore, if it should come about that the Arts Colleges are moved to the mufassal we at once have available for the Medical College the excellent hostels which have been used for the Arts Colleges. There is a great deal therefore to be said for not incurring at the present juncture very large capital expenditure upon a hostel for the Medical College. In any case we mean to make the best possible temporary arrangement to meet the wants of the immediate future."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"I am glad to hear the assurance given by the Hon'ble Member and I beg to withdraw my resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEMS NOS. XVI AND XVII.

The Hon'ble the VICE-PRESIDENT said: —

"The next two resolutions are practically the same, and it has been suggested that they should be taken together. If the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq will speak on the first resolution and withdraw his own one, it can be arranged."

The Hon'ble MR. M. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the non-recurring expenditure of Rs. 4,36,000 in connection with the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh be suspended and that out of the said grant the sum of Rs. 2,36,000 be allotted for the establishment of a Muhammadan College in Calcutta.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ's resolution ran as follows :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the project for the partition of the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh be abandoned and the provision made for the purpose be utilised for establishing a Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta.

The Hon'ble MR. M. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI in moving his resolution said :—

"My Lord, while introducing the revised financial statement in the last Council meeting the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell remarked that the Budget was a War Budget. No section of his Majesty's subjects is more anxious to sympathise with the difficulties of the Government or to lend whatever support and assistance they can render during these critical times than the Muhamadans of Bengal. We are ready, my Lord, to sacrifice for the time being many of our cherished hopes if thereby we can make the task of the Government easier, but when we do find that the Government are undertaking any work which is not directly concerned with the requirements of the war nor is absolutely necessary for the task of good government or the advancement of the good of the people, we are not a little surprised, my Lord, at the attitude that the authorities take up in matters in which we are vitally interested and which we have been pressing on the attention of the Government as is humanly possible for us to do. What really makes the position worse for the Muhammadans is that the Government have felt it politic or should I say necessary to meet the demands of other sections while persistently ignoring those of ours. I find my Lord in the revised financial statement that the Government have reserved Rs. 4,36,000 in making the necessary preliminary adjustments for the partitioning of Mymensingh and Midnapore districts. What justification, my Lord, have the Government at this time to undertake a work which in all possible circumstances cannot be regarded as urgently necessary. It has been the fashion of the Government for some time past to partition Indian provinces and those who have some knowledge of the ease with which Government partition areas and with equal ease revokes their decisions have some misgivings about the justice and necessity of such schemes. In the days of Lord Curzon, my Lord, we all heard how absolutely necessary it was for the good Government of Bengal to divide her into two portions. But it did not take another Viceroy long to decide that his august predecessor was utterly in the wrong and that the annulment of the partition was the only way to ensure the good Government of the province. Bengal has been partitioned again this time for the creation of another province—I mean Bihar and Orissa. Who knows that some one somewhere in Whitehall or in the new atmosphere of Delhi is not thinking now that that was a mistake. When this is the history of partitions my Lord in this country, you will pardon us, if we withhold our admiration for this type of Government action.

"Even if this step of partitioning Midnapore and Mymensingh were proved to be necessary I would ask, my Lord, where is the justification for taking this step now when the resources of the country should not be thrown away in undertaking measures of dubious utility and which can be conveniently postponed to some other future day.

"But if the Government are flushed with money and is at a loss to find out any reasonable method of spending it we Muhammadans alone can suggest to the Government a score of different purposes for which money can be spent now either to remove serious obstacles in the path of progress or to give Government an occasion to fulfil the pledges to the Muhammadans of Bengal —pledges, my Lord, which with all due deference I must submit have often been honoured in the breach than in their observance.

"I know it is a serious charge to bring against the Government, but in order to substantiate my point I wish to recall the history of the last quarter of the century of Government pledges and Government actions with regard to the advancement of Muhammadan education in Bengal.

"Apart from the general question of Muhammadan education in all its branches and in every variety of institution I wish to point out what is more relevant to the subject-matter of this resolution that the Government have not gone beyond the expression of pious hopes which have done nothing to remove the difficulties of the Muhammadan students in getting admission to colleges or in pursuing their studies in a desirable type of institution in Calcutta or in other populous centres of Bengal. The congestion that has occurred in the different colleges on account of the larger and larger number of passes every year has made the position of the Muhammadan students even worse. Not so far back as 1913 there were only 534 Muhammadan students who passed the Matriculation Examination. Last year, my Lord, the number was more than double, it being 1,125. But have the Government taken any step to relax their rule with regard to their admissions in the Presidency College? And if they are not prepared to do so, one is inclined to ask why the Government have not undertaken the task of establishing the Muhammadan College for which a scheme was prepared and almost approved by the Government.

"The demand for a Muhammadan College is an old one. Government felt the necessity of considering that subject as far back has 1871 when Sir George Campbell, the then Lieutenant-Governor, directed the Committee appointed to report on the affairs of the Calcutta Madrassa, to consider whether the Hooghly College should remain a general College with a Muhammadan School attached or whether there ought to be a separate Muhammadan College. It appears that the Government did not think it fit to establish a separate Muhammadan College at that time. Probably the Committee did not approve of that idea. But the Muhammadans have pressed the Government from time to time to consider that matter, as the necessity of such a step was increasingly becoming more urgent. In 1884 the Government of India in its Resolution of the Home Department, dated 23rd October, which adopts almost every one of the suggestions and recommendations made by the Education Commission thought it desirable to give the Muhammadans in some respects exceptional assistance in view of the backward condition into which in some provinces the members of that community have fallen. What steps, my Lord, have the Government of Bengal taken on such an important and worthy recommendation?

It has been a far cry since 1884 till now, but even in recent years Government have not been loathe to solace us with promises for the special consideration of our case, but unfortunately those promises have remained till now unfulfilled. I shall not blame the Member in charge for the Muhammadan Education of Bengal if he points out in reply that the promises were couched in such vague terms that no definite Government actions could be taken on them, that is indeed the humour of the situation. It is always the way with the Government whenever a problem becomes troublesome and in which a large section of the community becomes actively interested that the Government either come forward with a promise to appoint a committee to inquire into the matter or whisper tidings into the ears of the leaders which has a miraculous soporific influence on them.

As recently as 16th February 1912 Lord Hardinge uttered these high sounding words in reply to a deputation that waited in connection with the proposed University at Dacca. It may as you suggest said Lord Hardinge, 'be necessary to give special facilities to Muhammadans. The inadequate arrangement for the collegiate instruction of Muhammadans was emphasised by the Vice-Chancellor in his address to Convocation in 1909. I can only say that any proposal to this end which the new Governor of Bengal may take will receive the sympathetic consideration of the Government of India.'

We all know what steps the Government was taking to give those facilities. It was Lord Hardinge himself who proposed the establishment of a University at Dacca and the Committee that was appointed under the chairmanship of Mr. Nathan to report on the whole matter suggested the establishment of a separate Muhammadan College at Dacca. About the same time specially when the difficulties in establishing a University at Dacca became more and more acute, the question of the establishment of a Muhammadan College in Calcutta was again revived. The Government, it seems, thought it advisable to give serious consideration to this question, and we know that the Member in charge of the Muhammadan Education was making tremendous efforts to translate the idea into action. But here again as in all other previous cases the Muhammadans after seeing light for a short while were cruelly left in the wilderness and they know not whither to go.

The need for a Muhammadan College could not have been better expressed than in the words of the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Muhammadan Education who in the course of his speech in seconding the resolution in the Town Hall Meeting said that, having regard to the increased demand for higher education among the members of the Muhammadan community there could be no doubt that by raising the Calcutta Madrassah to the status of a 1st grade college, Government will be giving a great impetus to the cause of Muhammadan education.

It is unfair to fling the unofficial utterances of the Hon'ble Member when he is holding quite a different position now in relation to the community and the Government.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hornell year before last shared the regret of the Muhammadans at the postponement of the scheme for Muhammadan Arts College, but he let us understand that we could rest assured that so long as the present Hon'ble Member was in charge of the Muhammadan Education an opportunity for materialising the project will not be missed.

My Lord, the opinions and pronouncements from high quarters raise high hopes in the heart of every Muhammadan. But your Lordship knows what deferred hope and missed opportunities may lead to. Year after year the demand for higher collegiate education is becoming keener and keener among the Muhammadans. Have we the adequate means to meet the demand? Muhammadan students are refused admission owing to the want of accommodation in the present colleges. The Muhammadans being poor cannot defray the expenses which under the new regulation are going higher and higher.

"In 1913, 513 Muhammadan students passed the Matriculation Examination. We need not argue here why a large number of them cannot continue their studies. Whether one admits or not it was an open secret that they could not get admission in any college. Would it be surprising that in a single year in recent times 77 students from West Bengal and 76 from East Bengal districts were refused admission. I find in Mr. Fazl-ul-Haq's speech delivered in this Council in 1913 that more than 200 students were refused admission in Calcutta in 1911.

"Last year 1,125 boys passed the Matriculation Examination, nearly double the number of 1913. Circumstances have not changed since then.

"It looks like a miracle that this number can be provided for in colleges without any outward signs of change. There is a regulation about the limitation of numerical strength of college classes. This is detrimental to the Muhammadan students, a large number of whom failed to get admission into the already crowded classes. Then again selection for admission on the basis of passes in the higher divisions. This is another cause of exclusion for many a Muhammadan boys from the college.

Everything possible should be done to see that Muhammadan boys get collegiate education. This is matter of great mortification to us Musalmans that after all said and done by the Government nothing further than a mere notification for the acquisition of a site has been done for the establishment of a proposed Muhammadan College. My Lord the Government are in honour bound to give this matter serious consideration. Whenever an opportunity occurs Government should redeem their pledge. I submit that the proposal I am making is a reasonable one. The Government can not give any proper excuse for ignoring when they are deliberately prepared to spend not even 4 lakhs, but altogather 16 lakhs of good money and our money for the partition of the two districts which does not call for immediate action or would not upset the Government very much if it was not undertakan at the present moment. With these words I commend the resolution for favourable consideration."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"Sir, I have spoken so often on this very subject, that I am afraid it will only be repeating myself if I attempt to say more than a few words in support of the resolution which has just been moved by my Hon'ble friend Mr. M. Ashraf Ali Khan Chandhuri. I am inclined to think that this resolution is a very ill-fated one. It comes up to-day, being according to the Hindus, tri-osporsha, one of the most inauspicious days in the year, and it also comes up at a time when all the members of this Council would be inclined to look at the hands of the clock pointing to a quarter to six. I do not therefore think that any useful purpose would be served if I put forward before this Council any of my arguments which I have so often urged in this Council for the support of a proposal for the establishment of a Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta.

"The real point that underlies the question is this, that owing to various causes and owing to the efforts that are being made by Government in inducing Muhammadans to take more keenly to the system of education now in force in this country, we find that every year there is an ever-increasing number of students who after passing the Matriculation Examination of the University, seek admission into the colleges. If our statistics convey any meaning they show that the existing colleges with the amount of restrictions put on admission, are hardly sufficient to provide accommodation for all the Muhammadan students that seek admission into the existing colleges in Calcutta. It may be said that the same argument applies in the case of the other communities. I admit that they do, but there is one fact which we cannot ignore, and it is this, that it is only very recently that the Muhammadans have shaken off their apathy towards English education, and is willing to take advantage of the prevailing system of education. It would be a disaster if an impediment were put in the way of students, either by the want of accommodation for the students in hostels, or the number of admissions that are available for students for seats in the existing colleges. It is therefore necessary in order to limit the number of disapppointed students, to establish at least one well-equipped Arts College, and I think we are all agreed that a college like this is a necessity. If I understood the members of the Council who spoke on behalf of the Government when this proposition was first brought up before this Council, I thought that there was something like a definite promise on the part of Government to provide such a college in Calcutta. The only question was about the funds, and a beginning was also made when a plot of land was acquired in Wellesley Square some time ago, and though nothing has been done since, I believe that the Director of Public Instruction, and the Member in charge of Education have been trying their best to fulfil their pledge and do something for the establishment of this much-needed Muhammadan Arts College. Unfortunately, however, nothing has been done yet, and running my eyes through the pages of the Financial Statement, I find that the question of the partition of the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh can very well be abandoned at least for the present, and the money thereby set free being utilised for a project about the necessity and utility of which we are all agreed. I have heard official members speak on the urgent necessity of the partition of the districts of Mymensingh and Midnapore. I do not wish to detain this Council with any remarks on that point, but I will only say that it is no use trying to convince us that the question of this partition is one of imperative and urgent necessity because we are all convinced that it is not. It is no use arguing that the scheme of administrative efficiency, however apparent or however peremptory it may be, can for a moment be set in the balance against the unanswerable claims in furtherance of education, because we have no doubt that schemes of education are unquestionably superior to those even of administrative efficiency. It is for these reasons that I think that when so many non-official members unite in condemning the carrying out of the scheme of partitioning two districts at the present moment, that that project be abandoned and I think it will meet with the unanimous approval of all non-official members in this House that no better project can be suggested than that of spreading education among the Muhammadan community by establishing the much-needed Arts College. It is for these reasons that I support my friend Mr. Ashraf Ali, and although he has suggested that a portion of the amount be set apart, I suggest that if that project be abandoned, the whole amount set free should be set apart so that we may make a suitable beginning in this direction. Of course if we fail and if Government are not prepared to abandon that project at the present moment, both our resolutions fall to the ground. I am not opposed to the partition of the two districts. Whatever may be the views of the non-official members on this point, I am personally convinced that the question of the partition of these two districts be taken up by Government, and the sooner the better. The question now is which of these should be taken up first, and so far as I am concerned, I vote certainly in favour of the Muhammadan Arts College."

The Hon'ble MR. AMINUR RAHMAN said :—

"Sir, I do not wish to inflict a long speech on a tired and jaded house It is not quite clear whether it has been decided that the money that has been set apart for the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh, will be spent for that object. It seems to me by the fact that two previous resloutions have been defeated, that the Government have almost made up their mind to spend that money for the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh. If there is any doubt on the subject, then there is some reason in pressing this resolution. There has been some talk of establishing a Muhammadan College in Calcutta and the Hon'ble Member in charge of Education in the Executive Council has always taken a keen interest in the matter. That has raised very high hopes in the minds of the Muhammadans. Apart from that, the existence of a Sanskrit College in Calcutta has made the Muhammadans determined to get a Muhammadan College for themselves. We know that when the Government were thinking of establishing a University in Dacca, they also proposed that the Muhammadans should have a separate college for themselves. Somehow or other that scheme has fizzled out for the time being and that has made the Muhammadans very disappointed. If the Government can see their way to establishing a Muhammadan College either now or at some future date in Calcutta, I think that the Government will have done a great thing. This problem of education, though it is a very pressing one at all times, becomes doubly so at war time. If the people of the country be not prepared for competition after the war, they will find themselves in a very sorry condition indeed. We all know that in European countries the problem of education is becoming one of the biggest problems ; and they are doing all that they can do to fit their countrymen for the struggle for existence that will ensue after the war. The struggle and the competition that will come after the war will be one of the greatest. We all know the Muhammadans are very backward in this country and if they are not fitted for the struggle, they will probably find themselves absolutely lost. It is for this reason, if some impetus can be given to Muhammadan education in this country, the Government will earn the gratitude of the Muhammadans for the work they will have done. I therefore think that although the Government will probably find themselves unable to undertake the work at present, they can promise that they will do so as soon as possible. And the Muhammadans will be satisfied with that promise."

"Sir, I wish that in dealing with this resolution I could utter words of hope to the Hon'ble Mover, but I do not like to give sympathy alone where I cannot translate it into action. I may assure my Hon'ble friends who have spoken on this subject that nothing has been in these years nearer my heart than the establishment of an Arts College for Muhammadans in Calcutta. We have tried our best, but we found at the end that the circumstances are such that we must consent to a postponement at any rate for some time. That we were in earnest is clear from the fact that we took a large plot of land at considerable cost for the building, but when the war came, we realised that it was not possible so long as the war lasted, to establish this Muhammadan Arts College. Probably my Hon'ble friends have not realised the amount of cost that is involved in the scheme. The resolution asks that non-recurring expenditure of Rs. 4,36,000 in connection with the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh be suspended and out of that grant the sum of Rs. 2,36,000 be allotted for the establishment of a Muhammadan College in Calcutta. I do not know how my friend has arrived at this figure of Rs. 2,36,000 and he has not in the course of his speech given any explanation of it. It will interest him to know that when we first considered this matter we had detailed estimates prepared and the recurring expenditure worked up to nearly 13 lakhs. The idea then was to demolish the present building which accommodates the Anglo-Persian and Arabic Department, and to build a new house, worthy of an Arts College on that site and to provide a new building in Wellesley Street site for the accommodation of the Anglo-Persian Department. The cost of the scheme would have been about 13 lakhs inclusive of the land. Afterwards it was suggested that we might leave the old building as it was for the present and then the non-recurring cost would be greatly diminished. We examined the question and thought that we might at any rate as a make-shift, have a new building on the Wellesley Street site for a college, and build in such a way that if necessary, it might ultimately be suitable for the Anglo-Persian Department. The idea was for the present to leave the Madrassa building as it is. The cost of this was estimated at over 4 lakhs, so that the minimum non-recurring expenditure required for the minimum scheme was more than 4 lakhs, and Rs. 2,36,000 would not go very far in building a house for the Muhammadan College or for the school.

"There is another difficulty. My Hon'ble friends in asking for Rs. 2,36,000 have not considered the question of the recurring expenditure. That alone came to about Rs. 70,000. The resolution does not say from where the recurring expenditure is to come. There are various other difficulties, difficulties of recruiting men for the Indian Educational Service, because the Secretary of State has definitely told us that at the present moment it is not possible to have men appointed to the Indian Educational Service in England and my feeling is—and that feeling will be shared by the Muhammadan members of this Council—that if we cannot have a first grade college it is much better that we should have none at all. We had a second grade college in the Calcutta Madrassa. At one time, I was one of the staff of that institution. The second grade college was found to be an absolute failure, and I was glad when it was abolished. To have a first grade college with a number of men all in the Provincial Educational Service, will not, I think, satisfy the demands of the Muhammadan community, and even then the cost would be considerable. We were in hope that we would be able to establish a Muhammadan College worthy of the community before the war, but when the war came we all realised that having regard to the large sums involved, it was not possible to carry the scheme into effect soon. Besides we have not as yet been able to secure the sanction of the Government of India for the establishment of this Arts College, and as it involves a large recurring expenditure, it cannot be done without the sanction of the Secretary of State, and having regard to the conditions recently laid down by the Secretary of State, I am certain that even if he approves of it, it has no chance of being financed so long as war conditions prevail. The question has been further complicated by the proposed appointment of a University Commission to examine the whole question of University education in Bengal. It is possible that that Committee would consider the desirability of not having any more colleges in Calcutta or even of transferring the existing colleges to the suburbs of Calcutta. With these difficulties I am by no means hopeful that even if we could press for immediate provision for this Arts College, that we stand any chance of success. I have already told my Hon'ble friend, that his proposal to found a Muhammadan Arts College by taking away Rs. 2,36,000 from the expenditure in connection with the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh cannot for a moment be entertained. It is wholly and absolutely inadequate and the resolution makes no suggestion of any provision for the recurring expenditure which is much more difficult. I believe my friend's desire is not to press us to accept his resolution, but to raise a discussion so that the Council may be informed of the Muhammadan feeling on the subject, and of the importance which they attach to the establishment of a Muhammadan Arts College. If that be his desire, I think he has succeeded. But if his desire is for the immediate establishment of a Muhammadan Arts College, I am afraid for reasons which I have already stated, I cannot hold out any hopes to him.

"Then comes the question of abandoning the partition or at any rate postponing the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh. You, Sir, in dealing with other resolutions which made a similar demand have told the Council the immediate urgency of the partition. If your speech has not convinced Hon'ble Members of this Council, I am afraid nothing that I can say is likely to convince them; but there is one fact which the Council should remember, and it was pointed out to the Council by you Sir and that was this, that the amount to be spent on the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh was allowed as a special concession to be spent for this specific purpose and we have no right, even if we abandoned the partition, to spend that money for any other purpose. It was a condition of the sanction, and if the partition is postponed, the money would lapse. For these reasons, I do not think I need say anything more. This question has been discussed threadbare before this Council and the Council has already accepted the importance and the urgency of the matter. I do not think I need say anything more, although I am extremely sorry to disappoint many who came with high hopes, I am very sorry I cannot accept this resolution, although nothing would have gratified me more than to see any immediate prospect of the establishment of a Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta."

Mr. M. Ashraf Ali Khan Chaudhuri.

The Hon'ble Mr. M. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"When I first moved the resolution, I had some lukewarm hopes of being successful, but when my Hon'ble friend Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq pointed out the unlucky hour and the unlucky day, I was quite convinced of it, as it reminded me of the unlucky date, the 13th, which is to-day. I do not want to be very long because it is very late, it is past six. I think the Hon'ble Member has shown me sympathy, but he has said that Government have no right to spend the money on any other thing except on the partition. Therefore, even if he had accepted the resolution, he could not have done what I wanted him to do, but Sir, I want to say this only, we are very sorry to hear that for the present and for the near future there is no hope for the college. If the Government wanted to have the college they could have done so with this money. I believe they could have started a building and then the recurring expenditure could have been provided from the sources from which they would have given it before the war. We wanted to make a small beginning. I know very well if we do not have a beginning now, we shall not have any beginning for some half-a-dozen years to come, because after the war the present state of things will continue. I do not want to say anything more, but I am very sorry, that my resolution could not be accepted."

The motion was then put and lost.

The resolution standing in the name of the Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq (Item No. XVII) was, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XVIII.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(i) in addition to the provision made for completing the improvement which is being executed by the dredger Foyers to the Lower Kumar River at Charmaguria, a further sum of Rs. 50,000, or such other amount as may be required, be provided for dredging the Kumar River, from Nilochi to Takerhat (which is silting up at this place) to provide further improvements as a means of communication with the Beel Route canal in the District of Faridpur ; and (ii) that such additional expenditure be met from reduction under the heads Police Re-organization and Improvements.

He said :—

"Sir, I opened the debate yesterday, I also begin it to-day. The Resolution which I have to place before the Council now is for the dredging of the Kumar river at a certain place, and I have suggested that the money required, which I have put down at Rs. 50,000, might be met from the reduction in the Police grant. Sir, if I had known that the allotments for the Police were as unchangeable and unalterable as the provisions of the laws of the Medes and Persians, I should have thought it necessary to refer to some other sources from which this money should be obtained ; but I may say without the gift of prophecy that the large allotment made for the Police, viz., Rs. 18,10,000 will not all be spent and cannot possibly be spent, during the next year, and I believe a certain amount of it will be left unexpended from which this very small sum of Rs. 50,000 might well be met if the Government chooses to accept the Resolution.

Sir, the draft statement shows that a provision of Rs. 75,000 has been made for dredging the lower Kumar river near Charmaguria in connection with the Bhil-route canal in the district of Faridpur. I desire to point out that there is a bend of the Kumar river between Nilokhi and Takerhat, where it joins with the Bhil-route canal. This bend is silting up at certain places and thereby seriously obstructing navigation of boats during some part of the year. This channel is highly important as a feeder to the Bhil-route canal and connects Bhanga and other important centres of trade higher up. It is of the utmost importance as a means of communication as well as for the development of trade that this bend of the Kumar river should be kept open and clear all the year round.

Sir, in this connection, I have to make one more observation, although I do not consider it necessary to move any separate Resolution for the purpose. The Bhil-route canal has no doubt proved a great blessing to the people, and I find that a suitable provision has been made for the completion of the embankment which has been constructed on one side of the canal providing a road from Gopalgunge to Surdiaghat station. Unfortunately, this one-sided embankment has caused great hardship to the villagers on both sides. During the rains on one side the houses and the fields are overflooded, destroying the jute and the paddy, while on the other side they are parched and dried up for want of necessary water. Then, my Lord, I have my information that most of the small village khals and outlets falling on the line of the embankment have been closed. This is a very serious matter, as the closing of the khals and outlets is not only a serious obstacle to necessary communication with the interior but has also obstructed the drainage of the villages. If this obstruction continues, I am afraid malaria will soon appear in these places. I, therefore, suggest that in improving and completing this embankment, care should be taken to provide a sufficient number of sluices at intervals and also construct bridges (they may be wooden ones for the present) where any village-khal or outlet has been closed by this embankment. This is indeed a serious matter."

The Hon'ble the VICE-PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Member in addressing Council at length on this subject is out of order. He must confine himself to his motion."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

"I was only making a suggestion and I have nothing more to say."

The Hon'ble MR. MACKENZIE said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, I desire to say a few words on the subject of this Resolution, not because I have any hope that it will meet with acceptance at the hands of the Government to-day, nor because I desire to despoil the funds provided for the much-needed improvements in the Police, but because I desire to put on record my opinion that the improvement suggested by the Hon'ble Mover of this Resolution is deserving of consideration at the hands of Government, as soon as circumstances permit. I find, on looking into some correspondence on the subject, that as early as March 1914, the Superintending Engineer of the South-Western Circle, instructed the Executive Engineer to take steps to remove the snags and bars from the point referred to. That nothing has been done so far is due to the fact that there are more urgent projects in hand, and I think that all that the Hon'ble Member can look for to-day is an assurance from Government that, as soon as a dredger is available, this project for improving the Upper Kumar river will be taken in hand. Having a pretty shrewd idea of what the Hon'ble Mr. Cowley will say presently. I would not have troubled to get up to-day, had it not been that I wished to place on record before His Excellency goes, my great appreciation of the very keen interest which he has always taken in questions relating to water-ways, and to express the hope that as a result of that interest we shall before long have at work a fully-fledged Water-way Department whose duty it will be to systematically conserve and improve those most valuable assets of the State, the great rivers of Bengal and the adjoining provinces. To quote from Sir W. W. Hunter in the Imperial Gazetteer of India :—

> "Rivers first create the land, then fertilize it and finally distribute its produce."

The Hon'ble MR. COWLEY said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, I propose to deal first with the second portion of the Hon'ble Member's Resolution. He suggests that the additional expenditure required for dredging the Kumar river be met from the provision under the head of Police Re-organisation. That is a provincial head of expenditure, while the work of dredging the Kumar river will fall under head "43, Minor Works and Navigation," which is half-Imperial and half-Provincial. Therefore, the re-appropriation the Hon'ble Mover proposes, is totally inadmissible.

The Hon'ble Member suggests that we should employ the dredger Foyers for dredging the upper Kumar river, and that a sum of Rs. 50,000 be set aside for this purpose; that is to say, he proposes that the dredger Foyers be utilised for a period of two months in dredging this Kumar river. It is unfortunate that Government have at present only two dredgers, viz., the Foyers and the Alexandra and it is absolutely impossible, even if we allotted funds now to obtain more dredgers during the war. These two dredgers will be fully occupied during the year in dredging the main steamer routes between Calcutta, Assam and Eastern Bengal. It is imperative for us to maintain these routes.

The Hon'ble MR. COWLEY—concld.

It is true that we have also proposed to divert one of these dredgers for a short period of time to dredge the mouth of the Buxi Khal or the Hoorhora Khal where it falls into the river Rupnarain. This dredging is part of our proposals for mitigating the effects of the floods of the Damodar on its western bank, and it is recognised that this is of primary importance. With this exception, the programme of our work for our dredgers is confined to dredging the main steamer routes which must be efficiently maintained. If we had more dredgers and more money, it would have been possible to accept the Hon'ble Member's Resolution, but as matters stand at present, I do not see how it is practicable. When we are, however, in a position to obtain more dredgers, we shall certainly remember the case of the upper Kumar river.

The Hon'ble Member has made some observations with reference to the embankment to the south of the Madaripur Bhil-route, but I do not propose to discuss them now."

The Hon'ble Babu AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

"Sir, the want of a dredger may be a difficulty, but I may point out that the place which I indicate in my Resolution would not be far from Charmaguria where the dredger will be employed. It will only be a few miles up where this bend of the Kumar river is sought to be dredged. If the Hon'ble Mr. Cowley will give me an assurance that the matter will receive the attention of Government when a favourable opportunity comes, I am prepared to accept it with thanks."

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON BELL said :—

"The matter will certainly receive the attention of Government."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

"In that case, Sir, I do not press my Resolution."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the Vice-President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XIX.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 25,000 be set apart for improving the present insanitary condition of the Berhampur sluice on the Bhagirathi embankment in the district of Murshidabad ; and (b) the said sum be taken out of Rs. 1,02,000 provided for Nadia rivers.

He said :—

"Sir, on the 13th December last, I asked the Council a question about the unsatisfactory and insanitary condition of the Berhampore sluice on the Bhagirathi embankment in the district of Murshidabad. In reply, the Government admitted that some improvement was necessary and the matter was receiving the attention of Government. Then on the 23rd January last, I put another question inquiring about the estimated cost of improving the sanitary condition of the sluice. I was told that the Government expected to receive the estimates shortly and I was assured that when received the estimates would be considered by Government. I find in the Budget before us that a sum of Rs. 1,02,000 has been provided for works connected with the Nadia rivers and I hope Your Excellency's Government will issue necessary instructions to the Executive Engineer, Nadia Rivers Division, to take up the matter and thus remove a standing nuisance which is a menace to public health."

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Mr. Cowley; Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur; Babu Brojendra Kishor Ray Chaudhuri.

The Hon'ble Mr. COWLEY said :—

"Sir, the estimate which has been referred to by the Hon'ble Member in his speech amounts to Rs. 7,600. This estimate provides for the improvements to the drainage channel from the Berhampore sluice to Berhampore bhil and if the channel be extended from the Municipal culvert under the Berhampore Khagra road to the deep portion of the Berhampore bhil, the additional cost will be something like Rs. 2,500 ; so the total estimate of the cost will be about Rs. 10,000. Government have decided that the work, being one of urgent necessity, will be sanctioned and that funds will be provided for it from the sanitation grant at the disposal of Government in the coming financial year."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"Sir, in the circumstances explained by the Hon'ble Mr. Cowley, I shall be satisfied with a grant of Rs. 10,000 and beg to withdraw my Resolution."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the Vice-President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XX.

The Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 1,00,000 be allotted for the purposes of preparing a definite and comprehensive scheme for the improvement of rivers in the Dacca Division and for giving such effect to it as may be decided upon under expert advice and guidance ; and

(b) the expenditure be met out of the total provision of Rs. 24,66,000 made for original works under head "Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department."

He said :—

"Sir, in putting up a plea for an effective improvement of the rivers in Eastern Bengal, all that I ask for is a fuller recognition of the enormous value of navigable water-ways, and a larger employment of our resources, under a comprehensive scheme, for their permanent improvement. I readily acknowledge the efforts so far made by the Government in this direction ; but I do not know if the magnitude of the present evil has been fully realised. To my mind, the choked up water-ways of Bengal have grown into a serious menace to the health and prosperity of the country, and they call for more than fitful attempts at their improvement. Sir, I am strongly persuaded that in tackling the problem of the water-ways of Bengal, we can no longer depend upon partial measures and temporary make-shifts, but should set about working under a comprehensive and definite scheme, the absence of which was, only the other day, admitted by the Hon'ble Mr. Cowley. The present condition of the water-ways of the Presidency may, I am afraid, be ascribed to an inadequate appreciation of their great economic importance and necessary relation to railways. I am reminded that even in Europe and America, the importance of the water-ways was all but forgotten on the birth of the Steam Engine, but the Governments in those countries have now risen to a full consciousness of the enormous importance of navigable water-ways not only as a means of communication but also as an essential requirement for the growth and development of industrial enterprise and for exploiting the country's resources. Explaining how the nations in the west have now come to attach particular importance to their water-ways, Mr. O. C. Lees, Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle, Bengal, in his six lectures on water-ways in Bengal says :—'All the great nations have come to realise the paramount importance of providing abundant transport facilities in order to foster the development of industries and commercial enterprise. The recognition of the great economic value of water-ways, as a measure to this end, has been the natural outcome of that realisation. The practical result of this recognition has been the expenditure of enormous sums of money for the rapid improvement of existing water-ways and the construction of navigable channels. The large navigation schemes are now being pushed forward with the greatest activity, more especially in those countries fortunate enough to possess natural channels adaptable to modern requirements. This great movement has not taken shape with the idea of supplanting railway enterprise, or even of checking railway development, but in the rational belief that facilities for cheap transport can be better secured by water-ways which are as necessary as railways for the development of the country's resources. Finally, the outlay has, for the most part, been incurred, or at any rate is being incurred, to-day, without the expectation of any direct return in the shape of tolls, which in most of the countries have been totally abolished.'

Now, Sir, I do not intend to take the House through a reading of the string of figures representing the vast sums annually spent by the nations of Europe and America in maintaining and improving their water-ways. I am aware of their vast resources as well. I will only take little Belgium which has a total area of only 11,378 square miles, that is, in other words, one-seventh of the area of the British territory in Bengal. This small country, for 25 years, between 1875 and 1900, has spent close upon one crore of rupees for her water-ways annually, and, we are told. 'The Government attributed the commercial prosperity of the country almost entirely to the facilities of transport that had been secured by water-ways worked in connection with the railways.'

Sir, no comparison is my intention, for I am aware it may not be quite fair. An inquiry, however, as to what practical recognition has been made of the importance of the water-ways in our country will not be irrelevant. I admit I have not been able to ascertain the exact amount spent in actual works of river improvement. It is perhaps sufficient for my purpose to state that, so far as the rivers in my part of the Presidency are concerned, not more than Rs. 40,000 on the average have, annually, been spent for their improvement during the last ten years, and this, out of an average provision of 12 lakhs or thereabouts for the water-ways in the whole Presidency, distributed under the several heads of minor works and navigation by Public Works Department and by Civil Departments. I need only add that the above sum of Rs. 40,000 has gone only for the two rivers in Dacca, namely, the Buriganga and the Dhaleswari. The other rivers in the riverine districts of Dacca, Mymensingh, Faridpur and Barisal have practically received little or no attention. There is, of course, the Madaripur Bhil Route, a work of considerable magnitude; but I am sorry I am not in a position to form an idea of the value of the attempts made at actual river improvement in the interior of the Dacca Division. Judging from the facts before me, and knowing what I do, of the condition of the rivers in my part, I feel constrained to say that the claim of these rivers have never been adequately dealt with. It cannot be said that there have not been any difficulties in the way of internal communication, navigation and sanitation in rural areas of Eastern Bengal which are directly attributable to the deterioration of the rivers. No doubt, bandalling and dredging operations are going on for the last ten years; but as we have been informed by the Hon'ble Mr. Cowley, the dredging operations succeeded only partially, the results have not been of a permanent nature, and since 1915-16 dredging has been abandoned as of little use. This is all that appears to have been done for the improvement of rivers in that part of the Presidency where, more than elsewhere, the health and prosperity of the people depend very largely on the condition of its water-ways. If Bengal is rich in her rivers, Eastern Bengal is particularly so. The big rivers, the Padma, the Brahmaputra, the Meghna and the Jamuna, with their innumerable tributary streams and streamlets furnish, in that part, facilities for cheap transport, supply water to rural areas and means of internal communication and natural drainage. But how do these rivers fare to-day? Sir, it is perhaps unsafe for a layman like myself to enter into a technical study of the condition of the rivers, nor does there seem to be any necessity for so doing. The gradual silting up of these rivers is a stern reality. Water-logged streams, marshy tracts, stagnant waters and water scarcity, have now-a-days, been the rule, rather than the exception; and, I believe, with Dr. Bently, that it is these conditions that are directly responsible for the appalling rise in mortality from malaria and cholera. In Tangail, Jamalpur, Manikganj and Munshiganj the question of improvement of silted up-streams and khals and the need for canalisation are urgent. In Eastern Mymensingh, again, in certain parts, the disparity between the country-level and water-level, owing to the last great earthquake, is such as to have led to an entire stoppage of natural drainage over vast areas that need clearing up.

Sir, the popular notion is, that since the great earthquake of 1897, there has been a general rise in river-beds and a process of gradual silting up is going on, bringing on, in its train, general unhealthiness and water-scarcity in the areas through which these decaying rivers run. The Brahmaputra is dead at Mymensingh, and although, owing to periodical flooding, some parts in Eastern Mymensingh are yet free from malaria, Jamalpur, within recent years, has turned into a congenial soil for the growth and development of malaria, and signs are not wanting that the whole district will very shortly be in the firm grip of the disease. Indeed, it is high time that systematic efforts were made to save the rural population from all the evils of dying rivers. Sir, I again admit I cannot lay any claim to expert knowledge on the question of river improvement, but I cannot persuade myself to believe that nothing can possibly be done to improve the rivers, that things would better be left to themselves. I have it, however, on the authority of Mr. Lees, that 'In Bengal, at any rate, the conditions are more favourable for the improvement and extension of navigation facilities than in any other country in the world.' Indeed, Sir, the layman wonders why dredging operations cannot be undertaken so as to remove the silt deposits at the junction of tributary streams of the Brahmaputra, the Jamuna and the Padma? why cannot canalisation be undertaken in Vikrampur? why cannot the junction of the streams and khals in Mymensingh and other parts be opened up? The same authority has given it as his opinion that liberal employment of suction dredgers can alone secure effective results. The evil effects of silted up rivers have been admitted by Dr. Bently in his researches into the etiology of malaria. Mr. Lees, whose above opinions have been published by the Government of Bengal, points out the direction in which effective results can be obtained. The question, however, arises where are we to find the money? No less an amount than Rs. 24 lakhs 66 thousand have been budgetted for original works in charge of Public Works Department even in this year of unusual financial stringency, and this, roughly, forms one-third of the whole amount provided for Civil Works in charge of the said Department. Considering the enormous economic value of navigable water-ways, in transport facilities, and in development of industrial and commercial enterprise, considering also, that in my part they are the only possible means of internal communication, in view, again, of the appalling signs of depopulation from cholera and malaria in riverine districts; judging from a full knowledge of the local conditions, Sir, I certainly think that an allotment of a lakh of rupees, out of the liberal provision made for original works under the Public Works Department, for the purposes of a comprehensive scheme of river improvement in Dacca Division, is only a modest prayer, as much as it is a just demand.

With these words, Sir, I commend my Resolution to the acceptance of this Council."

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Mr. Cowley.

The Hon'ble MR. COWLEY said :—

"Sir, the Hon'ble Mover has divided his Resolution into two parts: the first is the preparation of a definite and comprehensive scheme for the improvement of rivers in the Dacca Division, and the second is that funds be provided for effect to be given to such a scheme.

This proposal is somewhat similar to the one which Government have already had under their consideration and which was referred to in this Council in the answer given to a question asked by the Hon'ble Rai Srinath Ray Bahadur, on the 5th March, 1917. Owing to the absence of so many officers of the Public Works Department on military duty, it has not been possible at present to proceed with one inquiry which the Hon'ble Member has suggested in his Resolution, but I may say that we have had several reports from the Superintending Engineer of the South-Western Circle on the small rivers in the Bakarganj district which should be improved, and these reports have been recorded and are not being lost sight of.

The Hon'ble Mover has drawn attention to the great importance which is placed in Belgium and other continental countries on the importance of water-ways. I feel sure that he does not know what this Government have already done in this matter. We have now under consideration and hope shortly to submit to the Secretary of State, for sanction, a scheme involving an expenditure of two crores of rupees. Besides this, it might be of interest to the Hon'ble Member to know what expenditure has been incurred by the Government during the last three years in the districts of Bakarganj and Faridpur. I find that in 1914-15 the expenditure on the improvement of water-ways, generally in the Bakarganj district, amounted to Rs. 1,25,735; in 1915-16, Rs. 2,68,147 and 1916-17 (up to the end of February), Rs. 3,07,127. In the district of Faridpur, in 1914-15. it amounted to Rs. 3,71,018; in 1915-16, Rs. 3,89,146 and in 1916-17 (up to the end of February), Rs. 3,05,565. In addition to this, the expenditure on the improvement of the rivers Dhalleswar and Buriganga in the Dacca district in the same period amounted to Rs. 14,846. The total expenditure in the Bakarganj and Faridpur districts and on these two rivers in the Dacca district has amounted to the large sum of 19 lakhs in three years. We have in progress the improvement of the lower Kumar river, the Madaripur Bhil Route, the Barani Khal and other minor rivers.

I must apologise to the Hon'ble Member, in that, I perhaps misled him when I informed him in my letter of the 1st March, 1917, that a sum of Rs. 42,250 had been set aside for the improvement of rivers in the Dacca Division. This mistake arose from a misinterpretation of the words 'Dacca Division.' The answer which I gave him was meant to refer to the 'Public Works Dacca Division' and not to the Commissioner's Division.

We have at present only two dredgers, and we cannot possibly take up schemes over a very wide area with a small number of dredgers. Government have not, however, been unmindful of this, and the Hon'ble Member will be glad to know that before the war began, we had submitted to the Director of Stores at Home, specifications for dredgers which the Irrigation Department of the Government would wish to purchase. Of course, with the advent of the war, this expenditure has become impossible even if we could obtain the dredgers. We prepare a working programme for the two dredgers we have in our possession. This working programme is the forecast of what work the dredgers will actually do in the course of the year. The forecast has already been made for the coming year 1917-18, and I am sorry that we cannot pay more attention to the rivers in the Dacca Division beyond the main steamer routes which we will attempt to maintain.

The last point is the question from which funds are to be procured. The Hon'ble Member proposes in his Resolution that the cost be met from the Head of 'Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.' This head, however, is a provincial one, while the cost of improvement of rivers falls under head '43—Minor Work and Navigation.' which is a divided head. The re-appropriation suggested is, therefore, impossible."

The Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, in view of the assurance given by the Hon'ble Mr. Cowley, I beg to withdraw my Resolution."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXI.

The following Resolution stood in the name of the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 60,000 be set apart for mitigating the effects of the floods of the Damodar caused by the silting up of the Banspati Khal, the Poorana Khal and Nabin Babu's Khal in the Amta Basin in the district of Howrah ; and

(b) the said sum be taken out of the special provision of Rs. 2,50,000 set apart to meet the cost in connection with the projects for mitigating the effects of floods in the Burdwan Division.

He said :—

"Sir, from the information I have received this morning and from the conversation I had with the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, I do not think that it would be justifiable on my part to press this Resolution and I beg to withdraw it. At the same time I shall ask the Hon'ble Mr. Cowley to consider how relief can best be afforded to these affected areas, because the Council knows well the ravages which the river Damoodar has done to this part of Howrah. I, therefore, felt it my duty to bring this matter to the notice of this Council. As no portion of this amount (Rs. 2,50,000) is available, I have no other alternative than to withdraw my Resolution."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the Vice-President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXII.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a lump provision of one lakh of rupees, or such other sum as may seem necessary, be made for raising the initial pay of Munsiffs from Rs. 200 to Rs. 250 a month ; and

(b) the expenditure be met from the lump provision of rupees two lakhs provided for unforeseen requirements.

He said :—

"Sir, a year ago, almost to a day, I moved this very Resolution in Council, and although I was not successful in inducing the Government to accept my Resolution, I had hopes that within a short time some steps would be taken to give effect to the recommendation in that resolution. I find, however, that during this one year nothing has been done and there are no indications that Government propose to do anything to give effect to such a recommendation. I do not wish to take up the time of this Council by discussing the merits and demerits of this Resolution, because I think we are all agreed that the Munsiffs are a most useful body of public servants and extremely hard-worked, and the amount of duties they perform are not only of an onerous character but of the very greatest importance to the litigant public. There is one matter which, I think, we ought to take into consideration in discussing a Resolution like this. We are all aware that in the Provincial Civil Service, the Executive Service which is the exact parallel of the Provincial Judicial Service, the initial pay of Deputy Magistrates pay has been raised from Rs. 200 to Rs. 250 ; then in the Police Department, the Deputy Superintendents of Police start with an initial salary of Rs. 250. These two bodies of public servants start life very young, the Deputy Magistrates almost invariably before they are 25, and the Deputy Superintendents of Police also at that age, unless they are recruited from the department itself. In the case of Munsiffs, they have got to pass the B. L. Examination, practice as a Pleader for at least three years and then take their chance either of securing a permanent appointment or continuing to practice as a Pleader. I do not think I am far wrong when I say that Munsiffs never get a permanent post before they are 30 years of age. It is extremely unfair that Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Superintendents of Police start life at about 25 and start with an initial salary of Rs. 250, whereas, Munsiffs have to start at a much later stage of life at an initial salary of Rs. 200 only. I do not think that Government will, for a moment, encourage the idea that the Munsiffs are the least useful body of public servants. As far as I can understand from the reply which was given to my Resolution last year, the only difficulty in the way of Government was not only a financial one, but also the fact that the matter was under consideration by the Public Services Commission. Their recommendations have now been published, and I think that, since we are all agreed that a recommendation like this ought to be accepted and the recommendation of the Public Services Commission having also been published, the Government should lose no time in giving effect to the recommendation contained in this Resolution. With these few words, I beg to commend this Resolution to the acceptance of Government."

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY said :—

"Sir, the question now before us has been so thoroughly agitated for some time that it requires very few words from me in support. Government are themselves committed to the reform sought for in this Resolution. The increase in expenditure which the present proposal would entail, was even budgetted for a couple of years back. But the official conscience suddenly awoke to the thought that there was the Public Services Commission which might take exception to any act of justice being done behind its back. And true to the traditions of Red Tape, Government shelved the proposal. The official motto in these matters of reform seems to be—'don't do anything to-day, if there is a passable pretext for putting it off, unless of course it concerns the well-being of the Police or District Partition schemes.' So the proposal was shunted off the rails. And now that the Public Services Commission has said its say, and indeed recommended, among other things, this very measure which we advocate to-day, we are certain to be told in the official reply that Government are absolutely helpless in these matters, until the report of the Commission has been properly sterilized and subjected to all sorts of bacteriological tests—until it emerges out of circumlocution office considerably boiled down and suited to the official palate. And when that glorious consummation is brought about, the poor Munsiff must again wait till there is a superfluity of cash in the Hon'ble Mr. Donald's strong-room, which even all the thinkable and unthinkable Police Schemes cannot exhaust. The Munsiff seems to be the step-child of Government, and must wait for his crumb of comfort till the others have had their fill.

Sir, I want to impress upon this Council that the subordinate judiciary is one of the very few institutions connected with Government that command universal confidence and respect. In far off corners of this province, in uninviting surroundings, the modest Munsiff toils ceaselessly, embodying, in the eyes of the people, the virtues of an impartial and liberal Government and the noblest attributes of British justice. Rightly understood, the subordinate judiciary is by far the most valuable assets of Government, and something should be done immediately to better the prospects of its members."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"Sir, I rise to support the Resolution moved by my friend the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq. Members of Council will remember that this question has been discussed in this Council more than once and last year this matter was brought up before this Council by myself. We were then assured that the case of this deserving class of public servants will receive consideration at the hands of Government. Last year the Hon'ble Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul-Huda stated, on behalf of Government, that they had already budgetted Rs. 21 thousand for increasing the initial pay of the Munsiffs, but that they were waiting for the publication of the report of the Public Services Commission. I need not repeat the exact wording of the speech of the Hon'ble Nawab, but it was understood that the Government viewed sympathetically the question of raising the initial pay of the Munsiffs. As has been observed, the Munsiffs are a hard-working educated body of public servants, but their initial pay does not compare favourably with that of the members of the sister service and to raise their initial pay will, I think, not entail a very great extra expenditure on the Government. I hope that this Resolution will meet with sympathetic consideration at the hands of the Government."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"Sir, I wish to associate myself wholeheartedly with the first part of the Resolution, but the second part which is a question of financing the scheme is always a difficult business on these occasions. Last year we were told that the long-deferred improvement might be soon expected and the pendency of the deliberations of the Public Services Commission which was standing in the way then of immediate action has now disappeared. Of course, there is the further difficulty that Government have not yet had an opportunity of considering the recommendations of the Public Services Commission. Members of this Council have frequently spoken on this subject and I am not sure whether we could add anything more on the literature of the subject. The Hon'ble Member in charge, who, as a Member of the Executive Council for the last five years, tried to do his best to improve the service, will soon be transferred to another sphere of public usefulness. What he could not do as an Executive Member, will probably be able to do as a Judge of the Calcutta High Court, and will give effect to improvement in one of the most valuable services of the Province."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"I beg to support this Resolution—at least the first part of it. Having some experience of the work of the Munsiffs in Civil Courts, I thought it my duty to bring their case before the Council. If the criterion of the judicial service is work then my submission to the Council is that their initial pay should be raised. Oftentimes they have got to work till late hours of the evening and all the satisfaction that they get is a poor salary. I think it is the duty of the Government to consider whether their initial pay should not be raised to Rs. 250, as explained by the previous speakers. I submit, therefore, that the Council will kindly consider the claim of the Munsiffs for a higher rate of pay."

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Nawab Sir Syed Shams-ul-Huda ; Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, a great deal has been said by the Hon'ble Mover of this Resolution, as well as by those who have supported him, of the value of the services rendered by the Munsiffs to Government and to the public. As to that, there has been no difference of opinion at any time, and Government have always recognised the value of their services. Last year, a similar Resolution was moved by the same Hon'ble Member. I told him that I sympathised with him, but could not do anything until the report of the Public Services Commission was out, and he thought at that time that this meant an indefinite postponement. The report has now been published and now we know what the recommendations are, and if Hon'ble Members had cared to examine them he would probably have found that he was rendering a very doubtful service to the Munsiffs by recommending an initial pay of Rs. 250 for them, for, as a matter of fact, the recommendations of the Commission shows that they desire that the initial pay of the Munsiffs should be Rs. 300. The Government of India have promised that they would consider the matter most expeditiously. It seems strange that we should be asked to take the matter out of the hands of the Government of India at the present time by giving the Munsiffs an initial pay of Rs. 250. Apart from these considerations, it is proposed to meet the expenditure from the Head 'Unforeseen Expenditure.' It is always dangerous not to have some provision made for unforeseen expenditure, and this is not the least important part of the case. Anyhow, the Services Commission have proposed to improve very materially the prospects of the Munsiffs and Government have their report under consideration and this explanation will, I hope, satisfy Hon'ble Members."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"Sir, I understand, from what has fallen from the Hon'ble Member in charge, that Government are not prepared to accept this Resolution. I have been told that the recommendations of the Public Services Commission go much further than I advocate on behalf of the Munsiffs. But there is the element of uncertainty as to when these recommendations will be given effect to, and if I had any reason to hope that these recommendations would be given effect to within a reasonable time, I would not certainly have brought up this Resolution for discussion. My own feeling is that it will take years and years before the recommendations of the Public Services Commission are given effect to, and, meanwhile, I think it will be an act of bare justice to a hard-worked body of public servants that they should be put on an equality with their brethren in the other Provincial Services. If I am permitted to say so, I think that it is not only extremely fair, but extremely just, that they should get this initial salary, not from to-day, but with retrospective effect from the date on which the initial pay of Deputy Magistrates was raised. Government never waited for any report of any Public Services Commission or the recommendations of anybody when they raised the initial pay of the Deputy Magistrates from Rs. 200 to Rs. 250 on their own initiative and I ask, is it not unfair, is it not making rather an invidious distinction between the different members of the Provincial services, when you give an initial salary of Rs. 250 to members of the executive branch and refuse that little concession to members of the Judicial service? As it is, the public impression is that the members of the Judical service do not receive adequate consideration at the hands of the executive Government, and for this reason, I think, this distinction should not be maintained. If Government think that the recommendations of the Public Services Commission could be given effect to without delay, of course it would be an act of bare justice to the Munsiffs to let this matter stand over so that Munsiffs might begin on Rs. 300 instead of Rs. 250. I think Government might temporaily accept my recommendation of fixing the initial salary at Rs. 250 now, instead of waiting for an indefinite

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXIII.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a lump provision of rupees one lakh, or such other sum as may seem necessary, be made for raising the salaries of Clerks in Registration offices ; and

(b) the expenditure be met from the lump provision of rupees two lakhs provided for unforeseen requirements.

He said :—

"Sir, in this case at any rate, I do not think we need trouble ourselves about any Public Services Commission Report, because, as far as I remember, when this matter came before the Council last year on my motion, I was given to understand that Government accepted the principle embodied in this Resolution. The only question then was that of funds. I do not know, but as far as I could understand the reply of the Hon'ble Member in charge, the Government of India had sanctioned this scale of increment, perhaps conditionally. If that is so, I do not know if I can press this Resolution. If the scheme has already been sanctioned, subject to some conditions, I will not press it, but leave it to the Government to give effect to it as early as possible."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXIV.

The following Resolution stood in the name of the Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) provision be made for an annual grant of Rs. 18,000 to the Bengal Home Industries Association for the purpose of helping Cottage Industries in Bengal ; and

(b) the expenditure be met out of the sum of Rs. 50,000 provided under the Head, "Lump Provision for Development of Industries "—"26B—Scientific and Miscellaneous Departments."

He said :—

"Sir, I ask your permission to withdraw this Resolution. In this connection I have to offer my best thanks to the Government for kindly making an adequate grant to the Home Industries Association."

The Resolution was then, by leave of the Vice-President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXV.

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a recurring grant of Rs. 20,000 be provided for further strengthening the staff of the Department of Co-operative Societies by the appointment of a second Joint Registrar, four Inspectors with knowledge of weaving, one Inspector with knowledge of fishery work and one Inspector with knowledge of dairy work ; and

(b) the expenditure be met from the lump provision of Rs. 30,000 for the Director of Industries under the Head "26B—Scientific and Miscellaneous Departments."

He said :—

"Sir, in this Resolution it is my contention that the progress of the working of the department of co-operation is extremely slow, and that this slow rate is due to the inadequacy of the staff. In support of my contention I may quote only two authorities. Mr. J. C. Jack of the Indian Civil Service, writing about Faridpur, says : that the present rate has not enabled 1-100 of the ground to be covered in 10 years, it will not be possible for the district to eliminate the professional money-lender in less than a thousand years. Again, Sir Daniel Hamilton says : at the present rate of progress, Bengal will not be covered with a fertilizing scheme of credit before the year 2200. Sir, up to this time, I may point out the movement has not touched the fringe of the industrial question. There are only 31 known Credit Societies, and all the rest are what we call the Credit Societies chiefly concerned with agricultural credit. But the question of the industries has presented itself in an urgent shape on account of the war. In this country, as well as other countries, we, as well as other people concerned in the welfare of the state, must try to tackle this question in the best way we can. After the war there is sure to be an industrial war, and we must make preparation for meeting industrial invasion from undesirable quarters, but is any industrial movement possible without an adequate development of the department of co-operation? As a case in point, I might mention the case of the Bengal Home Industries Association. The Association has been launched with the idea of promoting the cottage industries of Bengal, but the Association can make very little progress without the help of the department of co-operation. Such help has been promised by the department, but the department is helpless on account of being inadequately staffed. It is true that provision has been made in the Budget for an additional staff of four Inspectors, one Auditor and one Joint Registrar, but all this will be absorbed in the ordinary work of the Association, and if important industries like weaving, fisheries and dairy work are to be included in the programme of the Association, the staff must be substantially increased. My proposal, therefore, is to make a further addition to the staff of the department of co-operation in the way suggested by my proposal here. As regards the appointment of the second Registrar, I may point out that the Maclagan Committee had recommended that there should be one Registrar for every 1,000 Societies, and the number of Societies at the present moment in Bengal is 2,666, so we are entitled to have a third superior officer. I need not detain the Council further on this point. I wish only to bring to the notice of Government what fell from the lips of Sir Daniel Hamilton when he said, a pice lost to the department is a gold mohur lost to the people and another gold mohur lost to the Government, and to this I may add, that a pice added to the expenditure on the staff of the department would be a gold mohur added to the resources of the people and a gold mohur added to the income of the Government."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"Sir, I associate myself with what has been said by the mover of the Resolution, and I hope that it will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON BELL said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, I shall deal with this Resolution in a very few words. It needs no words of mine to assure the House that we cordially support the co-operative movement and that we are prepared to do anything reasonable on its behalf. But the House may or may not know that the large question as to whether the Registrar and the supervising and inspecting staff should be officials or non-officials has not yet been decided. The Secretary of State has, as a purely temporary measure, sanctioned an official staff up to 31st March, 1918. Between now and that date, in other words, during the financial year which is before us, the Secretary of State will probably make up his mind as to the future of the supervising staff of the co-operative movement. That being so, it hardly behoves us to appoint a very large official staff during the last year of the experimental period. The question has been thoroughly investigated by the Committee of Sir Edward Maclagan. The report of this Committee will of course be the principal document which the Secretary of State will have before him when he passes final orders upon this important question. Meanwhile, Local Governments have been authorised to make such temporary arrangements on a moderate scale as are essential to cope with the current work of the co-operative movement. During the year 1916-17 which is just closing, we appointed four temporary additional Inspectors and during the year which is about to begin, we intend to appoint four more additional Inspectors. I think the House will agree that, in the special circumstances of the case, we are doing all that is reasonable. The Hon'ble Member, as I understand him, presses us to appoint experts for special subjects—experts for fishery, weaving, and so on. That is one of the questions which has been receiving our careful consideration and will no doubt receive the careful consideration of the Secretary of State when he comes to deal with the whole problem—I mean, the question whether it is better to appoint the supervising staff (be they officials or be they non-officials) area by area or subject by subject. Different people recommend different solutions. Personally, I think that, in the present state of organisation, it is better on the whole to appoint men area by area, good all-round men who will carry on all the co-operative work in the villages under their charge. That has generally been our policy; but we have departed from it in one case and have appointed a special officer for the weaving industry. At present there are only 17 weaving societies. We have one officer for these 17 societies and it is certainly an adequate provision. On the whole, we are at present inclined towards the geographical distribution of our officers, but for all that we have a perfectly open mind. The Hon'ble Dr. Sarkar has quoted Major Jack. I admit that Major Jack is strongly in favour of a very large increase in the organizing staff of our Co-operative Societies. Major Jack has not, however, proposed that we should appoint specialists for special subjects. He has proposed that the appointments should be made geographically and that the officers should be recruited from the same class as the kanungos who carry out our survey and settlement operations. The opinion of Major Jack on this point is one of the very greatest weight. In short, I have only to say that the Government are giving, and will continue to give very careful consideration to the question of providing an adequate staff for the Co-operative Societies of the province; but we regret that we cannot accept the Resolution in the form in which it has been put forward by the Hon'ble Mover."

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"Sir, I had expected that a modest Resolution like this would have been accepted by the Government, particularly as the money would not be wanting. However, as it has been rejected, I think that I shall be justified in pressing this Resolution to a division. It is all very good to wait for the decision of the Secretary of State in certain matters and the decision of other Committees, and in the meantime, the psychological moment, the golden opportunity for developing the resources of our country and developing our home industries, will slip away. After the war, as everybody knows, we shall be swamped with goods from most undesirable quarters. This is not only the view of the poor Bengali in Bengal but I know that most of the people in the allied countries have made provisions for such swamping and are making provisions for meeting it in the best way they can. Commissions have been working in great numbers and preparations are being made for this purpose, and it is only a feeble attempt that is being made in order to put things in order here, and it is impossible to do anything without the help of the co-operative movement. However, I have nothing more to say and hope that the Council will accept this Resolution."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXVI.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a lump provision of Rs. 25,000 be made for the improvement of the Civil Court buildings at Pirozpur (Bakarganj); and

(b) this expenditure be met from the provision of Rs. 65,000 made for experiments for potatoes, bonemeal, etc., and for purchase of special varieties of paddy seeds, which projects may either be abandoned for the year or taken up on a reduced scale.

He said :—

"Sir, I do not know if I have caused a surprise in this Council, both by reason of the recommendations made in the first portion of the Resolution and also the suggestion which I have made as to the source from which the expenditure should be met! The Civil Court buildings at Pirozpur have got a history of their own. It may not be known to Hon'ble Members that unlike very few other buildings of this kind, the Pirozpur Civil Courts are held in houses with corrugated roofs, and it is on record that a certain Munsiff, after sitting a couple of hours, complained of a severe headache and had to leave work, and on the next day, after a few hours, he fell down senseless from his chair and was carried home and afterwards died of heat apoplexy. Pirozpur is a very unhealthy station and the Munsiffs have got to work during the hot season in a building of that insanitary character. I believe that the High Court has made it a rule that the Munsiffs have to stay for two years only at Pirozpur, whereas, they have to stay for three years in other places. This question was brought up by me year before last, and I also spoke privately to Mr. Green when I met him in Darjeeling, and I explained the whole question, and he was good enough to say that he had considered the matter, and to all intents and purposes, it had been settled that the improvement of the buildings would be taken in hand within a very short time. Nothing has been done since then and I was also surprised to find that no provision for the improvement of these buildings has been made in this year's Budget. It is a matter of the most urgent necessity, and I think Government would do well to consider whether Rs. 65,000 should be set apart for the useless experiment of potatoes or for giving relief, if not by increment of salary, at least by sanitary housing, to a very useful class of public servants. As regards this experiment of potatoes, I referred to it last year.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ—concld.

I do not know what other Members think of it, but so far as my experience goes, nothing substantial has been done towards developing potatoes in this country. I do not know also what the department of Agriculture does, but so far as I am concerned, I have never met any officer of this department doing any substantial work in any part of this country. The experiment of potatoes may stand over for some time and meanwhile the money may be set apart for the improvement of these buildings. If Government think that something should be done in this direction, my recommendation is that a sum of Rs. 25,000 at the outset will only be required for the improvement of the Civil Court building at Pirozpur and the rest may be spent on potatoes. With these few words I beg to commend my Resolution to the acceptance of the Council."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, I am prepared to admit that this project of the Munsiff's buildings at Pirozpur is one of importance but there are various other projects of the same kind which are perhaps much more urgent. We have plans and estimates of a double Munsifi at Pirozpur which would cost about Rs. 88,000, and perhaps, on account of the increase in prices, this estimate would be exceeded now. We have drawn up a list of the urgent projects and have submitted them to the High Court and asked their opinion as regards the relative urgency of these various schemes. We could not take up these under the present conditions, but we have made this reference to the High Court, so that, when we are able to carry out these schemes, there may be no delay on account of the High Court's advice being needed. But so far as this year's Budget is concerned, we have no money to carry out the schemes for Civil Court buildings in Bengal, and therefore I am not in a position to accept the Resolution.

As regards the Agricultural department, I understand that the expenditure has been cut down to the very minimum, but this is a matter on which my Hon'ble colleague, Mr. Beatson Bell, is in a better position to speak."

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON BELL said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, I have only to add a few words to what the Hon'ble Nawab Sahib has already said. I am in a position to say something on this subject as I have frequently seen these buildings at Pirozpur. In fact, I think I was in the district when they were constructed. It is true that they have tin roofs, but they have also got masonry plinths and below the tin roof there is an under roof, designed to mitigate the heat. The buildings are exactly of the same type as hundreds of schools and colleges and thousands of private residences in the Province. It is not a type of building which I like, but I cannot see why the Civil Court buildings at Pirozpur should be considered before all the other buildings of the same type, both public and private.

I am more immediately concerned, however, with the Agricultural department and with the experiments which it is making. The grant which we have allotted for experiments, is, I venture to say, on a very modest scale and cannot possibly be reduced. We are not dealing with potatoes on a large scale, but we are encouraging people, specially in areas visited by floods and drought, to grow potatoes as a cold weather crop, which will carry them on where the paddy harvest has failed. I am satisfied that, by our encouragement of potatoes in those areas, we have mitigated the sufferings, perhaps saved the lives, of many poor families. Similarly, in regard to bonemeal, we have been doing most useful work. There are demonstrators all over the country even if my Hon'ble friend has not happened to meet them. They are helping people to obtain bonemeal and are teaching them how to use it. The results have been most encouraging and we mean to go on with the good work. Above all, what I object to is that there should be any reduction in our experiments in regard to rice seed or jute seed. The work that is now being done upon these two crops at the Dacca farm is work of the very highest importance. Mr. Hector is in charge of rice, Mr. Finlow in charge of jute. After years of patient experiment they have selected single plants which are markedly superior to other plants. They have taken the seed of these single plants and have gradually reproduced it year by year.

We have now got this superior seed in commercial quantities and we are giving it out to the raiyats in suitable places throughout the Province. The results which we expect will be of the greatest importance to the agricultural prosperity of Bengal. It would be a thousand pities if, just when we have reached this practical stage, we have to relax our energy and cease to place this good seed within the reach of the raiyats. I, therefore, associate myself fully with the Hon'ble Nawab in deprecating any reduction in the moderate allotment which we have made for continuing our agricultural experiments and demonstrating their usefulness to the masses of the people."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"Sir, the question of housing Munsiffs in comfortable buildings is more for the Government to consider than for me to say anything about it, and I do not wish to enter into any controversy as to the utility or otherwise of the department of Agriculture. But, I think, the Hon'ble Member who spoke first on this Resolution on behalf of Government admitted that the houses in which the Civil Courts are now held are not quite satisfactory and that some improvement ought to be made in them. I should only add this, before I resume my seat, that when I looked at the lavish amount proposed to be spent on Police buildings, I thought that the question of housing these Munsiffs in comfortable buildings was at least of equal importance as that of housing Sub-Inspectors and Head-constables of Police. If the latter can claim twelve lakhs odd from Government for the improvement of their buildings, I think that the Munsiffs who have got at least equally important duties to perform, may expect a little share of the Government's grants. So far as the importance of the buildings for the Munsiffs is concerned, I would ask Government to take it up at an early date. With these few words, I would leave it to the Government to consider this resolution".

The Resolution was then, by leave of the Vice-President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXVII.

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 60,000 non-recurring, and Rs. 10,000 recurring, be allotted for making arrangements in the Presidency College for teaching Zoology, by providing accommodation and equipment for Theoretical as well as Practical teaching of the subject, and by appointing one Professor and two Demonstrators ; and

(b) the non-recurring expenditure of Rs. 60,000 be met out of the provision of Rs. 12,00,000 for Police buildings under Head

"Civil Works in charge of Public Works Department"; and the recurring expenditure of Rs. 10,000 be met out of the Rs. 2,00,000 provided as General Reserve for unforeseen requirements under Head "32—Miscellaneous."

He said :—

"Sir, it is not true that our age is the age of mechanism, or our science the science of matter and motion. The science of life has given us the great dominating concepts which to-day vitalise our literature, our philosophy, our religion, our social ideals and our ethical values. Our thoughts no longer run in mechanical grooves along lines of force. And the ideas of conservation and correlation of Energy have been displaced in literature as in life in the speculations of the philosopher as in the projects of the Social Legist or Eugenist by the concepts of hereditary and variation, of environment and habit, of regration and atavism, of natural selection and segregation.

And this had made itself felt in the educational world of to-day. The elementary education programme of the present age has demanded the introduction in our school curriculum of the story of life; and the natural classes and genera and species of plant and animal forms are now furnishing an ample scope for that training in sense observation which is a sine quâ non of education in its earlier stages. Further, the demand for a sound and broad based culture, of which the study of Life forms the consummation, has led to the rapid extension of biological studies in the world's Universities. And all the Indian Universities but one have provided for the teaching of Zoology as well as Botany as liberal scientific studies. The one defaulter is the University of Calcutta, a city which boasts of what is perhaps the finest and biggest zoological collection in the world! Botany we have long recognised and our botanical gardens therefore are free from the reproach of the barren zoological sister. But the scientific value of Zoology for the study of problems of Life and Evolution is greater than that of Botany. In any case the omission of Zoology leaves an anomaly—indeed an anachronism—on our hands. Our Physiology and our Botany for the B. A. and B. Sc. degrees are dissociated from Zoology but are allowed to keep company with Mathematics or Physics, Physiology and Botany accordingly are not studied in the light of Biological Science as a whole but are taken as sectional and isolated sciences, and therefore shorn of much of their cultural scientific value. And the prevailing ignorance of biological facts and theories has had a curious effect on our Psychological and sociological studies, including our economic science and our political philosophy. These have tended to become doctrinaire and hypothetical, abstract and jejune, because our youths have the haziest notions of the factors, conditions and limits of growth and evolution. Again we have introduced Comparative Psychology and Animal Psychology as post-graduate studies, but without a preliminary knowledge of Comparative Zoology the student will not profit much by this teaching. Some of the existing courses, therefore, must be supplemented by Zoology, if they are to be stimulating and healthy, or if they are to be other than mechanical and empirical.

So far I have confined myself to the requirements of mental discipline and liberal education. But the scientific study of Zoology has also an important bearing on the cultivation of the economic resources of the country. To mention only a few important industries, pisciculture, cattle-breeding, forestry, sericulture, apiculture, etc., call for the services of trained Zoologist specialists and the report of the Public Services Commission notices the dearth of Indians having competent Zoological knowledge and training. It is highly desirable that Bengalees should receive sufficient training in their country to take advantage of the industrial openings provided by the natural resources of the fauna of India.

Nor need any apprehension be entertained that the provision of teaching in Zoology will entail any heavy expenditure. It will mean only the opening of a new section in the Science Department of the Presidency College. For two or three dozen students, which is all that one can except for the I. A. or I. Sc. and the B. A. or B. Sc. courses, we require a staff of one Professor, preferably a man who has taken the Natural Science Tripos at Cambridge, and two Demonstrators. We require also new Laboratory rooms equipped for practical work. I have estimated the initial outlay at Rs. 60,000 and recurring charges at about Rs. 10,000 a year. This small expenditure will help in tapping new resources in the country, and repay itself a hundred-fold in its cultural value and reaction. Such large ends, cultural as well as utilitarian, speculative as well as practical, I fondly hope will not fail to touch a sympathetic chord in this Council."

The Hon'ble MR. PROVASH CHUNDER MITTER said :—

"Sir, in saying a few words in support of this Resolution, I note that the question is for the present more or less of academic interest. I know that it will not be possible to provide funds out of the Heads mentioned in this Resolution. But I am one of those who believe in the scientific study of Zoology and specially at the present moment it is of great importance for us in Bengal. I have got a little book, a very valuable book 'Nichol on Fisheries in Japan' and I see what Japan has done in that department, namely, that Japan has added to her national wealth by the scientific culture of her fisheries, and it is impossible to develop fisheries more properly unless you have some grounding at any rate of scientific education in Zoology. Therefore, on the question of principle, I think that we should have an institution where young men can obtain the necessary theoretical instruction in Zoology and I hope that Government will try to introduce the study of this branch of study as soon as funds permit."

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"One great reason why I should like to support this Resolution is this : that unless in the elementary stage, in the I. A. or I. Sc. or B. Sc. classes in Colleges such teaching in Zoology is provided, the higher teaching that is provided under Sir Tarak Palit Trust would be absolutely impossible. To take up advanced Zoology, students should have an earlier elementary training in Colleges. Of course, so far the Indian Museum has been good enough to provide such teaching as was necessary for one or two M.A. students in Zoology. But these students have done so thoroughly badly in the examination that it has become absolutely clear to us, who have run the thing, that without proper training in the earlier days it is absolutely hopeless for a man to go up to the M. Sc. examination in this subject. Of course, the University can never and does not like to suggest to the Colleges as to what course they should take up. It is our duty on the contrary to try to keep them to as few subjects as possible. It strikes every one that in the Presidency College which has already got a physiological laboratory, it may not be found difficult to arrange for such a teaching in conjunction with the authorities of the Zoological Gardens and the Indian Museum. So it strikes me that if money can be found, it would not be so difficult to arrange for the teaching of this subject as in the case of other branches of learning, as portion of the time of the staff of the Indian Museum can be devoted to encourage teaching on this subject. For this reason I beg to support the Resolution."

The HON'BLE MR. HORNELL said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, I should like to say at once that I entirely endorse what has been said about the desirability of teaching Zoology in Calcutta. Indeed it seems rather strange that this subject should have been omitted. As the Hon'ble Mover has pointed out, we have a fine Zoological Garden here and we have also in Calcutta the head-quarters of a very energetic Zoological Survey. So far as the resolution goes, I need merely point out that Government have already expressed their inability to reduce the grant for Police buildings, and I am quite sure that at this hour the House would not wish me to discuss that question over again.

As regards the general reserve, I understand from those in charge of finances that it is quite impossible to reduce the sum of 2 lakhs which is considered to be the minimum on which the administration can proceed. There are further reasons why it would be impossible for Government to say here and now that they would do anything this year. The proposal is to me at least a new one. I have asked the Principal of the Presidency College whether he knows of any such proposal and his reply is in the negative. Of course even supposing we had the money we should have to consider a good many things before we could begin work. We have first of all to decide what arrangements would be suitable; we have then to submit them to the University and we have finally to get the University's recommendations agreed to by the Government of India. All I say is that I regard the suggested provision as one which should be made and I propose to refer the whole matter to the governing body of the Presidency College. The Governing Body will be asked to take the matter into consideration at once and make definite suggestions. I hope that this will be sufficient for the mover of the resolution. Of course he must realise existing financial conditions being what they are that this is not a pledge to start the instruction this year or next year. All I can say is that the matter will be considered and if it can persuade the Local Government that it is desirable provision will be made as soon as possible."

The Hon'ble DR. NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"Sir, I have faith in the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction and I ask your permission to withdraw the resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXVIII.

The following resolution stood in the name of the Hon'ble MR. A. RASUL :—

> This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the duty allowance of the Principal, Presidency College, and local allowances of the Dean and Bursar of the said institution be suspended till finances improve, and the sum of Rs. 7,800 set apart for the purpose be allotted as grants for furniture for aided secondary schools.

He said :—

"My resolution was about suspending the duty allowance of the Principal of the Presidency College and the local allowances of the Dean and Bursar of the same institution and spending that amount on purchasing furniture for aided secondary schools; but I am assured by the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell that Rs. 11,000 has been set apart for the same purpose, I beg to withdraw the resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the Vice-President, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"May I rise to a point of order? There were several resolutions which suggested the transfer of the Police grant to some other purpose, but the Council threw out those suggestions. The resolution about to be moved now also makes the same suggestion, and as the Council threw out previous suggestions of the same nature, is this resolution in order?"

The Hon'ble the VICE-PRESIDENT said :—

"I cannot rule the resolution out of order. It is a positive request for the expenditure of a certain sum of money for a certain purpose. I believe the intention of the Hon'ble Member is to ventilate a particular subject and I believe that the general opinion of the House approves the policy that has been adopted allowing some lattitude to members in inviting the attention of Government to such requests."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXIX.

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) the amount estimated under the expenditure head "Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers" as representing the Augmentation Grant to District Boards for 1917-18, viz., Rs. 4,30,000 be increased by Rs. 3,20,000; and (b) the latter sum be provided for by a corresponding reduction in the amount of Rs. 12,00,000 for Police Buildings.

He said :—

"Sir,—If any figure in the financial statement has puzzled me more than any other, it is the amount of 4 lakhs 30 thousand which has been shown under the head 'Civil Works in charge of Civil Department,' as Augmentation Grant. The augmentation grant was first instituted by the Government of India in 1905 for the benefit of the District Boards, and is expected to represent about one-fourth of their actual receipts from land cess annually. When the grant was inaugurated, the District Boards in Bengal used to enjoy the road cess revenue only, which represented half the total land cess; but the local bodies of some other provinces were more fortunate at that time, in that the entire land cess used to be credited to them. So, when the augmentation grant came to be sanctioned, it was calculated at one-fourth of the road cess receipts so far as the local bodies in Bengal were concerned; while in regard to some other provinces it was calculated upon the entire land cess which was appropriated by the local bodies there. From 1905 to 1912, this Imperial grant continued to be calculated and disbursed by the respective Local Governments, at the rates fixed, and debited to Imperial funds. In 1913, the public works cess was surrendered in favour of the local bodies of Bengal, by the Imperial Government which made a fixed assignment of Rs. 24 lakhs 93 thousand to the Local Government as compensation for this loss of revenue to the provincial funds. The local bodies in Bengal are therefore enjoying the entire land cess since 1913-14. And the augmentation grant, according to the avowed principle of allotment, should now be doubled, being calculated at ½ of the total land cess now administered by our local bodies. But my Lord, far from this being the case, it is a matter of common experience with the Boards, that the augmentation grant has been decreasing since 1913-14—a phenomenon to which my attention was drawn by the local bodies which I have the honour to represent.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray.

"I asked several questions in this Council directly or indirectly bearing upon this point, and have been favoured with replies characterised by varying degrees of vagueness, which have on the whole successfully parried the questions raised. On the 13th December, 1916, when I asked for papers relating to the augmentation grant and the surrender of the public works cess, I was met with a flat refusal. Then came the last Government Resolution on the working of the District Boards, which stated that a windfall of Rs. 1 lakh 35 thousand and odd in the shape of unallotted surplus of the augmentation grant for 1913-14 was available only last year. There appeared to be an air of mystery about the matter; and my suspicion was strengthened that there was some leakage somewhere to account for the depletion of the augmentation grant. The Hon'ble Mr. Donald sought to explain the so-called windfall by stating that there was a mistake in calculation in 1913-14. I must confess, Sir, that I remain unconvinced that Hon'ble Mr. Donald's department can ever blunder over simple arithmetic. However that may be, I followed up the subject with a few more questions. And on the 5th March last, in reply to starred question No. 13, the Hon'ble Mr. Donald was pleased to explain the new process of computation of the augmentation grant. In the words of the Hon'ble Mr. Donald, the amount of augmentation grant is fixed at 25 per cent. of net receipts from road cess, less the amount by which the net public work cess exceeds Rs. 29 lakhs 42 thousand. 'This latter sum,' the Financial Secretary was further pleased to explain, 'is made up of the Imperial assignment to Provincial Revenues as compensation for the loss of the public works cess and the amount of the equilibrium grant that was resumed when the public works cess was made over to District Boards.' Therefore, Sir, it comes to this, that although the Government of India made the fixed assignment of Rs. 24 lakhs 93 thousand to this Government, admittedly in compensation for the surrender of the public works cess to the local bodies, Government are not content with this assignment but must have the exact equivalent of the actual amount of the public works cess every year. And to satisfy this rapacious craving of the Financial Department, the District Boards must yield up their legitimate revenues.

We cannot, it is true, charm the dark recesses of the Financial Secretariat out of the secrets they hold. But fortunately for us, there are some official statements here and there which throw a glimmer of light on the point at issue. Turning to the Budget Speech of Sir Edward (then Hon'ble Mr.) Baker as the Finance Member of the Government of India in March 1905, we find that the Imperial Government for the first time in that year made provision for 'annual grants-in-aid of the funds of all districts and Local Boards in India equal approximately to 25 per cent. of their total revenue from cesses on land.' And the Hon'ble Mr. Gokhale acclaimed it as one of the most interesting features of the Budget, representing a frank acknowledgment of the claim of local bodies to participate in the financial prosperity of the Government of India. A few years later, the Decentralisation Commission in their report suggested that this Imperial grant should be increased, and that the entire net proceeds of the land cess of those provinces where Government used, at that time, to take a considerable portion of the same, should be made over to the Boards. Three years after the publication of this report, we find Mr. Gokhale, in March 1912, moving a resolution in the Imperial Council about the resources of the local bodies in which he put in a vigorous plea for a juster treatment of the claims of these bodies upon Government revenue. Although the resolution was negatived by a majority, Sir Guy Fleetwood Wilson made it clear that Government were in accord with the object of the resolution. As a sequel

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray.

to this, the next Imperial Budget—which was the first budget presented at Delhi,—made the important provision for surrendering to the local bodies such portion of the land cess as used to be appropriated by some of the Provincial Governments. In explaining the arrangement, Sir Guy stated thus :-

'We propose to make assignments to Local Governments to enable them to forego the amounts which at present are appropriated for Provincial use from the cess on land . . . . . The development and encouragement of Local Self-Government is indeed an object as to the desirability of which all are agreed, and it is with this object in view that we desire to increase their resources by abolishing the appropriations which I have mentioned. The consequence, however, of this abolition will be a loss to Provincial Revenues which Local Governments cannot themselves sustain ; and I therefore will make them assignments."

Sir Guy then proceeded to state that the Local Governments would resume certain grants of a general nature which they provided out of their own funds—the augmentation grant not obviously being one of that character.

In Bengal, however, there does not appear to have been a correct appreciation of the terms of this act of Imperial beneficence to the local bodies. Sir William Duke, in introducing the Bengal Financial Statement for 1913-14, expressed his belief that the 'amount of the augmentation grant will be gradually reduced as the natural growth of the public works cess overtakes the total received.'

Sir, this statement of Sir William's reveals an amazing misapprehension of the nature of the augmentation grant which was not affected by the surrender of the public works cess in any manner whatsoever. Following Sir William, other officials have interpreted this generous grant made by the Imperial Government in an ungenerous spirit.

Sir, I shall be glad to be told that I have not been able to read these official pronouncements in their true light. For, to me, it is not a comforting thought that Government have deliberately shut their eyes to the true nature of the obligation laid upon them with regard to the distribution of the augmentation grant which they hold in trust for the local bodies. It is indeed, a distressing thought that in this particular matter, the Government of Bengal have been dealing with the local bodies in a manner, which, had it been a matter between private individuals, would have justified an action for breach of trust. I hope the Hon'ble Mr. Donald will be able to satisfy us that his novel formula for the calculation of the augmentation grant is the result of some understanding with the Government of India of which we know nothing as yet.

But I have already said that from all we have read upon the subject, we have been led to believe that the public works cess, with all its possibilities of expansion or otherwise, has been made over to the coffers of the District Boards, and the Provincial Government have been given in exchange an assignment amounting to Rs. 24 lakhs 93 thousand, and have been further empowered to resume certain grants which the Boards used to receive from the Provincial Revenues, and which we are told represent Rs. 4 lakhs 49 thousand. But the ingenious device adopted by this Government for indirectly appropriating the public works cess itself, if carried to its logical consequence, may some day eat up the entire augmentation grant ; for, according to the process of curtailment spoken of by the Financial Secretary, if the actual public works cess in any year exceeds Rs. 29 lakhs 42 thousand by more than the amount of the augmentation grant, the grant itself will disappear so far as the Boards are concerned, although the amount of the grant will continue to be debited to the Imperial revenues.

Sir, Government should not persist in their present policy with regard to the augmentation grant, which, to say the least of it, is indefensible in principle, illogical, and unjust alike to the Imperial Government and the local bodies.

The amount provided for in the Budget as Augmentation Grant is Rs. 4 lakhs 30 thousand, which is much less than 25 per cent. of the road cess. If we take the latest available figure for road cess, which is 30 lakhs 28 thousand and odd, for 1916-17, the augmentation grant should be roughly Rs. 7 lakhs and 50 thousand.

I therefore move that the amount of augmentation grant as budgetted for be increased by Rs. 3 lakhs and 20 thousand. I do not care from what funds Government pay this sum. But, as according to the rules, we have to specify a counterbalancing reduction somewhere, I propose that the deficit be met from out of the budget for Police buildings.

Sir I tremble to speak of that august institution—the Police—in a spirit which might smack of irreverence, but I shall ask you to consider whether now is a propitious time for investing so much in bricks and mortar. I shall ask you also to remember that in the words of the late Gopal Krishna Gokhale, the work of the local bodies 'concerns the health and comfort of the public far more intimately than that of either the Supreme or the Provincial Governments.' And in this view, no retrenchment ought to be grudged in order that a glaring injustice to these useful institutions may be removed and a just liability discharged.

Sir, from the statement made in answer to my starred question No. 13 on the 5th March last, it appears that during the last three years, Government have made deductions—systematic, unauthorised deductions—from the augmentation grant aggregating about Rs. 5 lakhs 20 thousand. I had a mind to move a separate resolution asking for a refund of this amount. But so far as these past deductions are concerned, I shall be content to leave the matter to the Hon'ble Nawab's discretion for the present. If once the principle I am contending for in this resolution is conceded, the claim about these unjust appropriations in the past becomes irresistible."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"Mr. Vice-President, I am glad to be able to accept this resolution though not unconditionally. At the same time, it must not be supposed that I at all accept the view of the situation that has been pictured by the Hon'ble Mover of this resolution. He has characterised the attitude of the Financial Department as 'rapacious' and he has said that the District Boards have been kept out of their legitimate dues unjustly by Government. I do not think that any question of justice arises in this case; it is a question purely of the generosity of Government. After the assignment of the public works cess to the District Boards I think Government would have been quite justified in telling Boards that they must manage their business with their own funds without expecting any augmentation from Government; but instead of doing that all that we have done is this: we have calculated the augmentation grant on the basis of the road cess being Rs 29,42,000, that is, the figure at which it stood when the public works was assigned to the Boards and we have deducted from the grant—as already explained on a previous occasion—the increase that has since taken place in the public works cess which is a growing revenue and as a compensation for which we only get from the Government of India a fixed assignment. Therefore, as I said just now, this

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray; Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri, the Hon'ble the Vice-President.

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA :—concluded.

Government was quite justified in making the deduction and in looking forward to the gradual disappearance of the augmentation grant when the whole of the amount was represented by the increase in the public works cess itself. Government, however, had no desire to withhold its generosity from the District Boards. As I have said before, the augmentation grant was purely an act of generosity. Long before the Hon'ble Mover had made it his special subject in this Council, we looked into this matter and we have been considering whether we could not be more generous with the District Boards and we have been in correspondence on this subject with the Government of India. We have recently decided to continue the full grant for the future ; and it is for this reason that I have told my friend, the Hon'ble Mover, that I am prepared to accept his resolution—but I cannot do so unconditionally for this reason that we have not provided for this money in our present budget and we cannot give it from the source from which he would like to find this money, viz., grant for police buildings. What we intend to do is this : we shall try to find the money this year and if we cannot do so, next year the whole of this money will be given to the District Boards. I think this will satisfy the Hon'ble Member that the conduct of Government in this matter has not only been just but that Government have been generous to the District Boards. There is no question of rapaciousness to complain."

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY said :—

"Sir, I thank the Hon'ble Member for so kindly accepting my resolution though conditionally. If there is no difficulty in the way I would withdraw my resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the Vice-President, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, may I be permitted to deal with Resolutions XXX and XXXII together, because they relate practically to the same matter ?"

The Hon'ble the VICE-PRESIDENT said :—

"It will be of some practical benefit to discuss these two resolutions together ; but they will be put to the votes separately. I think, however, that it would be better if we discussed resolution No. XXXI first and then took up XXX and XXXII. I now call upon the Hon'ble Member to move Resolution No. XXXI."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXXI.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) Rupees 50,000 be set apart for creating a few scholarships and for affording facilities for acquiring higher knowledge in Forestry, Mining and Railway Engineering, and for apprenticeship in suitable commercial concerns for higher branches of commercial training ; and (b) this sum be met from the lump grant of Rs. 8,20,000 under head 22—Education.

He said :—

"Sir, I do not wish to take a long time. We have been trying to impress upon Government that more avenues of employment for the bhadralok class, both Hindus and Muhammadans, and suitable arrangements for imparting technical instructions are absolutely necessary. In this resolution I only suggest that a few scholarships be created and arrangements made for affording facilities for imparting higher knowledge in some of the commercial subjects, I mean by arranging for apprenticeships in commercial concerns, and making necessary grants to the students after the completion of their education, so that they may be able to carry their knowledge into practice. I think there is no difference of opinion that something should be done in this direction. As there is a growing demand and the so-called middle classes are in great difficulty for want of avenues of employment, a beginning at least may be made by creating a few scholarships and arranging for imparting higher knowledge in mining and other things. We have now a polytechnic institute—a gift of the Hon'ble Maharaja of Cossimbazar. With these few words I beg to commend my resolution to the acceptance of the Council."

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri—concluded.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hornell said :—

" Mr. Vice-President, the lump provision from which the Hon'ble Member proposes to meet this expenditure, is, as I explained yesterday, a part of a recurring allotment sanctioned by the Government of India some years ago under various heads. The recurring assignment originally was Rs. 13,20,000, but of this sum 5 lakhs represent a recurring grant towards the Dacca University. This provision has been curtailed in the budget estimates for next year, consequently the assignment is now Rs. 8,25,000. This was distributed by the Government of India under various heads, only Rs. 37,000 being assigned for technical and industrial education. The suggestion of the Hon'ble Member is financially wholly impossible. It is impossible, because the assignments made under various heads have all been distributed and are now being spent, and it is also impossible, because this Government cannot divert the provisions made by the Imperial Government for certain heads to certain other heads. I am quite able to understand the point of view of Hon'ble Members who think that too much is being spent on police buildings and who want more to be spent on education, but I am unable to understand what is gained by suggesting that certain recurring grants sanctioned years ago which are all assigned and are being used, should be diverted to purposes which are not covered by the original assignment and which could not be financed from these grants without the secondary and elementary and other branches of education which are now being financed out of these funds being discontinued.

Taking the resolution as it stands, I only wish to suggest one thing. The Hon'ble Member has said that the question of more openings for the bhadralok class is one of importance. We all recognise that importance ; but I do not quite understand why he should ask in this humble way for a few scholarships, as if a technical scholarship was something hitherto unheard of. If he would refer to the Education Department Budget he would find that we have provided for scholarships as follows :—

1. Engineering scholarships,
2. Mining scholarships (ordinary),
3. Ditto (special),
4. Scholarships for apprentices in the Civil Engineering College,
5. Ditto in the School of Art,
6. Ditto in the Engineering and Surveying schools,
7. Stipends and scholarships in Technical and Industrial schools, and
8. Scholarships in other special schools.

He can scarcely be unaware that the Government of India have for years being giving technical scholarships which are tenable in England nor can he be unaware of certain experiments which this Government have made, notably the opening of a Tinctorial Chemistry class at Sibpur. The class was exceedingly well equipped, but it has had to be closed because no students were forthcoming. Is the Hon'ble Member also unaware that there are technical scholars who have been to England and who have done very well there, but who are now absolutely unable to find any employment.

With reference to apprenticeships in commercial institutes, I may say that we have a Commercial Institute in Calcutta. I do not know what my friend means by 'apprenticeships in commercial firms'. In commercial firms in England, most people begin by entering a firm on, say, £20 a year and doing the work of a combined duftry and peon.

Government is fully aware of the importance of the matter to which the Hon'ble Member has drawn attention ; but I do demur to the suggestion that that a few scholarships might be given as if nothing had been or was being done."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, in reply I beg to say that I do not understand why my resolution cannot be accepted. I did not ask for a large sum from Government. I am aware of what arrangements have already been made, but I say that something more should be done and the arrangements for the commercial classes in Calcutta do not seem to me to be satisfactory. If the present arrangements do not impart higher knowledge in commercial enterprises, I would ask that something more might be done."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"I wish to clear up this point. The Calcutta Commercial classes provide even instruction in higher branches of commerce, but the difficulty is that nobody goes to them."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"Sir, I am glad to hear that there are such arrangements in the Calcutta Commercial classes ; but I am sorry to learn that no advantage is taken of them by the bhadralok class. There seems to be no doubt that the bhadralok class is in difficulty in regard to employment. More avenues of employment are therefore necessary for them. Why the advantage offered to them is not availed of is, however, a mystery to me. I am glad that Government are anxious to do all that is necessary in this matter, and I would leave my resolution to Government to deal with it in any way they think proper."

The resolution was then, by leave of the Vice-President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEMS Nos. XXX AND XXXII.

XXX.—The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 15,000 be set apart for appointing experimentally a few special educational supervisors for careful and sympathetic supervision over students in selected Government institutions, whether living in hostels or messes or with their guardians ; and

(b) this expenditure be met from the lump provision of Rs. 9,25,000 under head 22—Education.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI :—concluded.

XXXII.—He also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 10,000 be set apart for appointing experimentally a few instructors for imparting moral and religious training on national lines to students, both Hindus and Muhammadans, in selected hostels under Government management ; and

(b) this expenditure be met from the lump provision of Rs. 9,25,000 under head 22—Education.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"I am proposing only a tentative measure in these two resolutions. Formation of character is an important subject and we are all deeply interested in it and arrangements should be made for our boys in hostels for the formation of their character. Although guardians and parents hope that this should be done, the hostel superintendent cannot always do it. And although some teachers and professors have to look after the hostels, boys are practically left to themselves. Formation of character requires certain supervision and so long as the boys are at home the guardians do as much as they can in this direction, but there are no adequate arrangements in the hostels for the growth of a spirit of self-respect. If boys of tender age are left to themselves, they may go wrong. It is for this that I am advocating these tentative measures."

The Hon'ble the VICE-PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Member has asked that his resolutions Nos. XXX and XXXII may be taken together. The Hon'ble Member is speaking exclusively on his resolution No. XXXII and I do not know whether he wishes to speak on XXX."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"Yes, Sir, I shall also speak on resolution No. XXX. As I was saying the boys should not be left to themselves. Some arrangements should be made so that they may be watched constantly. In what way they deal with their fellow-students, in what way they live—all these things should be looked into.

As regards religious training, there is a difficulty. Of course I was glad to hear from the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor that in a Calcutta hostel arrangements are going to be made for a prayer hall. I hope that similar arrangements will be made for Hindus as they have been done for Muhammadans. But I say in all seriousness that unless there are religious instructors no one would care to go to the prayer hall. As I have said before I think in the hostel the duties of guardians devolve upon the hostel superintendent, but as he cannot possibly attend to everything, I think special arrangements ought to be made for religious teaching. But I say that this may be started as an experimental measure and, if it proves successful, the arrangements may be developed.

In the budget only a small sum has been provided for general improvement of education. But whatever that may be, if the principle is once accepted by Government, then I have no objection if the money comes from other sources than the one I have indicated in my resolution. With these few observations I commend these two resolutions for the acceptance of the House."

Maulpi Abul Kasem; Mr. Hornell; Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri; the Vice-President; Mr. Hornell.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"Sir, I want to associate myself with the proposal of the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri that some arrangements should be made for imparting religious instructions to our boys. And I think this can be done without encroaching upon the funds at the disposal of the Government. We have started a hostel in Burdwan and one of the stipulations of appointing a Superintendent made by Government was that he should impart religious and moral training to the boys residing in that hostel. The same arrangements can be followed elsewhere without any additional expenditure. In any case the time has come when some arrangements should be made in this direction and I hope that the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction will take some steps in this direction. With these words I support the resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"Sir, my difficulty is that resolution No. XXX suggests that Rs. 15,000 should be set apart for appointing experimentally a few special educational supervisors for the careful and systematic supervision of students in selected Government institutions; whether living in hostels or messes or with their guardians."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"I have modified this to the extent that these supervisors should exercise supervision over students in hostels."

The Hon'ble the VICE-PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Member has not amended his resolution and the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell is quite in order in discussing it as it stands on the agenda."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"With reference to Government hostels, I should like to say that if the Hon'ble Member had only given me the benefit of a few minutes preliminary conversation with him I would have shown him that there was a scheme for giving grants to members of college and school staffs for the duties which they perform as hostel superintendents. The particular assignment to which the Hon'ble Member would debit the cost of his proposal, contains a grant of Rs. 1,32,000 for hostels. We are now spending a part of this grant on improving the supervision of hostels, not only those attached Government institutions, but also those attached to aided schools. Government feel that it is essential that these superintendents should be members of the staffs of the colleges and schools concerned. I do not, however, know whether the educational supervisors whom the Hon'ble Mover has in view are to be members of the staffs or they are to be hired outsiders; if the latter then I have the strongest objection to his proposals. I do not understand how a man who is not on a college or school staff is going to fill in his time supervising the morality of boys who are absent in their college or school for the greater part of the day.

With regard to the question of messes and students living with their guardians, we have tried to encourage a system by which a member of staff of the college or school concerned has a certain area handed over, as it were, to him, and that member exercises or is supposed to exercise general supervision and to cultivate friendly relations with the students living within that area. I do not say that this is very effective, but it is some thing.

Taking the resolution as it stands, are we really to regard the Hon'ble Mover's suggestion seriously? What is suggested is that a certain class of officers be appointed—I presume appointed by Government and certainly paid by Government—and that one of the duties of these officers should be to interfere between the guardians and their wards. The resolution before the House is that the officers are to exercise supervision over pupils living in hostels or messes or with their guardians. As I said in another case, the system of guardians is in some cases scandalous. There are cases where a college student lives with a school student, the college student becomes the guardian of the school student for the purposes of the school and the school student becomes the guardian of the college student for purposes of the colleges and there are various other equally ingenious devices. On the other hand there are serious bonâ fide guardians. Is it suggested that Government should come between the guardians of this kind and their wards? The proposal, as it stands although it may be designed to meet difficulties, is a dangerous one.

There is very little to be said with regard to resolution No. XXXII. The proposal is altogether vague; it says that Rs. 10,000 should be set apart for appointing a few instructors for imparting moral and religious training on national lines. The whole question of moral and religious instruction in schools is still before the Government of India. The question as regards hostels is not at all difficult, as the superintendents of hostels can easily arrange with the consent of the college authorities for such religious and moral instruction. I understand from my Hon'ble friend, Maulvi Abul Kasem, that such an arrangement has been made in the Burdwan hostel. I do not see any necessity for further expenditure on this matter.

I regret that Government are unable to accept either of these resolutions."

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said :—

"As regards resolution No. XXX, I submit that one portion may be withdrawn and that the last portion may only be taken up because my Hon'ble friend, the Director of Public Instruction, says that as the resolution now stands it is not possible for Government to accept it. I may be permitted to withdraw the first portion for the present. As regards the last portion, i.e., the portion dealing with students living in hostels or messes, what I intend is this; that a whole-time man may be appointed to supervise their conduct and that this should be done by Government. No private arrangement is possible and it is not desirable perhaps that an outsider should be introduced."

The Hon'ble The Vice-President said :—

"Before the Hon'ble Member goes any further, I think I must put the matter clearly to him. The resolution before the House has not been formally amended in any way. The procedure of the Council must be followed and unless the resolution has been amended formally with the permission of the President it must be put as it stands. If the Hon'ble Member, however, wishes to withdraw his resolution, it may be withdrawn, but I cannot at the present moment allow him to amend its form."

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said :—

"I will put this resolution. As regards the other resolution, I am met with the objection that this is not the time and that also it is a question of funds. It is an experimental measure and if it proves unsuccessful, it may be discontinued. My proposal only concerns students living in hostels and messes and if funds be supplied to the hostel authorities, some arrangements could be made towards giving religious instructions to the students. private arrangements can possibly be made. And I hope there should be no difficulty in finding the funds.

Resolution No. XXX was then put and lost.

Resolution No. XXXII was then, by leave of the Vice-President, withdrawn."

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXXIII.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 6,000 be set apart for opening one more section in each of the first and second year classes in the Rajshahi College for accommodating at least 200 additional students; and (b) this sum be met from the lump grant of Rs. 8,20,000 for expenditure for the recurring grant under head 22—Education.

He said :—

"Sir, the scheme will not at all be costly to Government. I made the suggestions last year to the Principal of the Rajshahi College, for 250 boys had to be refused admission into the Rajshahi College. As there was necessity for additional arrangement I suggested it, and it was not given effect to. A nominal grant of Rs. 6,000 may be made to the Rajshahi College for opening two sections for the 1st and 2nd year College classes. I am sure that the income from fees would be quite sufficient to meet the expenses that will be incurred. I hope that this modest request will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. HORNELL said :—

"Mr. Vice-President. I regret that Government are unable to accept this resolution. This proposal went up to the governing body of the Rajshahi College last year, and having been rejected it has now been put before the Legislative Council in the form of a financial resolution. I have already explained that the funds from which the Hon'ble Member proposes to find the money cannot be touched. All fees are under the Government rules paid into the treasury; so that if the proposal were accepted, we should have to find the money from next year's budget to finance the scheme during the currency of the coming financial year. The fund from which the Hon'ble Member wishes to finance this scheme is not only all earmarked but was not provided by the Government of India for collegiate education. Therefore the proposal is financially impossible.

For the last three years, the question of the development of the Rajshahi College has been receiving very careful attention. In 1913, I paid a visit to the College and went exhaustively into the various questions connected with its development and approached Government. We have now worked out a scheme of development. That scheme involves, among many other things, new lecture rooms, new hostels,—we have been told that students—specially Muhammadan students—are wandering from door to door in Rampur Boalia unable to find accommodation. All these considerations will have to be carefully considered and there are no funds from which we can immediately finance this scheme. This proposal was rejected by the governing body last year and it has not yet reached me. In these circumstances, I hope the Council will agree that it is quite impossible for Government, having never seen this proposal, to commit themselves to this expenditure, more especially as the source from which the Hon'ble Member would meet the expenditure is not only all assigned but is not available for education of that character."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said—

"I am sorry that this modest resolution cannot be accepted and that the paltry sum of Rs. 6,000 cannot be found. My Hon'ble friend knows full well that this money can be recouped by fees to be paid by students. The question was before the governing body, but they could not do anything without special sanction and for that sanction I have put forward this resolution. I am not yet convinced that there will be any difficulty about the matter and I still hope that the resolution will be accepted by the Council."

The motion was then put and lost.

[At this stage the Council adjourned for an hour for lunch. On its reassembling His Excellency the President took the chair.].

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM Nos. XXXIV & XXXV.

The following resolutions stood in the name of the Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI :—

XXXIV.—This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) an annual grant of Rs. 1,200 be made for creating a few scholarships for the Rani Hemanta Kumari Sanskrit College, attached to the Rajshahi College, for the study of Sanskrit Byakarana, Sahitya, Smriti and Darsana ; and (b) this sum be met from the further recurring grant of rupees one lakh and fifty thousand under the head 22—Education.

XXXV.—This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) an annual grant of Rs. 600 for contribution for carriage accommodation be made to the P. N. Girls' School at Rampur Boalia in Rajshahi ; and (b) this expenditure be met from the lump provision of Rs. 30,000 for Female Education under head 22—Education.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"With reference to resolutions Nos. XXXIV and XXXV I had a talk with the Hon'ble Mr. Hornell. As he is sympathetic in this matter, I beg permission to withdraw these resolutions.

The resolutions were then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXXVI.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 60,000 be set apart for expenditure in the year 1917-18 for the Chandpur Water-supply Scheme ; and

(b) the expenditure be met from the grant of Rs. 3,05,000 under the head Miscellaneous and Unforeseen Charges ; or out of the grant of Rs. 2,10,000 for the construction of steam launches for the River Patrols of the Presidency Police ; or out of the grant of Rs. 78,642 for construction of thana launches and floating thanas for the River Police in Eastern Bengal.

He said :—

"My Lord. this is a resolution of a most non-controversial character. In fact I find myself in a position to put my case still higher and to say that the scheme in question has already obtained the administrative approval of your Excellency's Government. The estimated cost is Rs. 64,000, not Rs. 60,000 as appears on the agenda through a clerical error either of my own or in the office of the Legislative Department. This cost has been proposed to be met by a loan of Rs. 42,000 and a contribution of Rs. 22,000 from the Provincial Revenues. This financial arrangement has also been accepted by the Government more than a year ago. But there was no provision made for this grant in the last year's budget and the work could not be executed. We are now discussing another budget and it is disappointing to find that the claim of this small scheme has again been passed over. Chandpur is now a thriving but congested commercial centre and the proposed water-works is a matter of the utmost immediate urgency and cannot be indefinitely put off without converting the place into a hot-bed of cholera and other epidemics. My Hon'ble friend on the right, Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur, tells me that the introduction of water-works has mitigated the ravages of cholera and small-pox in Hooghly, Sahebganj and British Chandannagore. I cannot imagine any nobler object upon which money can be spent than the prevention of epidemics.

I have made two suggestions as to the source from which the money is to come. I do not know and cannot say whether better suggestions could not be made. We non-official members labour under a very great disadvantage in this matter. For after all there is more beneath the budget than appears on the surface. There is much more in the budget than we non-official members know. I am free to confess that I have made a suggestion, because under the rules I have got to make one. That is, however, a question which may more profitably and appropriately be left to the Government.

My Lord, I have great faith in the financial resources of the Government in this war notwithstanding the lavish provision made for numerous new schemes in various directions has confirmed my faith. I do believe that the Government can without much difficulty find out the amounts in question, if they are at all earnest about the matter.

I wish to make one general observation about the resolutions moved by non-official members on the revised financial statement. We non-official members of the Council are merely interpreters of the wishes and feelings of the people. If we have any business here, it is simply to present the popular side of the shield to the Government. Resolution after resolution has been moved on the revised financial statement. These resolutions merely crystallise the views and feelings of the people with respect to the budget. My Lord, it is said that a budget in all civilised countries reflects the wishes and wants of the people. The non-officials members have availed themselves of the valued right of moving resolutions on the budget. The Statesman may shower ridicule upon our devoted heads as lavishly as we have showered money upon police projects. but I maintain that we have tried by these resolutions, according to the light within us, honestly to tell the Government what the people feel and think about the budget before us. But the fate of these resolutions is anything but inspiring and edifying. There were as many as 38 resolutions on the agenda. One after another all these resolutions have practically been negatived. In other words, the wishes of the people embodied in these resolutions have been summarily and contemptuously brushed aside. Have the Government seriously considered the effect which the proceedings of these two days' meetings of the Council are bound to produce upon the people of Bengal? Are the deliberations and labours of this august body during these two laborious days anything upon which either the Government or the people can be congratulated? Will not the impression go forth from one end of the country to the other that our much vaunted reformed Council is not, for all practical purposes, a whit better than that of the pre-reform days? Will not people think that it is a case of all that glitters is not gold? Will the Government consider the full significance of such impression gaining ground in the country? Need I point out that the inevitable result will be to frustrate the very object with which, what are called, the Morley-Minto reforms were introduced? Need I say that this is disastrous from the Government standpoint? All friends and well-wishers of the Government recognise that any step taken to confirm an impression in the mind of the public that in the Council Chamber there is going on a perpetual conflict and contest between the official and non-official members is not conducive to the best interests either of the people or of the Government.

As a friend of the Government, my Lord, I would ask you to pause and consider whether it is not high time that the Government should turn over a new leaf so as to prevent the impression from gaining ground in the country that the budget debate is absolutely unprofitable to the people and that the non-official members are no more profitably employed than crying in the wilderness. When the people agitated for a reformed and enlarged Council and for larger powers for the elected non-official members, our critics said that we were crying for the moon; and now judging the tree by the fruit our opponents have very good reason to laugh within their sleeves and to reflect with satisfaction that the powers conferred upon the elected members to move resolutions on the budget are no more substantial than moonshine. My Lord, as the proceedings of the Council went on these two days from resolution to resolution, the feeling that oppressed me most was that we non-official members sit here only to play the part of the chorus in a Greek tragedy."

The HON'BLE NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry that I cannot accept this resolution, and for this reason that the money that has been provided in the budget for sanitation is not sufficient to carry out this project, and the proposal that my Hon'ble friend has made for taking money from some other sources is one which cannot be accepted, because the money so provided is for equally if not for more urgent work. I shall not follow my Hon'ble friend in his general observations. I think that if the country were told by him and by other friends of Government, that while the war is on, Government require to economise their resources, he would be doing a very useful work. I think that the outside public require this kind of teaching more than the Council Chamber here.

In 1914, we promised to pay a contribution of Rs. 60,000 to the Chandpur Municipality, but the Commissioners wanted a loan of Rs. 34,000 in addition. Then the war came and we found ourselves unable to give this money to the Chandpur Municipality. We had a number of other urgent schemes and we have provided Rs. 2,50,000 for schemes of water-works. All that I can tell my Hon'ble friends is this: that when better financial conditions prevail we will consider the claims of Chandpur and we admit that this is an urgent case and as soon as we are able to provide the money we will do it. One other fact remains to be stated. My Hon'ble friend asks for only Rs. 60,000 as a contribution from Government. Is he prepared to say that the municipality can carry out the scheme without a loan, and if not, unless there is a loan of Rs. 34,000 how could the scheme be carried through? Besides the scheme is now old. What was expected to be sufficient in 1914 will not be sufficient now, because prices have gone up and I doubt that even with a loan of Rs. 34,000 and a contribution of Rs. 60,000 the municipality will be in a position to carry out the water-works. My Hon'ble friend ought to realise that the demands for water-works comes from all the municipalities in the Province. It is not Chandpur alone that requires water-works. There are various other municipalities who require water-works much more urgently than Chandpur. When Government had plenty of money the municipalities did not come forward with their proposals and their contributions. Now that we cannot find the money we are pressed on all sides for it. If the work is considered very urgent Government will consider the matter at the earliest opportunety when they are in a position to do so. With our limited resources and other calls on us, I cannot promise that we can find the money this year The further proposal is that the expenditure be met from the grant of Rs. 3,05,000 under the head 'Miscellaneous and Unforeseen Charges' or out of the grant of Rs. 2,10,000 for the construction of steam-launches for the river patrols of the Presidency Police, or out of the grant of Rs. 78,642 for construction of thana launches and floating thanas for the river police in Eastern Bengal. I know that in making budget provision for all these items, every case was carefully considered on its merits and provision was made for those which were immediately and imperatively urgent. It is no use telling my Hon'ble friends that we cannot pay any portion of the money budgetted for police purposes for water-works, for one Hon'ble Member told us yesterday that he will not be convinced that any money is necessary for police buildings. Well, if that is the attitude of mind, I am afraid I cannot convince him. The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon will try to do so."

The Hon'ble MR. LYON said:—

"My Lord, I only wish to refer to one item. This comprehensive resolution suggests three alternatives of finding money. As regards the first alternative, 'Miscellaneous and Unforeseen Charges,' it has already been explained to the Council why money cannot be spared from that head. The second refers to the construction of steam-launches for river patrols, Rs. 2,10,000. I had the honour to address the Council yesterday on that subject. But the third alternative is one poor unprotected item to which no reference has yet been made. and that is the sum of Rs. 78,642 for floating thanas and launches.

In pursuance of the policy which we adopted yesterday of explaining all the items attached and defending them on their merits, I will say just a few words on this particular item. This sum of Rs. 78,642 has been provided out of a special non-recurring Imperial grant which was given for this specific purpose, the purpose of reorganising and improving the police in Eastern Bengal. It is part of a large scheme for reorganisation which includes the river police. Special investigations were made with reference to river crimes some years back, and it was ascertained that there was an enormous amount of undetected river crime and a great deal more unreported. The fact is well known to some Hon'ble Members of this Council. In order to meet this state of things, it was determined that it was necessary to make an improvement in the river police. It was found that there were vast stretches of unpatrolled rivers infested by dangerous gangs of thieves and dacoits, and we have to persevere steadily until our organisation has been completed. The scheme included 27 floating police-stations, of which 25 were in Eastern Bengal. These were actually constructed, but two were taken over by the new Assam administration and we require two more. The dockyard has hitherto been unable to construct these two, but they can do so now, and a sum of Rs. 23,242 is required for this purpose. Twenty-eight station launches were required, and 12 were completed, but the Military Department have, for purposes which have been most successfully carried out in Mesopotamia, commandeered eight of them; these are to be replaced after the war. Four more are under construction, and we provide for laying down an additional four at a cost of Rs. 55,544. I would earnestly beg the Council not to interfere with our perseverance in this matter and to continue to provide the equipment which is required in order to carry out a scheme which has proved definitely successful."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA said :—

"In view of the observations made by the Hon'ble Member in charge and by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon, I do not think that I can take up the time of the Council with anything to say in reply. I shall, however, say this, that it is very difficult to explain things to the people of the outside world about the want of money on account of the war in view of the fact that we have money for so many new schemes. Otherwise, if there were absolutely no new undertakings we would have been satisfied and it would have been easy to explain matters to the people."

The motion was then put and lost.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXXVII.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that—

(a) a sum of Rs. 25,000 be granted to the Kurseong Municipality as a contribution towards the improvement of the town by electric installation and other necessary reforms; and (b) this sum be met from the grant of Rs. 11,09,000 under head 32—Miscellaneous.

He said :—

My Lord, I want for the improvement of the Kurseong Municipality a grant of Rs. 25,000, but in view of the observations made with reference to the resolution just moved, I do not know what fate awaits my prayer. Kurseong is a sanitarium and a large number of people resort thereto for the improvement of their health. If Government could see their way to grant this amount for the improvement of the Kurseong Municipality by electric lights and other sanitary improvements, it would be much appreciated by the residents. I hope that this grant will be made, I do not like to detain the Council long with any further observations. With these few words I commend it to the acceptance of the Council."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SIR SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"My Lord, having opposed the resolution for water-works, I can hardly be expected to give a promise for an electric installation in the Kurseong Municipality, and I believe my Hon'ble friend does not claim that this would either make the place cleaner or free from malaria. If the people of Kurseong want a luxury like an electric installation, I think they ought to pay for it and not look to Government for a contribution. The other matters referred to are very indefinite and I do not know what they are and I cannot say anything about them. I may inform my Hon'ble friend that we do not officially know of any such scheme. We have demi-officially information about a scheme which provides for electric current being obtained from Darjeeling. That question is again bound up with the hydro-electric scheme for the Darjeeling Municipality, the execution of which depends upon Darjeeling getting a loan of 4 lakhs. It is no use our providing money for an electric installation in Kurseong when they want the current from Darjeeling, and Darjeeling is not likely to be able to give it for many years to come. It is, therefore, unnecessary for me to discuss the source from which the Hon'ble Member proposes to get the money for this scheme."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, in view of the observations made by the Hon'ble Member in charge, I do not press the resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

APPENDIX TO THE LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. XXXVIII.

The Hon'ble MR. PRAVASH CHUNDER MITTER moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the provision for an expenditure of a sum of rupees four lakhs and thirty-six thousand for land acquisition and buildings in connection with the partition of the districts of Midnapore and Mymensingh be omitted.

He said :—

"My Lord, in placing the resolution before this Council I shall assume that, having regard to the discussion which took place yesterday, some arrangement is necessary for relieving the District Magistrate of his duties ; I may add that it is my personal opinion that, regard being had to the nature of the charge in the district of Mymensingh, some arrangement is certainly necessary for relieving the District Magistrate of his heavy duties. Though not to the same extent, but perhaps to some extent, it is also necessary in the district of Midnapore. The proposal, as I understand it, is to divide the district of Mymensingh into three districts with nine subdivisions in place of the five we have at present. As regards the district of Midnapore, the proposal is to divide it into two districts and to have six subdivisions instead of four. Regard being had to these proposals, I venture to think that the sum of Rs. 4 lakhs and odd which we want to provide in the budget for that purpose is wholly insufficient ; it does not represent even

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

Mr. Provash Chunder Mitter.

a fraction of the capital expenditure necessary for the purpose. We do not know, my Lord, what the total amount of the capital expenditure will be. I have tried to calculate it in my own way—I must admit that such calculations are liable to error—and I find that the total capital expenses cannot be less than 50 lakhs for providing four additional district head-quarters and also for providing six subdivisional head-quarters. As regards recurring expenses, I should think that they cannot be less than 10 lakhs of rupees. If the Government is ready with estimates, then perhaps the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Department will be pleased to let us know what these figures are. If, however, Government are not prepared with these estimates then I submit that is a point against them. Before launching into schemes of this nature, it is absolutely necessary that Government should know exactly to what sum the estimates would amount to. At any rate my Lord, although the Council has heard from the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon about the necessity for the partition of these districts and the necessity of relieving the district officers, it has not yet heard from the Hon'ble Member what the total expense would be. By providing this 4 lakhs and odd in the present budget Government commits itself to this definite scheme in this definite form. Next year we do not know what the position of the finances would be. If the war continues, it is certain that the financial position would be much worse, but let us hope for the best and let us hope that before next year victory will be ours. Even then, my Lord, the financial position will be a difficult one. For years we cannot expect to have the normal state of our finances. It is not necessary for me to dilate further upon the point as it is pretty obvious to everybody. After providing for the 4 lakhs, if the Hon'ble Member who is in charge of finances next year and if the Government which will be responsible for the administration of the province next year, find that it is not possible, regard being had to the war conditions, to provide for anything like 40 or 50 lakhs for capital expenditure and to provide for anything like 10 lakhs for recurring expenditure, then the whole of the 4 lakhs would be thrown away and thrown away when every rupee is of the utmost importance for the defence of the Empire. My Lord, it is for that reason my proposal is this : if it is necessary to partition these districts, partition them by all means, but before doing so, let us know what the total cost will be and also let us know whether next year we shall be in a position to meet the necessary expenses. Without such assurance I think, my Lord, with the greatest respect to those who are responsible for providing this 4 lakhs and odd that it is not a businesslike way of proceeding with the matter. I therefore propose that instead of providing for a small fraction of the capital expenses this year it will be much better to provide for a substantial portion of such expenses next year. My Lord, if your Excellency's Government accepts my suggestion, then do you really much delay this much desired consummation? By providing for 4 lakhs you do not intend to partition the districts in the current year. Suppose next year, funds are available and if you provide for 25 lakhs by way of capital expenditure, then perhaps the ultimate delay will be a delay of five or six months only. Conceding for the sake of argument, the delay will be delay of a year, even then it is necessary to know where we stand. My proposal is simply this : If these districts have got to be partitioned, let us decide upon partitioning them after full facts as to expenditure are placed before this Council and placed before the public, and let us consider the matter after the new Government is formed, for we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that your Lordship is going to leave us, much to the regret of the province and of all the Members here ; and as a new Government is coming, the personnel of which will be different from that of the present Government, that Government will be committed to this scheme in all its details and that is my point with all details, as to where the headquarters of the three districts in Mymensingh will be and with details as to where the headquarters of the two districts in which details as to the headquarters and limits of the 16 subdivisions of Midnapore will be. The new Government will be committed to all these and if they find that the financial resources at their disposal are not such as to enable them to give effect to these detailed schemes, and if they find it necessary regard being had to their resources to have two instead of three districts in Mymensingh, and so on then a good portion of the money will be wasted. On the other hand, I again venture to remind the Council that my proposal is not that you must not have a partition but my proposal is that if we are to have a partition, let us have it after we know the financial position better and we cannot know better unless we are in the neighbourhood of the closing of the next financial year.

Resolutions on the Revised Financial Statement.

The Hon'ble Mr. Provash Chunder Mitter :—concluded.

For all these reasons, my suggestion is not, as was suggested by some of my Hon'ble friends, that the money saved by not partitioning these districts should be spent for other purposes. My suggestion is merely that that provision be omitted and if that provision be omitted, that money will either be in our hands or in the hands of the Government of India, and I daresay that when fuller and more definite financial schemes will be brought forward, that money will be forthcoming next year. I am not unmindful of the fact mentioned by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon yesterday that we cannot have 2 lakhs or thereabouts from the Government of India and we cannot spend that from our total closing balance. If next year the demand for partition be as keen as they are now, I daresay that the Government of India will not object to giving us the same facilities next year as this year. With these remarks, I beg to place the resolution before the House."

The Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq said :—

"My Lord, I did not wish to make any speech on this resolution, because directly or indirectly, we have had this matter discussed since we began this sitting of the Council yesterday. I rise at the present moment to make a suggestion and wild as it may appear to be, I am quite serious about it. I hope it will serve to shorten controversy which has clustered round this project of partitioning of Midnapore and Mymensingh. We all agree, at least most of us, that in the interests of administrative efficiency these two districts ought to be partitioned. We differ as to how this money budgetted for is to be spent because we think that the present time is not an opportune moment for undertaking a financial project of such a responsible character. If, therefore, the money can be had in some other way, we do not think we ought to object to the partition being carried out. In this connection, I would just make a suggestion to the official members of this Council. Why should not they, for instance, forego a portion of their salary for a year and use this money for the partition to be carried out, in the interests of administrative efficiency ; they should be prepared to make this sacrifice, as of all people they are the best advocates of efficiency, I think they should undertake to make this little sacrifice in this matter. If this can be settled, I will ask my Hon'ble friend to withdraw his resolution. If it is not accepted, I will support it."

The Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, I regret that this motion was not moved at an earlier stage, because many of the motions, which have been discussed and voted upon, upon this question of partition or no-partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh, would not have been discussed. Many of our colleagues have been casting a longing eye upon this sum of Rs. 4,36,000 which has been ear-marked for this partition. The debate would perhaps have been shortened, and we would have finished many of the resolutions because if this resolution of the Hon'ble Mr. Provash Chunder Mitra could not be accepted by the House, then, as a natural consequence many of these resolutions would have been withdrawn without any discussion, I must say that the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq always enlivens the debate with a little pepper and salt of criticism, sometimes well merited and sometimes humorous. After what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mover of this resolution, will the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon tell this Council whether any calculations have been made with reference to this scheme of partition."

The Hon'ble MR. KERR said :—

"My Lord, I do not propose to cover the same ground that was taken by the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon yesterday in putting forward the general reasons for pushing on the schemes for the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh. The Hon'ble Mr. Lyon showed that partition was necessary for the introduction of any large extension of local self-government through village unions and that partition would consequently assist directly those schemes which are mentioned in many of these resolutions for sanitation, primary education and so on. He pointed out how the partition schemes were delayed for many years partly owing to the partition and re-partition of Bengal and partly owing to the care with which these schemes had been examined so as to meet the difficulties of the people concerned. He showed that the schemes are now in an advanced stage, that we are in a position to start work on them and that both the Government of India and the Finance Committee of this Council have agreed that we should begin by providing a comparatively small sum in the next year's budget. He also pressed upon this Council that they should confirm that action of the Government of India and of the Finance Committee and the Council agreed at any rate to this extent that the sum of Rs. 4,36,000 should not be transferred to any other object. As the Hon'ble Mover has pointed out, his resolution is of a somewhat different nature to the resolutions which were discussed yesterday, because he proposes to cut out this expenditure altogether without transferring it to any other head. His objection is, I gather, not to a scheme of partitioning these districts, but to the fact that the Council does not know to what extent of expenditure they would be committed by accepting the expenditure which has been proposed in the budget. That is, of course, perfectly true ; the budget is an annual budget and does not show the cost of schemes as a whole, but fortunately I am in a position to give the Council a certain amount of information on this subject.

The estimates for the partition of Midnapore have just been worked out in detail. They are still subject to the sanction of the Government of Bengal, the Government of India and the Secretary of State, but I may say that the total initial expenditure will be about 15 lakhs. The total recurring expenditure will be about a lakh annually.

For Mymensingh we have not yet selected the headquarters of the western district, and it is therefore impossible to say at the present moment what the expenditure on land will be. We may, however, take it that the expenditure in Mymensingh will be about double that of Midnapore.

The Hon'ble Member has suggested, that a little delay over these matters would not do any great harm, and that if we make a start at once there is a risk that this sum of Rs. 4,00,000 will be thrown away. That would not be the case, as this sum is provided for initial expenditure on the acquisition of lands and the collection of materials, bricks, etc., for building purposes, and these things will not be lost even if there is delay subsequently. Unless we begin this work at the beginning of next cold weather, we shall be thrown back a whole year and not a few months as the Hon'ble Member has suggested. As to the Hon'ble Member's request for details of the schemes, I need only say that the schemes have been described at length in various notifications which appeared in the gazette on several occasions, and I do not think I need take up the time of the Council in explaining the schemes in detail.

I would like to bring this Council down to some concrete facts and to show the real manner in which the carrying out of these schemes of partition will affect the welfare and happiness of the inhabitants concerned. There seems to be some sort of impression that money spent on schemes of sanitation or education produces an immediate and perceptible improvement in the condition of the people; but that expenditure on partition schemes will at best make a few officials a little less hard worked or more comfortable, and that it will produce no effect on the ordinary inhabitants of the district. If the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq's proposal were accepted, partition schemes would not be an unmixed blessing to the officials; but I need hardly go into that. I want to get down to facts and I want to tell this Council of an area which I know very well—the Sadar subdivision of Midnapore, because I lived there for the best part of two years. The area of the Sadar subdivision of Midnapore is over 3,000 square miles and the population must now by over a million and a half; and with all due deference to what the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Majumdar said yesterday, I say unhesitatingly that the administration of the Sadar subdivision of Midnapore compares very unfavourably with that of Pabna, Bogra and Bankura.

Take the question of chaukidari assessment. This is a matter which touches every family in the district, rich or poor, sick or well, and every grown-up person. When I arrived at Midnapore, I found a shelf stacked with a formidable bundle of papers and I found that these were all complaints against the chaukidari assessment of different villages. My predecessor was too busy to look into them. Well, I was young and keen at the time and resolved to go into the matter. I tackled it as soon as I went out into camp and I did what I could, but I found very soon that it takes at least two days to assess a village properly, and I had not two days to spare, let alone 2,000 times 2 days; nor had I even time to draw up an assessment scheme which could be worked out by others. The result was that the bundle of papers was bigger when I left the district than when I arrived there and from what my Midnapore friends tell me, it is properly bigger now than it ever was, unless the people have got tired of complaining. It is perfectly obvious that the only way in which a question like chaukidari assessment can be tackled, is by the constitution of properly organised panchayets or village committees, or whatever you like to call them, but you cannot ask the District Magistrate to proceed to form these committees, when he has to look after a Sadar subdivision of the size of Midnapore. Now I say that a just and equitable chaukidari assessment would add materially and immediately to the happiness and contentment of the people, and particularly of the poorer classes. I think also that, if the partition of Midnapore resulted in nothing more than this, it would be well worth doing. But the partition will, I hope, do much more than this. I could tell you of some police-stations in Midnapore which have not been inspected by the District Magistrate for years, and to which even the Superintendent of Police can only pay brief hurried visits, during which it is quite impossible to concert measures to deal properly with crimes and criminals. I could also tell you of registration offices where the arrangements are of the most primitive and inconvenient description, because none of the higher district officials have time to look into matters or try suitable schemes for improvement, or to work out such schemes for the higher authorities in the forceful way which is necessary in order to extort money from my hard-hearted friend in charge of the Financial Department. The Hon'ble Surgeon-General could also tell you that the same thing happens in regard to mufassal dispensaries and hospitals, which the Civil Surgeon cannot possibly get round in a year. I could also tell you of the aboriginals and of the woful state into which they have fallen, because no district officer has had time to establish those personal relations which are absolutely essential if you are going to do any good to primitive people of this kind. I will not weary the Council by going further into the details of district administration. I merely claim that I have established that schemes of partition of excessive administrative areas, if properly conceived and drawn up with reference to the wishes and convenience of the inhabitants, are capable of doing an immense amount of good to the people concerned. I do not under-rate the advantages and potentialities of education or sanitation, but if it is a question of spending a sum like 12 or 15 lakhs non-recurring, and a lakh or so recurring, which may be taken as the ordinary cost of a district partition scheme, I am inclined to think that you would do more good by putting that money into schemes of partition of huge over-grown districts like Midnapore and Mymensingh, than by putting it into small schemes of education and sanitation, for which the district is not administratively ripe. In fact, I would go further and say that the formation of districts of manageable size is a necessary preliminary to any great advance in sanitation or primary education. And I do hope that when the districts are divided, the local committees will be able to make very great advance, and the District Magistrate will have more time to consider the best way of meeting local needs. We have no doubt that this will be the best way to advance the ideal of local self-government which the Hon'ble Members of this Council have so much at heart."

The Hon'ble MR. PROVASH CHUNDER MITTER said :—

"MY LORD, I have listened with great interest to the speech of my hon'ble friend, but I must confess that I could not follow him when he referred to the question of expenses on sanitation and education. I never asked like some of my hon'ble friends that this money instead of being spent on partitioning the two districts should be spent on sanitation and education, nor could I follow my hon'ble friend when he referred to the necessities of partition. I began by saying that I am personally convinced that some strong measures must be taken for relieving the District Magistrate of his work, and I may say that a careful study of the District Administration Committee's report has convinced me that so far as Mymensingh at any rate is concerned, some steps are absolutely necessary, but I submit that my hon'ble friend has not really answered my arguments. My argument was this, if you want a partition, have it and have it as soon as possible. My hon'ble friend says, if you do not provide four lakhs and odd this year, then it will mean a year's delay. Delay means that next cold weather you cannot go on securing building materials and so on, but if we do not have the money next year how are we benefited. If we have the further money, next year there will also be the money which is unspent this year, but if on account of the war and on account of financial difficulties it is not possible for us to have the 40 lakhs odd, which I am told is necessary, then I ask again how are we benefited? Nobody can foresee now what our financial position will be next year, and is it wise and is it just that the Government should be committed to a scheme at a time like this when it is difficult for anyone to prophesy what the financial position will be three months hence, not to speak of one year."

On the conclusion of the debate on the Resolutions on the Financial Statement the Hon'ble NAWAB BAHADUR OF MURSHIDABAD rose and said :—

"My Lord, we are on the eve of Your Excellency's departure from amongst us and we are very sorry that we shall not be able to further enjoy the benefit of Your Excellency's rule. For the last five years, Your Excellency has shown a constant and keen anxiety for the well-being of those entrusted to Your Excellency's care, and we shall all suffer by Your Excellency's departure. My Lord, you shall never be forgotten by those who look upon Your Excellency's exceptional qualities of head and heart with feelings of great admiration. Your Excellency's good nature, high mindedness and love of justice have endeared Your Excellency to all, rich and poor alike, throughout the province of Bengal. We trust and fervently pray that from the time that Your Excellency embarks homeward right up to the moment that you set foot on the shores of England Your Excellency will meet with nothing but good luck ; and in the future and for many years to come Your Excellency will enjoy continued prosperity and contentment. With a very heavy heart, I beg to bid Your Excellency farewell."

Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan; Sir Archy Birkmyre.

The Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"My Lord, in ordinary circumstances this will be the last meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council over which Your Excellency will preside not only as the Governor of Bengal, but as President of this legislative body. The time has come for you, Sir, to say farewell and no body of members have a better right to say farewell to you first than the members of your Legislative Council. I do not wish to speak about Your Excellency's qualities as an administrator, for there are abler hands to do justice to that fact through the public bodies which will be presenting you with farewell addresses. I wish therefore to confine myself, Sir, to speak of you as our President of this Council. It is true that some of us have not been able to see eye to eye with Your Excellency or Your Excellency's Government in many matters. But we all agree that we have every reason to be grateful to you, Sir, as President of this Council for the unfailing courtesy which you have always shown us and if there has been any erring on the side of the President it has always been on the right side. And if I may say so without being accused of a spirit of levity, that during a hot day in March or during a long day of innumerable resolutions many of us enjoyed forty winks, thanks to Your Excellency's leniency and the official members also joined issue with us wholeheartedly. And this is due to the fact, Sir, that while these long discussions have been on, your vigorous mind has been busy working at that tell-tale blotting pad before you from which has emanated the jute bandage and many an ingenuous little thing which my friend Mr. John Maclaren of Messrs. Hamilton & Co. has had to work out afterwards. My Lord, we are very sorry indeed to part with you, Sir, and if some of us have in season and out of season brought in this Council the questions of industrial development, of sanitation and of rural water-supply, it has been due to the fact that Your Excellency's kind interest in these matters have spurred us on to bring these facts to the notice of the Council so often as well as of the public at large. There are few statesmen who have had such opportunities of studying the problems of Colonial and Indian administrations as Your Excellency had and we look forward to the time when in the House of Lords Your Excellency will be able to press to the notice of the House many of the pressing needs of the Colonies as well as of India and of Bengal in particular.

In conclusion, Sir, on behalf of the landholders of the five divisions of this Presidency, I beg to wish Your Excellency a farewell and we do so very reluctantly."

The Hon'ble SIR ARCHY BIRKMYRE said :—

"My Lord, it is my privilege on behalf of the European non-official members of this Council to convey to Your Excellency an expression of our regret at your impending departure from Bengal and our good wishes for your future welfare. At the time Your Excellency assumed office as first Governor of this Presidency, the European commercial community were in a state of alarm and indignation at the proceedings which had resulted in the dethronement of Calcutta as the titular capital of India and the consequent removal of the seat of the Imperial Government from a city which is the embodiment of progress and enterprise in India to a centre which from a commercial point of view might be described as a remote, if interesting, mufassal station. Several years have now passed since the change was made and we have no reason to alter our views, then expressed, that a serious mistake was made—in fact the lapse of time has shown that our fears regarding the inconvenience to the commercial community were amply justified. Our feelings regarding the indignity which we then considered had been placed on Calcutta have been softened to a great extent as time has gone on and this we feel may be principally attributed to the tact and sympathy which Your Excellency has invariably shown towards our affairs. In fact we consider it was an extremely happy decision which brought Your Excellency from Madras to be the first Governor of Bengal. It has been Your Excellency's guiding principle to gain first-hand knowledge of the many and various problems which have come before you, and we appreciate in no small degree the interest you have taken in the welfare and development of this Province. My Lord, you have visited many of our mills and workshops, our mines and plantations—indeed there are few, if any, of the industries of Bengal with which Your Excellency has not made yourself personally acquainted. It has been a source of great pleasure to those who have had the privilege of showing you over their undertakings to note the real interest which you have displayed in all you have seen—an interest which has, in many cases, resulted in suggestions from Your Excellency of no small practical value. On the occasion of many of those visits you have been accompanied by Her Excellency, who has invariably shown her interest in the commercial development of the Province in all its branches, and I hope the Home Industries Association which Her Excellency has recently been instrumental in forming will remain a lasting memorial to Her Excellency's practical solicitude for the welfare of Bengal. Though I have confined my remarks to that portion of Your Excellency's activities which more closely concern the commercial community, I would like to say we are in no wise blind to the wise and sympathetic manner in which the Government of the Province, under Your Excellency's guidance, has handled the many and difficult political problems with which it has been confronted. I feel sure when the history of Bengal is handed down to future generations, the part Your Excellency has played in this respect will be more than appreciated. It now only remains for us to wish Your Excellencies a safe and pleasant voyage Home and every success in the work which we are certain you will soon be called to put your hand to in the service of the Empire. We believe, whatever that work may be, Your Excellency is not likely to forget Bengal and her interests, as most assuredly your many friends here will not forget you nor what you have done for the Province while you have been here."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :

"My Lord, as representing in your Lordship's Council the municipalities of the Presidency Division, which is the premier division in this Presidency, I should like to say a few words on an occasion like this.

It is about five years ago that the people of Bengal heard with the greatest satisfaction of Your Excellencys transfer from Madras to our newly constituted Presidency for Your Excellency had already earned there the esteem and regard of the people by your sympathetic administration. Your Excellency since your advent here has been popular with all classes of people of this country of whatever class or creed he may belong. The people of Bengal highly appreciate the deep sympathy and the keen interest which Your Excellency has always taken in all that concerns the well-being of the people of Bengal. Your earnest solicitude to promote their political, intellectual and industrial progress, the kindliness of your relations with the representatives of the people and the tone of sympathy which you have imparted to the administration will be gratefully cherished by the people long after you have left these shores. Your genial temper and cordial relationship with the people of this country have brought about a good will between the two races and inspired confidence towards the British rule. My Lord, much depends upon the head of an administration specially of an administration such as yours have been. You as the highest official in the land have shown by your treatment of the people of this country how they should be treated by the officials.

My Lord, we know full well that the war has been the stumbling block to progress in several ways—for we have been deprived for the last two years of those grants from Imperial Revenue without which any improvement in the education and sanitation of this Presidency is impossible. We know that if it had not been for this war, many much needed reforms would have been accomplished facts ere long. But Providence has decreed otherwise. Many of this good intention on the part of your Lordship's government remains unfulfilled on account of want of financial resources. But, my Lord, this war has been of indirect advantage to the people of this country. The people of this country wanted an opportunity to show to their fellow subjects in other parts of the Empire that they are equally anxious with them to uphold the dignity and prestige of the British Raj. It was through your Lordship's influence and exertions that the Bengal Ambulance Corps was formed and the Government knows of the splendid work done by them in Mesopotamia. It was again through your Lordship's influence and exertions that the Bengalees were allowed to enlist as soldiers and the Bengalee Double Company was formed and they all speak well of these new soldiers of His Majesty the King-Emperor from their Excellencies the Viceroy and Commander-in-Chief to the Captain in their regiment at Karachi. It is a misfortune that the people of this country are not always given opportunities to show their usefulness to their King and country. We are therefore grateful to Your Excellency for affording us the many opportunities of showing our metal and how useful we can be to the Empire, when the disabilities under which we labour have been removed.

We wish very much that Your Excellency had remained here at the head of this Government some time after the war had ended, when we expect some boons to be conferred on the people of this country. A man of your Lordship's sympathy for the hopes and aspirations of the people of this country would have been of signal service to the people. We trust your Lordship's successor will carry out in a sympathetic spirit the progressive policy which you have initiated.

One word more and I have done. The people of Bengal are all sensible of the great interest which Her Excellency Lady Carmichael has taken to develop the home industries of the country as well as to educate the women of this country as nurses for nursing the sick in our hospitals. We expect a new life to the home industries from the part she has taken to promote them and long will her name be remembered among the poor and the cottage owners of Bengal.

This is the last occasion on which Your Excellency is presiding over the proceedings of this Council and in taking leave of Your Excellency, we feel sure that you will take an abiding interest in the welfare of Bengal and her people. We wish you a safe voyage home. May you live long in your Island home to do good to the people of this country, who, I assure you, are deeply grateful to you, and are attached to you by bonds of love and affection.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"I desire to associate myself with my Hon'ble colleagues who have preceded me in tendering to Your Excellency our tribute of respect and gratitude for what you have done for our country during your tenure of office. My Lord, the experiment of having a Governor to rule over the destinies of the people of Bengal has been fully justified by what Your Excellency has done during the five years of your office. When we remember your benign sympathy with the people our hearts melt with gratitude. I remember the celebrated speech of His Majesty the King-Emperor (then Prince of Wales) when he was being entertained in the Guildhall after his return from India that it was sympathy which was required in India—and it was genuine sympathy alone on the part of our rulers which was required to win the hearts of Indians. Your Excellency during your term of office has, by your sympathy, won the hearts of the people of Bengal. There have been differences of opinion in matters of administration, but there is no ruler on the face of the earth who can satisfy all aspirations and all parties. I do not flatter your Excellency when I say that the whole country is truly grateful to you for your genuine sympathy and love for the people. Accessible to all to Prince or peasant alike you have taken the deepest interest in the welfare of all classes of this country. Unfortunately, the war has retarded some of the improvements which were foreshadowed for the development of the country. Still Your Excellency's sympathies for the people have been fully demonstrated by some of your measures, notably the development of self-government by conceding to the people the privilege of electing non-official Chairmen in some of the District Boards and Municipalities in Bengal. Your keen interest for improving the sanitation of Bengal by appointing committees to investigate the question of rural water-supply and the question of how to prevent malaria—all these facts show that you were keenly anxious to improve the condition of the mass of the people whose destinies were committed to your care. Foremost amongst your work and with which Her Excellency Lady Carmichael is associated is the industrial development of the country. Upon it also depends the prosperity of the country and Your Excellencies have tried your best to inaugurate measures for the development of the industries of Bengal. I hope when you return home you will be pleased to hear that the measures which you have inaugurated have developed and have produced happiness and prosperity in the country which was committed to your care. My Lord, we feel the pang of separation. For five years you have been in our midst working and mixing with us and sympathising with our aspirations and trying your best to meet our wants. It is a genuine feeling of pain at the inevitable separation. The people of Bengal were anxious to approach their Sovereign for the purpose of getting an extension of Your Excellency's term of office, but Your Excellency could not see your way to stay here any longer and the idea was eventually given up. My Lord, when you return to your sea-girt isle in whatever sphere you may be placed, I would ask you to remember India. I would ask you to remember Bengal and its people, and do your best to elevate Indians to take their proper place in the great British Empire."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, after all that has been said, it is scarcely necesssary for me to say anything further, but on behalf of the Muhammadan members of this Council representing the five divisions, I wish to give an expression, however inadequate it may be, to all that we feel on the impending severance of Your Excellency's connection with this Council. I am one of the very few members who have had the privilege of sitting in this Council for the whole period during which Your Excellency has presided over its deliberations and I can truly say that whatever may have been our lot in the discharge of our duties as non-official members of this Council, we have always received the utmost sympathy and consideration at Your Excellency's hands. Your Excellency has always allowed us the utmost latitude in the discussion of questions brought before this Council and we all very gratefully remember the opportunities that have been given to us of bringing up questions affecting the public interests for discussion freely in this Council. My Lord, even in the ordinary circumstances of life it is always a sad thing to have to part company, but on this occasion our grief is all the more keen because by Your Excellency's departure we lose a Governor whose wide sympathy and capable statesmanship have won for him the respectful regard and esteem of all sections of the community.

On behalf of the Muhammadan members of this Council, I beg to offer to Your Excellency a very sad and regretful farewell and we all join fervently in praying to the Almighty Dispenser of events to grant Your Excellency long life and continued prosperity."

His Excellency the President.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE PRESIDENT SAID :—

"GENTLEMEN,

I thank those Hon'ble Members who have spoken about me. Their words were far kinder than I deserve, but I know they meant what they said ; and I am truly grateful. I thank all of you for the way in which you accepted their words. When one has worked in close touch with friends for five years one cannot but feel sad when the work has to come to an end. You are my friends and I do indeed feel sad just now. When I came to Bengal to preside as Governor over my colleagues in Council five years ago I confess I felt anxious. I knew that the changes which brought me here were not wholly welcome to many of those over whom I was to rule, and I was not quite reassured by the thought that the Government which brought about those changes relied, as their Despatch to the Secretary of State showed, on the fact that by the help of a singularly able Civil Service a series of men of no conspicuous ability had been able to carry on a difficult Government in other places ; for the same despatch led me to expect greater difficulties here than are found in other places ; and I knew that some of those who most clearly foresaw difficulties doubted whether any good thing could come out of Madras. But it was not long before I learned that far more people in Bengal were willing to help me than I could have hoped for and that criticism is always meant to be fair and that anything which may seem harsh in it is due to want of full knowledge, not to ill-will.

It has often been pointed out that a Governor in India presiding over his Legislative Council has to do what in England and many other countries is done by two men. He has to act both as Speaker of his Council and also as head of the Executive Government ; and I have myself pointed out, though I do not know that what I said was understood quite as I meant it to be, that a Governor is the only man here who can effectively play the part so often needed in the public interests played by the leader of the opposition in England. It is not always easy for one man to discharge such varying duties. I did not expect to satisfy every one at all times, but I have been fortunate in those who helped me. I thank my colleagues on the Executive Council who form so to speak my cabinet ; among them there has only been one change. Sir William Duke—to whom I owe as much gratitude for help as any man can owe to another—left us, and was succeeded by Mr. Beatson Bell ; but Mr. Lyon and Sir Shamsul Huda have worked with me all through. To each of them I desire to express my thanks.

I would like to take this chance too of publicly thanking all my officials for what they have done to make the burden of my labours light. I fear they must often have thought me slow-witted. It must be annoying to have a Governor asking tiresome questions about things he knows nothing of and wanting to have explanations of matters which to an expert seem obvious. When I read the questions put by some of you in the Council I occasionally wonder whether the Governor or the Additional Members of his Council give most trouble to Secretaries to Government ; and when I find how gladly the Secretaries suffer me, I feel that they must be very wise indeed.

I thank you all for the help you have given me in this house, for your ready acquiescence to my rulings and for the intelligent way in which you have done your work. No one can say that Legislative Councils have been a failure in India ; most now admit that the Councils must as time goes on be treated with greater consideration and be given larger powers. I was struck when a very high official told me that he thought Councils have done one very good thing for India ; they have, he said, helped to make officials more painstaking and more accurate. I had not thought of it in that light. I have looked on the Councils as institutions which will train unofficial Indians to use the extended power which they hope some day to have : and it has been my aim as your President to encourage you, when I had a chance, to so use the powers you now have, as to convince those who can secure future powers for you of your fitness to make good use of them.

I hope you have not found me too harsh in my rulings. I feel convinced that strict adherence to a proper procedure is most essential. I believe that you will find your best guide in the traditions of the British House of Commons and I am glad that I am to be succeeded by a man with considerable House of Commons experience, and who, therefore, can help you much.

You and I have not passed a great deal of legislation. I am sorry for this. But it was inevitable, you all know why. You all long for the cause to be soon removed; and I trust you will all do your best to induce the people of this Presidency to make full use of the opportunity which the issue of the War Loan will give them directly of taking their part in removing it. Most of our energy in the house has been taken up in asking or answering questions or in discussing resolutions. A somewhat profitless use of energy I believe some of you think it. But to that I demur. By questions and answering of questions, by resolutions and the discussion of resolutions we get to know each other's minds. Government cannot do justice to itself, any more than it can do justice to the people over whom it is set, unless both the people know the mind of Government and Government knows the mind of the people: it is the duty of those of us who are officials, especially of my three colleagues and myself, to explain what Government think and why we think it, but it is no less the duty of those of you who are not officials to let me and Government know what the people whom you represent think.

Some of you have told me that my administration will be remembered chiefly as the administration which enforced an Act which is not a Bengal Act,—the Defence of India Act—, an Act which some of you say the people of Bengal do not like, and in the administration of which some of you find much to blame. I have spoken of that Act before, and I am going to speak of it again now. It is only fair to you and to my successor that I should. Some of you believe—I have heard you say so—that the greater proportion of those who have been dealt with under the Act have been proceeded against merely because police officers have suspicions about them. I have told you before that that is not the case; and I tell you again that it is not the case. I have frequently asked those who made the statement to let me have the names of a few, half-a-dozen even out of the large number—they say it is far the larger proportion of approximately 800 people dealt with under either the Defence of India Act or Bengal Regulation III of 1818—whom they believe to be merely the victims of police suspicion. They have not so far sent me any names. But I am having every case re-examined and most carefully tabulated and 776 cases have been re-examined up to date. Of these—

One hundred and twenty-one have been implicated by their own confessions made here in Bengal.

That is quite apart from some others who have made confessions to authorities outside of Bengal. A further 229 are implicated by confessing associates whose statements are supported by corroborative evidence such as finds of arms or property known to have been stolen in dacoities or by documentary evidence or by their own conduct on arrest.

One hundred and sixty-one are implicated by the confessions of associates, generally two or more, but without such corroborative evidence as I have just mentioned.

His Excellency the President.

One hundred and ninety-five are implicated by such corroborative evidence supported by statements made by informers.

And 70 have been implicated by evidence of informers coupled with evidence of association. Of these 70, 10 are accused by informers, who have been murdered. This strengthens, to my mind, at least, the case for believing that the information given was probably true.

In six other cases bombs were produced by the sources who gave the information.

In 21 more of the 70 cases what seems to be very strong evidence of association with known criminals is relied on, in addition, of course, to the informer's statement.

In 17 the men are accused though only on the evidence of informers of such dangerous crimes, that I do not think Government would be justified in giving up such control as they have of them.

In 16 more cases release has been granted or shortly will be granted. Releases from control under the Act since the beginning of this year amount to about 30.

These figures show that the number of cases in which there is not something very definite to justify detention is under 5 per cent. of the whole of cases dealt with and in this number of less than 5 per cent. there is strong evidence of association in addition to informers' statements.

If what I have said is true, and I believe it is true, it is enough to show that there is no truth whatever in the accusation made against Government to the effect that we are dealing with these men merely on the suspicion of individual police officers.

I have only mentioned so far 776 cases. These 776 are the cases of which up to now a re-examination has been made, but the complete number of cases dealt with altogether under the Act and under the Regulations in Bengal is 791. It is fair that I should point this out though it is not very material, for the difference is satisfactorily accounted for. There are three cases examined before but not yet reexamined, I hardly expect to find anything wrong with these. The remainder are cases sent here by the Government of India with orders to intern or from other provinces and of three men belonging to other provinces dealt with by other Governments.

There was one case in which a man was released just after the order issued as his was found to be a case of mistaken identity.

As showing that the information received by the police is not as unreliable as some of our critics tell us it is, I would like to point out to you that such information has led to 54 finds of arms and ammunition. Forty-seven of these were finds of pistols or pistol cartridges. In 20 of these cases the arms found have been identified as the stolen property of private persons who had complained of their loss by thefts or dacoities in which people of the Bhadralok class were suspected at the time the losses occurred. It must, I think, strike you as significant that 14 of the persons dealt with were men actually seen shadowing police officers, and that in five cases the shadowing was followed by actual murder.

Five of those whom we have dealt with, while in custody, threatened police officers with death, and three threatened witnesses with death.

Some of you have told me you admit that the crimes exist; you even admit that Government may be right in their ideas as to who the criminals are, but you deny that the Defence of India Act has been of any use. I do not agree with you and I will tell you why. The Defence of India Act was passed in August 1914, but the information obtained by means of the Act relates in some instances to crimes which were committed before the passing of the Act. We may take, roughly speaking, the 1st January 1914 as the date on which we began to be able to derive any benefit from disclosures made owing to the Defence of India Act. Before that date there were 107 outrages of the kind we are considering. Some of the men concerned in 35 of these were convicted. In a fair proportion of cases approvers or informers have mentioned the names of men who have subsequently been dealt with under the Defence of India Act when found by Government to be reasonably suspected of complicity in other crimes, but no clue whatever has been found in 49 out of the 107 cases.

Since January 1914 down to the middle of last month there have been 67 outrages—convictions have been obtained against men concerned in eight of these. Confessions naming some at least of the perpetrators have been made in about 42 other cases, and there is other evidence making similar disclosures in all but eight of the remainder. I unfortunately must not disclose names, but I can assure you that it is not at all a large proportion of those who have committed outrages since January 1914 to whose identity the police have no clue. The total number of absconders is not large, that of those whose names are indefinitely known is very small indeed. But these numbers include some very dangerous men, and until these very dangerous men are under our control, it would be most unwise for Government to deal as leniently as I would like with other men who are mere tools—sometimes perhaps tools who have no idea to what evil purpose they themselves are being put. We cannot let our care slacken while there are men uncaught, who we believe have been concerned in two or in some cases even more—six in one case—murders. The Defence of India Act is what has helped us. I am only saying what I believe to be absolutely true when I say that the Defence of India Act has helped to defend the young educated men of Bengal as nothing else has defended them—not their own fathers—not their teachers for they were ignorant; not their associates, nor they themselves for they were blind to the danger, against a mean criminal organization which, while it pretends to aim at freeing India from a foreign tyranny, is doing a great deal to bring Bengal into a hatred which she does not deserve from her fellow provinces in India and which can only result in postponing of reforms which will benefit not Bengal only, but the whole of India.

I have said enough, gentlemen, on this subject. I would only once more appeal to you—as I have appealed to you before—not to disregard facts.

There is much that India needs; you can all of you help her to get it. Those of you who are Indians have every reason to try and get it: and you will, I honestly believe, get it more surely with the help of my countrymen than you can do alone. The whole British Empire has its eye on you as it never had before. If I may give you one parting word of counsel it is this—do not refuse—merely because of some hard things which have been said or even of some hard things which have been done, to let your case be well looked into by men who are Britons by blood, but who do not live in the British Islands. There is ignorance—crass ignorance if you will—about each other both in India and in the Colonies. I have tried to learn, I think I have learned something of the way in which the people of the Overseas Dominions look on human affairs, and I think I know something of your attitude. You pay me the compliment sometimes of telling me that I understand quicker than many of my fellow-countrymen do what the true aims of Indians are.

Adjournment.

Sometimes I hope I do, but if I do so at all, it is because I learned in Australia to appreciate an attitude of mind towards England which had I never been there I should never have known, and which has often been recalled to me in conversation with your most earnest thinkers here.

To those of you who are officials I know I need say little It is your proud boast that your every action here is meant to benefit the people of the land in which you serve. If you do but truly realize what the needs of the people are, your actions will win their own reward. I believe you could get more help than you do from the people in realizing this, and it is largely because I want you to get more help that I look forward to extension of education and of local self-government. Finally, I would ask those of you who are not Indians, and who are not officials, to think of your responsibilities. It is you and those of your class who went before you who have made India what she is—the most valued dependency of the British Empire, and one on which other Empires look with longing eyes. You, far more than any Government officials—have developed Calcutta and with Calcutta what makes most for stability in India; and it is with you—far more than with any Government officials that the future of Bengal rests. No one can say that you have not given thought to what you are doing here, no one can accuse you of idleness or of want of intelligence, but if you look to the future—if you watch the tendency of events and the growth of thought among the people around you—I do think you must feel that problems are springing up the solution of which must affect you and your successors and which may either benefit you or hurt you and your successors, according as you take or do not take a share in their solution. I would appeal to you to do your best to understand what is going on around you. As Governor I have been helped by all classes. I am grateful to all for their help. But this I venture to say—Indians would have helped me more if they had shown me that they were more closely united in their aspirations, and Englishmen would have helped me more if they had shown me better that they knew what Indian aspirations are. I have been here during an interesting time, I leave you just when a still more interesting time is beginning. It has been my great object while here to try and induce all to work together and to see each other's point of view. How far I have succeeded I may never know, but this I do know that without mutual understanding among all whose interests lie in Bengal, Bengal cannot take, as I sincerely trust she may, the leading part in the political and industrial progress of India.

Gentlemen, I have said enough—I now merely wish you—and in doing so, I avail myself of a President's privilege, against which there is no appeal, to wish you on behalf of my wife as well as of myself—good-bye."

Adjournment.

The Council was then adjourned to Tuesday, the 27th March, 1917, at 11 A.M.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Indian Legislative Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 21st March, 1917, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XII OF 1917.

An Act to validate certain deeds of conveyance and a trust deed relating to certain properties of His late Majesty, Wajid Ali Shah, King of Oudh, and for other purposes.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen as to the validity of three deeds of conveyance, all dated the 23rd November 1901, and a deed of declaration of trust of the same date, copies of which are set out in the Schedule to this Act, and all of which deeds purport to relate to certain properties then or formerly of His late Majesty, Wajid Ali Shah, King of Oudh (hereinafter, in this Act, called the late King), and in the case of the said trust deed to declare the trusts of a certain Emambara, mosque and burial ground, and for the up-keep and maintenance thereof to constitute a certain Endowment Fund hereinafter in this Act referred to as the Sibtainabad Endowment Fund ;

AND WHEREAS by the said trust deed it was recited or assumed inter alia that a share amounting to rupees two hundred thousand in a certain Government Promissory Note No. 018878 for rupees five hundred thousand standing in the name of Malkai Kisshore and deposited in the Government Treasury at Lucknow belonged to the estate of the late King, and that the said share was to form a part of the Sibtainabad Endowment Fund, and the interest thereon to be applied with the interest of certain other securities in the said trust deed referred to for the up-keep and maintenance of the said Emambara, mosque and burial ground ;

AND WHEREAS all interest from the 1st of March 1901 to the 31st of December 1913 payable in respect of the said share of rupees two hundred thousand in the said Note has been paid and credited to the Sibtainabad Endowment Fund along with the interest of the said other securities and the said Emambara, mosque and burial ground have been kept up and maintained thereout ;

AND WHEREAS it now appears that the said share of rupees two hundred thousand did not, in fact, belong to the estate of the late King, and that on his death the interest thereon was or was intended to be payable to certain of the issue of the said Malkai Kisshore, and that the inclusion of the interest of the said share in the Sibtainabad Endowment Fund was due to a misapprehension ;

AND WHEREAS there is now standing to the credit of the Sibtainabad Endowment Fund the sum of rupees seventy-seven thousand eight hundred and fifty-six being the accumulated balance after providing for the up-keep and maintenance of the said Emambara, mosque and burial ground ;

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that the said deeds of conveyance and the said trust deed and all acts and things done thereunder should be validated, and that at the same time it should be formally declared that the said share of rupees two hundred thousand no longer forms a part of the Sibtainabad Endowment Fund, and that the interest thereon shall be made available as from the 1st of January 1914, for the persons who may hereafter be deemed entitled thereto under the provisions hereinafter appearing ;

AND WHEREAS it is just and equitable that the said sum of rupees seventy-seven thousand eight hundred and fifty-six should be released from the trusts of the said trust deed and should also be made available for distribution amongst the persons so entitled ;

AND WHEREAS it is also expedient to provide for the future management and distribution of the said share of rupees two hundred thousand and of the interest accrued due since the 1st of January 1914, and hereafter accruing due from time to time in respect thereof and also for the distribution of any future surplus monies which may accrue to the said Sibtainabad Endowment Fund after providing for the up-keep and maintenance of the said Emambara, mosque and burial ground ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the King of Oudh's Estate Validation Act, 1917.

Validation of certain deeds.

2. Notwithstanding anything contained in any enactment or any rule of law to the contrary, the three deeds of conveyance and the trust deed, copies of which are set out in the Schedule, and all acts and things done under the said deeds are, save as is hereinafter provided, validated and confirmed :

Provided that, with effect from the 1st of January 1914, the said trust deed shall be construed as if no reference had been made therein to the share of rupees two hundred thousand of the said Government Promissory Note, and as if the sum of rupees thirteen thousand six hundred and thirty-four had been mentioned in the twelfth recital thereof instead of the sum of rupees sixteen thousand and the sum of rupees four hundred thousand instead of the sum of rupees six hundred thousand, and with such further alterations and modifications as this construction may require.

Payment of Rs. 77,856 from the Fund.

3. The sum of rupees seventy-seven thousand eight hundred and fifty-six shall be released from the trusts of the said trust deed, and shall be paid from the surplus monies of the said Sibtainabad Endowment Fund to such officer as the Governor General in Council may appoint, and shall be distributed in the manner hereinafter provided.

Distribution.

4. The sum referred to in section 3 and any further sums which the Governor General in Council may at any time declare to be surplus monies of the Sibtainabad Endowment Fund as he is hereby empowered to do, and all sums payable in respect of interest on the said share of the said Government Promissory Note accrued due since the 1st of January 1914, or hereafter to accrue due from time to time in respect thereof, are hereby declared to be pensions, and the said share of the said note is hereby declared to be a grant of money within the meaning of the Pensions Act, 1871, and that Act shall apply to such sums as if they were pensions of the classes referred to in sections 4 and 11 of the said Act and to the said share as if it was a grant of the class referred to in section 4 of the said Act, subject, however, to the following modifications, namely :— XXII 1871.

(i) any claim under section 5 of the said Act as applied shall be preferred to such officer as the Local Government may authorise in this behalf ;

(ii) the power of commutation conferred by section 10 of the said Act shall be exercisable without the consent of the holder where the payment to be made is at a rate less than a rate of rupee one per month ; and

(iii) the power to make rules conferred by sections 5 and 14 of the said Act shall extend to a power to make rules prescribing the persons or classes of persons to whom, and the principles on which, all distributions under this Act shall be made.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Indian Legislative Council on the 20th March, 1917.

No. 10 of 1917.

A Bill to amend the Indian Trusts Act, 1882.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Trusts Act, 1882; It is hereby enacted as follows:— II of 1882.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Trusts (Amendment) Act, 1917.

Short title.

2. At the end of clause (c) of section 20 of the Indian Trusts Act, 1882, the following words shall be inserted, namely, "or in debentures of the Bombay Central Co-operative Bank, Limited, the interest whereon shall have been guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council." II of 1882.

Amendment of section 20 of Act II of 1882.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Bombay Central Co-operative Bank, Limited, under its agreement, dated 7th October, 1911, with the Secretary of State for India in Council, is authorised to issue debentures up to the value of three times the paid-up share capital, and the Secretary of State for India in Council has guaranteed the payment of interest at the rate of 4 per centum per annum, upon debentures to be issued by the Bank, until such debentures are wholly paid off or redeemed. The Bank has been registered under the Co-operative Societies Act. Had the Bank been registered under the Indian Companies Act, these debentures would, under the existing clause (c) of section 20 of the Indian Trusts Act, 1882, have been securities in which trustees could invest trust-money but, under existing circumstances, it has been held that such debentures cannot be regarded as trust securities, nor would Courts of Wards ordinarily be justified in investing their funds in securities, such as those of Co-operative Societies, unless they are recognized under the Indian Trusts Act. At the same time, it was found that there were certain large agricultural communities in the Bombay Presidency holding trust funds in their corporate capacity which were anxious to invest their funds in some investment which, while returning a reasonable rate of interest, would at the same time be actively beneficial to their community. Moreover, under present conditions, a trustee, desirous of benefiting agriculture rather than commerce, cannot find any trust stock to meet his requirements.

The object of the proposed amendment is to rectify this anomaly, and to remove a difficulty which hinders the activities of a useful institution. The amendment is made specifically applicable to the debentures of the Bombay Central Co-operative Bank, Limited, because in the case of no other similar Bank in the country has the Secretary of State guaranteed payment of interest. Hitherto debentures have been issued to the extent of Rs. 6,68,000. The amendment will, it is hoped, enable the Bank to issue debentures up to the maximum by making them available as trust securities, and thus obtain funds from a suitable source for the purpose of making to Co-operative Societies advances recoverable in easy instalments, for the relief of agricultural indebtedness.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Indian Registration Act, 1908, was presented to the Indian Legislative Council on the 21st March, 1917 :—

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill further to amend the Indian Registration Act, 1908, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

Paper No. I.—From the Hon'ble Sir Elliot Graham Colvin, K.C.S.I., Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara, dated 1st June 1916, and enclosure; from W. M. Hailey, Esq., C.S.I., C.I.E., Chief Commissioner, Delhi, dated 26th June 1916, and enclosure; from the Hon'ble Lieutenant-Colonel Sir George Roos-Keppel, K.C.S.I., K.C.I.E., Chief Commissioner, North-West Frontier Province, dated 28th June 1916, and enclosure.

Paper No II.—From the Hon'ble Mr. C. M. Webb, I.C.S., Secretary to the Government of Burma, dated 7th July 1916; from the Hon'ble Mr. G. S. Findlay, I.C.S., Legal Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, dated 25th July 1916, and enclosures; from the Hon'ble Lieutenant-Colonel Sir John Ramsay, K.C.I.E., C.S.I., Agent to the Governor-General and Chief Commissioner, Baluchistan, dated 27th July 1916; from the Hon'ble Mr. H. D. Craik, I.C.S., Officiating Revenue Secretary to Government of the Punjab, dated 27th July 1916.

Paper No. III.—From H. M. Veitch, Esq., I.C.S., Registrar, High Court, Calcutta, dated 29th May 1916, and enclosure; from L. Birley, Esq., Secretary to Government of Bengal, dated 29th July 1916; from the Hon'ble Mr. P. R. Cadell, C.I.E., I.C.S., Chief Secretary to Government of Bombay, dated 31st July 1916, and enclosures; from the Hon'ble Mr. H. K. Briscoe, I.C.S., Officiating Secretary to Government of Bihar and Orissa, dated 31st July 1916, and enclosures.

Paper No. IV.—From the Hon'ble Mr. A. W. Botham, I.C.S., Second Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, Assam, dated 4th August 1916, and enclosures; from the Hon'ble Dewan Bahadur P. Rajagopala Achariyar Avargal, C.I.E., Secretary to Government of Madras, dated 5th August 1916, and enclosures; from Major T. H. St. George Tucker, Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Coorg, dated 7th August 1916, and enclosures; from the Hon'ble Mr. S. P. O'Donnell, Secretary to the Government of the United Provinces, dated 12th August 1916, and enclosures.

2. The Committee considered that the most suitable form of relief to grant in cases where a document had been improperly accepted for registration by a registrar or sub-registrar was to allow the document to be registered over again within four months from the discovery of the mistake or in cases where the mistake could have been discovered before the passing of the Bill within three months from the date when the Bill may become law. It was thought that there should be a permanent provision in the Act to this effect and that it could be taken advantage of in case similar mistakes were made in the future.

3. The Hon'ble Mover thought that since the decision of the Privy Council referred to in the Statement of Objects and Reasons it was probable that many suits had been dismissed by reason of similar mistakes in registration offices in the United Provinces. The Committee, however, had no information as to the number of cases which might be involved, and as to the desirability of reopening proceedings in them; and as there is no reason to believe that such cases have occurred in any other province, the Committee thought that it might appropriately be left to the United Provinces themselves to deal with this question, and they were unwilling to recommend that any provision should be made in the present Bill to deal with them.

FORECAST OF THE RABI CROPS OF BENGAL FOR 1916-17.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1914-15 the area under summer rice in Bengal represents some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India).

Character of the season.—The rainfall in the months of September and October was much in excess of the normal. Consequently sowings could not be done in proper time in most districts. Untimely heavy showers during the first part of November interfered with further sowings and caused some damage to the crops in areas already sown. A period of drought, however, followed and extended up to the end of January affecting the growth of the crops in places to some extent. But the rainfall in February has improved the prospects of some of the crops. On the whole the season may be regarded as a fair one.

Acreage.—The normal area under the different rabi crops in the Province dealt with in the forecast is estimated at 3 989,200 acres. The area actually sown this year is reported to be 3,021,600 acres against 3,025,600 acres last year. The area under summer (boro) rice is reported this year to be 375,400 against 404,600 acres last year, or a decrease of 29,200 acres. The decrease is due mainly to the revision of the Noakhali figures on the basis of the settlement records.

Outturn.—The estimated percentages of outturn in the 16 districts where rabi crops are most important, are as follows :—Nadia 52, Murshidabad 83. Jessore 53, Burdwan 78, Midnapore 70, Rajshahi 80, Jalpaiguri 81, Rangpur 100, Pabna 80, Malda 76, Dacca 92, Mymensingh 83, Faridpur 78, Bakarganj 98, Tippera 79 and Noakhali 88.

According to estimates of District Officers, the outturn of the different rabi crops for the Province as a whole works out to 81 per cent. of the normal against 75 per cent. of last year.

Accepting 90 per cent. as the outturn of summer rice, the gross yield of the crop for the Province on the basis of a normal yield of 13½ maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 3,351,000 cwts. against 3,290,600 cwts. last year. The increase works out to about 2 per cent. on last year's outturn.

Malda.	Barley	29,500	25,000	28,300	100	80	November; late ...	February; normal	The increase in area in some cases was due to favourable weather at the time of sowing and to the utilization of a portion of the area under bhadoi crops which were damaged by excessive rain and flood this year. The weather was favourable at sowing time, but since then there was an absence of rain which has retarded the growth of the crops and for which more than half the mango trees have not blossomed. The lower outturn of barley, gram, pulses, fruits and other food-crops is attributed to the stunted growth of the crops.

"My Lord, I feel proud to have the privilege and the opportunity of welcoming Your Excellency and Lady Ronaldshay to this premier city of India and the Presidency of Bengal, and I feel I am at one with the people and the entire Province in expressing to Your Excellencies the heartiest of welcomes. Your Excellency's appointment to the exalted position of the Governorship of Bengal is particularly gratifying to us at a moment when the horizon is overcast with the shadow of a great European war. We have every confidence that Your Excellency will bring to bear upon a situation like this, not only the wisdom of an excellent record of varied experience as a territorial officer and a worthy Member of Parliament and many public institutions, but also Your Excellency's knowledge of the East, the result of extensive travel and deep sympathy with the Indian ideals very recently expressed, which will no doubt assist Your Excellency in a great measure to appreciate the ungrudging sacrifices made by India, in men and money in this terrible conflict in which her sons have stood shoulder to shoulder with their brothers in arms of England for the honour and integrity of the Empire. I am only expressing the overwhelming sense of public opinion when I say that the people are more prepared than ever to stake their all for sustained effort and continuous self-sacrifice. We trust that Your Excellency's term of office will speedily see the termination of the war and the resumption of normal conditions of administration which, we pray, will be crowned with the utmost success ; and in the enduring peace and contentment that will follow Bengal will, I hope, under the inestimable blessings of Your Excellency's benign rule, advance with rapid strides towards natural realisation of her aims and aspirations."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"My Lord, on behalf of the landholding interests represented by the five divisions of Bengal, I beg to accord Your Excellency a most hearty and cordial welcome in this Council. Owing to the war, several amendments of the land laws have been discussed and considered by the Government, but have not yet been brought up, but it is more than likely that during Your Excellency's regime, these matters will come up before the Council, and we sincerely hope that, as a great landowner yourself, Your Excellency will be able to look dispassionately into the problems and not incline entirely to that section of the bureaucracy whose narrowmindedness is rather inclined to give the only compliment to the Zemindar as being rapacious and therefore not unwilling to saddle him with all sorts of undesirable tenants by the free distribution of the right of occupancy.

Bengal is pre-eminently an agricultural country, and we can confidently hope Your Excellency will take a keen interest in all agricultural movements and developments, for we are certain that a traveller whose keen perception did not even fail to notice the primitive mode of ploughing of a balti in the village of Hardas on the borders of Baltisthan, is certain to be engrossed in the problems of agricultural and rural Bengal, including that beautiful Himalayan region which still probably indulges in many a primitive labourer like the Balti of Hardas or a keen shikari like Gesso the Shepherd. As President of this Council, we expect from you, Sir, from your great experience in the mother of Parliaments, to guide us in our deliberations, to improve our rules of business and modes of discussion and to extend to us that courtesy and co-operation which alone can vouchsafe the success of Council debates and deliberations. Once more Sir, we welcome you."

The Hon'ble MR. CARTER said :—

"My Lord, it is my privilege on behalf of the European mercantile community of Calcutta to welcome you as Governor of Bengal, the largest and most important Presidency of the Indian Empire.

It is pleasing to us to think that Calcutta is not unknown to you, and it must also be pleasing to you to feel that, having known Government House so well in the past, you can the more easily make it your home now, and we hope My Lord, that you will indeed make our city a home rather than a place of sojourn.

It is not necessary for me to point out to you the great advantages which the merchants of Calcutta derive by knowing that they can at all times be in personal touch with the Governor, his Council and officials, more especially in these times when we all require assistance to further the trade and commerce of this great city.

When we heard of your appointment to the high office of Governor of Bengal, we considered ourselves especially fortunate. India rejoiced when Lord Curzon was designated as Viceroy of India, and Bengal rejoices now that you have been chosen as its new Governor—the second Governor of this great Presidency.

We welcome you, My Lord, as statesman, sportsman, scholar and traveller. Your name is familiar to us, as it is only quite recently that you were amongst us as a member of the Public Services Commission, but it is as a statesman and a member of the House of Commons, and from the experience you have gained from that assembly, that we look to you to maintain the dignity of this Council Chamber.

Your career has been an interesting one, and from your earliest days you have set yourself to master the problems of the East, and no one perhaps knows the East and its difficulties better than you do; for this reason, My Lord, you are eminently suitable to preside over the destinies of so vast a Province as that of Bengal.

As a sportsman, we wish you every luck and I hope when the war is over and you can spare time from the onerous duties of your post, that you will be able to add fresh trophies in Bengal to those you have already won elsewhere. Your books show that you have always taken a keen interest in Indian life and policy and that it is no superficial knowledge which you possess of India, its manners and its customs.

You have come, My Lord, straight from England, where at the present time every thought and action of her people is centred on the war, and you may have heard it said that we British in India have not had the war brought home to us. It is true that life in India has gone on much as before, and it is only now that our taxes can even compare with those at home, but all the same, we, too, have paid the bitter toll of war, in friends, in relatives, in sons, and I venture to say that there is proportionately as much mourning amongst us in India as there is at home. It has also been said that India has not done her share. My Lord, what the individual can do, I claim most emphatically that we have done. Hundreds of our best young men have gone to join the army, encouraged and assisted by their employers. War funds have always commanded whatever subscriptions were required, and war work has been carried on all over the country by indefatigable workers of all grades of society, from the highest to the lowest. If compulsory service and war taxation have only come now, the fault is not ours. We would have welcomed them long ago as we welcome now any burdens which Government may place on us, knowing that any fresh burden will help to lighten the lot of those brave men who are fighting for our liberty and our homes in the various theatres of the war.

Our late Governor, Lord Carmichael, in his farewell speech in this Council Chamber just a fortnight ago, said that Englishmen would have helped him more if they had shown him better that they knew what Indian aspirations were. I hope, My Lord, when the time comes for you to lay down the reins of office that you will be able to say that Europeans, and especially the merchants of Calcutta, have given you all the help you required in the government of this great Province."

Dr. D. P. Sarbadhikari; Babu S. N. Ray.

The Hon'ble DR. DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

My Lord, on behalf of the very important interests I have the honour of representing on Your Excellency's Council, I beg to associate myself warmly and whole-heartedly with the welcome that has been extended to Your Excellency. It is significant of the strenuous times awaiting Your Excellency that within a very few hours of Your Excellency's arrival after a perilous and delayed journey, Your Excellency is called upon to preside over the deliberations of your Legislative Council. We have every confidence that Your Excellency's energies and resources will be fully equal to this strenuous work, in helping which Your Excellency can rely on your colleagues in this Council. One of the most important of questions that will await Your Excellency's careful and earnest consideration is that of education, which in the forceful and felicitous language of His Excellency the Viceroy in a recent speech, is one of the touchstones of civilization. That question will grow in importance more than ever during Your Excellency's régime. As the Head of the Government of Bengal and as Rector of the Calcutta University, Your Excellency's share in the work will indeed be very large. Primary, Secondary, University, Professional and Technical Education will alike claim Your Excellency's attention and satisfactory solution of questions affecting these important departments of knowledge will help the solution of many a troublous outstanding question that will face Your Excellency in administering the affairs of Bengal. The Bengal Ambulance Corps, the Bengali Double Company and the Bengali Battalion that is in the making are but a small earnest of the capabilities of Bengal's manhood, towards which education has been contributing an important part. But as Lord Chelmsford observed in another important speech the other day, the country's womanhood does not seem to be keeping pace with the seeming progress of its manhood. In equalising things affecting this most important matter, our efforts must be well sustained and no scheme of education can be possibly complete that does not fully take the country's womanhood into consideration. I would for a moment direct Your Excellency's attention to our visitors' gallery, that is, for the first time to my knowledge, crowded to-day, by our ladies, anxious, I take it, to share in the warmth of the Council's welcome to you. This unfamiliar and unrehearsed scene, this effective though silent appeal, will no doubt bring home to Your Excellency the importance of the question. Lady Ronaldshay can be of great use to Your Excellency in the solution of this momentous problem and I cordially extend my welcome to Her Excellency as well.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, as representing in Your Lordship's Council the Municipalities of the Presidency Division, which is the premier division in this Presidency, I cordially welcome Your Lordship. Your Lordship comes here with experience of the country and its people. Your Lordship has already had to study some of the important questions which are now agitating the educated community of the country. Considerable changes, both material and intellectual, have undergone in this country within the last quarter of a century—a fact admitted by people of all shades of opinion. If India of to-day is not the India of 20 years ago, Bengal which is the most intellectual among the Provinces of India, is not the Bengal of 5 years ago. A change has come over the spirit of the people of this land and we want that that spirit should be accorded the fullest sympathy of the administrators. The country is now full of new hopes, new aspirations and new ideas. It has pleased Providence to place the destinies of this country at such a time in your Lordship's hands. We know that our hopes and aspirations cannot be realised within a day. But we want that our hopes and aspirations may be looked upon with sympathy and early opportunity be taken to give effect to them. You will find us, the representatives of the people of this Presidency, ready to co-operate with the Government in all that concerns the well-being of the land. We want to co-operate with Government in the work of every day administration. You will find in us, the educated community of this Presidency, true friends of the British Government, loyal, peace-loving, law-abiding and above all grateful. My Lord, as Your Lordship once said on a recent occasion, a good deal could be done if there was determined good will on both sides. I can assure Your Lordship that if Your Lordship's Government extends its confidence to the representatives of the people, that confidence will be reciprocated and will bind the Government and the people in indissoluble unity."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, I desire to associate myself most whole-heartedly with the words of welcome which have just been uttered. I deem it a very great honour to be one of the very few to offer Your Excellency the first words of welcome on this occasion of Your Excellency's first appearance as the Governor of this Presidency and President of the Legislative Council. I need hardly reiterate the hope which has been so eloquently expressed by one of my Hon'ble colleagues that Your Excellency's administration may mark an era of continued prosperity for the people on the basis of a peaceful consolidation of the progress already achieved under Your Excellency's distinguished predecessor. Nor need I reiterate the assurance that has been given that Your Excellency can always count upon the loyal help and co-operation of the non-official members of this Council in the manifold varieties of the task of administration. No such assurance is needed, because I do not know of any instance where this help has been sought and has not been freely given. The services of the non-official members of this Council are not being utilised to the extent that they ought to be. We are in theory, my Lord, the chosen representatives of the people, but I have always felt that in shaping the policy of the administration, our voice in the Councils of Government is sometimes of as little weight and value as that of the man in the moon. I do not, however, wish to mar the cordiality of our words of welcome by raising discordant notes of criticism, but the thought came uppermost in my mind and I could not help giving expression to it. My Lord, I have the good fortune of having entered the Council from the very beginning, and five years of association in working with Lord Carmichael has accustomed me to leniency at the hands of the President. I sincerely hope that Your Excellency will extend to us that latitude in the discussion of all questions which we enjoyed at the hands of Your Excellency's predecessor. My Lord, I do not wish to take up the time of the Council any further. On behalf of the Muhammadan members of this Council, representing the five divisions of Bengal, I offer to Your Excellency a most cordial welcome."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, on behalf of my countrymen and particularly of the constituency which I have the honour to represent, I beg to accord to Your Excellency a most cordial welcome on the assumption of your exalted office. The Warrant of our Gracious and beloved Sovereign which was read out yesterday in the Throne Room is pregnant with deep meaning. Our Sovereign has placed his trust in you in appointing you to the high office and we loyally, respectfully and humbly welcome you as our ruler in the same spirit of trust and confidence that our destinies are safe in your hands. Your Excellency has been sent by His Gracious Majesty to rule over Bengal at a momentous period of her history. Bengal at this moment is throbbing with the pulsations of a new life which with Your Excellency's sympathetic and watchful care may spell for us an era of progress and prosperity. We are on the eve of great changes, both administrative and legislative, promising larger and wider scope to the long-cherished hopes and aspirations of my countrymen, which have received such a strong impetus from the progressive policy of British Rule in India. The fortunes of the foremost Province in India have been committed to your care and even though your assumption of office dates back only from yesterday, millions of my countrymen are anxiously awaiting the policy which Your Excellency's administration will inaugurate in this eventful period of our national existence. My Lord, the lack of understanding which so long seemed to separate the two great sections of His Majesty's subjects is now disappearing as it is bound to do in the growing solidarity of feeling that India cannot exist without England and that England cannot exist without India—a feeling which has led to the comradeship in the battlefield where Indians and Englishmen are fighting together for their King and Country. The moment is opportune and the tide is favourable and the people are sanguine that Your Excellency will rise to the occasion to enable Bengal to realise her destiny under your rule and I can assure Your Excellency that you will not find any lack of co-operation from the non-official members of your Council.

Mr. Martin ; The President.

Among the measures which will engage Your Excellency's attention, I may be permitted to mention one in which the seat of your Government, I mean Calcutta, is intimately interested, and speaking on behalf of the citizens of Calcutta I would take this opportunity to press upon Your Excellency's attention the prayer of the people for the restoration of its lost privilege which forms the fundamental basis of Municipal Self-Government in this country.

In conclusion, I wish to assure Your Excellency of our loyal co-operation in the arduous task which Your Excellency has been called upon to undertake as Governor of Bengal."

The Hon'ble MR. MARTIN said :—

"My Lord,—The Hon'ble Mr. Carter has welcomed you on behalf of the commercial community of Calcutta. To his words, I have little to add. What affects Calcutta in the larger issues affects the mufassal also, but, having the honour to represent commercial interests in the mufassal, I feel it cannot be out of place to extend to Your Excellency a most hearty welcome on behalf of that community. Your Excellency will no doubt have many opportunities of gaining first-hand knowledge of the questions which more nearly affect us, and I feel sure we may count on your sympathy for our particular aspirations and on your assistance in bringing them to fruition.

Once more, my Lord, I have no hesitation in asserting that the mufassal is in no way behindhand in welcoming Your Excellency most cordially."

HIS EXCELLENCY said :—

"Gentlemen,—I should like to take this opportunity of expressing my very deep appreciation of the very kindly welcome which you, as members of the Bengal Legislative Council, have extended to me this morning. One of the speakers expressed the hope that in presiding over your deliberations I should grant you that latitude which, I understood him to say, it had been the custom of my predecessor to allow in conducting your discussions. Well, gentlemen, as far as that goes, I believe that I am now making a good start. I am not fully conversant yet with all the rules of procedure in this Council, but it would certainly be considered irregular, to say the least of it, if we were allowed speeches or discussions of any kind in the House of Commons when there was no motion before the House. The fact that I am allowing a discussion to take place in these circumstances to-day, may assure my hon'ble friends that I do not propose to exercise my authority too rigorously over the proceedings of this Council. Gentlemen, I thank you not only for the cordiality of your welcome, but I thank you also for the expression of your intention to grant me and my Government all the assistance that lies in your power to do. I very much appreciate that expression of your intention. I believe that the Council in Bengal is in many respects, if not in all, the most advanced Council in British India. You have on this Council an actual majority of non-official Indian members and when one of the speakers said that he sometimes felt that the opinions which they were able to bring to bear upon the Government were of little more value than what could be brought by the man in the moon; I think he was very much underrating both his own abilities and the abilities of his colleagues and the power which they are able to bring to bear upon Government opinion and Government action.

Gentlemen, some of the speakers have referred to the fact that at the present serious crisis in our country, it is hardly possible for this Council to undertake any very large measures of legislation. There is an understanding that matters of acute controversy should not be allowed to raise their heads among us during the progress of the war, and that for the very good reason we all desire to concentrate the whole of our energies and our abilities upon the successful prosecution of the war. Gentlemen, I am quite sure that the Hon'ble Mr. Carter need have no fears that we in England do not realize the sacrifices which have been made by all communities in India on behalf of the Empire in this great juncture in our history. We know well that you have sacrificed both blood and treasure, lavishly and generously, to assist us in prosecuting the great struggle in which we are now engaged. We realize that, and we are deeply grateful for it. We are grateful too, that on account of this struggle, you have decided to sink, so far as possible, controversial differences in India itself. We are grateful for this because, until and unless we can bring this terrible struggle which is shaking the very foundations of civilization as we understand it, and of all liberal institutions as we understand them—till I say, we can bring that great struggle to a successful issue on behalf of civilization, of freedom and of right—it is impossible for us to be assured that we can continue in peace and prosperity to carry on and advance the work of political and administrative progress within our own borders.

Gentlemen, it is not my intention to detain you at great length on this occasion. More than one speaker has referred to the fact that I am not altogether a stranger to this country. It is quite true, gentlemen, that I have for a good number of years now taken a very deep interest in the peoples and problems of this great continent. I have visited it, I think, on five different occasions, and I have done my best during the course of my visits to study and to try to understand the aspirations of its people, but I would not have you suppose for one moment that, because I have done this, I do not realize that I have very much to learn. I am by no means so foolish as to suppose that the observations which I have been able to make as a private visitor have enabled me to get at the root of the many problems which must confront the administrator, and I only regard my previous studies with satisfaction to the extent that they constitute a foundation, as it were, upon which I may now base a closer and a more profound study of the many problems and questions with which I shall be faced.

Gentlemen, I will not now detain you any longer from the regular proceedings of the Council. Once more I thank you from the bottom of my heart for your kindly cordial welcome."

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The facts of the incident are as follows :—

On the 16th February, Mr. Ross and another gentleman escorted two ladies to the Naraingunj railway station to see them off by the train leaving for Dacca at 11 P.M. They found only one first class compartment, in which a Muhammadan gentleman was seated. As the ladies were travelling alone, Mr. Ross asked this gentleman if he would move into one of the two vacant second class compartments, but he was unwilling to do so. As his manner appeared to Mr. Ross to be somewhat peculiar, he considered it essential for the ladies to have the compartment to themselves, and he therefore insisted on this gentleman's leaving the compartment. The gentleman then left the carriage and the ladies got in. A few minutes later, the gentleman returned with the Assistant Station Master and a number of other people. He tried to re-enter the compartment, stating that he had a first class ticket, and would have forced his way in if Mr. Ross had not informed him that, in the circumstances, he could not be allowed to travel to Dacca in that carriage. The Assistant Station Master was requested to provide another first class carriage, but said that there was none in the station. He was inclined to support the Muhammadan gentleman, but he eventually agreed that he should go into the adjoining second class compartment and the gentleman then entered the second class compartment. No force of any kind was used by Mr. Ross at any stage of the proceedings. Government do not propose to take any action in the matter."

SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTIONS.

By the Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM :—

Will the Government be pleased to state whether inquiries have been made as to who this gentleman was, and what was his name and address ?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. LYON :—

"It is not intended to make any further inquiries into the case."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM :—

Will the Government be pleased to state in what the peculiarity in his manner lay ?

Questions and Answers.

Application under the Arms Act.

X. (a) Are the Government aware that an application under the Arms Act was made on the 21st September, 1916, by Rai Tara Nath Chakravarti Bahadur, a retired Government Pleader of Faridpur, to the District Magistrate praying for permission to be given, or in the alternative, necessary licenses to be granted, to his retainers or to certain specified relatives and agents to use on his behalf the two guns possessed by him as an exempted person, on the ground that he himself was unable to use the guns being confined to bed on account of ill-health?

(b) Is it a fact that Rai Tara Nath Chakravarti Bahadur has served the Government for over 35 years?

(c) Is it a fact that the District Magistrate rejected the application without assigning any reason?

(d) Is it a fact that this order was passed about two months after the application for the permission or for the licenses was made?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state on what grounds the application was rejected?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR—

"(a) An application was filed by the Rai Bahadur on the 21st September, 1916, asking on the grounds stated in the question that six of his retainers might be permitted to use his two guns. No application was made for the grant of a license to the retainers.

(b) Yes.

(c) The order was—'I am not prepared to grant the request.'

(d) The order was passed on the 14th November, 1916. The intervention of the Durga Puja Holidays and the time occupied in making the usual inquiries account for the delay.

(e) The District Magistrate reports that he refused the application because he considered it unnecessary. The applicant as a title-holder has had two guns for a long time and has never before applied that retainers should be authorised to use them. It was stated that the object of allowing retainers to use the guns was to facilitate the collection of rents and the escort of money from the interior, but the District Magistrate found that the guns had never been used for this purpose and that moreover the applicant was a habitual defaulter in respect of Khas Mahal revenue. The Commissioner has since revised the District Magistrate's order and in view of the applicant's age and past services has authorised two of his peons to use the guns as retainers."

The Budget.

Mr. Beatson Bell.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 3.

THE BUDGET.

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON BELL presented the Budget of the Government of Bengal for 1917-18.

He said :—

"My Lord, I have the honour to present the Budget of the Government of Bengal for the year 1917-18 and in so doing I would invite the attention of the House to the short memorandum which I have drawn up and which accompanies the Budget which is now in the hands of all Hon'ble Members. We have discussed the Budget in its previous form—the Revised Financial Statement—for two whole days and we have had interesting debates upon 38 different Resolutions. The present stage is merely a formal stage, and I have only to lay the Budget upon the table of the House with the intimation that when we next meet, Hon'ble Members will have yet another opportunity for expressing their views upon every branch of the Budget."

BUDGET OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, 1917-18.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—FINANCE.

CALCUTTA, THE 24TH MARCH 1917.

MEMORANDUM.

IN accordance with Rule 33(1) of the Bengal Legislative (Financial Statement) Rules, 1912, published with Notification No. 4482-F., dated the 10th December, 1912, the Budget will be presented to the Council on the 27th March 1917.

2. No change has been made in the figures as included in the Revised Financial Statement. An Appendix C has been added, as usual, to show the transactions of District Boards and the District Road Fund (Darjeeling), although this does not form part of the Provincial Budget proper.

3. The Members in charge of the different departments would be much obliged, if, in accordance with the practice in previous years, Hon'ble Members will intimate as early as possible any points which they may desire to raise, in order that information may be collected regarding the same.

N. D. BEATSON BELL.

BUDGET OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, 1917-18.

PART I.—General Review.

(1) ACCOUNTS FOR 1915-16.

WHEN the revised estimate for 1915-16 was laid before the Council on the 27th March 1916, the receipts of the year were estimated at Rs. 6,26,31,000 and the charges at Rs. 6,40,01,000, while the anticipated closing balance was Rs. 2,58,90,000. The accounts of the year, which have now been finally closed, show that the actual receipts amounted to Rs. 6,34,59,998 and the charges to Rs. 6,28,01,186, while the closing balance was Rs. 2,79,19,135. The receipts were therefore better by Rs. 8,28,998, this improvement having occurred chiefly under Land Revenue (Rs. 3,33,815) mainly under Collections from Government estates owing to larger collections of arrears and better conditions in the jute trade ; Stamps (Rs. 1,18,670) due to higher probate duties ; Excise (Rs. 1,40,074) chiefly through gains from sale-proceeds of excise opium and duty on ganja ; Income-tax (Rs. 2,13,306) under Ordinary collections owing to increased advance payments made in the latter part of the year, and Scientific and Miscellaneous Departments (Rs. 84,849) through larger sales of quinine. The actual expenditure was less by Rs. 11,99,814 chiefly under Courts of Law (Rs. 2,28,890) owing to smaller charges under Fees to pleaders in criminal cases ; Police (Rs. 1,22,217) as a result of savings under Police force and Contingencies of the District Executive Force ; and Education (Rs. 4,77,586) due to savings in the grant for Colleges—Professional and in Imperial grants.

(2) REVISED ESTIMATE, 1916-17.

2. The revised estimate for 1916-17, as now passed by the Government of India on the basis of the actuals of the first eight, nine and in some cases ten and eleven months of the current year, is compared below with the sanctioned estimate for the year :—

	Sanctioned estimate.	Revised estimate.	Better (+) or worse (—).
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Opening balance ...	2,58,90,000	2,79,19,000	+20,29,000
Revenue receipts ...	5,85,74,000	6,30,27,000	+44,53,000
Transfers between Imperial and Provincial Revenues ...	+34,30,000	+23,90,000	—10,40,000
Total receipts ...	6,20,04,000	6,54,17,000	+34,13,000
Grand Total ...	8,78,94,000	9,33,36,000	+54,42,000
Total expenditure ...	6,17,97,000	6,06,57,000	+11,40,000
Closing balance ...	2,60,97,000	3,26,79,000	+65,82,000

Police—(Rs. 1,15,000), mainly for larger expenditure in the Criminal Investigation Department and under Supplies and Services and contingencies of the District Executive Force

Political—(Rs. 2,54,000), due to the payment of personal allowances and family allowances to detenus under the Defence of India Act and charges in connection with State prisoners and the Ingress into India Ordinance detenus.

Famine Relief—(Rs. 1,48,000), due to larger expenditure in the district of Bankura than was anticipated.

Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department—(Rs. 3,40,000), owing to additional grants for Educational, Jail and Police buildings and for the repairs of roads in the Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri districts by transfer from other departments.

6. The net result of these changes is that the closing balance of 1916-17, which was estimated at Rs. 2,60,97,000 in March 1916, is now estimated at Rs. 3,26,79,000. The increase is partly due to the increase in the opening balance, partly to the increase in receipts and partly to a decrease in expenditure as mentioned above.

(3) BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1917-18.

7. The opening balance of 1917-18 is the closing balance of 1916-17, and is therefore Rs. 3,26,79,000.

8. The estimates of the year, as approved by the Government of India, show receipts aggregating Rs. 6,65,99,000, expenditure of Rs. 6,77,20,000 and a closing balance of Rs. 3,15,58,000. A portion of the estimated closing balance is earmarked for special expenditure as follows :—

	Rs.
Minimum balance	20,00,000
Balance of the discretionary grant	6,97,000
Balance of the Imperial grant for Education ...	98,44,000
Ditto ditto Medical purposes	14,30,000
Ditto ditto Sanitation ...	62,55,000
Ditto ditto the reorganization of the Subordinate Police and River Police in the Eastern Bengal (non-recurring) ...	4,52,000
Ranchi Lunatic Asylum	23,50,000
Amount earmarked for Provincial equipments for the three years as promised ... ..,	24,00,000
Balance of the grant promised to Belgachia Institution	1,50,000
Total ...	2,45,78,000

The difference between Rs. 3,15,58,000 and 2,45,78,000 = Rs. 69,80,000 is the Provincial balance available for new expenditure in the future.

9. It has again been found impossible to provide for the regrant of unspent balances of the Imperial grants for Education, Sanitation, Discretionary grant, etc. The recurring provision for the Dacca University (Rs. 5,45,000 recurring and Rs. 1,00,000 non-recurring for five years), has been omitted, and a provision of 2½ lakhs only has been made in the budget for grants for sanitary improvements against 9½ lakhs, the recurring allotment.

10. The total estimated charges for 1917-18, however, amount to Rs. 6,77,20,000, which is in excess of the income by Rs. 11,21,000, and provision has been made for the following noticeable non-recurring items :—

	Rs.
Grant for gratuitous relief	1,00,000
For new works of the Police Department in connection with the reorganization of the Eastern Bengal Police	3,00,000
For works in progress of the Police Department in connection with the reorganization of the Eastern Bengal Police	1,00,000
For Police buildings, and non-recurring expenditure in connection with the partition of Midnapore and Mymensingh	16,36,000
For construction of thana launches and floating thanas for the River Police in Eastern Bengal	78,642
For additional buildings in the Bethune College	40,000
Salaries, establishment and other charges of the Press Censors	45,000
Charges under the Defence of India Act ...	75,000
Additional grant to the Calcutta University for hostel buildings in Calcutta	3,39,000
Construction of steam-launches for the River patrols of the Presidency Police	2,10,000
Personal and family allowances of detenus under the Defence of India Act	2,00,000

11. A schedule is attached showing the new schemes costing individually more than Rs. 5,000 in any one year, which have been included in the budget. The non-recurring charges on account of these schemes amount to Rs. 10,95,646, and the recurring charges to Rs. 11,79,080. The increase under Collections from Government estates in 1916-17 is due to the prosperous condition of the jute trade. As for the increase in 1917-18 larger receipts are expected in the districts of Jalpaiguri and Bakarganj.

15. Stamps.—The revenue from Stamps for 1916-17 was estimated at Rs. 2,24,00,000. The actuals in 1915-16 amounted to Rs. 2,24,37,340, and the collections in the first nine months of 1916-17 show an increase of Rs. 20,39,000, owing to the large business in tea and jute and to the realization of larger death duties, as compared with the actuals of the corresponding period of the preceding year. In view of these figures the revised estimate for 1916-17 has been provisionally placed at Rs. 2,45,00,000. Allowing for a progressive increase of 8 lakhs, the estimate for 1917-18 has been passed for Rs. 2,53,00,000. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 1,22,50,000 for 1916-17 and Rs. 1,26,50,000 for 1917-18.

16. Excise.—The budget estimate of the total revenue under this head for 1916-17 was passed at Rs. 1,50,50,000. The actuals in 1915-16 amounted to Rs. 1,51,40,074, and those in the first eleven months of 1916-17 show a decrease of Rs. 5,66,000 as compared with the actuals of the corresponding period of the preceding year ; the revised estimate for 1916-17 has been placed at Rs. 1,45,00,000. The total consumption of country spirits in this Presidency up to December 1916 amounted to 448,377 proof gallons against 475,999 proof gallons in the corresponding period of the preceding year, showing a decrease of 27,622 proof gallons. The decrease was mainly due to the continuance of the economic depression and high prices caused by the war. Similarly there is a decrease of consumption in ganja of 512 seers and opium of 4,905 seers in the first nine months. The decrease is due to an increase in retail prices. During the continuance of the war the receipts under this head are not expected to rise much, but allowing for a small improvement of 1 lakh the estimate for 1917-18 has been placed at

Rs. 1,46,00,000. These estimates include the income from new taxation on liquors imposed under notification dated the 6th March 1916, which was estimated to bring in an increase of Rs. 50,000 in 1916-17; this is now estimated at Rs. 72,000 for both the years 1916-17 and 1917-18.

17. Provincial Rates.—The collections from the Public Works cess have been surrendered to District Boards with effect from the 1st April 1913, but the arrears of 1912-13 and the preceding years are still under collection. These amounted to Rs. 29,219 in the first eight months of 1916-17, and the revised estimate for these collections has been placed at Rs. 40,000. It is anticipated that no arrears will be left for collection in 1917-18. Under General Rates for the management of private estates the estimate of receipts for 1917-18 is Rs. 1,18,000 against Rs. 1,05,000, the revised estimate for 1916-17, and Rs. 1,06,171, the actuals of 1915-16.

18. Income Tax.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 1,06,80,000. The actual collections in 1915-16 amounted to Rs. 72,26,611, and the collections in the first eleven months of the year 1916-17 showed an increase of Rs. 85,03,000 over those of the corresponding period of last year. Though the estimate under this head was carefully prepared, it was not realized that the profits of companies and firms, particularly those engaged in the supply of war materials, would reach the enormous figures which the accounts of their working in the year 1915-16 have shown. It is now expected that the total receipts from this source will exceed the estimate by Rs. 53,20,000. The revised estimate for 1916-17 has been placed at Rs. 1,60,00,000. The coal and jute trades continue to exhibit marked prosperity and very high profits, and an increase of 20 lakhs is anticipated in 1917-18. The estimate for 1917-18 has accordingly been placed at Rs. 1,80,00,000. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 80,00,000 and Rs. 90,00,000 for 1916-17 and 1917-18, respectively. In framing the estimate for 1916-17 it was calculated that the increase in revenue due to enhanced taxation would amount to Rs. 40,80,000, and as the increased taxation was intended for the benefit of Imperial revenues, an assignment of Rs. 20,40,000 from Provincial to Imperial revenues was entered in the budget for 1916-17. In March last the Government of India decided that the amount of this assignment would be liable to revision when normal financial conditions are restored, and it was possible to frame a reliable estimate of the normal yield from the enhanced taxation. In view, however, of the very large increase in the revenue the Local Government did not feel justified in adhering to the assignment which was fixed in March last, and therefore decided to hand over at once to Imperial revenues the benefit of the enhanced taxation. The assignment, one-half of the amount of revenue due to the enhanced taxation, has now been calculated at Rs. 32,50,000 for 1916-17, and this amount has been shown under "Transfers between Imperial and Provincial revenues in 1916-17." The amount due to enhanced taxation in 1917-18 has also been calculated at Rs. 78,00,000, and the assignment to the Imperial revenues has been placed at 39 lakhs in accordance with this calculation.

19. Forests.—The total receipts under this head for 1916-17 were estimated at Rs. 11,50,000 against Rs. 11,45,610, the actuals of 1915-16. The collections in the first eleven months of 1916-17 show an increase of Rs. 75,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year, and the revised estimate for 1916-17 has been placed at Rs. 12,40,000. The Conservator expects some increase in the current year from unsold stock in Buxa and the Sundarbans, while he anticipates larger sales next year from the improvement in the timber market. Allowing for an increase of Rs. 60,000 in 1917-18, the estimate has been placed at Rs. 13,00,000.

20. Registration.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 20,50,000 against Rs. 20,36,068, the actuals of 1915-16. The actual collections in the first nine months of the year 1916-17 amounted to Rs. 14,37,475, and for the remaining three months of the year the receipts have been taken at Rs. 7,02,525, and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 21,40,000. The increase is attributed to the prevailing high prices which have increased registration. The Inspector-General anticipates an increase of revenue in 1917-18, and allowing for an increase of Rs. 60,000 the estimate for the year has been passed for Rs. 22,00,000.

21. Interest.—The estimate of loans provides for a return by way of interest during 1917-18 of Rs. 5,88,000 against Rs. 6,16,000 in 1916-17 as shown below :—

	Revised estimate, 1916-17.	Estimate, 1917-18.
	Rs.	Rs.
Interest on advances to cultivators, etc.	1,33,000	1,20,000
Interest on advances to Co-operative Societies	2,000	2,000
Interest on drainage and embankment advances	9,000	9,000
Interest on loans to landholders ...	1,50,000	1,50,000
„ „ „ „ Municipalities and District Boards, etc. ...	2,95,000	2,94,000
Interest on Government securities	12,000	12,000
Miscellaneous	15,000	1,000
Total ...	6,16,000	5,88,000

Nothing is expected from interest on arrears of the Public Works cess in 1917-18, as the arrears not paid before the localization of the Public Works cess are expected to be realized in 1916-17. The arrears of 1913-14 with the interest are surrendered to District Boards. This explains the decrease under sub-head Miscellaneous.

22. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The actuals in 1915-16 amounted to Rs. 8,43,999, while the receipts in the first nine months of 1916-17 show an increase of Rs. 46,420 over those of the corresponding period of last year. The increase is chiefly under Fees, Fines and Forfeitures and partly under Court-fees realized in cash. The revised estimate for 1916-17 has been placed at Rs. 8,84,000, and the estimate for 1917-18 has been passed for Rs. 8,82,000.

23. Jails.—The actuals in 1915-16 amounted to Rs. 9,09,148, and those in the first eight months of 1916-17 show an increase of Rs. 72,784 as compared with those of the corresponding period of that year, and the revised estimate for 1916-17 has been placed at Rs. 10,51,000. The increase is due to larger supplies to the Military and Police Departments. As it is expected that the supplies to the Military Department will continue to be even larger during the ensuing year, the estimate for 1917-18 has been passed for Rs. 11,02,000.

24. Police.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 1,67,000 against Rs. 1,90,866, the actuals of 1915-16. The receipts in the first nine months of 1916-17 showed an increase of Rs. 8,368 over those of the corresponding period of last year on account of larger receipts from the Motor-cycles Act, and the revised estimate for 1916-17 has been placed at Rs. 1,75,000. The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 1,71,000.

25. Ports and Pilotage.—The actuals in 1915-16 amounted to Rs. 13,49,562, while the budget estimate for 1916-17 was originally passed for Rs. 14,25,000. The actual collections in the first nine months amounted to Rs. 9,53,065, and for the last three months of the year the receipts have been taken at Rs. 2,51,935, and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 12,05,000. The decrease is chiefly under Pilotage receipts and is due to the reduction in the number of vessels entering and leaving the Calcutta port caused by the dislocation of trade owing to the war and partly also under Miscellaneous, as the charges on account of the working expenses of the Government steamer Guide at the rate of Rs. 6,000 per mensem was no longer credited to this Government, owing to the return of the vessel from Port Blair service with effect from the 12th June 1916. The estimate for 1917-18 has been passed for Rs. 11,81,000.

26. Education.—The actuals in 1915-16 amounted to Rs. 8,86,574, and the budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 9,05,000. This has been raised to Rs. 9,32,000 in the revised estimate with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the current year, which amounted to Rs. 6,58,979 against Rs. 5,95,623 obtained in the corresponding period of last year. The estimate for 1917-18 has been passed for Rs. 9,28,000 and includes larger collections from "Schools—General."

27. Medical.—Under the orders of the Government of India the head "Medical" has now been divided into two heads—"Sanitation" for sanitation and vaccination receipts and "Medical" for all other receipts of that department The medical budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 3,69,000 against Rs 3,59,574, the actuals of 1915-16 The actual collections in the first eight months show a small increase under Medical College fees and hospital receipts and the revised estimate has been raised to Rs. 3,74,000. The budget for 1917-18 has been passed for Rs. 3,62,000.

28. Sanitation.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 under this head may be taken at Rs. 12,000, but Rs. 81,000 has been credited to Provincial revenues on account of a grant of Rs. 50,000 from the Indian Research Fund Association for experiments of sub-soil drainage as an anti-malarial measure, and also of Rs. 30,600 from the same fund for testing vital statistics. The revised estimate for 1916-17 will stand at Rs. 93,000. The estimate for 1917-18 has been placed at Rs. 12,000 which was the budget estimate for 1916-17.

29. Agriculture.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 94,000 against Rs. 1,01,156, the actuals of 1915-16. The collections in the first eight months of 1916-17 show an increase of Rs. 14,952 over those of the corresponding period of last year, but it has been decided that the receipts from "Seed stores" will be adjusted in reduction of expenditure, and both the revised estimate for 1916-17 and the budget for 1917-18 have been placed at Rs. 1,05,000.

30. Scientific and Miscellaneous Departments.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 5,22,000 against Rs. 6,04,849. the actuals of 1915-16. The actuals in the first eight months amounted to Rs. 4,44,509, of which Rs. 4,07,847 represented the sale-proceeds of cinchona and its products against Rs. 4,70,000, the estimate for the whole year. The increase is due to larger supplies of quinine to the Military Department, and as there is a large demand for the supply of this medicine, the revised estimate for 1916-17 has been placed at Rs. 7,50,000, of which 7 lakhs represent the receipts from cinchona and its preparations. As large supplies are expected to continue in 1917-18, the estimate for that year has been passed for Rs. 7,81,000, including Rs. 7,32,400 from cinchona.

31. Receipts in aid of superannuation.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 56,000 against Rs. 54,583, the actuals of 1915-16. The actuals of the first eight months for 1916-17 tend to show that the estimate for the year will be realized, and both the revised estimate for 1916-17 and the estimate for 1917-18 have been passed for Rs. 56,000.

32. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 1,27,000 against Rs. 1,33,395, the actuals of 1915-16. The actuals of the first nine months of 1916-17, however, show an increase of Rs. 18,146 over those of the corresponding period of last year, and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 1,43,000. The budget estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 1,38,000.

33. Miscellaneous.—The receipts for 1916-17 were estimated at Rs. 6,52,000 against Rs. 6,65,208, the actuals of 1915-16, which included Rs. 5,42,506 from Unclaimed deposits. The budget estimate under this sub-head was Rs. 5,50,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 5,38,000; the total receipts have however been raised to Rs. 7,37,000 including Rs. 90,000 expected as recoveries of famine expenditure by sale-proceeds of khud rice and manufactures by weavers under relief. The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 6,58,000, and includes Rs. 5,50,000 for Unclaimed deposits and nothing for recoveries of famine expenditure.

34. Irrigation—Major Works (Direct Receipts).—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 2,57,000 against Rs. 2,78,079, the actuals of 1915-16. The collections in the first nine months of 1916-17 show an increase of Rs. 10,698, and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 2,90,000.

The increase is chiefly in receipts from the water rates of the Midnapore Canal, and is due to the area under lease being greater than was anticipated in the budget. It is not expected that the area under lease will remain the same in 1917-18. It is also reported that the Etamagra Lock is in urgent need of repairs and that Range (1) of the Hijili Canal will be closed for traffic, and some falling off might be expected from these in 1917-18. The budget for 1917-18 has accordingly been passed for Rs. 2,68,000. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 1,45,000 for 1916-17 and Rs. 1,34,000 for 1917-18.

35. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 6,20,000 against Rs. 6,27,729, the actuals of 1915-16. The actual collections in the first nine months of 1916-17 show an increase of Rs. 1,17,115, and the revised estimate for the year has been placed at Rs. 7,76,000. The increase occurs chiefly in the Navigation receipts of the Madaripur Bhil Route, and is attributed to increased traffic in jute from held-up stock, to the improvements recently carried out in the Lower Kumar at Char Maguria and to the construction of the bund and sluices in the south bank. The estimate for 1917-18 is placed at Rs. 7,60,000, as the special increase in 1916-17 may not continue next year.

36. Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 4,30,000 against Rs. 4,72,054, the actuals of 1915-16, which included Rs. 98,000 on account of the value of Secretariat racks dismantled at Dacca and credited to this head by debit to stock. Excluding this item the actuals of the first eight months of 1916-17 show an increase of 1 lakh, which is chiefly due to recovery of the Government share of the surplus profits of the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway for 1915-16 amounting to Rs. 79,000 and to the progressive growth of rent of Government buildings. Rs. 18,000 is also expected to be realized from the sale of the Bally Brickfield to the East Indian Railway, and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 5,17,000. The estimate for 1917-18 has been placed at Rs. 4,30,000, which represents the normal receipts of the department.

37. Civil Works in charge of the Civil Department.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 1,59,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 2,71,000. This includes Rs. 94,794 refunded from the grant of 1 lakh made to the Narayanganj Municipality for water-works in 1914-15, as the municipality cannot take up the scheme at present. Refunds of Rs. 18,000 from other municipalities have also been credited. The budget estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 1,59,000.

EXPENDITURE.

39. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1916-17 was originally estimated at Rs. 1,50,000, but in view of the actuals of the first nine months of the year this has been raised to Rs. 2,35,000 in the revised estimate for the year against Rs. 1,81,371, the actuals of 1915-16. The increase is due to special refunds under Land Revenue, Income Tax and Excise. The budget for 1917-18 has been passed for Rs. 1,63,000.

40. Assignments and Compensations.—The budget for 1916-17 was Rs. 35,000, but this has been raised to Rs. 41,000 in the revised estimate with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1916-17. There is an increase chiefly under Malikana, which is a fluctuating item. The budget for 1917-18 has been passed for Rs. 35,000, which is the same as the budget for 1916-17.

41. Land Revenue.—The total Provincial expenditure for 1917-18 is estimated at Rs. 35,57,000 against Rs. 34,96,000 the revised, and Rs. 34,52,000, the budget estimate for 1916-17 as shown below :—

	1916-17.		1917-18.
	Budget.	Revised.	Budget.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Charges of District Administration ...	28,18,000	28,65,000	28,21,000
Charges on account of Land Revenue collections	15,000	15,000	15,000
Management of Government estates ...	4,49,000	4,48,000	5,30,000

Land Records ...	70,000	64,000	65,000
Total ...	34,52,000	34,96,000	35,57,000

The increase in the revised estimate for 1916-17 is chiefly due to larger expenditure under Travelling allowances, Subdivisional establishment and Kanungo establishment. The estimate for 1917-18 includes provision of Rs. 20,000 for the employment of Settlement Kanungos as Circle Officers, of Rs. 2,000 on account of increase of pay of certificate muharrirs, as well as provision for increased grants for travelling allowances of officers, for diet and hospital expenses of wounded persons for the Dacca record-room establishment, for improvements in Government estates with reference to the increase in the collections from those estates and for larger grants for Provincial settlement operations.

42. Stamps.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 6,96,000, but this has been reduced to Rs. 6,33,000 in the revised estimate owing to a fall in the consumption of plain paper in certain districts, resulting in smaller charges under Stamps supplied from Central Stores; the revised estimate under this sub-head has been taken as Rs. 2,10,000 against Rs. 3,10,000, the budget for the year. Against this decrease there are increases under Discount for the sale of both general and court-fee stamps owing to the increase in sales. The budget for 1917-18 has been placed at Rs. 6,28,000. The charges of this department are divided equally between the Imperial and the Provincial Revenues, and the Provincial shares amount to Rs. 3,17,000 and Rs. 3,14,000, respectively.

43. Excise.—The total expenditure for 1916-17 was originally estimated at Rs. 8,39,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 8,70,000, chiefly owing to larger expenditure on rewards and a failure to realize the savings anticipated under Establishment. The budget for 1917-18 is Rs. 9,00,000, and as in the current year, though full provision has been made in the budget, a saving of Rs. 50,980 has been estimated, as the full number of higher paid officers will not be entertained during the year.

44. Income Tax.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 1,52,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 1,61,000 to provide for the appointment of an Assistant Collector and additional establishment in the Calcutta Income Tax office sanctioned in consequence of the introduction of the new Act. The budget for 1917-18 is Rs. 1,69,000 and includes additional establishment for the whole year. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 81,000 and 85,000, respectively.

45. Forests.—The sanctioned estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 6,54,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 5,90,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is due chiefly to curtailment of expenditure under Communications and improvements and extension of forests. The budget for 1917-18 is Rs. 6,52,000, and includes provision of Rs. 24,000 for the preparation of a working-plan of the Kurseong forests and larger provision for communications and buildings and travelling allowances.

46. Registration.—The budget estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 11,09,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 11,29,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year, showing larger expenditure under temporary establishment owing to the larger number of registrations. The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 11,36,000, and includes Rs. 3,600 for the opening of new sub-registry offices, and a larger grant for temporary establishment and contract contingencies in view of the gradual increase of the charges of the departments.

47. Interest on Ordinary Debt.—This is interest payable from the Provincial Revenues to the Imperial Revenues on the amount advanced by the Government of India to the Local Government for loans to cultivators under the Agriculturists' Loans and Land Improvements Loans Acts, for advances to Co-operative Societies, for advances on drainage and embankment schemes, for loans to notabilities and to municipalities and other public corporations (excluding Presidency corporations) and to the ex-students of the Serampore Weaving School.

48. General Administration.—The budget for 1916-17 was Rs. 24,36,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 24,53,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is due to the provincialization of the amalgamated establishment employed in the audit of accounts of local authorities in Calcutta, for which an assignment of Rs. 11,000 has been taken into account under "Transfer from Imperial to Provincial Revenues." The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 25,70,000, and includes the following items :—

	Rs.
Examiner of outside audit and additional auditors for the transfer of outside audit to the Local Audit Section of the Accountant-General's office	22,000

49. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 1,00,20,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 99,38,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly under Law Officers owing to smaller payment of fees to pleaders in connection with criminal cases and partly under Contingencies of the Civil and Sessions Courts and charges under the Defence of India Act. The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 1,01,57,000, and includes the following provisions :—

	Rs.
Provision for three shorthand-writers of the High Court	9,600
Revision of establishment of the Original Side, High Court	14,135

50. Jails.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 25,50,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 28,60,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is mainly due to larger dietary, clothing and hospital charges, as well as to larger purchases of raw materials for the manufacture of supplies to the Military and Police Departments. The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 28,89,000. It includes larger provision for dietary and other charges as in the revised estimate for 1916-17, provision for allowances to the Roman Catholic Chaplain of the Alipore Central Jail and to temporary assistant jailors and for Subsidiary Jail establishment at Kalimpong and larger grants for the purchase of raw materials and European stores for the expansion of the blanket factory at Dacca and of the quinine industry in the Juvenile Jail at Alipore.

The revised estimate for 1916-17 has been framed with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is chiefly under Criminal Investigation Department mainly for special allowances sanctioned by the Secretary of State to the staff of the department as well as for larger expenditure under Rewards and Secret Service. The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 1,34,38,000. 52. Ports and Pilotage.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 13,30,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 11,68,000, due partly to the dislocation of sea-borne trade which reduced the earnings of pilots and also to the transfer of the steamer Guide to the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta. The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 12,15,000, and provision has been made for the normal expenditure of the department with reference to requirements. It includes Rs. 1,50,000 for a grant to the Chittagong Port Fund, Rs. 5,760 for the appointment of mate pilots as chief officers of the two pilot vessels Fraser and Lady Fraser, Rs. 1,900 for war bonuses to junior engineers of those vessels and Rs. 37,000 for the hire of vessels for His Excellency's river tours.

53. Education.—The total Provincial charge in 1916-17 was estimated at Rs. 88,30,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 82,18,000 with reference to the actual charges in the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to savings in the allotment for grants to the Calcutta University for Hostel buildings, in the grants from Imperial Revenues and to the transfer of some grants to the Public Works Department for the construction of buildings. The following table compares the actuals of the last four years with the budget and revised estimates for 1916-17 and the estimates for 1917-18 :—

Grants for sanitary purposes, Expenses in connection with plague, malaria and epidemics, Bacteriological Laboratory and Pasteur Vaccine Institutes and Refunds. The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 22,72,000, and included provisions for grants of Rs. 10,000 and Rs. 5,000 to the State Medical Faculty and to Bengal Council of Medical Registration, respectively. No grants will now be required by these Councils, but the expenditure under Hospitals and Dispensaries has been raised to make provision for grants sanctioned by His Excellency from his allotment for petty grants and by the Divisional Commissioners from their grants for local improvements. The total revised under Medical will stand at Rs. 23,15,000. The budget for 1917-18 is Rs. 26,14,000, and includes the following charges :—

The decrease is chiefly due to savings in the grant for works of sanitary improvement and also to the transfer of Rs. 8,360 granted to the Chittagong Municipality for the pay of their Engineer-Secretary to the head "45—Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers."

The following grants have been sanctioned in 1916-17 from the grants for sanitary improvements :—

Of the sum of Rs. 50,000 given in 1916-17 by the Indian Research Fund Association for expenditure on sub-soil drainage as an anti-malarial measure, Rs. 20,000 is expected to be spent in 1916-17 and the balance Rs. 30,000 in 1917-18. Of Rs. 30,600 given by the same fund in 1916-17 for experiments in testing vital statistics, Rs. 6,250 has been provided in the budget. Rs. 12,000 has been provided for the establishment for investigation of diabetes in India under the sub-head "Grants for sanitary purposes." Rs. 2,50,000 has also been provided for works of sanitary improvements and the budget grant for 1917-18 is passed for Rs. 5,98,000.

56. Political.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 23,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 2,77,000 chiefly to provide for charges arising from the internments under the Defence of India Act, allowances for State prisoners and detenus under the Ingress into India Ordinance. The decrease is chiefly under Veterinary Hospitals and Dispensaries on account of larger recoveries from local bodies for contributions towards the pay of veterinary assistants. The budget for 1917-18 is Rs. 12.26,000, and includes the following items :—

	Rs.

Provision for Chief Auditor, 4 inspectors, 1 clerk and 7 peons for Co-operative Department ...	9,312
Additional grant for travelling allowances of officers, and establishment for Co-operative Department ...	13,000

58. Scientific and Miscellaneous Departments.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 6,44,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 4,63,000. The decrease is chiefly due to lapse of the grant for Director of Industries as the appointment has not yet been sanctioned, and of that for the development of industries as no expenditure from this head could be sanctioned pending the report of the Industrial Commission. There were also small savings under Cinchona plantation, Inspector of Factories and the grant for experiments of the Fishery Department. The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 5,83,000, and includes the following schemes :—

	Rs.
Two additional Assistant Managers of Cinchona plantations	4,800
Their pony allowances and purchase and upkeep of ponies	1,560
Sub-Assistant Surgeon for the plantation ...	840
Afforestation charges in the Munsong plantation	3,000
Grant to the Dacca Museum	6,175
Ditto Darjeeling Museum	5,000
Construction of a bungalow for the Assistant Superintendent of Emigration, Goalundo ...	3,000
Repairs and removal of office and repatriation sheds to a different site at Goalundo ...	1,100

59. Superannuation.—The charges under this head rise yearly with the increase in the number of claims to pensions. The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 33,71,000, and included Rs. 2,00,000 for commutations of pensions. As the applications for such pensions are very rigidly examined the revised estimate under this sub-head has been reduced to Rs. 75,000 and the total revised estimate under Superannuation has been placed at Rs. 32,90,000. The budget for 1917-18 has been passed for Rs. 34,11,000, and includes Rs. 1,30,000 for commutation of pensions.

60. Stationery and Printing.—The following table shows the charges under this head :—

HEADS.	Actuals, 1915-16.	1916-17.		Budget estimate, 1917-18.
		Budget estimate.	Revised estimate.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Total ...	13,01,451	13,48.000	12,62,000	13,29,000

The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 13,48,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 12,62,000 chiefly owing to smaller expenditure under Government Presses due to savings in the grants for overtime allowances to permanent and temporary piece-workers and in contingencies of the Secretariat Press and of the Jail Press. The estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 13,29,000 and provides for smaller grant for the Secretariat Press under overtime allowance and piece-hands.

61. Miscellaneous.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 12,28,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 3,77,000. The reduction is chiefly due to the adjustment under appropriate heads of expenditure sanctioned by His Excellency from the allotment for petty grants, the adjustment of charges for grain compensation allowance, to the reappropriation of the reserve provision of 2 lakhs in order to meet expenditure under other heads and to the utilization of the savings in the allotment of Rs. 2,25,000 for gratuitous relief to meet expenditure on Famine Relief in the district of Bankura. The budget for 1917-18 is Rs. 11,09,000, and includes the following items :—

	Rs.
Allotment for petty grants by His Excellency	1,00,000
Ditto payment of grain compensation allowance of all Provincial departments ...	4,00,000
Gratuitous Relief	1,00,000
General reserve for unforeseen requirements ...	2,00,000
Guarantee charges for telegraph lines ...	10,000

62. Famine Relief—Since orders were passed in the budget of the current year Famine was declared in the district of Bankura with effect from the 1st April 1916. The actual charges in the first nine months of 1916-17 amounted to Rs. 7,15,000 and no further expenditure is expected during the last three months of the year. Of this sum Rs. 4,20,000, being the amount to the credit of this Province up to 1916-17 under the Famine Insurance Scheme, will be wholly Imperial, and the remainder Rs. 2,95,000 will be distributed in the Imperial and Provincial Revenues in equal proportions. The Provincial share will therefore be Rs. 1,48,000.

With the approval of the Secretary of State the Government of India have sanctioned a change in the method of adjustment of famine relief expenditure which will be given effect to from the 1st April 1917. The existing pro formâ account of the Famine Insurance Scheme will be abolished and the debits now entered in the provincial section under the head "36—Reduction or Avoidance of Debt," together with the corresponding assignment from Imperial to Provincial Revenues will be discontinued and expenditure on Famine Relief will be shared between Imperial and Provincial in the proportion of $\frac{3}{4}$ and $\frac{1}{4}$ respectively.

63. Irrigation Major Works (Working Expenses).—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 1,90,000 against Rs. 1,96,022, the actuals of 1915-16. A sum of Rs. 16,000 has been transferred to "43—Minor Works and Navigation" and the revised estimate has been passed for Rs. 1,74,000. The decrease is under Maintenance and Repairs of the Midnapore Canal. The budget estimate for 1917-18 is Rs. 1,70,000, and is based on actual requirements. The Provincial shares (one-half) amount to Rs. 87,000 and Rs. 85,000 respectively

64. Irrigation—Interest on Debt.—The actual expenditure during 1915-16 was Rs. 3,48,476, and the budget for 1916-17 was Rs. 3,51,000. The capital outlay on the canals to end of 1915-16 from Imperial funds, for which interest is payable by the Local Government, amounted to—

	Rs.
For the Midnapore Canal ...	82,39,830
Hijili Tidal Canal	17,95,489

Interest at 3·4725 per cent. on the above is Rs. 3,48,476. As no capital expenditure on the above account is expected during 1916-17 or 1917-18, both the revised and budget estimates have been placed at Rs. 3,48,000. The Provincial share is Rs. 1,74,000.

65. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 20,92,000 against Rs. 22,94,450, the actuals of 1915-16. The revised estimate has been raised by Rs. 16,000 by transfer from Major Works as mentioned above and stands at Rs. 21,08,000. The total demand for 1917-18 was Rs. 23,15,000, but as Rs. 74,000 is expected to be realized for the transfer of the Calcutta Eastern Canal surplus lands to the Calcutta Improvement Trust, the net grant under this head has been passed for Rs. 22,41,000. The budget includes the following items :—

	Rs.
For the construction of permanent outlets of the Midnapore canal	3,000
For completing the improvements which are being executed by the dredger Foyers to the Lower Kunar river at Char Maguria	75,000

	Rs.

Special repairs to the Chitpur and Dhappa locks ...	30,000

For ordinary flood damage and special repairs to Government embankments in the Cossye Division, including retired lines of embankments	1,64,400
For re-sectioning the Sunderbans embankments and flood damage repairs to the 24-Parganas embankments	8,000
For raising the Ajai embankment	10,000
For ordinary flood damage and special repairs to embankments in the Northern Drainage and Embankment Division, including retired lines of embankments	1,00,000

The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 10,54,000 for 1916-17 and Rs. 11,21,000 for 1917-18.

66. Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The estimate for 1916-17 was Rs. 52,60,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs 56,00,000 owing to additional grants sanctioned for Education, Police, Jail and other buildings by corresponding reductions in the departmental budgets. The estimate for 1917-18 has been placed at Rs. 69,36.000, which is distributed thus—

	1916-17. Budget.	1916-17. Revised.	1917-18. Budget.

The grants for repairs, establishment and tools and plants have been fixed at the lowest sum possible. The demand for works in progress has also been reduced to the minimum. Rupees 3,30,000 has been allowed to Heads of Departments for Minor Works and Rs. 21,36,000 could only be given for Major Original Works.

The Minor Works grant is distributed thus—

Charges of District Administration.	Additional Chaukidari Circle Officers.	.....	20,000	20,000	.....	20,000	20,000	In accordance with the orders of the Government of India on the retrenchment of expenditure in all departments, the Settlement expenditure of the Presidency has been reduced to a great extent, which has thrown many Settlement kanungos out of employment. The retention of these men in Government employ will ensure that the Settlement operations after the war will be conducted in an efficient and less costly manner. It is therefore suggested to employ them as Chaukidari Circle Officers. At present some 40 Sub-Deputy Collectors are employed on this work in different districts, but there is ample room for more men, and Settlement kanungos would make very suitable officers for this purpose.

	Splitting up the jurisdiction of Khulna police-station.	991	7,555	8,546	991	3,009	4,000

Owing to the increase of cognizable offence and in view of the fact that the police-station is now situated in one corner of its jurisdiction and thus great difficulty is felt by the people in reporting crime and by investigating officers in conducting investigations, it is proposed to divide the area into three centres by establishment of two new police-stations. The Inspector-General provided Rs. 991 (non-recurring) and Rs. 6,748 (recurring) in 1917-18, but provision of Rs. 1,000 has been made to give partial effect to the scheme later on in the year.

	Redistribution of the jurisdiction of Kishoreganj and Badla police-stations, Mymensingh.	1,690	13,873	15,563	1,690	12,000	13,690

Owing to increase of crime it has been found necessary to redistribute the jurisdiction and to establish three new police-stations within this area.

	Establishment of a Detective Department for the district of the 24 Parganas.	907	23,279	24,186	907	10,000	10,907

Owing to the proximity of the 24-Parganas to Calcutta and Howrah and the close affinity of crime between these districts, it is very necessary to establish a Detective Department in the 24-Parganas like that existing at Howrah. The Inspector-General provided Rs. 22,814 (recurring) and Rs. 907 (non-recurring) in 1917-18, but provision has been made to give gradual effect to the scheme.

	Entertainment of additional Sub-Inspectors.	...	26,580	26,580	...	26,580	26,580

The proposal is to appoint 31 additional Sub-Inspectors permanently to replace Sub-Inspectors for stenography and crime work in the office of the Range Deputy Inspectors-General and understudy in the Finger Print Bureau. Owing to want of provision for such duties in the cadre and the stoppage of acting promotions of Head-constables it is impossible to spare officers for this purpose.

District Executive staff ...	Raising the pay of European Inspectors.	...	18,150	18,150	...	18,150	18,150	For certain classes of duties the employment of European Inspectors is essential. At the same time experience has shown that the present sanctioned rate of pay is not a sufficient living wage for this class of officers. The minimum pay will now be Rs. 200 and there will be ten appointments on Rs. 250.
	Extension of station boat system.	18,307	20,680	38,987	18,307	20,680	38,987	The station-boat scheme introduced in certain districts of the Dacca Range has given most satisfactory results in the prevention and detection of crime in waterways lying beyond the jurisdiction of the River Police. It is therefore proposed to extend the scheme to certain other districts of East Bengal as well as to certain districts of West Bengal. The provision represents the cost of 20 boats with force and crew.
	Raising the proportion of the ordinary reserve of Head-constables and constables.	71,403	3,50,564	4,21,967	14,281	58,873	73,154	The present scale of ordinary reserve for Head-constables and constables has been found inadequate. It is proposed to spread the introduction of the scheme over a period of five years.

The Inspector-General wanted a provision of Rs. 18,462 in 1917-18, but only Rs. 10,000 has been proposed to provide for 17 Sub-Inspectors, if funds are available.
Ditto ...	Supply of tents and tarpaulins.	15,000	...	15,000	15,000	...	15,000	These are required for Presidency, Dacca and Rajshahi Ranges.

District Executive staff ...	Revision of the District Intelligence Branch establishment.	22,377	3,26,619	3,48,996	20,000	2,30,000	2,50,000	Owing to the very great increase of work in the Intelligence Branch it is proposed to decentralise the work by strengthening the District Intelligence staff. This will require the appointment of extra staff and officers of the rank of Superintendents of Police at some important centres.
Ditto ...	Additional staff for enquiries to be made regarding gangs which may be brought under Criminal Tribes Act.	346	19,520	19,866	346	9,654	10,000	The enquiries in connection with the working of the Criminal Tribes Act have been found to be beyond the capacity of the present sanctioned staff, and extra help is urgently required. It is therefore proposed to add 4 Inspectors, 2 Sub-Inspectors and 8 constables to the present staff.
Ditto ...	Installation of telephone connections.	956	10,020	10,976	956	10,020	10,976	It is proposed to instal telephone connections in the district of the 24-Parganas and Howrah and to purchase whistles for the town police.

Resolution.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 4.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR moved the following Resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the Government do take into consideration the amendment of the Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act, 1859 (XI of 1859).

He said :—"My Lord, at the outset, I desire to explain that the object of my moving this resolution is to remove an obstacle which stands solid in the way of development of certain areas within the Calcutta Corporation—areas which are capable of great improvements but owing to this difficulty are remaining undeveloped. Under the present rules of the Board of Revenue these areas cannot be made rent-free. Under sections 15 and 16 of the Land Revenue Sale Act as they stand, they are not immune from sale for arrears of revenue and their titles are not as perfect as titles of properties in Presidency towns should be. Preferential treatment to titles of properties in the Presidency towns have always been accorded owing to the high prices of such properties in asmuch as the Bengal Tenancy Acts does not apply to properties in the Presidency towns ; and lastly the existing system of division of holdings are not adequate to help to the development of the areas.

There are three alternative ways of removing this difficulty : first, to allow revenues of the properties within this area to be redeemed on payment of thirty times of the annual amount as is done in cases of all properties in Calcutta and its suburbs under paragraph 2, section 4 of the Board's Tauzi Manual ; secondly, to accept the amendments of the sections 15 and 16 of the Act XI of 1859 as proposed by me ; and lastly, to allow separate accounts in the tauzi to the purchasers of portions of these properties, however small, so that these properties being divided in small parts and owned by different owners may be easily improved and developed.

Of the three ways, in my humble opinion, My Lord, the amendment of the sections seem to be the simplest. It does not in any way affect the principles of the Act, but would, on the other hand, help what was intended, that is, to "permanently secure the estates from sale for arrears of revenue."

As I have already stated, my Lord, that by this amendment we do not want any concessions, but rather want to surrender certain concessions already granted, namely, to give up the right to withdraw the securities.

My Lord, I confine my amendments to extend only to the properties included in the Calcutta Municipal Corporation ; and if the amendments are accepted, they would materially help to the improvement and development of a certain portion of the suburbs of Calcutta and thus directly help the objects of both the Calcutta Corporation and the Calcutta Improvement Trust.

Deposit for the protection of an estate from sale.

15 If any recorded proprietor or co-partner of an estate shall deposit with the Collector money. or Government securities, endorsed and made payable to the order of the Collector, and shall sign an agreement pledging the same to Government by way of security for the jama of the entire estate, and authorising the Collector to apply to the payment of any arrear of revenue that may become due from that estate, the whole or any portion of the said money or securities that may be necessary for that purpose, then, in the case of any arrear of revenue due from the same estate not being paid before sunset of the latest day of payment fixed under section 3 of this Act, the Collector shall apply to the payment of such arrear the said money or securities or such part thereof, or if any interest due on the said securities, as may be necessary ; and for this purpose the Collector shall first apply any money that may be in his hands and any interest that may be due upon such securities, and may then sell and transfer the securities, for any balance that may remain. And so long as any money or securities as aforesaid, sufficient to cover any arrear that may fall due, shall remain and be available as aforesaid, the estate for the protection of which the said deposit was made shall be exempted from sale for arrears of revenue. All monies and securities so deposited shall be exempt from attachment otherwise than in execution of a decree of a Civil Court.

Withdrawal of the deposit.

16. It shall be competent to the person making a deposit under the provision of the last preceding section, or his representative or assignee, at any time to withdraw the deposit and to revoke the pledge of the same.

The object of section 15 is thus explained in the proceedings of Council when the Bill was under consideration.

"It occasionally might happen, especially in the case of an absent proprietor, that a man's property might be sold for arrears of revenue which accrued from no intentional default, and no negligence on his part but from some accident or from the neglect of an agent Now the property might be very valuable, and if put up for sale, it might be sold for a sum very disproportionate to its value to its proprietor. To enable proprietors to secure themselves, if they choose, from any such risk, be had provided that every zamindar paying revenue directly to Government on entire estate should have the power of lodging with the Collector a sum of money or Company's paper for the purpose of being applied to the payment of any arrear of revenue that might remain due upon its estate, after sunset of the latest day of payment. This, if the deposit were made equal to one or two instalments of revenue, would secure the estate from the possibility of being sold, even if the proprietor were living in England. The deposit might be made in Government securities sufficient in amount to pay the revenue from the interest, whereby the estate might be permanently secured from sale for arrears of revenue; a provision which might be of use for peculiar properties which, from buildings having been erected upon them, gardens or orchards having been planted upon them, or from other like causes, were of great value in proportion to the revenue assessed upon them." (Proceedings of the Legislative Council, Volume 1, page 855.)

The year 1859 was a memorable year for framing laws regarding the revenue of the country, specially Bengal, just after the taking over of the empire by the Crown from the hands of the East India Company. So far as the above sections are concerned, it is evident that the object of section 15 was to permanently secure from sale for arrears of revenue such estates as were of great value in proportion to the amount of revenue payable in respect of them, but in course of over half a century certain petty estates, specially those which lie within the Calcutta municipal jurisdiction, have become of such great value owing to palatial buildings being built and the areas otherwise developed to enormous value compared to the revenue payable in respect of them that certain alterations have become incumbent in the above two sections to ensure the absentee or other owners of such estates from sale for arrears of revenue.

Under the present sections privileges have been given to the depositors of Government securities or other amounts, for protection of the estates from sales, to withdraw the securities or monies by them or their heirs, at their discretion. The intentions were noble indeed inasmuch as those who owing to absence or otherwise wanted to protect the estates temporarily from sale would have the opportunity of getting back their monies at their will, without being compelled to forego the amounts for ever; but those who would like to permanently secure the estates from sale could not do so under the sections though in the notes explaining the object of the section 15 it is clearly stated that "the deposit might be made in Government securities whereby the estates may be permanently secured from sales for arrears of revenue". It is clear that those who want to avail themselves of the privileges of withdrawing the deposits are at liberty to do so, but those who want to permanently secure the estates from sale and forego the privileges of themselves or their heirs from withdrawing the deposits, the sections as they stand do not help them.

Resolution

Mr. P. C. Mitter.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR—concld.

So it is proposed that in order to facilitate those who want to permanently secure the estates from sale for arrears of revenue provision may be made in sections 15 and 16 so that they may do so; and the necessary amendment on the following lines may be made in the Act.

That the word "or separated" be put after the word "Entire" in line 6 of section 15 of the Land Revenue Sale Act in the Edition of 1902.

That the sentence "Provided that if such recorded proprietor or co-partner desires that such amounts or Government securities be permanently held by the Collector for the purposes and in the manner as aforesaid and execute necessary documents in favour of the Collector then such amounts or securities would be exempt from attachments in execution of any decree whatsoever" after the word "Civil Court" in line 24 of section 15 in the Edition of 1902.

That the following sentence "Provided that if the deposit is made permanently as provided in the latter part of the preceding section it shall not be competent for the depositor or his representative or assignee to withdraw the deposit and revoke the pledge of the same" after the words "Pledge of the same" in section 16, line 5, in the Edition of 1902.

It is a matter of vital importance to the holders of petty estates specially within the limits of the Calcutta municipal jurisdiction.

Under the present Acts and rules of the Board (Chapter II, section IV, paragraph 2 of Board's Tauzi Manual) the holder of properties in Calcutta and its suburbs in the north, east, and a portion of south on the east of the canal enjoy the privileges of having their properties redeemed from payment of revenue; but those who are on the west side of the canal including Alipur, Kidderpore, Chetla, etc., which are of no less importance in regard to value or population than other suburbs are under a great disadvantage and ban.

It is a modest request, a request which does not claim any privilege, but the option to forego certain privileges that have already been granted.

The acceptance of the resolution would not in any way embarrass the Government or affect the principles which led to the passing of this portion of the Act as, if the depositors do not withdraw the securities, they will permanently remain with the Collector. But the amendment of the Act on the lines indicated would help them to bind their heirs from withdrawing the securities and thus permanently secure the estates from sale, which object is defeated by the present wording of the sections. The Act was passed sixty years ago and it requires amendment not only from my point of view, but also from other points of view. I would now like to hear what the Hon'ble Member in charge of Land Revenues has to say."

The Hon'ble MR. P. C. MITTER said:—

"My Lord, I must confess that the resolution as drafted is so vague that taking one's stand on the resolution itself, it is rather difficult to discuss it. The Hon'ble Mover has however explained that his real object is to amend section 15 of the Revenue Sale Law in this way, viz., that under the present Revenue Sale Law a proprietor can deposit Government promissory notes for the protection of the revenue sale of his property, but these Government promissory notes are saleable and attachable in execution, and are further withdrawable by the proprietor himself. The object of the Hon'ble Mover is that the proprietor may be allowed to enter into some sort of arrangement with the Government by which he will be precluded from withdrawing these Government promissory notes, in other words, he will in effect part with his interest of these papers so that these papers may always lie with the Collector for the protection of the Estate. My Lord, so far as that object is concerned, I for one, venture to think that neither the proprietor nor the Government can have any objection. It is only the speculative or fraudulent auction purchaser whose object may be defeated. My Lord, this is a question which, I believe, requires further discussion and my Hon'ble friend's resolution only suggests that the Revenue Sale Law should be amended. I believe, if the Resolution is accepted with the modification that the Revenue Sale Law so far as sections 15 and 16 are concerned be amended—these are the provisions with which the present question is concerned—then we may have an opportunity of discussing the question and of submitting our suggestions in detail to the Government. But at this stage I have only one suggestion to make and that is this: In the neighbourhood of Calcutta there is an area known as the Panchanagram. The revenues there are very small; a proprietor pays a revenue of Rs. 2 or Rs. 4 or Rs. 5, but the market value of his property may be a lakh of rupees or more. If by fraud of the agent or on account of some accident or omission on the part of the owner that small sum is not paid into the Collectorate on the due date, the property may be purchased by a fraudulent auction purchaser, say, for 2 or Rs. 5,000. My Lord, there is also a provision under the rules framed by Government by which on payment of 30 years' revenue the property may be redeemed. I speak subject to correction that in some portions of the suburbs of Calcutta such as Alipore, Kidderpore and other places, this provision has not been extended. It lies with the officers of the Government to extend these provisions immediately to places like Kidderpore and Alipore, when the value of property is considerable, and if that is done, My Lord, then Kidderpore and Alipore landowners will be greatly benefitted. With these remarks I have much pleasure in supporting the principle for which my Hon'ble friend has drafted the Resolution. But as I have already said, the resolution as drafted, seems to me to be too wide."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said:—

"My Lord, the resolution as it stands encourages me to discuss the question which arises on account of the defects of the entire law. The Hon'ble Mover has discussed partially a question which is connected with the several items which have been found necessary for amendment. Section 15 of the Act deals only with the deposit of Government securities and the protection of the person who deposits the amount, but, My Lord, there are various sections in the present Act which demand the consideration of the Council. This Act was passed 60 years ago, after full consideration by the Council for nearly 3 years. The Act itself is no doubt an embodiment of the principles of the old regulations. My Lord, after a period of nearly 60 years, the Act is viewed an antiquated one, and I beg Your Excellency's permission to refer to a few sections of the Act because they demand revision. If a portion of the Act is to be amended why not take this opportunity of remedying the defects in the other sections. I refer specially to sections 6, 7, 29 and other cognate sections of the Act. My Lord, we find in the course of our experience that the requirements of section 6 are defective. Experience has shown that there is an anomaly in the provisions of section 5 and section 6; notice is served in the mufassal under the requirements of section 5, but no such notice under section 6 is served. Although there is a healthy provision in section 18 which lays down the principle that a property may be saved by payment of the arrears of revenue, but the defaulters are not in a position to deposit them without such notice. Then, My Lord, there are laws which allow the payment of revenue before the sale, but there is nothing in the Act which recommends a procedure for the protection of an Estate after the sale. Your Lordship will find that there are sections in the Civil Procedure Code in the Bengal Tenancy Act, and in the Public Demands

Resolution.

Babu S. N. Ray ;- Mr. Beatson Bell.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR—concld.

Recovery Act, III of 1913, but there is no section in Act XI of 1859 which authorises a defaulter after a sale takes place to protect the Estate. No doubt there is section 26 of the Act which allows the Commissioner of the Division to recommend the Board for cancellation of the sale, but then we stand upon the elastic expression 'ground of hardship', and it is left entirely to his discretion. There is nothing to suggest upon what tangible ground the sale is to be set aside. So, there are various sections of Act XI of 1859 which require careful consideration by Your Lordship's Council and if there be an amendment of one section only I propose that other amendments be made with regard to the defects which may be pointed out to Your Excellency's Government. All these suggestions demand consideration. No doubt my objections cannot be answered within a short time, but I solicit Your Excellency's Council to discuss whether there are defects in the Act itself and whether they demand revision by those who are interested in remedying them. The landlords are vitally interested in this matter and consequently their opinion ought to be asked for. With these few remarks, My Lord, I submit that the amendment proposed be taken into consideration with the other suggestions which I have made."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, I do not want to say anything as regards the merits of this resolution, but what I have to suggest is whether it would not have been better to have brought forward a Bill in this Council, indicating the lines on which my friend wants the Act to be amended. Then the landlords would have had an opportunity of discussing the Bill. This resolution which is now before the Council is one of the vaguest ever brought forward before any Council. It is now, after hearing his explanation, that we come to know on what points he wants this Council to express their opinion. I think the remedy for him is to withdraw his resolution and then to bring forward a Bill indicating as I have said the lines on which he wants the Act to be amended."

The Hon'ble MR. BEATSON BELL said :—

"My Lord, we cannot but admire the courage of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur in bringing forward this resolution, which is practically tantamount to asking the House to reconsider the permanent settlement which was made in the time of Lord Cornwallis. The permanent settlement, like all contracts, consists of two parts. Here is one part—

'The Governor General in Council accordingly declares to the zamindars, independent talukdars and other actual proprietors of land with or on behalf of whom a settlement has been concluded under the Regulations above mentioned, that at the expiration of the term of the settlement no alteration will be made in the assessment which they have respectively engaged to pay, but that they and their heirs and lawful successors will be allowed to hold their Estates at such assessment for ever."

The other part is as follows :—

'To discharge the revenues at the stipulated periods without delay or evation and to conduct themselves with good faith and moderation towards their dependent talukdars and raiyats, are duties at all times indispensably required from the proprietors of land, and strict observance of those duties is now more than ever incumbent upon them, in return for the benefits which they will themselves derive from the orders now issued.

Resolution.

Mr. Beatson Bell.

'The Governor General in Council therefore expects that the proprietors of land will not only act in this manner towards their dependent talukdars and raiyats, but also enjoin the strictest adherence to the same principles in the persons whom they may appoint to collect the rents from them.

'He further expects that, without deviating from this line of conduct, they will regularly discharge the revenue in all seasons; and he accordingly notifies to them, that, in future, no claims or application for suspensions or remissions on account of drought, inundation or other calamity of season, will be attended to, but that in the event of any zemindar, independent talukdar or other actual proprietor of land, with or on behalf of whom a settlement has been or may be concluded, or his or her heirs or successors, failing in the punctual discharge of the public revenue which has been or may be assessed upon their lands under the above-mentioned Regulations, a sale of the whole of the lands of the defaulter, or such portion of them as may be sufficient to make good the arrear, will positively and invariably take place.'

The Hon'ble Mover wants us to modify the second part of the contract; but it is difficult to see how this can be done without reopening the first part of the contract. Personally, I would never have dared to make such a suggestion. I recognise that the permanent settlement has been a bad bargain for the State, but I hold, and have always held, that the State should stick to its bargain. It is not we, but the Hon'ble Mover and his friends, who would put the contract in the melting pot. As I said before, I admire his courage: but are his tactics good? Is it wise on his part to invite the attention of the tax-payers in other parts of India, and in other parts of the Empire, to the fact that we have a permanent settlement in Bengal—in other words, to the fact that in these days of stress the State is surrendering an annual sum of two million pounds sterling?

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur has gone further than the Hon'ble Mover. He has referred to the Sale Law as an antiquated act and has expressed a desire to amend it from beginning to end. Even more than the Hon'ble Mover, he would reconsider and reconstruct the permanent settlement.

I now turn to the specific amendments which the Hon'ble Mover has suggested. They relate to sections 15 and 16, and in particular to the somewhat technical subject of 'separate accounts.' When the permanent settlement was made, it was generally made with one or at the most two or three joint zemindars. By the terms of the permanent settlement the ordinary laws of succession, Hindu or Muhammadan as the case may be, were applied to landed property. As a natural result, many Estates which were originally owned by one man are now owned by 500 or 600, all jointly interested. These 500 or 600 men have probably formed themselves into 50 or 60 groups, each group making separate collections from the tenants. It is no uncommon thing to find a single tenant, whose total rent is perhaps only three rupees making separate payments of minute sums to 50 or 60 different groups of landlords. A more inconvenient arrangement would hardly be imagined. It is no wonder that these coparcener landlords feel very insecure and desire to have some protection from one another. One remedy, which is as old as the permanent settlement (it is mentioned in the proclamation of Lord Cornwallis), is to apply to the Collector for a partition of the lands and the constitution of a number of small Estates, each entirely independent. This is the only real remedy, but as it is apt to be expensive and troublesome, another remedy, unknown to the permanent settlement, has been granted by an indulgent Government. This is the remedy, the temporary remedy, of 'separate accounts.' By sections 10 to 14 of the Sale Law, a coparcener, or group of coparceners, in an Estate can open a 'separate account' in respect of his share. The result is that when an Estate defaults the share or shares in which there have been short payments are alone put up to auction on the first sale day. If the bidding is sufficient to wipe off the arrear, well and good. But if it is insufficient the entire Estate is put up to auction on the next sale day. Now, in sections 15 and 16 there is another, and totally distinct, concession to the landlords. These sections provide for a system of 'protective deposits.' Any proprietor can deposit cash or Government paper 'by way of security for the jama of the entire Estate.' This protects him from the carelessness or dishonesty of his agents. Incidentally, I may say that only 12 proprietors in the whole province have taken advantage of this concession. What the Hon'ble Mover proposes is that this concession should be extended from entire Estates to 'separate accounts.' Now it must be obvious, from the explanation which I have given of separate accounts, that this cannot be done. A protective deposit is an expedient which continues as long as the deposit remains, whereas a separate account is a thing which is liable to be wiped out whenever there has been a default, followed by inadequate bidding, in respect of another separate account. We cannot apply a continuous remedy to an ephemeral substance. If we attempt to do so we shall merely be giving a false sense of security to the holder of every separate account. In short, separate accounts are not separate estates and they cannot be treated as if they were. If the holder of a separate account is not prepared to take the trouble to obtain a partition, he must protect himself by punctual payments and the appointment of trustworthy agents.

Resolution.

Mr. Beatson Bell.

As regards the other amendment of the Hon'ble Mover, I am not sure that I entirely grasp it. I take it, however, that he advocates a system by which a proprietor can make a 'permanent' deposit, the interest of which will be sufficient to pay the Government revenue for all time. For the reasons which I have already explained it is impossible to think of such a system in respect to separate accounts. Even in respect to whole Estates it is equally impossible to accept it. After all, it is merely a roundabout way of 'redeeming' the demand on the Estate. Now, it was proposed in the time of Lord Canning that 'redemption' should be allowed on a somewhat extended scale. The proposal was carefully examined by the Secretary of State and was vetoed by him in his Despatch of 1862. We are not prepared to reopen the question.

I am aware that the Hon'ble Member would confine his proposals to the subarban areas of Calcutta. His reason apparently is that the land in these areas is very valuable and the revenue very small. The same argument would apply, more or less, to building sites in mufussal towns and I cannot see why we should grant the concession in one area and refuse it in another. Apart from this, it is a concession unknown to the permanent settlement and is it wise to reopen the question of the permanent settlement in these very areas in which the State is suffering the heaviest recurring loss from the contract of Lord Cornwallis? For these reasons, we are opposed to the specific suggestions of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur. As regards the other suggestions which have been made I can only say, on behalf of Government, that it is impossible for us either to accept or reject them at the present stage. If, however, any recognised body of landlords places them before us as their deliberate and corporate recommendation we shall examine them with an open mind. But once more, I would ask all concerned to think very carefully before they throw the permanent settlement into the melting pot. They may [illegible] love the 'sunset law,' they may even cordially dislike some of its provisions, but after all it is part and parcel of the contract of 1793 by which Government has loyally abided. In conclusion I would ask my Hon'ble friend not to press his resolution to a division."

Adjournment.

"My Lord, I have only a few words to say in reply. In the first place the Hon'ble Member, on behalf of Government, has, with his usual eloquence and in his usual style, opened his veiled attack upon the permanent settlement. But I can assure my Hon'ble friends that I did not offer it myself. My original motion which I sent to the Legislative Department in my own humble way, was framed suggesting amendments which I have explained in my speech and were worded exactly in the same way as I have explained here, but a direction came from the Legislative Department that the resolution should be worded as it stands now. I do not know, Sir, whether it was done without the knowledge of the Hon'ble Member representing the Government, but I shall not be a little amused to hear that it was perhaps intended to give my Hon'ble friend an opportunity of delivering a speech on permanent settlement and to proclaim from the housetops of Government House that two million pounds sterling are surrendered to the landlords of Bengal. I am not entering into the history of the permanent settlement, and I had not the remotest idea that I should be dragged into that controversy. My object is this, My Lord, that properties in Alipore, Kidderpore and Chetla, which are now included in the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Municipality, should be placed on the same footing as properties within the original area of the Calcutta Municipality, i.e., within the ordinary original jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court. My friend has not quite seen the difference, between muffasal towns like Dacca and other places and the suburbs of Calcutta like Kidderpore, Alipore or Chetla which form part of greater Calcutta. But I believe when occasion arises, my friend will, when supporting the Calcutta Improvement Bill and some provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act, say that the provisions are needed because Calcutta stands on a much higher level than some of the muffasal Municipalities of Bengal, such as Dacca, Burdwan and other places. Of course, such arguments we are accustomed to have from the official members whenever they suit them. My Lord, having regard to the fact that Calcutta has expanded, and is developing, I think it is quite fair to ask Government to consider whether the same facilities to secure properties against sale and purchase by any speculative purchaser at an auction could not be provided as in old Calcutta. I find that palatial buildings have been erected and large investments made outside old Calcutta, and I do not see why greater Calcutta should not be brought on the same level with old Calcutta. It is a question which deserves the consideration of Government. The resolution, as it now stands, may not be acceptable to some of my friends here, because the Hon'ble Member has shown them the bogie of upsetting the permanent settlement in his speech. I would, therefore, with Your Excellency's permission, now withdraw this resolution, and later on frame it in such a way after consultation with my Hon'ble colleagues, so that, though defeated now, I may have a sufficient number to show to my Hon'ble friend over there (the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell) that it is not an attempt to subvert the permanent settlement, but to secure reasonable and equal treatment of properties in all parts of Calcutta on the same basis as is accorded to properties inside old Calcutta."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Special Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1916-17.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1914-15 the area under Wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has in the five years ending 1914-15 averaged (a) 38·1 per cent. and (b) 16·8 per cent. respectively.)

Explanatory.—This forecast shows the final acreage and yield of the wheat crop of Bengal and is published as a special case under orders of the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture. The usual final forecast will be published in May as in previous years.

Character of the Season.—In the second forecast published in February the season was reviewed from sowing time up to the end of January and was regarded as unfavourable. The rainfall in February though helpful came too late to materially improve the situation. Some slight damage by insect-pests has been reported from Nadia and Burdwan.

Area sown.—The total area sown this year is estimated at 128,800 acres against 133,600 acres reported in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—The estimated percentages of outturn in the important wheat-growing districts are as follows :—Nadia 58, Murshidabad 92, Pabna and Malda 80 each.

According to these estimates the Provincial outturn works out to 81 per cent. of the normal against 78 per cent. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. Taking the normal yield to be 10½ maunds per acre, the total yield for the Province is estimated to be 40,241 tons against 40,195 tons last year.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

The following notification, issued by the Government of India in the Finance Department, published in the Gazette of India Extraordinary dated the 7th April 1917, is republished for general information.

J. DONALD,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS & FINANCE.
Public Debt.

No. 745-F.

Simla, the 6th April 1917.

THE Government of India are assured that their officers of all grades will wish to support the Indian War Loan and to apply their savings for as long a period as possible to investment in the Loan. The ordinary procedure for subscribing to the various sections of the Loan is described in the Finance Department's Notification No. 380-F., dated the 1st March 1917, from which it will be seen that Post Office 5-year Cash Certificates offer full facilities for the utilisation of savings throughout the coming year up to a maximum amount of Rs. 7,500 by any one person, and that it is also possible to distribute subscriptions to War Loan 1929 1947 and War Bonds over the seven months from March 15th to October 15th, 1917. Government, however, believe that many officers will welcome an arrangement which will enable them to subscribe to the War Loan by monthly deductions from their pay, and that this will be a practical encouragement to the setting aside of money for subscription to the War Loan throughout the coming year.

2. They have accordingly obtained the Secretary of State's approval to the scheme described in Appendix A to this Notification. This scheme is applicable to all Government officers : it enables any Government officer to obtain War Loan 1929-1947, War Bonds 1920 and War Bonds 1922 by payment of the amount applied for in ten instalments to be deducted from his pay. It also enables Cash Certificates to be obtained by deduction from pay.

3. There may, however, be officers who feel that by a prolongation of the period of repayment they will be enabled to take up a larger amount of the Indian War Loan, while, also, there may be Government servants who are unable to afford so large a monthly deduction as Rs. 10. To meet such cases, the Bank of Bengal have offered to make available to Government servants serving in the marginally noted Provinces, the facilities which they have announced that they will place at the disposal of approved borrowers to enable them to contribute to the Indian War Loan. The Government of India have much pleasure in placing on record their appreciation of this public-spirited offer of the Bank of Bengal, and they have decided to co-operate with the Bank of Bengal by arranging, on a request from the officer concerned, to deduct from the latter's pay, and pay to the Bank of Bengal, the amount due each month for the repayment to the Bank of the advance. This scheme will be alternative, and not in addition, to the scheme described in the preceding paragraph, and an officer will not be permitted to subscribe under both schemes. The terms of the scheme of the Bank of Bengal are set out in Appendix B.

(1) Bengal.
(2) Bihar and Orissa.
(3) The Punjab, and the North-West Frontier Province.
(4) The Central Provinces.
(5) Burma.

4. The Bank of Bengal's scheme is for the present open only to officers serving in the Presidency of Bengal and the Provinces mentioned above. The possibility of applying a similar scheme to Government servants serving in the Presidencies of Bombay and Madras is under examination.
